WILKES-BARRE.

[The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 29, Lanning building, Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, for the transaction of business. The publishers propose to extend the circulation of The Tribune in Wilkes-Barre and the surrounding towns, and to that end will present a very complete department of Luzerne county news. For success in this undertaking dependence is placed solely upon the superiority of The Tribune as a purveyor of all the news of the day—domestic, foreign, local, commercial and financial. The general interests of the people of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming valley will have in The Tribune an earnest advocate, editorially and otherwise. It is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver it to the people throughout northeastern Pennsylvania from three to five hours earlier than the Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them].

ARCHITECT MYERS' CLAIM.

His Son's Presence Means an Effort to Collect the Second Instalment of Ten Thousand Dollars; but This Will Probably Be Resisted.

The presence in town of the son of Architect Myers, of Michigan, referred to in yesterday's issue of The Tribune, is attracting much comment and not a little anxiety. It is admitted that the principal object of his visit is to collect the second instalment of $10,000, due his father on his contract with the county commissioners. There is not much doubt in the mind of any one that payment of the claim can and will be enforced. That the county commissioners had full power and authority to make such a contract is admitted. That they were either wittingly or unwittingly overreached by the architect is also clear. Under the terms of that contract Myers has already received $10,000, and the commissioners obligated themselves to pay to him a second instalment of $10,000 when the completed plans for the new court house were delivered. Architect Myers has complied with his part of the contract, and there seems to be no escape for the commissioners. The county treasurer, it has been alleged, will refuse to honor the order of the commissioners if presented for payment, and if he does litigation will undoubtedly follow.

No one for a moment believes that the new court house will be erected in the near future, and never according to the million dollar plan of Architect Myers. Injunctions will follow immediately on the heels of any movement the commissioners may make. A prominent Wilkes-Barre attorney, discussing this subject the other day, expressed himself as follows: "I think we can tie the hands of the present board of county commissioners and defer this new court house business until an opportunity has been given the people of Luzerne county to elect a new board, composed of practical business men, who have some idea of the eternal fitness of things. I do not impeach the integrity of Commissioners Smith, Dullard and Norton, but it has been clearly and conclusively demonstrated that they are sadly lacking in that sound judgment and knowledge that should characterize a board of public officers charged with so great a financial trust. There is nothing better to do that I can see, than to fight off this new court house project until a different [illegible] commissioners can be elected. [illegible]s of the contract made by the [illegible]sioners with Architect Myers is all [illegible] evidence sensible men require to prove that these commissioners are not proper custodians of so great a public trust. Give the people a chance and they will elect a board composed of men who will not commit such stupendous blunders. We have been done out of $20,000, but there is still a fighting chance of saving half a million dollars, and there is going to be a fight."

NEED A NEW HOTEL.

Fine Opportunity for Some Live Citizen to Immortalize Himself.

There is not another city of 40,000 inhabitants in the state of Pennsylvania whose hotel accommodations are so limited as are those of Wilkes-Barre. This has been a standing complaint for many years. The tearing down of the old Luzerne House, to give way for a business block, still further emphasizes the evil. There is a good deal of talk about organizing a stock company for the erection of a first-class hotel, but up to this time the project has not taken tangible form. It is amazing that with all the capital lying loose here something has not been done long ago. There are half a dozen, possibly a dozen, men in Wilkes-Barre who have the financial ability to follow the example of John Jermyn of Scranton and erect such an hotel as is now going up on Wyoming avenue in your city, and that is the kind of hotel Wilkes-Barre needs. There is money in it for the man who possesses the financial resources to assume the undertaking.

This city is fully up-to-date in almost every respect excepting its hotel accommodations. Every religious denomination is supplied with magnificent churches, we have first-class places of amusement, our public school buildings in size and magnificence are unexcelled by those of any city in the state, and our Ninth regiment has the largest and best appointed armory in Pennsylvania. Add to these such splendid edifices as Hollenback's Coal Exchange, Edward Welles' great building on the Square, the Laning block, the Osterhout building and the fine banks, and it can truthfully be said that we are lacking only in a first-class modern hotel.

CHARMING BEAR LAKE.

Pleasant Features of a Select Luzerne Colony in Lackawanna.

