CITY ITEMS.

THE PATRIOT'S HYMN BOOK.—This is the title of a neatly-printed book, containing ninety-six hymns, with a convenient index, which the reader will find advertised in another column. The selections have been made with care and judgment, and present, for the use of the soldiers in our armies and hospitals, just such a book for worship as has long been wanted. The book was compiled by Rev. A. Manship, agent for the Philadelphia Tract Society, and contains quite a number of beautiful hymns never heretofore published. We understand that three thousand of these books have just been ordered by the Christian Commission, which may be regarded as a substantial compliment to its value.

MESSRS. WENDEROTH & TAYLOR (formerly Broadbent & Co.), Nos. 912, 914, and 916 Chestnut street, are now prepared, in addition to their other branches, to execute fine photographic pictures of horses, cattle, and rural scenery of every description, at the shortest notice. Their orders of this kind are now very numerous.

FINE QUALITY OF SPICED SALMON.—Messrs. Davis & Richards, successors to the late C. H. Mattison, dealers in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, have just received a fresh lot of elegant Spiced Salmon.

THE CONSCRIPTION.—Orders have come from Washington for an immediate draft, and the "first class," consisting of all bachelors under forty-five, and married men under thirty-five, is considerably exercised in relation thereto. Let all who are drafted to go respond cheerfully to the call of the country for their services, and bear in mind that this course will best tend to the closing up of the war, by intimidating the rebels with the evidence of unanimity; and let those who are drafted to stay at home consult comfort, good taste, and economy by procuring their summer suits at the Brown-Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

ADVANTAGES OF BEING A WOMAN.—A woman says what she chooses without being knocked down for it. She can take a snooze after dinner, while her husband goes to work. She can go into the street without being asked to "stand treat" at every saloon! She can stay at home in time of war, and get married again if her husband should be killed. She can wear corsets if too thick, and other fixins if too thin. She can get divorced from her husband whenever she sees one she likes better. She can get her husband in debt all over, until he wams the public not to trust her on his account. But all these advantages are balanced by the great fact that she cannot buy her clothes ready made at the establishment of Charles Stokes & Co., under the Continental.

WANT OF PUNCTUALITY.—There is nothing more intolerable than to lose one's time in waiting; nothing more useless; nothing more inapportable; nothing which more easily might be prevented, if people would only set earnestly about it. Let every man, therefore, hasten at once (and order his summer garments from the popular One-price Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street.

OBITUARY.

Among the number of gallant defenders of our beloved country in honor and integrity, whose deaths we are so frequently called to mourn, few, if any, are more deservedly entitled to the grateful regard and profound respect of loyal citizens than the late Captain JAMES J. GRIFFITHS, that truly chivalric Christian soldier and patriot, who died on the 10th inst., of wounds received in the recent battle at Gettysburg.

Captain Griffiths was among the first of our citizens to enter the service of the Government at the commencement of the present atrociously-wicked rebellion. He served as lieutenant in Co. —, of Col. Peter Lyle's "Naval Brigade," and after the "three-months men" were discharged, he took the same position in one of the companies belonging to Col. Baxter's Fire Zouaves, was solicited, and accepted a position on Gen. Burns' staff, and as one of his aide-de-camp served through the whole of the Peninsula campaign, and in the subsequent battles at and near Fredericksburg. He then became attached to Gen. Howard's staff, of the 11th Army Corps, and was engaged in the battles at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg. Throughout his entire term of service he was conspicuous for his bravery, his fidelity, and his unswerving devotion to duty, in the discharge of the duties of his office, in pursuit of the flying enemy on three occasions received with marked distinction from the various campaigns of the war, challenging the admiration of his fellow-officers by his heroic bravery, strict discipline, and other soldierly qualities. He was, moreover, beloved by all those who served under him and with him, as well as the confidence of the several commanders, who have on many occasions bore testimony to his exalted moral worth as an exemplary Christian and strictly temperate man. He was a worthy member of the Masonic Order, and belonged to the Welsh Society. In all the relations of life, as a husband, brother, and friend, he was affectionate and sincere, and was beloved by all who knew him. His imperfect obituary is the sincere tribute to departed worth from one among his many friends.

THE INVALID CORPS.

BY GENERAL ORDERS No. 105, from the War Department, authority is given for raising a military organization, to be composed of such worthy officers and soldiers as may have become disabled from wounds received in action, or by reason of exposure in the line of duty, and to be called the INVALID CORPS.

As it is proposed that VETERANS shall not become more or less crippled in the service of their country, and have produced evidence of worthiness, this will be emphatically a CORPS OF HONOR, reckoning among its numbers many of the noblest and most gallant sons of America, who have given their blood, that the Union be gathered under the fostering protection of a grateful Government.

It is to be NATIONAL in its character, having no reference to States; hence an applicant, furnishing the necessary qualifications, may be received, if he reports to a sanhal appointed under the enrolment act, whether in his own or in another State.

Its officers and men will be designated, as a mark of distinction, by a uniform peculiar to themselves, and their duties will be such home service as they may be capable of performing, thus relieving many thousands able-bodied troops whose services are needed in the field.

One office has been open for a few weeks, for the enlistment of invalid discharged soldiers, at No 23 Locust street, Philadelphia. This is now closed, and another opened at No. 243 South THIRD Street, Philadelphia, adjoining the office of Captain LEHMAN, Provost Marshal of the First Congressional District.

A camp has been chosen near Harrisburg for the reception of all recruits for this corps enlisted in this State, where comfortable quarters are furnished, and the recruits uniformed, armed, and equipped. The following information concerning this corps is published by the War Department, viz:

"The term of enlistment in the Invalid Corps shall be three years, unless sooner discharged. It is further announced that no officer or enlisted man shall be entitled to receive any pension, premium, or bounty for enlistment or re-enlistment, or service in the Invalid Corps. Claims for pensions or bounties, which may be due for previous service, will not be invalidated by enlistment in the Invalid Corps; but no pensions can be drawn, or accrue to the benefit of any man, during his service in said corps. The officers and men will be organized into companies of infantry, of the same strength as are or may be authorized by law for the United States infantry.

"The officers and enlisted men will receive the same pay and allowances now authorized by law for the United States infantry, and will be paid in the same manner.

"Men enlisted in, or transferred to, the Invalid Corps will be subject to the Articles of War, Army Regulations, &c., the same as other soldiers, and will be required to perform all duties within the limit of their physical capacity, as laid down in the Rules and Regulations for that corps; but for the convenience of service they will be selected for three grades of duty. Those who are most efficient and able bodied, and capable of using the musket and performing guard duty, in marches, &c., &c., will be assigned to companies of the 1st Battalion. Those of the next degree of physical efficiency, including all who have lost a hand or an arm, to the companies of the 2d Battalion. Those who are the least efficient, and including all who have lost a foot or a leg, to the companies of the 3d Battalion.

"Companies of the 1st Battalion will be employed mainly as provost guards and garrisons for cities, and may be assigned to forts, field works, and railroads near the cities and other important points. They will be armed with muskets, and will not be liable to active campaigns with the field armies.

"Companies of the 2d Battalion will be armed with side-arms only, and will be employed as guards of buildings, hospitals, &c., and will have companies of the 1st Battalion on duty with them when the use of firearms may be necessary.

"The companies of the 3d Battalion will be armed with side-arms, like the 2d Battalion, and will be employed in hospitals as cooks, nurses, ward masters, clerks, orderlies, &c., &c; the officers of these companies doing the duties of military assistants at the hospitals.

For further information, discharged soldiers are invited to call at 243 South THIRD Street, or at the office of any provost marshal acting under authority of the enrolment act.
