LILLIE'S PATENT BURGLAR-PROOF SAFE. DRILLED AND BLOWN OPEN WITH POWDER, AT WILKESBARRE, PA., NOVEMBER, 1863.
NOTICE.—To Philadelphia Bankers and all other persons who have purchased Safes from those New York humbugs who advertise that they are the only firm that can make safes that will stand fire, and cannot be drilled, bored, blown open with powder, nor robbed in any manner. Woe to you that there is not one of your great Patent Safes, of this make, you now have in use, that cannot be drilled and blown open in the same manner as below.
If you, the above purchasers, will appoint a committee of three, who will go to Troy, New York, and ascertain how many more than twenty of these Lillie's great Safes were destroyed, and their contents entirely burned up, by the late destructive fire in that place, we will pay all the expense of their journey.
Please read the following, taken from the Record of the Times, of November 19th:
"WILKESBARRE, PA.
"BANK ROBBED.—The banking office of W. G. Sterling, Esq., a few doors from this office, was entered on Friday morning, and a large burglar and fire-proof Safe, of Lillie's patent, blown open. The event attracted a crowd as soon as it was discovered, the news spreading like wildfire. Mr. Sterling was at work there till after eleven on Thursday evening. After that hour the burglars entered and drilled through the chilled door, filled the lock with powder, and blew it open."
All this was done in less than four hours, and these are the great chilled iron safes which the makers have been saying cannot be drilled.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., December 1, 1863.
Messrs. EVANS & WATSON—Gentlemen: On the 13th ultimo, the banking house of W. G. Sterling, Esq., of this place, was entered by burglars. His money and papers were contained in one of "Lillie's Patent Burglar Proof Safes," which was entered by means of a hole being drilled through the door into the lock, and the door blown to pieces with powder. The safe door was split across its face, and completely destroyed.
I understand from Mr. Sterling that the safe was of about the "two-hundred-dollar size," and that Mr. Lillie's agent has agreed to deliver to Mr. Sterling a six-hundred-dollar Safe, in order to get possession of the wreck. Respectfully yours, &c., C. F. REETS.
WILLIAMSPORT, Lycoming co., Pa., December 11, 1862.
Messrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia—Gentlemen: I went to Lock Haven yesterday. Among the different fire-proofs which had passed through the great fire, I found three or four of your safes, which had preserved the books, papers, &c., in a perfect condition, bearing not the least mark of the great conflagration.
Messrs. Boggs & Beadle had in their store one of Lillie's make of safes, which was burned up. I send you by express part of the charred remains of the wood-work. Very respectfully yours, C. D. EMERY. del1-3tif

KIRK'S CHARLES THE BOLD. Will be published, December 15th, HISTORY OF CHARLES THE BOLD, DUKE OF BURGUNDY. BY JOHN FOSTER KIRK. Two Vols. 8vo. Muslin, uncut, on white paper..........$3.00 per vol. Half Morocco, with Vellum Cloth Sides and Gilt Top, on Tinted-laid Paper.......... 5.50 per vol.
"The remarkable epoch treated by Mr. Kirk is full of grand historical figures; and by his narrative an entirely new light is thrown on some of the most important events in Charles' career. His position as the 'Napoleon of the Middle Ages' is fully indicated, and the influence is traced both of his ambition and of his fall upon the destinies of the principal European States."
The Atlantic Monthly says:
"We have no hesitation in assigning to Mr. Kirk's most fascinating narrative a place with the great achievements of genius in the department he has chosen to fill. His advent among historians will be welcomed the world over."
From Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie:
"The author will take his stand at once among the great writers of his land and time."

JUST PUBLISHED— BRIGHTLY'S BIENNIAL DIGEST OF THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES, FROM 1857 to 1863. Imperial 8 vo. Price, $3.50. SUPPLEMENTARY TO BRIGHTLY'S UNITED STATES DIGEST.
This work is in continuation of and will complete Brightly's United States Digest to the present time. It contains the Public Statutes passed at the last seven sessions of Congress, including the War Legislation of the Thirty-seventh Congress, and the Decisions of the Courts upon Federal Statutes. This book ought to be in the hands of every lawyer and public man; for, in addition to the acts in reference to the Army and Navy of the United States, including the Conscription Law, with the latest decisions upon it, and those relating to the Volunteer Forces, it contains the Laws for the suppression of the Rebellion, the Confiscation Act, the United States Banking Act, the Pension Laws, the Homestead Law, the Tariff Act, with the explanatory decisions of the Treasury Department, and the Excise Law, with all the determinations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, taken from the Records under the immediate supervision of the Department, and showing its practical working. The various decisions upon the recent Federal Statutes have been carefully collected, and are now for the first time embodied and presented to the public in a reliable and convenient form.