Probably nearly all of the reading [illegible]blic in Lackawanna know that there [illegible]uch a place as Bear Lake within [illegible] limits of their county, and also [illegible] it is one of the most delightful [illegible]ots in this portion of the terrestrial [illegible]phere. Bear Lake, together with quite an extensive territory surrounding this delightful body of water, is the property of a very select and also very close corporation, composed of about a dozen Wilkes-Barre people, who have erected splendid cottages there in which they reside during the summer months. They also maintain what they call a Lodge, which is nothing more nor less than a commodious boarding house, where the occupants of the cottages can take their meals. No one outside the corporation can be accommodated at the Lodge, except as the invited guest of one of the lodges.

[illegible] of the more prominent members of the Bear Lake colony is [illegible]rrick M. Harding, who not [illegible] handsome and commodious [illegible] the borders of the lake, but [illegible] extensive farm adjoining. [illegible]pends most of his spare [illegible]e summer at Bear Lake, and delightfully entertains his friends. This Wilkes-Barre colony in Lackawanna is a model socially, intellectually and in every other respect, and happy are the outsiders who are favored with an invitation to sojourn there.

BASE BALL SEASON.

The Home Team Vanquishes the Rochester Nine by Score of 5 to 3.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the opening game of the Eastern league, between the Wilkes-Barre and the Rochester clubs, at Athletic park, before a large and hopeful crowd of enthusiastic admirers of the game. The Wilkes-Barre club is a strong organization, with Honorable William S. McLean as president, H. J. Dennin and Alexander Dick as vice president, and Abram Nesbit as treasurer. With the presidents of two of our National banks occupying the principal offices in the organization there is a flavor of financial strength not often found in a base ball club. The merits of the players composing the club will become apparent later. It is believed, however, that the club will prove a strong aggregation. The game was called promptly at 3.45 by J. H. Gaffney, who had been sent here by President Powers to umpire the game, and who has the reputation of being one of the fairest and ablest of umpires. Following is the score:

Wild pitches—Harper. Passed balls—Diggins. Umpire—Gaffney. Time of game—1.50.

Notes of the Game.

About 1,000 people witnessed the game.

In the second inning Betts made a beautiful catch after a long run.

Daly made a long drive over right field fence for a home run in the fifth inning.

Lazotte made a good record at the bat yesterday, two three-baggers and a single.

Betts' fielding and the batting of Lazotte, Lush, Shannon and Lytle were the features of the game.

Rochester only made seven hits off of Campfield, and they were well scattered.

A cold rain set in during the sixth inning which chilled the spectators through.

Rochester and Wilkes-Barre will play again at Athletic park this afternoon at 3.45.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

The Alleged Slayers of Barney Reick at the Bar of Justice.

One of the most important murder trials that has occurred in this county in recent years commenced yesterday. In November, 1893, Barney Reick was lured from his home to the yard of the Delaware and Hudson railroad on pretense that some one wanted to sell him a carload of potatoes. When the yard was reached Reick was attacked, sandbagged in the most brutal manner and robbed of his money, amounting to about $300. He was some time afterward found in a dying condition. The murder was involved in mystery until more than a year had passed by, when the case was placed in the hands of Herman Barring's detective agency. Sharp men were put to work and the result was the arrest of James Hendricks, James Fisher, William Kearney and John J. Robinson. These four were arraigned yesterday and their counsel asked for a separate trial for each, which was granted, and Hendricks was placed in the dock, while the other three were remanded to jail to await their turn. The work of securing a jury was then proceeded with and the usual difficulty was experienced in selecting the necessary twelve. Attorneys McGovern, O'Boyle, Shea and Gillespie will defend the prisoners. The accused are all residents of this county and at least two of them are respectably connected. The victim of the crime was an inoffensive and thrifty peddler who was known to carry considerable money with him at all times. The principal witness, it is said, is a woman named Ray Boyer who says two of the accused came to her house and divided a sum of money, and also that Hendricks confessed the same evening that he had "done up Barney Reick." Mr. Barring appears at the prosecutor's table and claims he will produce conclusive evidence of the guilt of all four of the prisoners. The widow of the murdered man has identified one of the accused as the person who came to their house and asked her husband to go to the freight yard, where he was killed.

In cases of burns, sprains, scalds, or any of the other accidental pains likely to come to the human body, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil gives almost instant relief.

The Tax Receivership.

