PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, Thursday, July 31.

We did not return from our railroad excursion to New Brighton until a late hour last evening, consequently we are without our usual market report in to-day's paper. We will endeavor to make all right to-morrow.

DOMESTIC WOOL MARKETS.

The Philadelphia Price Current of the 26th says—The supplies continue small, and the stock in the dealers hands is quite moderate. The demand is limited, as the manufacturers purchase only for the supply of their immediate wants, but holders are firm in their demands, and some are indifferent about selling at present quotations. The week's sales comprise 45,000 lbs, fleece, within our range. Among the sales we notice 12,000 lbs tub washed at 39@41 cts ℔ lb, 6 mo.

The Cincinnati Price Current of the 17th inst. in regard to wool says—Buyers throughout the country still appear to be 'on the fence,' but although prices have a downward tendency, there is a strong disposition purchase, and little difficulty is experienced in effecting sales at full prices. We quote full blood 37@40c, ¾ do 37@38, ½ do 34@35c, ¼ blood 31@32c, common 29@32c, unwashed one third less, tub washed 29@30, pulled 30@32, extra fine fleece 42@43c.

The St Louis Price Current of the 12th inst says—Nearly all the wool that has come forward during the week was purchased at points in the interior, and is destined for the eastern manufacturers. There is a steady demand, and as far as we are able to learn the particulars of sales, our present quoted rates continue to govern, as the market limits.

The Milwaukie Sentinel of the 17th says—The receipts of wool were better yesterday, and sales at prices decidedly lower than early in the season. We note no sales for two or three days past, at over 35c. A lot of 1800 lbs came in yesterday from Whitewater, purchased at an average of 33c. Messrs Wells & Hill, the heaviest dealers here, have thus far sent forward this season about 75,000 lbs.

The Boston Courier of Tuesday last, states that there have been sales of pulled wool there during the past week to considerable extent, at quoted rates. Fleece wool is now coming to market pretty freely, but we do not hear of any large sales. Manufacturers are expecting a decline in prices in the autumn. The wool now in market has cost too high to be sold below recent prices, without a loss.

The Providence Journal of the 21st, says—There is a fair demand for both fleece and pulled wool. Fleece is coming forward quite freely. We make no change in prices. We quote American fleece, mixed lots, ¾ to ⅞ blood 44@45c, ¾ to ⅞ do 40@43½c, common to ¼ blood 35@38c, extra 43 @ 45c, super 40 @ 42½c, No 1 36 @ 38c, No 2 25 @ 30c.

The Albany Argus of the 21st says—The wool market is inactive and heavy; sales of the week reported at 10,000 lbs fine fleece on private terms. We quote as follows: extra fine Saxony fleece 46@48c, fine Saxony do 44@45c, Saxony and Merino mixed 42@43c, full blood Merino 40@42c, ¾ to ⅞ do 37@40c, native to ¼ 33@35.

MONEY STOCKS AND EXCHANGES.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.

There is no material change to notice in stocks. The market continues inactive, and prices generally have a downward tendency. In Reading there was a slight movement, the sales reaching about 100 shares, which opened at 23, but afterwards receded to 22⅞.

This is no let up in monetary matters. The market still continues stringent, and borrowers are multiplying. The large failure in Market st. has induced more caution and scrutiny on the part of leading capitalists, who are unwilling to touch any thing but strictly prime first class paper. The rates for other classes of paper depend mainly upon the time and the pressing necessities of the borrower. The offerings at the banks largely exceed the accommodation, and of course, until the mass of street rates must continue to rule high. It is the opinion, however, of experienced men that the present stringency will not last more than two or three weeks. We quote first class paper 9@12 ℔ cent.

The following are the rates of domestic exchange at this point, as reported by Drexel & Co. Bankers, South Third street:

FROM NEW YORK.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Daily Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 26, 1851.

With the exception of a little pressure in the money market there is not much news here.—The banks, by a concerted movement, have called in a large amount of loans on call, thus preventing parties from procuring funds so easily for the purpose of shipping gold to draw against, making a profit on their bills. Good paper sells at 9@9½ ℔ cent. per annum, and that known as fair at 10½@12 ℔ cent. Stocks under the pressure have momentarily fallen, but sound stocks must soon recover.

