MILITARY MATTERS—NUMBER OF MEN FURNISHED BY PHILADELPHIA.—According to the statement of Colonel Ruff, only 1,179 men have left Philadelphia for the defence of the State. This number is exceedingly small, and reflects no great credit upon our city. Of course, we have still one or two regiments forming for the six-months service, but the above number is all that has yet been mustered in for the emergency. It is really mortifying that this number should be so small, and numerous propositions have been made to at once increase it. It is recommended that every work-shop, where any great number of men is employed, be at once closed by the proprietor for a certain period, and let the employees be informed that all such who volunteer in the State defence shall receive half their week's wages. Many of our citizens who are now in receipt of good wages, and are able to support their families comfortably, are willing and anxious to enlist in this emergency, if they could be assured of adequate provision for the support of their families during their term of service in the army. If each of the banks and insurance offices in the city would vote a liberal sum, in proportion to the interest they have at stake, for the support of the families of such of the six-months volunteers as may need aid, the amount so contributed, in addition to individual subscriptions for the same purpose, would soon induce a sufficient number of men to volunteer.

There would be no difficulty whatever in raising this fund if the subject was properly agitated, and Philadelphia might send within the next week at least 20,000 men to defend the border. If all the workshops and public places of business were closed out for thirty days, an immense army could be raised and a death-blow given the rebellion.

Yesterday recruiting progressed favorably, but, as the old system of forming regiments instead of companies is still kept up, no men have been mustered in. A reform in the manner of enlistments is much needed, and it is to be hoped that some of the patriotic individuals now engaged in raising troops for the defence of the State will soon take the initiative. If names were enrolled until a sufficient number to form a company is obtained, and the men then mustered into service without regard to regiments, there would not be so much time lost in getting troops from Philadelphia to the State capital. The 60th Regiment N. Y. S. M. reached the city shortly after midnight on Monday, and numbered nine hundred men in the ranks. They were armed with Enfield rifles. The men were fully uniformed and equipped. The regiment was escorted down to the Volunteer Refreshment Saloons, and then took their departure from the city.

The 22d Regiment New York State Militia also passed through this city on Monday night. Among them were a number of 1st Regiment New York Volunteers, whose term of service recently expired. They wear the distinguished badge of the Kearny medal and a red patch on their caps.

Yesterday morning, early, the 6th Regiment, N. Y. S. M., passed through this city. The members are mostly Germans, and the regiment is commanded by Col. J. W. Mason. It numbered about 800 men, fully uniformed, armed and equipped. The men were entertained at the refreshment saloons, and left the city about ten o'clock yesterday morning.

The First City Troop are in Philadelphia for more recruits at their armory, Twelfth street, below Chestnut. This corps has already distinguished itself on the border.

ANOTHER ARRIVAL OF SICK AND WOUNDED.—Yesterday morning, at two o'clock, and in the evening at quarter past five, nearly one thousand men arrived at the Citizens' Volunteer Hospital from Washington, where their wants were promptly attended to. They were conveyed during the day to other hospitals by the following ambulances: Mechanic Engine, Northern Liberty Engine, America Engine, Northern Liberty Hose, Philadelphia Hose, Wecacoe Engine, Fairmount Engine, Hand-in-Hand Engine, United States Engine, Philadelphia Engine, Assistance Engine, Hope Hose, Good Will Hose, Washington Hose, and Intrepid Engine. The following are the names of those from Pennsylvania and New Jersey:

CONTROLLERS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—An adjourned meeting of this Board was held yesterday afternoon, L. R. Fletcher, Esq., president, in the chair.

A communication was received from the Seventh Section, notifying the Board of the election of Miss Amanda Dorff Ott as principal, and Miss Mary Scott as first assistant of Primary School, No. 7. On motion, the elections were confirmed.

The Directors of the Nineteenth Section asked that the new school-house now building on Kensington street, may be called the Stephen Arnold Douglas School house. On motion, the request was granted.

A communication, signed B. Sharkey, attorney, was read. It gave notice to the Board not to rent, for school purposes, a building in Frankford avenue, owned by B. J. Williams, as a proviso in the grant will not permit of such a use. Referred to the Committee on Property.