The periodical contest over the appointment of a tax receiver for Wilkes-Barre is again in progress. This appointment, under the provisions of a special act of assembly, devolves upon the president judge of Luzerne county. The office is an exceedingly "fat" one, and has been continuously held for twelve years by J. W. Gilchrist. Others have striven for it in vain all these years. At this time Receiver Gilchrist has an active competitor in the person of E. H. Chase, a Republican, who, in former years, rendered the party excellent service as an organizer and manager of campaigns, and who was also collector of internal revenue under several administrations. There are other aspirants for this desirable office, among them Councilman Fred Reutelhuber, whose friends claim for him the recognition faithful and efficient party service should command. Judge Rice will probably make the appointment very soon.

Want to Be Alderman.

There is a vacancy in the office of alderman of the Eighth ward, caused by the death of the Venerable Alderman Ziegler. Four or more aspirants are appealing to Governor Hastings for the appointment. The contest appears, however, to have narrowed down to James B. Ford and Councilman Robert Williams, both of whom are good men and have strong backing. The other candidates are gentlemen named Bywater and Ritter, not nearly so well-known as Messrs. Ford and Williams. As the ward is rather strongly Democratic, there will be a big fight for the office next spring, no matter which of the Republicans now seeking the appointment wins.

Strike at a Mine.

A Strike occurred at No. 1 mine of the Red Ash Coal company, located near Mountain Park, yesterday. A number of the drivers who have been receiving $1.43 per day demanded $1.65, claiming that as they are required to do spragging they are entitled to spragger's wages. Their demand being refused the drivers struck, and work at the mine was suspended, throwing between three hundred and four hundred persons into idleness. Honorable Morgan B. Williams, the general manager of the company, yesterday declared he neither knew nor cared how long the strike would continue. It is not improbable that the trouble will be speedily adjusted and work resumed.

WYOMING COAL SHIPPED.

The Wilkes-Barre Record yesterday contained the following report of coal shipped from the Wyoming region during the week ending Saturday, April 27, which strikingly shows the depressed condition of the coal business:

BRIEF NOTES.

The daughters of the American Revolution held a meeting last evening at the rooms of the Historical society.

The Grand Army men are being appealed to not to abandon the usual Memorial Day parade, but it is understood they will do no marching this year.

Three non-answering jurors were yesterday fined $30 each by Judge Woodward. When they appear and render a satisfactory excuse the fine will be remitted, as usual.

James Coolbaugh, a cripple, was yesterday before the mayor, plead guilty to running a speak-easy, was fined $10 and committed to jail in default of $500, to await trial.

Great crowds thronged the court house yesterday in anticipation of the trial of the alleged murderers of Barney Reick. A murder trial draws almost equal to a circus in Wilkes-Barre.

The Times office has just received three typesetting machines, which are being set up in the new building soon to be occupied by that paper. The Times is forging ahead, and is the first of the Wilkes-Barre papers to get the machines.

The next musical event here will be the spring concert of the Concordia, May 16. These concerts are looked forward to with delight by the music lovers of the valley. The Concordia owns its own hall and it is one of the handsomest in the state.

A stated meeting of the Luzerne County Medical society will be held tomorrow evening at the society's rooms in Coal Exchange building. Doctors Hileman, Stewart and Roe will do the principal talking, and the subject for discussion will be "Hysteria."

"THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE

IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE."

Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life, Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book Called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

"Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work wonders with this generation of men."

The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power.

A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despondency, &c.

To exchange a jaded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.

To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, &c.

To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men only who need it.

A despairing man, who had applied to us, soon after wrote:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

And another thus:

"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."

Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY, Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book, in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is well introduced.

PITTSTON.

The West Pittston fire laddies have arranged a very delightful entertainment for their lady friends in return for the kindness shown by them at the recent hose fair and benefit. The entertainment will take place at Keystone hall on Friday evening, May 3. A very pleasing programme has been arranged. Music will be furnished by the Anthracite Glee club; Willard Howe will render a pleasing recitation; history of the company, by C. H. Phillips. To the toast, "Our Ladies," B. R. Emory will respond. A dainty collation will be served, after which those who desire may participate in the festive dance.

Pugilism at Pittston.

