English Sympathy with the late Rebellion.

We quote from an English paper the following extract from a speech of Mr. Roebuck on American affairs. The speech was delivered on the ninth of this month, and needs no stigmatizing from us on the score of the unprovoked malice from one who, when he started in political life, professed himself a most thorough-paced English radical:

"I say I am as opposed to slavery as you—[hear, hear]—but there are many ways of getting rid of slavery. One is to get rid of the slave. That is being done at the present moment. They are dying by hundreds of thousands ['Not'] 'No.'] I then said, and I say now, that the best way of emancipating the slaves was to do it gradually and carefully; to fit them for freedom, and by that means not to incur the terrible guilt of killing many millions of your fellow men. [Laughter.] That is all I need say about America. ['How about recognizing the South?'] I am quite sure that if the South had been recognized great good would have been done, been split in two—[cheers and hisses]—and for the safety of Europe that is required. ['No.'] You have not played out the play yet, my good fellow. [Laughter.] By and by you will see what will be the result, and I say that my policy was a wise policy. It was not accepted by the great council of the nation, and what did I do? When I found that the House of Commons was resolved not to acknowledge the South, I held my tongue about the matter. [Cheers, and a cry of 'Good.'] I have never uttered a debate about America since. I felt that in that great assembly every word peals throughout the world, and that every word I utter, insignificant as I may be, will sound as a trumpet to all mankind. I did not speak; I accepted the decision of the House of Commons; I thought—I think it wrong, and I hope my country may not find that I was right." [Cheers.]

New Application of Electricity.

ITS POWER AS AN INSTRUMENT OF DESTRUCTION.

We find in the Parisian correspondence of the English Times, the following allusion to the late invention, translated from an article recently published by a French editor. If true of which we at present have some doubts, it certainly will do much in the next four or five years to render the ports of civilized nations impregnable from the sea, until some means are discovered for obviating its facile mode of destruction.

"The Messager du Midi publishes a letter from Toulon, dated the 10th instant. It states on that morning a decisive experiment was made with an electrical instrument of destruction invented by the vice admiral prefect maritime of that port. The result exceeded the hopes of the inventor, and the writer of the letter says that henceforth, thanks to the new machine, all defences, such as ramparts, batteries, and other old-fashioned expedients employed for the protection and security of the ports of France, can be dispensed with. The writer adds that if ever an enemy's squadron dare present itself before a French port it could easily be pulverised before it could have time to fire a shot. All present at the experiment were convinced of the fact when they saw an old ship-of-war thirty feet wide lifted out of the water, split and sunk in less than a minute at a signal from the inventor. The destructive effects of the machine were so startling that it became evident no iron-plated ship-of-war could resist such a shock. What is very remarkable in this new instrument of destruction is that it is not necessary to wait until the enemy's ship strikes the machine, as in case of the torpedoes invented by the Russians and Americans. The French system is said to be more certain and more expeditious. The electric spark reaches the enemy's ship, and destroys it with the rapidity of lightning."

Increased Southern Representatives.

By the new order of things the South will have fourteen additional Representatives in Congress. By the eighth census there are from the South twenty-two Senators and sixty-one Representatives. But in that census only three-fifths of the slaves were enumerated; and as slavery is to be abolished by each of those States as a preliminary to the admission of their Representatives, they will be entitled to representation for all their black population. The loyal slaveholding States which have abolished or may abolish slavery are also thereby entitled to representation of the two fifths of slaves heretofore not enumerated. Taking the the number of slaves in 1860 at four millions, it may be supposed (says the Washington Intelligencer) that, adding their increase, the emancipados will number forty-four hundred thousand in 1866. Two-fifths of this number, heretofore unrepresented, will be then entitled to representation, namely, one million seven hundred and sixty thousand blacks. Two hundred and forty-one is the number of Representatives established by our existing law, and in order to find the representation ratio, the aggregate Federal population is divided by two hundred and forty-one. The ratio of representation thus determined and fixed by the last census was one Representative for every one hundred and twenty-seven thousand. In some of the Congressional districts in the South the emancipated blacks will number three to one of the whites.

FORD'S THEATRE AND THE PUBLIC.—Ford's theatre inside presents a scene of the greatest confusion. All the properties, wardrobes, furniture, etc., are piled upon the stage, preparatory to packing and removing. The purchasers propose to pay $10,000 to Mr. Ford this week, when the property will be conveyed to them. Strangers in the city are continually calling and asking admission to the building; but thus far none have been admitted, save a few members of the press. Notwithstanding the close surveillance of the guards who have had the theatre in charge, the building has been roughly used. Curiosity-seekers have completely whittled away the bench upon which "Peanut John" sat whilst holding Booth's horse, and about a yard square has been cut away from the green-baize carpet, surrounding the spot where Booth's feet struck when he jumped upon the stage, after shooting the President. One of these curious visitors entered the saloon adjoining the theatre, where Booth took his last drink of brandy just before he murdered Mr. Lincoln. The visitor inquired of the barkeeper: "Have you the same bottle on hand out of which Booth drank on the night of the assassination?" "Yes, sir." "And the same brandy in it?" "Yes, sir." "Can I have a drink of that same brandy out of the same bottle?" "Yes, sir." "Let's have it." The visitor tastes the brandy, makes a wry face and continues: "And that's the same brandy that Booth drank?" "Yes, sir." "Well, I don't wonder that he killed the President! to drink of that brandy would make a man kill his grandmother."—New York Times.