The joint committees on Boys' and Girls' High Schools, to whom was referred the communication from the Hebrew Education Society, reported adversely to the petition, the law being against the same.

The same committees, to whom was referred a resolution rescinding the minimum standard of admission to the High Schools, and fixing the average at 65, reported favorably, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Freeborn submitted a resolution directing warrants to be drawn in favor of Miss Sallie Kirkpatrick, and Miss Jennie L. Farrell, for salary as teachers in the Hadlington unclassified school. Adopted.

The Committee on Accounts reported bills amounting to $683 16, for which warrants were ordered to be drawn.

Mr. Fitzgerald, in a few neat remarks, introduced a resolution, returning the thanks of this Board to Leonard R. Fletcher, Esq., president, for the able, courteous, and impartial manner in which he has discharged his duties during the past year.

Mr. Holland seconded the resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

Leonard R. Fletcher then briefly returned his thanks to the Board for the compliment paid him.

The Board then adjourned. This is the last meeting of the present Board. The new Board will be organized on the first Monday in July, at 10 o'clock A. M.

PROPOSALS FOR THE ERECTION OF NEW SCHOOL-HOUSES.—Proposals have been received, and the contract awarded for the erection of the new school-house at Twenty-second and Catharine streets, in the First ward. There were but two proposals received. John Carsten for $6,647, and one from J. A. O'Donnell for $6,400, and the contract was awarded to the former. The appropriation for this building is $6,000. The plans for the additions to the America street school-house, in the Nineteenth ward, for which $6,000 was some time since appropriated, have also been opened. Two plans were submitted by Messrs. John Frazer and T. F. Durang. The former was adopted as the most economical, and securing the larger proportionate amount of room. The improvement will consist of a building 40 feet by 60 feet, on the America street front, and with the present building forming a T. The new building will be two stories in height, with four class rooms on each floor, and when completed will, with the present building, afford accommodation for about 1,000 scholars.

It was announced on the authority of the architect that the plan adopted for the new school-house in the Twenty-fourth ward would require an expenditure of from $16,000 to $18,000, and an ordinance was ordered to be reported appropriating a further sum of $9,000 for that purpose. The subject of an increase of the salaries of school-teachers was referred to the Finance Committee of Councils. At the same time the Property Committee of the Board of Control was awarded the contract for erecting partitions at the Jefferson School, on Fifth street, above Poplar, in the first ward, for the use of Livingston & McConnel, their bid being $1,419.

FREAKS OF AN INFURIATED ANIMAL.—Yesterday morning an ox from a drove of cattle became infuriated, and rushed wildly out Spring Garden street, clearing the way of all obstacles as he went. Opposite the corner of Tenth street he overtook an individual, who was gored and severely injured. A female with a red shawl attracted his attention; he headed for her, but the woman saved herself by rushing into a doorway that fortunately stood open. The insane quadruped kept on until he passed a marble yard, when a small white bulldog rushed out, and in an instant was hanging at the animal's nose. Furious with pain, the brute dashed on, the dog still hanging on to him. He slung the dog against awning-posts and against the paving stones with tremendous force, but the little animal still kept his hold. The ox at last brought up in the open lots at the corner of Twentieth and Spring Garden streets, where he sank with exhaustion. Officer Smith, with several other persons, had followed him for some distance. They came up, and, to their surprise, found that the dog was dead, with his teeth meeting together through the nose of the ox. A wedge was necessary to loose the tenacious hold it had taken. The ribs of the dog were found to be broken in. The bull had slung him against a fire-plug, with an effect that beat out his life.

ACCIDENT TO A MEMBER OF THE FIRST CITY TROOP.—The name of the member of the First City Troop who met with an accident, by which his leg was broken, is Edward W. White. Mr. White was mounted upon a horse that he was not accustomed to, and at the time the Troop took some rebel prisoners near Gettysburg, the animal ran away with him, and running, scalped a tree, broke the leg of the rider. The horse kept on running, and finally threw Mr. White to the ground. The injured gentleman was brought to his home in this city on Monday evening. Mr. White is a well-known citizen. He was with the Troop in the three-months' service, and he distinguished himself during that period by his good courage, and the faithful performance of all his duties as a soldier.