Southern merchants are here looking round, but buying quite moderately as yet, though they, as a class, stand well here in face of the large decline in the leading staple of the South. Some of the extreme Western merchants are also here, but trade cannot be said to have commenced, or the summer dulness broken.

Parties have left New York for the purpose of forming an opposition steamship line to San Francisco from Panama, at a rate of passage that will cut up the Howland & Aspinwall and the Vanderbilt line. The cabin passage is to be put at $150, a sum that will pay as well as the present rates hence to Chagres. The new company has funds at command, and will, at all events, cheapen the communication between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The new loan of Virginia lately negotiated here is being rapidly absorbed by our savings banks, and the trustees of various benevolent institutions, who are fond not only of long investments but a good rate of interest—merits this stock possesses to a high degree. The great credit of Virginia has enabled her to sell a large amount of stock at a price exceeding that to be had by any government, save the federal. Ohio and Pennsylvania securities are held at full prices, and sales made very rarely.

The United States Marshal yesterday, legally killed two of the three murderers. The city prison yard was wisely chosen in place of Bedlow's Island; yet so strong was public curiosity, that the yard was crammed with people, admitted "by ticket," and the streets and buildings near covered with spectators, clinging like swarming bees to every place that gave an opportunity of viewing the disgusting ceremony of killing by law. These fellows were both guilty without a doubt, and the confession of Douglass, the white man, shows him to have been an unmitigated scamp during his whole life, and worthy of condign punishment. These public executions make every body think some other mode of vindicating the law must be found for the large class "who deserve hanging."

The new postage law has had an excellent effect upon the finances of the department, if New York city can be considered a fair standard. The letters sent unpaid are very scarce, while hardly a letter comes hither unpaid from sources where, in times gone by, payment was never thought of. Under the new law the mails are made up quicker, and distributed in full half less time than before. Newspapers suffer by the prepayment, so far as transient circulation is concerned, but regular business with publishers has been improved.

Another addition has already been made to our steamship lines, recently noticed. On yesterday, a new line commenced its trips to Boston, direct, and the primary steps have been taken for a line to Mobile, leaving Richmond as the only port to which New York has not a line of steamers, but this will soon be added to the great chain which centres here. C.

THE STEAMSHIP ATLANTIC.—A correspondent of Birmingham paper says:

"As many of your readers may, like myself, have been recently struck with the immense masses of engine materials which have, on several occasions, been latterly drawn through the streets of Birmingham to the railway, it may perhaps interest them to know that, on inquiry, I have learnt they were for the Atlantic steamship, now lying at Liverpool, undergoing an extensive repair by Messrs Watt & Co., of Soho Foundry, Smethwick. Some idea may be formed of the magnitude of the vessel, and of the facilities of the above establishment for such an undertaking, when it is stated that the wrought iron shafts and cranks weighed at least twenty tons, and the pedestals of cast iron for carrying it upwards of 40 tons. From the well known reputation of the firm, it is now confidently hoped that the vessel will realize the expectation of its owners and others interested in transatlantic steam navigation. The sailing of the vessel for New York in the course of the present month will create an interest both in England and America; as its career heretofore has disappointed the sanguine hopes of its spirited projectors. The alterations which have taken place in the Atlantic, will render the vessel capable of accommodating 200 passengers, instead of 150.—The Atlantic takes the place of the Arctic, and will sail on the 23d inst., the Arctic following the week after, as an extra steamer. We believe it is in contemplation to alter both the Arctic and the Baltic, so as to obtain increased accommodation for passengers; but the work will be executed on the other side of the Atlantic.

THE FRENCHMAN AND HIS ENGLISH STUDIES.

Frenchman.—Ha, my good friend, I have met with one difficulty—one very strange word.—How you call H-o-u-g-h?

Tutor.—Huff.

F.—Tres bien, Huff, and Snuff you spell S-n-o-u-g-h, ha!

T.—Oh, no, no; Snuff is S-n-u-ff. The fact is, words in ough are a little irregular.

F.—Ah, very good. 'Tis beau'ful language. H-o-u-g-h is Huff. I will remember; and C-o-u-g-h is Cuff. I have one bad cuff, ha!

T.—No, that is wrong. We say Kauf, not Cuff.

F.—Kauf, eh bien. Huff and Kauf, and, pardonne moi, how do you call D-o-u-g-h—Duff, ha!

T.—No, not Duff.

