NEWS OF THIS VICINITY

CLARK'S GREEN.

Mrs. H. N. Mott has been quite ill, but is slowly convalescing.

Rev. J. C. Johnson, of Bald Mount, was a visitor here during the week.

Clarence E. Decker, of Scranton, called on friends here on Thursday last.

W. V. Good has his newly purchased home nearly ready for occupancy. He has made quite extensive alterations in the same and has put in a furnace for heating the same.

George Williams has moved into the house lately occupied by Mr. Anthony Lance at the Summit.

M. Luther Miller, of Scott, will occupy his new home on Highland park soon.

An improvement on our main thoroughfare quite noticeable is the placing o f a large quantity of well broken stone in the same. It is certainly the best thing that could be done at this time of year.

The Epworth league rally held here on last Friday evening and Saturday was quite largely attended. The lecture on the "Philosopher's Stone" by the Rev. S. Jay Austin, of Wallsville, was very highly appreciated. The exercises on Saturday were very much delayed by the inclement weather, yet much interest was manifested in the articles presented. Miss Lydia Perkins' report on the Simpson rally at Scranton was greatly appreciated, as it furnished new material for thought to the many who were not privileged to attend; also the essay on "What Literary Work Is Practicable in Our Leagues" by Miss Luella Frace, which drew forth much comment and discussion. Several papers were necessarily forced over into the afternoon session. The essay by Miss Ella Mumford was loudly cheered. The paper upon the "Aim of the Epworth League" produced much discussion by its many suggestive thoughts. The "Various Plans of League Work" was also suggestive, and will leave many thoughts among the listeners. At the business meeting an appropriate constitution was adopted for the government of the newly formed "Simpson Epworth League Union," which includes the Waverly, Newton, Falls, Dalton, Factoryville, Nicholson, Tunkhannock and West Nicholson charges, and which will hold its meetings quarterly. The first meeting to be announced at the coming rally to be held at Bald Mount on Thursday and Friday of this week. Any of the places within the district named by invitation may secure its beneficial aid to their own local chapter, the first meeting to be held in January, 1895, by applying to E. W. Kemmerer, president; Albert Mack, secretary, or the board of control, consisting of Dr. J. C. Coult, Professor Fred C. Hanyon, of Waverly, Pa., and A. A. Davis, of Clark's Green, before the 22nd inst. From the lateness of the hour much was omitted. The singing was largely congregational. Two duets were sung, the first by the Misses Bertha Beatty and Bessie Mullenix, and the second by the Misses Belle and Eleanor Biesecker, of Bald Mount. Both were highly appreciated. The last, though somewhat condensed, was by no means the least. The address by the presiding elder, Rev. J. G. Eckman, on the "Elements of Strength in the Epworth League," closing at 4.30 p. m. with congratulations to the visiting delegates from Waverly, which was large, Factoryville, Newton, Clark's Summit, Chinchilla, and the rally passed into the things that were.

There were no regular preaching services held in the Methodist Episcopal church in the afternoon, having been taken up for the quarterly meeting service, which was held at Waverly. Special preaching service was held in the evening by Rev. J. G. Eckman, who preached from the text Acts ix, 20 "And straight he preached Christ in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God."

Special meeting of the cabinet of our Chapter of Epworth league will be held on Tuesday evening at the house of J. W. Mullenix.

ARCHBALD.

Colonel H. B. Sprague delivered the fourth of the course of lectures on "Shakespere" for Archbald University Extension circle on Wednesday evening. The attendance was very large and the lecture was fully as satisfactory as any of those that have preceeded it. The speaker dwelt on Shakespere's minor poems; the Baconian theory and the changes in Shakespere's style. It was illustrated by copious selections from the sonnets and plays of the great author. Colonel Sprague is not a believer in the Baconian theory and thinks that there was a vast difference in the character of the men and the style of their writings. Shakespere had a luxurant imagination; there is sentiment, warmth, feeling and a wealth of imagery in his work. Bacon was almost without poetic feeling; he had sentiment and imaginative power but not the graceful manner of expression that one finds in Shakespere. His mind was the mind of a poet. Aside from the difference in style and temperament, Mr. Sprague gave other reasons tending to prove that Bacon was not the author of the plays attributed to Shakespere. The next lecture will be given on Wednesday, Dec. 5. It will relate to his character and other qualities that have made him famous.

The Transit company is now using covered cars. They were run for the first time on Tuesday afternoon. They are elegant and comfortable, a vast improvement over the refrigerators that have been used on the line.

The fair of St. Thomas' congregation continues to attract large crowds nightly. A large number of persons from out of town attend each evening.

TAYLOR.

W. L. Van Buskirk has returned to Philadelphia after a two weeks' stay here.

Misses Cusick, of Hyde Park, and Mollie O'Malley, of Pittston, were visitors here Monday evening.

The revival services conducted by Mrs. Grace Weiser Davis at the Methodist Episcopal church are being well attended, and a number of persons are becoming converted at each meeting.

The fair of the German Evangelical church commenced last evening at Weber's rink.

One of the most pleasant social gatherings held in this place for some time past was given at the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Winslow, corner of Grove and Washington streets, on Monday evening. The event was a surprise party in honor of their son, Fred's, twentieth birthday. After the usual birthday greetings were exchanged, the young people made themselves perfectly at home, and then the evening was enjoyably spent in playing games of all kinds. About 11 o'clock a light lunch was served to the assembled guests. The following persons were present: Misses Jettie Winslow, Lena King, Edith Van Buskirk, Mary Van Buskirk, Edith Price, Anna Gordon, Kate Ludgate, Anna Nash, Mattie Courtright, Ida Courtright, Maria Thomas, Anna Beisecker, Sarah Reese, Anna Field, Grace King, W. S. Decker, H. J. Daniels, Thomas Davis, William Gordon, John Gordon, Frank Decker, David Harris, Gomer Davis, Harry Winslow and John Richards.

Elmer E. Brown, clerk in the commissioner's office, is remodeling and enlarging the house on Harrison street he recently purchased.

The harvest home festival given by the Epworth league last evening was in charge of Mrs. C. J. Reed and Miss Addie McKown, and was a complete success in every particular. The decorations were fine and the programme very pleasing. Miss Ella Brown as "Queen of the Harvest" did the honors gracefully. A nice little sum for the treasury was netted.

J. D. Rouse, of Philadelphia, was a guest of his brother-in-law, J. J. Depue, yesterday.

White & Dietrich are erecting a fine monument at Newton Center today in memory of the late Henry B. Colium, of that place.

Today, at high noon, occurred the marriage of Dr. F. Judson Bardwell to Miss Hattie R. Little, at the residence of the bride's parents on Warren street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Hodge, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Miss Sallie Bannatyne acted as bridesmaid and Rodney J. Bardwell as best man. The occasion was a bright and happy one and the bride and groom the recipients of many elegant and costly presents. They will spend the honeymoon visiting New York, New Haven and other places in the east.

A Wonderful Cure

Ulcer in the Stomach

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Flesh Strength and Health.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I feel it my duty to suffering humanity to give a statement of the wonderful cure Hood's Sarsaparilla brought about for me. Over two years ago I became ill, due to an ulcer in my stomach. I had six or seven different physicians, whose standing was of the highest, but they did not cure me. I was broken down in health and lost in weight from 145 to 118 Pounds.

I could hardly get around, and after suffering severely for about a year, I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the first bottle I began to feel like a new man. I purchased another bottle and had not taken half of it when I was cured of my trouble. I am now in health, back to my old weight again and attending regularly to my work. I firmly believe Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life." P. W. BUSH, Analomink, Pennsylvania. Get Hood's.
