CITY ITEMS.

FINE GROCERIES FOR THE COUNTRY.—Messrs. Davis & Richards (successors to the late C. H. Mattson), dealers in fine family groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, are now sending large quantities of goods to their country customers—hotel keepers, watering place proprietors, and private citizens. All goods bought at their store are carefully packed, and sent to any of the depôts for delivery free of charge.

GREAT REDUCTION IN THE PRICES OF CHILDREN'S STRAW HATS at Oakford & Son's, under the Continental Hotel.

MR. GEORGE GRANT, proprietor of the popular Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, No. 610 Chestnut street, makes and sells the best fitting and, in all respects, most desirable Shirt of the age. Give him a call—everybody.

FINE MILITARY GOODS of every character, for Army and Navy Officers, can be had at reasonable prices, at Oakford & Son's, under the Continental Hotel.

THE DRAFT.—The draft is now in full progress in Philadelphia. Clergymen, editors, merchants, mechanics, physicians, laborers—all classes are drawn indiscriminately from the wheel, and they are required either to shoulder a musket in the national defence, or to fork over their "little three hundred." While the work of conscripting is going forward there is no lack of volunteers who are hurrying to the Brown-Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, and procuring for themselves new and elegant outfits. This establishment supplies the wants of all, whether they are drafted to go or whether they are left to stay at home. Both civilians and military men are equally well furnished forth by this famous firm.

—LET A MAN LIVE as long as he will, the first thirty years of his life will always seem the longest; and the daily routine of our after life passes like the round of a clock, while the hands on the outside and the movements within mark the passing of time to others, till the weight has run down, and the pendulum stands still. In order that a man should pass life pleasantly, he should live according to the laws of nature, and enjoy life by enrobing himself in the neat and substantial garments manufactured at that great one-price Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street.

SONG OF THE TELEGRAM.

I'm out in the Ledger at the first blush of day,
In the Bulletin and Journal ere the twilight is gray;
I'm here, and I'm there, and, whatever I may
"How sweetly," "tis said, "does the Telegram lie!"

Then off to the mountain, and over the moor—
I pause, and I lie at the cottager's door;
And as I pass onward, I hear low and high,
How the people are pleased with the Telegram lie!

And the papers, they take me and send me along,
Though I'm often a knell, I seem ever a song;
And I flatter and soothe, and deceive till I die,
A trusted, though heart-breaking, Telegram lie!

But bear in mind, no telegram was ever yet used to announce the merits of Charles Stokes & Co.'s one-price Clothing Store, under the Continental.