THE GREAT COAL TERMINUS.—It is said that the commissioners of New Castle have thrown such obstacles in the way of the projected improvements which were to make New Castle the great coal terminus of Pennsylvania for winter shipments, that arrangements are now being made for the survey of the route from near Brandywine bridge to the mouth of the Christiana creek, on the Delaware. This will make Wilmington the great coal depôt.

UNSUCCESSFUL SEARCH FOR A PIRATE.—The steamships Tuscarora, Capt. Eating, and the Suwanee, Captain Sims, arrived off the navy yard yesterday morning. They have had an unsuccessful cruise for six days in search of the pirate "Tacony," or "Florida No. 2," commanded by Capt. Reed, the notorious private chieftain. They passed the brigs Breeze (Br.) and Kodeak, both from Cardenas, in sight of New Castle, coming up.

THE BLIND.—The last Wednesday Exhibition is announced for this (Wednesday) afternoon. The term will close with a public exhibition on Monday afternoon next, consisting of awarding premiums to pupils who have distinguished themselves in their studies, and in manufactures; with appropriate orchestral music. After which there will be a vacation of two months.

CONTRACT FOR HAVERSACKS.—Yesterday, Mr. Charles C. Roberts, of this city, was awarded a contract by the Assistant Quartermaster General to furnish the department with 30,000 haversacks at 43 cents each. This contract was first awarded to Messrs. Edwards & Co., who threw up the same, and Mr. Roberts, being the next lowest bidder, received the award.

CITY FINANCES.—On the first of July the city treasurer will have sufficient funds on hand to pay the semi-annual interest on the funded debt of the city, and redeem the loans falling due at that time. The school teachers' salaries also become due at that time and an effort will be made to pay them.

THE CAPE MAY RAILROAD.—Early in July the trains will commence running on this road, there being only about five miles of track yet to be laid. The line between Cape May and Philadelphia is in three parts with three separate roads.

TOOK THE OATH.—Seventy rebel prisoners arrived in this city on Monday afternoon, and were immediately taken to the provost barracks, fifth and Buttonwood streets, where they had the oath of allegiance administered to them.

FATAL RESULT.—Edward McLaughlin, a member of the Gray Reserves, who was seriously injured at Harrisburg a few days since, died at his residence in this city yesterday morning.

RECOGNIZED.—Yesterday, the body of the lad found drowned in the Schuylkill, was recognized by his father, as that of Henry Jennings, who was drowned from Pine-street wharf on Wednesday last.

THE POLICE.

Scene at the Central Station—The Tenderloins.

SENTENCES.

The case of B. J. Warden, charged with defrauding certain of his employees, who made tests for him, was to have been continued at the Central Station, yesterday afternoon. At the hour appointed, a large number of women were present, some old, others young, who had not yet been paid for their labor. Witnesses were at least fifty present at first and more came, singly and in squads of three and four, until the Central Station began to be crowded with them.

The alderman was in his chair, and ready to proceed with the further investigation, but Mr. Abraham Oppenheimer, who had given the whole work to Warden to be made up, stated to the court that he would see them paid at his place of business, No. 231 Church alley, on Saturday afternoon, between two and six o'clock. Warden was arrested on new his bail, to await a further hearing on next Tuesday afternoon.

