PERSONAL.

—Thomas Carlyle, by his attacks on "Black Quashee," and his extravagantly false statements as to the "industrial failure" in the West Indies, as also by his sympathy with mere force, however immoral it might be, first initiated the baneful reaction toward contempt of the negro. But I had no conception, until these events, to what lengths our upper classes could go. I hear the opinion expressed that, as soon as your success is a manifest and irrevocable fact, they will come over to you in shoals; but I do not believe that. I am sure that no ministry will dare to humor the enmity of the aristocracy against you, while our working classes will fraternize with you more and more, both in England and Ireland; but I look to see a deeper and deeper hatred against you in our aristocracy, the more the future of the world shall develop itself; for that future is American Republicanism, the foremost power on earth.—English Correspondent.

—List of Americans registered at the American banking houses in Paris, for the week ending July 24th: Richard Lathers, Edwin Burr, George S. English, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Berdell, John O. Locke and family, C. W. May, Jr., Mrs. L. R. Izzy, John F. Greene, C. H. Hidden, C. K. Prentiss, and W. J. Wiggins, of New York; J. Richards, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. H. Ross, of Delaware; Mr. C. D. Payne, of Boston; Mrs. Sellen and family, and Thomas J. Emery, of Cincinnati; J. W. Brittain and family, and J. M. Locke, of San Francisco; J. Andrews Wheelock, of Shanghae; Wm. Ingraham Kip, Jr., of California; E. A. Bogue and George S. Farnum, of Chicago; Daniel K. Cluett and J. D. Lippincott, of Philadelphia; Albert Jones, of Providence, R. I.; J. W. Patterson, of Maryland; Augustus L. Dibble, of Texas; J. R. Hamilton, of Charleston, S. C.

—Colonel Bramlette, the newly-elected Governor of Kentucky, openly sustained the President's emancipation proclamation during the recent canvass in that State. His opponent, Mr. Wickliffe, was a Union member of Congress in 1861, but since then has joined the Democrats. He does not appear to have increased his popularity by the change. Green Clay Smith, of the Covington district, who is elected to Congress, was denounced by the Louisville Journal as a Republican, but even that could not defeat him.

—Bragg appears to be troubled in the matter of supplies. A Macon paper announces that over one hundred teams are engaged in hauling corn and supplies from the extreme southwest part of Georgia to the interior lines of railway, along which they are transported to his army. Should these railways happen to be cut by our adventurous cavalry, Bragg would no doubt be compelled to abandon entirely the region about Chattanooga, and retire still farther toward the seaboard.

—The Richmond clergymen appear to have taken to preaching politics. Among the "Sabbath Notices" in last Saturday's Dispatch is the following: "The fourth of the series of interesting discourses will be delivered on Sunday morning, at Bethel Meeting House, 25th street, Church Hill. Subject, 'The Northern States of America the most likely location of 'the Lake of Fire and Brimstone,' in the which the Beast and the False Prophet will be tormented."

—Col. Basil Duke, says the Louisville Democrat, is the son of the late Capt. Duke, of the United States navy, and is only twenty-one years old, and was born at the house of his uncle, Jas. K. Duke, of Scott county, Kentucky, who is the father of the St. Louis Basil. They are both named for their grandfather, Dr. Basil Duke, who married a sister of Chief Justice Marshall, and for many years lived in Washington, in Kentucky, and died there in 1826.

—The Pulton (Missouri) Telegraph states that a petition is being circulated in the southwestern part of the State, by Edwin Price, asking the President to permit Sterling Price to return to Missouri. It is said he is penitent, and desires to abandon the rebel cause, come home, and spend the remainder of his days in peace.

—Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, has appointed Edward Everett, John M. Fessenden, and William S. Clark to be a Board of Commissioners to inquire and report upon the expediency of establishing an Academy in that Commonwealth for the instruction of young men in mathematics, civil and military engineering, drill and tactics.

—We are pleased to see from the Gettysburg Sentinel, that Gen. Paul, who was severely wounded in the first day's fight here, and reported as killed, has so far recovered from his severe wound as to sit up yesterday, and will be able to leave in the latter part of the week.

—The pirate Semmes is reported to have said, while gazing upon the leaping flames of a ship he had set on fire, that he regretted that he had not an artist to portray the scene in all its beauty. Semmes' regrets are pathetic.

—Gen. Grant is a man of great military resource. His latest contrivance is the organization of a water department in his army, by which his forces will be able to traverse any portion of Mississippi, however destitute of water.

