SUNDAY-SCHOOL CELEBRATION BY THE BETHANY SABBATH-SCHOOL MISSION.—The Bethany Sabbath-school Mission, located on South street, above Twenty-first, is one of the most successful missionary enterprises that has ever emanated from any of our churches. The school has been in successful operation some three years; has now a very neat and commodious chapel for congregational worship; numbers over five hundred children, and is under the efficient superintendence of Mr. John Wanamaker. The recent anniversary exercises of this mission school were so impressive and interesting that, at the request of a number of Christian men interested in the enterprise, they were repeated last evening, in the presence of an overflowing audience, in the large church edifice, corner of Broad and Sansom streets, of which the Rev. John Chambers is pastor. No pains were spared to render this repetition a great success. In addition to the original programme there were, last evening, a number of pleasant and attractive features, which were evidently appreciated. There was a Steck piano used on the occasion; the music was under the competent direction of Messrs. Neff and Ewing, and the speaking on the occasion was mainly by Mr. Chambers. The exercises consisted of choruses, addresses, dialogues, duets, recitations, and national hymns, by the scholars, and were kept up until a late hour. Taking it altogether, it was certainly one of the most novel and entertaining exhibitions of this class that we have ever attended.

SUMMER BOARDING.—Now that the season is at hand for our citizens, who can do so, to make arrangements for spending a few weeks in the country, during the summer, we have taken some pains to ascertain the names and localities of some of the most conveniently-located boarding houses to the city, and in this connection we take special pleasure in recommending to the favorable notice of our readers the elegantly-situated new house of Mr. Joseph Sheridge, located at Concordville, Chester county. This house occupies a commanding site overlooking one of the most beautiful portions of the State, and is within a few minutes' walk of the Concord station, on the Philadelphia and Baltimore Central Railroad, and the Darlington station on the Philadelphia and West Chester Railroad, from which it can be reached five times per day. Carriages can be obtained for morning and evening rides. The best kind of fishing grounds are close at hand. The terms are moderate, and the proprietor, Mr. Sheridge, from his past experience as a skillful caterer, and his determination to afford his guests all the comforts of a first-class country home, may reasonably expect applications enough, early in the season, to fill his large, new house to its full capacity. Persons wishing to communicate with Mr. Sheridge, for information, can do so by addressing him at Concordville, Delaware county, Pennsylvania.

THE FALL OF VICKSBURG.—We do not know whether it is the fall of Vicksburg, the cool weather, or the certainty that Coal will soon take a heavy rise, that has had the effect; the fact is, nevertheless, that Mr. W. W. Alter, the popular coal dealer, Ninth street, above Poplar, is driving an immense business. Our citizens are daily ordering hundreds of tons of his superior quality Lehigh Coal from his yard. His coal is thoroughly dressed of all unconsumable matter before delivering it, and his prices are at the inside figure.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ORDER YOUR SUMMER SUIT.—The cool weather of the past few days has occurred very opportunely for persons, who have neglected hitherto to order their summer garments. A day or two may precipitate upon us another heated term, and we therefore advise all of our readers who have the respect for their personal appearance to visit the great clothing establishment of Messrs. C. Somers & Son, No. 625 Chestnut street, under Jayne's Hall, and make their selections without delay. They will find a magnificent stock of ready-made goods to select from, and a superb stock of piece goods to order to measurement, if they prefer it, and their prices are reasonable.

FINE MUSTARDS.—The proprietors of the popular old Grocery House of the late C. H. Mattson, dealers in fine Family Groceries, And and Tenth streets, have now in store a fresh importation of Durham and French Mustards, both dry and mixed, to which we invite the attention of our readers.

A FINE STOCK OF MILITARY GOODS, embracing every thing necessary for the equipment of Army and Navy Officers, will be found at the house of Charles Oakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel.

THE MOST COMFORTABLE and best-fitting Shirt of the age is the celebrated Taggart-cut article, sold at the popular Gent.'s Furnishing Goods Establishment of Mr. George Grant, No. 610 Chestnut street.

MESSRS. CHARLES OAKFORD & SONS' stock of Summer Head Gear for Children and Youths is the largest and best-selected in this city.

WILL BE SOLD BY THOMAS & SONS, June 2d, at the Philadelphia Exchange, the residence No. 605 South Ninth street, with stable and coach-house in the rear on Cedar avenue; lot 20 feet 4 inches front, 198 feet deep. May be examined every day previous to sale, from 9 to 1 o'clock.

A MAGNIFICENT ROSEWOOD SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO FOR SALE—Richly carved case and legs; made to order by one of the best makers in this country. Five months age cost $900. The owner, being in the army, will sell for less than half cost, cash. To be seen at No. 1418 Lombard street, a few doors above Broad. my27-4t*

"THE WAY TO BRAGG."—Among the things that are considered great bores in society is a person who has learned the way to brag, and our mutual acquaintance Valandigham fully bears us out in our assertion, for no greater bore ever afflicted a people (a 15-inch Dahlgren excepted) than this man; the last heard from him was that he was in a fair way to Bragg, so that he will be equainted with three nuisances of the rebellion—the outside, inside, and Burnside. When he gets back he will probably be pretty seedy, and we speak in time for him then to visit Charles Stokes & Co.'s One-Price Clothing Store, under the Continental.

MODERN invention seems certainly to be greatly mitigating the severity of the sentence pronounced against our race for the first transgression. Clothing the naked, the unrelieved task of past generations, goeseforth is little more than a pastime. And no one has contributed more to this change than Mr. William O. Grover, of the Grover & Baker S. M. Co., 730 Chestnut street. Having created the branch of the sewing machine art with which his name is connected, and carried his inventions in that branch beyond competition, he has by his last productions placed himself at the head of the rival branch of the same art. His new shuttle or lock-stitch machines are as much in advance of other lock-stitch machines as his Grover & Baker stitch machines are in advance of others of that class.

WANTED TO KNOW—If a good view is to be had from the top of the morning? If the man who did not know what to do ever got a job? If bald-headed man can be said to be hair-brained? If one man is not as good as any other man, if not better? And lastly, whether there can be any two rational opinions as to the merits of the elegant garments for gentlemen and youths made at the Brown-Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CHANGEFUL JOE.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

A lively youth I once did know,
The ladies called him "changeful Joe;"
As frolicsome as any kitten,
By Cupid's shaft he oft was smitten,
And yet he held the wound as light,
As if a mere mosquito's bite.
One day, for Ellen he was sighing,
The next, for Kitty he was dying;
And when you thought him almost finished,
His flames were suddenly diminished.
And so his love was daily turning:
Now like a glass house furnace burning,
And now it seemed to each spectator
His heart was a refrigerator.
What remedy can we discover
To cure the fault of such a lover?
No girl, who acts by my advice,
Will have such beaux at any price;
However cheap they may appear,
In one respect you'll find them dear,
Like certain garments, basely made
By tyros of the stitching trade;
But beaux worth having must stick fast,
Like Bennett's Clothing made to last.

Every quality, size, and style of Garment may be found in our stock. All can be suited in the best and most fashionable garments, from low grades to the finest, which we are enabled to offer at prices much below their present value. TOWER HALL,

A MIDSUMMER MELODY.

'Twas a night in the dog days,
And all through the house
Night prowlers were stirring—
Fleas, bedbugs, and mouse.
The children, uneasy,
Scattered this way and that—
The bedbugs preferred them
Because they were fat.
But at dawn, on each insect
Lyon's death powder fell:
And the rats and the mice, too,
Succumbed to his Pill.

Lyon's Powder will kill all insects. Lyon's Magnetic Pills are sure death to rats and mice. Sold everywhere