We had a conversation with many of the operatives. It may be safely said, as a general thing, they have relatives in the army, or sick and wounded in the hospitals. Some of them were whole families in deep mourning for the loss of a husband, a son, a father, or a brother. These women have to toil from early morning to late at night, and, by the kind of steady work, to realize five dollars per week. They tell a most pitiable story indeed. Most of them have been swindled by one or more sub-contractors, and many of them, considering it simply a breach of trust, have never prosecuted the swindlers. There is no such thing as redress, or trust in such cases, and it is well enough for the operatives to know this important fact. We heard the story of an aged widow, whose only son was killed in battle, details how she was robbed, and how she heard a young woman, who mourned the loss of a brother, telling how she was robbed of a few dollars by some swindler, who presumed to come up to the dignity of a contractor. The annoyances they have been subjected to are entirely too painful, indeed, to relate, and too voluminous for our columns. Their stories of the heart fail not to awaken a feeling of sympathy for the victims, and disgust for the mean victors. There are some contractors who give the best of prices, and prompt payment, but among them was Mr. Thomas Timmins, the first tent-maker in Philadelphia. He was present yesterday, and recognized some of the operatives who worked for him in the hurry of his business. He finds no difficulty in paying his employees, even at a higher rate than the present complainants have been getting him, and which they are now trying to obtain by due process of law. It is a burning shame that these women are so much annoyed, and robbed of a dollar here and a dollar there, and it brings disgrace upon contractors generally, and they owe it to themselves, in giving out subcontracts, to discountenance all who have swindled the poor working women. Time will prove, however, that some principal contractors seem to have an understanding with the swindling subs.

Larceny.

Caleb Jackson, a colored waiter at the Continental, was arrested by Special Detective Russell, on the charge of the larceny of a pocket-book, containing about $475, the property of Mrs. Cameron. It seems that on Monday Mrs. C., in company with a couple of lady friends, stopped at the restaurant at Fifth and Chestnut streets, for the purpose of getting a dinner. The defendant was directed by John McLaughlin, having charge of the waiters, to attend the ladies. He made an attempt to put her pocket-book into her pocket, slipped it in the folds of her dress in mistake, and it dropped to the floor. As they were about leaving, Jackson was called to one side by Mrs. C. missed the treasure and returned, but it could not be found. The defendant went down stairs, where he had no business to go, and speedily returned. On searching the place the book with all the money in it was found. It was restored to the owner. Jackson was committed in default of $1,200 bail to answer.

[Before Mr. Alderman White.]

Alleged Fugitive.

A man giving the name of W. Sachet was arraigned before Alderman White yesterday on the charge of being a fugitive from justice from the State of New York, where he stands charged with having stolen three hundred dollars. He was committed to await the proper requisition papers.

SHERIFF'S SALES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—BY VIRTUE OF a writ of Levari Facias, to me directed, will be exposed to public sale or vendue, on MONDAY Evening, July 6, 1863, at 4 o'clock, at Sansom-street Hall.

All that certain lot or piece of ground with the three-story brick messuage or tenement thereon erected, situate on the south side of Spring Garden street, at the distance of 117 feet 11 inches westward from the west side of Ninth street, in the late district of Spring Garden aforesaid; containing in front or breadth on said Spring Garden street sixteen feet four inches, and extending in length or depth southward, between lines at right angles with said Spring Garden street, on the east line thereof seventy-three feet eight and three-quarter inches, and on the west line thereof seventy-three feet nine and one-half inches. Bounded northward by said Spring Garden street, southward by other ground intended to have been granted to the said John T. Jones and partly by a two-feet-six-inches-wide alley running eastward into a three-feet-wide alley leading southward into Nectarine street, southward partly by the same and partly by the next hereinafter described lot, and westward by ground of Henry A. Beck.

[No. 2. All that certain lot or piece of ground, with the brick messuage or tenement thereon erected, situate on the north side of Nectarine street, at the distance of 106 feet five and one-quarter inches westward from the west side of Ninth street, in the late district of Spring Garden aforesaid; containing in front on said Nectarine street fifteen feet two inches, and extending in length or depth northward between lines at right angles with Spring Garden street sixty-seven feet nine inches, to a three-feet wide alley extending eastward into a three-feet-six-inches-wide alley, and westward by the last above described lot, eastward partly by the head of said two-feet-six-inches-wide alley and partly by other ground, granted to the said John T. Jones, southward by said Nectarine street, and westward by ground of Henry A. Beck. [Being the same two several lots or pieces of ground which Abraham L. Pennock and Elizabeth his wife, by indenture bearing date June 25, 1852, and recorded in Deed Book G. W. No. 97, page 222, &c., granted and conveyed unto the said John T. Jones in fee, reserving thereout a yearly ground rent or rent of $240, payable half-yearly on the first days of the months of January and July, clear of taxes, &c. And the said John T. Jones hath also covenanted to pay the said ground