—Howell Cobb, of Georgia, has united himself in wedlock with Mrs. Mary Rumph, widow of the late president of the Female College in Macon, Ga. They reside at present at Perry, in Macon county.

—The London Athenæum pronounces the publication entitled "Pictures of the South," by Colonel Estvan, as a plagiarism from Pollard's "First Year of the War."

—Vogel, the German traveller, lost in Africa, is exciting nearly as much sympathy as did Sir John Franklin, who met his fate in the Polar Seas.

JEWISH CHARITIES IN JERUSALEM.—A correspondent of the Observer, writing from Constantinople, June 26th, says:

"Sir Moses Montefiore has been recently to obtain from the Sultan a renewal of the grant of land near Jerusalem, which was made to him by Abdul Medjid, and which he has made use of in building almshouses for his Jewish brethren. The Sultan gave Sir Moses a private audience, and confirmed the privileges extended to him by his royal brother, at the same time assuring the baronet that it was his desire that the Jews should enjoy the same protection as his other subjects."

The grant which is here alluded to is, in all probability, the same in which many of the American Israelites are much interested. About ten years ago Mr. Judah Touro, a wealthy gentleman, died in New Orleans, leaving, among other bequests, a large sum, which was devoted to the erection of a hospital and reception house for poor Jewish pilgrims in Jerusalem. The ground selected for the erection of the house was on the southwest side of the valley of Gihon, opposite to Mount Zion. The lower pool of Gihon lies in the valley, which separates Mount Zion from the site of the buildings.

INTERVENTION.—Rev. Conway writes from Paris in regard to intervention as follows: "As for France, she means to interfere in behalf of the South. We may prepare for this. We try hard to get England to join her. If England refuses she will try Spain; but if she has to act alone, France will interfere. I am sorry to say that the measure is popular one in France. I have conversed with some of the most distinguished Frenchmen, and they say that the people agree with the Emperor in this more than in his Mexican raid, their general phrase being that 'the war is a shameless and endless as it is bloody.' France's motto of inference will be Pour Humanite."

THE UNION LEAGUE HOUSE.—Yesterday the rooms of the Union League House were visited by several hundred persons, most of whom were ladies. The decorations of the house were of the most unique and appropriate character. The National and State flags were suspended from the front windows, and the flag-pole, which surmounts the building, was adorned with thirty-five small flags, representative of the different States of the Union. The display had a fine effect. The jets composing the words "victory" and "July 4th, 1776, and 1863," which are upon the front of the building, were lit during the evening, and a fine band discoursed patriotic music in the yard. The whole affair attracted many observers and listeners.

A DESIRABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.—By referring to another column, will be seen an advertisement of a fine property situated on the Old York-road turnpike, near Oaklane Station, on the North Pennsylvania Railroad. To those desirous of procuring a desirable property at a reasonable rate, this is a fine opportunity. Particulars may be obtained by inquiring at No. 225 Church alley during the day, or after 6 P. M. on the premises.

STATISTICS OF HUMAN LIFE.—The total number of human beings on earth is now computed, in round numbers, at 1,000,000,000. They speak 3,064 tongues. The average duration of life is 33½ years. One-fourth of these die before the seventh, and one-half before the seventeenth year. Out of 100 persons only 6 reach the age of 60 and upwards, while only 1 in 1,000 arrives at the age of 100. Out of 500 only 1 attains 80 years. Of the 1,000,000,000 living persons, 333,000,000 die annually, 91,000 daily, 3,730 every hour, 60 every minute, consequently 1 every second. Out of this number many of the deaths are induced by wearing unseasonable clothing; we would therefore advise everybody to purchase at Charles Stokes & Co.'s one-price, under the Continental.

EDUCATION is a companion which no misfortune can depress; no crime can destroy; no enemy can alienate; no despotism can enslave. At home a friend; abroad an introduction; in solitude a solace; in society an ornament. It chastens vice; it guides virtue; it gives at once government and grace to genius—and leads all men uncringly to the Palatial Store of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, to buy their clothing.

WHAT IT WOULD COME TO.—If a nickel spent had been put out at compound interest at the commencement of the Christian era, it would require, at this time, 84,840 billions of globes of solid gold, each equal to the earth in magnitude, to pay the interest; and if the sum was equally divided among the inhabitants of the earth, now estimated to be one thousand millions, every man, woman, and child would receive 84,840 golden worlds for an inheritance. This would be a pretty big pile, and people would be bothered to know what to do with their shares. Discreet persons would, of course, invest largely in elegant and comfortable garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.