An interesting exhibition of boxing was given at Music hall last evening, at the tournament under the management of John L. Mitchell, of Scranton. John Feeney acted as master of ceremonies; Al. Rose was referee, and the judges were Corcoran and Mitchell. The first exhibition was given by Jack Gallagher and Tony Parker (colored), of Pittston. They fought four rounds without marked advantages on either side and the bout was declared a draw. The 115-pound class was represented by Joe Allen, of Scranton, and Eddie Joyce of Pittston. This was decided a draw. In the 130-pound class, Jack Madigan, of Scranton, and George Ormsby, of Pittston, gave an interesting act, during which blood flowed freely from the nasal organs of the combatants. During the fourth round the police interfered and stopped the fun. Tom Kelly, of Pittston, and William Mattison, of Scranton, next appeared in the 140-pound class. In the first round Kelly went in the mill in good form and succeeded in finding Mattison's face and caused the blood to flow in a profuse manner suggestive to the season of pigsticking. Mattison was nearly knocked out in the third round, when the police again interfered and stopped further operations. The bout was decided in favor of Kelly. Pat Gibbons, of Pittston, and Richard Hicks next entertained the crowd present with a lively match which was stopped by the police. The round was decided in favor of Hicks. Harry Cortright, the "pine knot," and John Barrett gave a special exhibition in which Barrett showed some fine points. This was declared a draw. The closing match was between John L. Mitchell, of Scranton, and James McCadden, of Wilkes-Barre. McCadden put up a lively fight, but was about knocked out when time was called.

Other Items of Interest.

Ex-Councilman Henry Knowles left yesterday for a visit with friends in Boston.

Miss Maggie Burns, Miss Barbara O'Malley, the Misses Currigan, Miss Rofts, Miss Maggie Gillespie and William Larkin, all of Scranton, spent Sunday in this city.

M. Howley and James Mitchell, of Scranton, were calling on Pittston friends Sunday.

Professor Aldinger, of the State Normal school, at Bloomsburg, spent Sunday with friends in town.

Samuel Smythe and daughter left Sunday for Chicago for a few day's visit.

John Flynn, of Hughestown, has been appointed sub-mailcarrier. Mr. Flynn is an exemplary young man and will no doubt fill the position to the satisfaction of his superiors.

W. C. Brenton displayed his talent in a very artistic manner this evening, when, with brush and paint, he arranged the posters for the Young Men's Christian association exhibition.

Arrangements are being made for the commencement exercises to be rendered by the pupils of the West Pittston high school. The class, though not as large as in the past, is well advanced.

Mr. Mitchell, superintendent of the Pittston Stove works, is at Chicago, attending a meeting of the National Stove association.

A party of West Side people hied themselves to Campbell's ledge yesterday afternoon in search of the fragrant woodland flower, trailing arbutus. The party consisted of Miss Coglizer, the Misses Emory, Miss Sarah Thomas and Messrs. Hodges, Fillmore and James D. Monie.

While John Miller was engaged in burning brush near Yatesville yesterday his clothes became ignited and he was seriously burned about the thighs before the flames could be extinguished. Miller was brought to the Pittston hospital for treatment.

Alcock & Son, contractors of the West Side sewer, are progressing finely with their work. They have now about 4,000 feet of pipe laid. The work will probably be completed by the middle of July or the first of August.

TAYLOR.

Miss Cora Leisenring, who was visiting Miss Martha Williams a few days last week, returned to her home in West Pittston yesterday.

John Davis, of Mill Creek, visited his parents in this place over Sunday.

The members of the Nonpariel Athletic club wish to inform the public and the Taylor correspondent of the Scranton Truth that there is such a club as the Nonpariels in this place, and that a license was taken out for the tournament they held last week. The gloves which were used were seven-ounce in the Duddy-Judge contest, and that it was for points only. A limited number of rounds was also fought, the limit being fixed at fifteen, which the laws of the state allow. Therefore they claim that they did nothing that was contrary to the laws of the land. Notwithstanding this, Burgess Griffiths stated to the correspondent of this paper that the affair of last week will be the last of its kind in this borough while he is the head official.

A Hungarian wedding on Sunday in Feltzville terminated in a free-for-all fight, in which sticks, stones, and so forth, were used to great advantage. The police were called and for a short time the Huns resisted them, but finally succumbed. The man who created the trouble was placed under arrest and taken before the burgess, who fined him $6.

Mr. Smith, agent for Hitchner & Co., the famous cracker firm, was in town yesterday.

Miss Kittie Johnson, of Penobscot, is visiting friends here.

AVOCA.

