SPECIAL NOTICES.

AN INCIDENT AT WASHINGTON.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

A lady to the White House went,
(As latest journals represent,)
And, while the strain'ds were shut,
She from the window curtain cut
Full half an ell of rich brocade,
Of which she for her husband made
A vest, as Willis says, "too loud"
To please the fashionable crowd.
The man who wore this vest, it seems,
Was mocked by office-hunting dreams,
And to the President applied;
(His honesty was certified;)
But, when the President surveyed
His vest, of stolen dry goods made,
He said, "My friend, I see a sign,
Which tells me you can never shine
Among that uncorrupted race
Which I in office wish to place."
So, Father Abe dismissed him quick,
And disappointment made him sick.
But, when his contrite dame con'essed
How she obtained that flashy vest,
He said, "Let office-hunters all
Obtain their gear at Tower Hall.
And when for places they apply,
They will not be repulsed, "like I."

STEINWAY'S PIANOS

The fame of these instruments has extended to every part of Europe. We find on the programme of the Philharmonic Concerts in Bremen and Brunswick a note stating that the grand piano fortes used were "from the manufactory of Messrs. STEINWAY & Sons, New York." We also see by a London paper, noticing the fact of WILLIE PAPE playing before the Prince and Princess of Wales during the bridal festivities, that "the piano used at the castle was one of STEINWAY & SONS' New York, which took the prize medal at the World's Fair."

Some benevolent gentleman distributed a lot of clothing on the first cold snap time ago, and we have no doubt thinking he had done a great deal of good because he is rumored to whom to promised to come to church and do better; but he did positive harm. None but the least worthy received any of them, and they sold them at the "grocerie" down here, and got gloriously drunk on the proceeds. We are down here to prevent imposition, and to look after those who receive charity. We remove to the country those we help, or keep a close oversight over them every day, so there is but little chance to impose upon us. We would be glad to show visitors our operations, if they will give us a call. Bedford street is just below South. 1t
