The event bids fair to be one of unusual enjoyment as extensive preparations are already under way to make it the greatest affair of the kind ever given in this city.

A STOLEN RING.

It Was the Center of a Large Crowd at Alderman Lowry's.

One of the largest crowds that ever listened to the interesting proceedings at the court of Alderman Lowry assembled when Phoebe Lestenator, of No. 4, was arraigned on the charge of the larceny of a ring, preferred by Mrs. Louise Haley. When Constable Gilby arrested the fair defendant she had the ring on her finger, but denied stealing it. She said that she had traded with Mrs. Healy for another. Her evidence was not convincing to the Sixth ward magistrate, who can see through a brick wall in the way of a lame defence. He was making out the order for lodging at the county hotel when the defendant relented, returned the ring and paid the costs.

There are those in the borough who claim that th action of the board is not legal and that it has by its action attempted to usurp authority that belongs solely to the new board.