Now that the Traction company has their street railway occupying the most important street in the town, the people are becoming quite anxious to see the cars running. But there is another matter in connection with this which should not be overlooked. It is, that the council should insist on the company living up to the ordinance which was passed by a former council and accepted by the Traction company. We recommend the action of the council in causing the removal of the railway at the intersection of Main and McAlpine streets a few days ago, and their promptness in causing the arrest of the men who were attempting to replace it early yesterday morning and leaving it in the same impassible condition.

The twenty-third annual session of the Pennsylvania conference of the Primitive Methodist church will convene in this town today and will continue in session until May 7.

Miss Bessie Morton is visiting friends in Scranton.

During the heavy storm on Saturday morning, the company store of Brooks & Dale was struck by lightning and set on fire. Luckily, the fire was discovered by Mr. Holleran in time to save the building from being entirely consumed by the flames.

Robert Landon visited friends in Scranton, Sunday.

Miss Kittie Dunn spent yesterday with friends in Pittston.

Mrs. Frank Austen, of Brooklyn, Pa., is visiting friends in town.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in 3 Days.

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians but received no benefit until she tried the MYSTIC CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by Carl Lorenz, Druggist, 418 Lackawanna avenue, Scranton.

TUNKHANNOCK.

The Tritons and Keystone Academy club will smite the pigskin Wednesday afternoon on the home grounds—provided it comes within their reach. It is the first game of the season, and will doubtless attract a big crowd. The boys have spent a good deal of labor on their field and it is in first-class condition.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will hold a 10-cent social at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bardwell on Wednesday evening. A general invitation is extended.

On account of conflicting engagements, Professor Rackleyeft held his weekly musical drill last evening, instead of waiting until tonight, his usual time.

Edward Clark and family, of Beaumont, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. George W. Cooke.

Mrs. S. G. Frutchey, of Wilkes-Barre, returned home yesterday after a brief visit with her brother, Charles Harding, of Eaton township, who is critically ill with pneumonia.

The new engine for the Montrose road has arrived and was unloaded yesterday. It was turned out at the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, and is a model piece of machinery. It is much heavier than the old locomotives now in use, and with it much better time can be made up the heavy mountain grades between here and Montrose.

Misses Lena and Annie Lyman, of Springville, are visiting friends in town.

A sad event was the death of little Katharine, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Leighton, which occurred at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Avery, Saturday night. Her parents live at Glenburn, but the little girl had been staying here for some time. She was an unusually precocious child and the pet of the household. On Monday, April 22, she was attacked with diphtheria, which seemed of such mild type that there was every encouragement that the disease could be baffled, but on Friday it took a violent turn for the worse, and she suffered intensely until death came, though every effort was made for her relief. The funeral on Sunday was private, all precautions being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The affliction is doubly crushing to the parents, as it is only a few months since they buried the next youngest child with the same disease. They, as well as the grandparents, have the sympathy of all.

Miss Lizzie Geissler, of Ashley, is visiting her sister, Mrs. N. Fox.

The rumored changes in the Lehigh Valley's new schedule to be issued shortly are that the morning train westward will be fifteen minutes earlier, and the milk train eastward will pass this station at 2.31 p. m., instead of 2.51, as at present.

Mrs. L. Hilkowich and daughter, May, returned from a ten days' visit at Scranton yesterday, accompanied by Miss Martha Milhauser.

E. W. Fargo is remodeling his house on Susquehanna street.

Miss Carrie, the 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jacob Sands, of Eaton township, died yesterday morning, after a short illness. The funeral will be held Wednesday, at the Brick church, at 2 p. m.

Rev. White, of Lincoln university, will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday next.

S. Judson Stark is skirmishing around Dutch Mountain this week.

Judge Dunham was here yesterday and held a short session of court to dispose of some unimportant matters. Among other things, A. E. Durland was appointed collector for Falls township; George J. Johnson, of Laceyville, was appointed road viewer, vice T. W. Davis, who removed from the county; Hugh Montross, constable-elect of Noxen township, was sworn in and filed his bond; Benson Berber, who was confined at the jail for stealing a boat, was released by recommendation of the district attorney upon his own recognizance.

Mrs. Charles Jackson was called to Montrose yesterday by the illness of her father.

B. H. Brown, who has been ill for some time, is convalescing.

E. J. Harding, son of Associate Judge Harding, has made application for examination preparatory to entering as a law student.

F. C. Burgess is in the city purchasing goods.