FESTIVAL OF ACTORS AND ACTRESSES.—There will be a mammoth festival in New York on July 4th, held by the actors and actresses of that city, at the Bellevue Gardens. This will be the first jubilee of this kind known in America. It will be under the management of Mr. Albert Cassedy, well known as the business manager for Miss Lucille Western.

SUGGESTION NO. 1.

Which is the best place for me to buy my clothing? To decide this question, so often asked, we would respectfully suggest a careful comparison of prices, styles and qualities of the best class Chestnut and Market streets clothing establishments, confidently believing that the people will find that we offer greater inducements in extent of assortment, style of garments, and moderation in price, than can be found anywhere else. If this is not the case, we will not ask your patronage.

NOTICE TO ALL FREEHOLDERS, TAX-PAYERS, CONVEYANCERS, AND OTHERS CONCERNED.

DEPARTMENT OF SURVEYS,
REGISTRY BUREAU, June 26, 1865.

Notice is hereby given, that notwithstanding the act of Assembly, passed on the 16th March, 1865, and an ordinance of the city of Philadelphia, made in pursuance thereof, this Department will be prepared to receive the descriptions of all lands and corporeal real estate within said city, from and after the 1st day of July, 1865.

The purpose of the [illegible] is declared by its title, which is: "An act to promote the regular certain and equal assessment of Taxes in Philadelphia," and a principal means devised therefor is the plotting of all of the real estate within the city, in manner to exhibit the lines and dimensions, with the names of the owners thereof. To this end it is made the duty of

1st. Of all owners of houses and lots, to furnish, forthwith, descriptions of their property to this office, by the presentation of their deeds, upon which will be placed a certificate of the fact of such return having been made, and thereafter the property so returned shall not be subject to sale for taxes thereafter to become a lien thereon, except it be in the name of the owner so returned, and after service of notice upon him on his cause of a writ of summons.

2d. Of every seller and buyer of ground upon the planned city plot to make report to this office of every conveyance made, with the precise dimensions and locality of the premises, and when the preceding returns are made there will be no changes made therefor; but if the owner desires a certificate of his having made such return for his protection, and to exhibit to the Recorder of Deeds, he is hereby authorized to do the fee of twenty five cents (exclusive of Revenue stamp.)

3d. In one instance the buying or seller has made such return, and produced the proof thereof to the Recorder of Deeds, he is required not to admit the deed for record without charging fifteen cents for each lot described therein; and it is then made his duty to furnish the proper descriptions with date of conveyance and names of grantor and grantee, into this Department, within one month, under a penalty of one dollar for each omission.

4th. And it is made the duty of every purchaser of a house and lot, at sheriff's sale, before he can receive an allotment in partition; of every devisee by will, to make returns as aforesaid; and if he shall not have done so, it is made the duty of the Orphans' Court, and the Register of Wills, to perform the like duty, for the other parties, and under the same penalty as the Recorder of Deeds.

5th. The performance of the said duties as enjoined by the act will exonerate the seller from future liability for the taxes without reclamation therefor, and will secure upon the purchaser, the lien of the tax as an immunity against loss of his title by sales for taxes without notice to him, and exempt them from the penalty of five dollars imposed by the act for failure to comply with its regulations.

The Chief Engineer and Surveyor respectfully requests of the owners of real estate a prompt so operation in carrying out the important purposes of the act, that they, as well as the city, may secure at once the obvious advantages designed, in the more certain and orderly assessment of taxes, and the greater security and certainty of their titles to real estate within the city.

Conveyancers, Agents, and others, can procure blanks for descriptions by applying at this office, No. 2[illegible] South FIFTH Street, below Walnut, Room No. 6, first floor.

STRICKLAND KNEASS,
Chief Engineer and Surveyor.

U. S. 5-20 SIX PER CENT.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These Bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County, and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any banker.

The interest at 7-30 per cent. amounts to
One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent. instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven-Thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices as that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent. in currency. This is now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now in the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the Loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

FOURTH OF JULY

What better thing can be done on the coming National Holiday than to put into the hands of every boy that can read, a copy of that most interesting and patriotic volume setting forth

THE OLD FLAG,

WHAT THE OLD FLAG IS,
WHAT IT REPRESENTS,
WHAT IT COST,
AND
WHAT IT IS WORTH, AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED.

Let all our young people be thoroughly versed in the principles of this book, and no weapon formed against our country and its institutions at home or abroad can prosper.

"It has the very strictures," (says the Hon. Horace Binney,) "which parents seek in their early books, and so rarely find without some alloy."