F.—Not Duff? Ah! oui; I understand, it is Dauf, hey?

T.—No, D-o-u-g-h spells doe.

F.—Doe! It is very fine; wonderful language—it is Doe, and T-o-u-g-h is toe, certainement. My beef steak was very toe,

T.—Oh no, no, you should say Tuff.

F.—Tuff? Le Diable! and the thing the farmer uses, how you call him—P-l-o-u-g-h?—Pluff, ha! you smile; I see I am wrong, it is Plauff? No! ah, then it is Ploe, like Doe;—it is beautiful language, ver' fine—Ploe?

T.—You are still wrong, my friend; it is Plow.

F.—Plow! wonderful language. I shall understand ver' soon. Plow, Doe, Kauf; and one more—R-o-u-g-h, what you call General Taylor, Rough and Ready? No! certainement it is Row and Ready!

T.—No! R-o-u-g-h spells Ruff.

F.—Ruff, ha! let me not forget—R-o-u-g-h is Ruff, and B-o-u-g-h is Buff.

T.—No, Bow.

F.—Ah! it is ver' simple, wonderful language, but I have had what you call E-n-o-u-g-h! Ha! what you call him?

A COSTLY SMOKE.—The other day a young gentleman of this city was enjoying a fine cigar near the corner of Court street and the Square, in defiance of the by-law in such case made and provided. A person near by, whom he took to be a police officer, tapped him on the shoulder and informed him that he was breaking the law. The young man plead ignorance without avail, the pseudo officer declaring that unless a $5 bill was forthcoming, he should find it necessary to commit the offender to jail. Very reluctantly, and after good deal of talking, he took out a $10 bill, received $5 back and was allowed to depart. It was not long, however, before he ascertained that his quondam captor was not only no officer, but that the $5 bill he received from him in exchange was a counterfeit, thus leaving him out of pocket just $10 by the operation.—Boston Traveller.

FURTHER FOREIGN NEWS BY THE AMERICA.

THE REMAINS OF PAUL JONES.—The Paris correspondent of the London Times says:—"The following memorandum is from a friend who has taken some pains to ascertain the last resting place of the celebrated Paul Jones, about which some correspondence has lately taken place in the English press:—"A friend of mine, duly authorized to investigate the matter, after visiting in vain all the ministerial bureaux in Paris, by a careful and patient inspection of the record of the prefecture, and subsequent reference to the Moniteur, has established to a certainty that the death of the remarkable personage in question occurred in Paris; that his body was interred in the Protestant burial ground then existing in the rear of the Hotel Dieu; that the piece of land devoted to such purpose was afterwards sold; and that all the bones were collected and thrown into a common pit (or, perhaps, the catacombe.) The documents, or authentic copies of them, for substantiating these facts, are in the hands of the gentleman alluded to, and in due time will be published. I should add that the Moniteur, corresponding in date to the entry found in the archives of the Prefecture, corroborates in all particulars what has been stated."

DR. WISEMAN AND THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.—The Morning Herald states that when Dr. Wiseman was invited by the Committee of the House of Commons to give evidence on the laws of mortmain; he 'parried the application by promising to send his solicitor.' The solicitor having refused, on the plea of professional confidence, to give the information required, the application to his principal was renewed. Dr. Wiseman, however, still eluded the committee's curiosity. A peremptory summons has at length been served upon him, and he will be taught that, in this country, the ecclesiastical character imparts no exemption from the jurisdiction of secular courts.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—A petition had been extensively signed in the Liverpool Exchange newsroom, for presentation to the Lords of the Admiralty, praying their lordships to send a steamer to Jone's Sound, where a cairn of stones has recently been discovered; the memorialists thinking that, if that particular portion of the Arctic seas were examined, some satisfactory evidence might be obtained which would lead either to the rescue of Sir John Franklin and his companions, or, at all events, allay the universal excitement by throwing a clear light upon their fate.

SANGUINARY ACCOUNTS FROM ITALY.

A conference took place on the 4th of July at Castle Gondolso, between the Pope and the King of Naples, who landed that night at Port Banzip where he was received by Cardinal Antinelli.—His Majesty embarked the same night immediately after the conference.

In the streets of Milan a murder has been committed in open day. The victim of the assassin's knife was a man in Austrian employ.—The event has caused much consternation, and is viewed as a political demonstration. Nothing is known as yet as to the author of the deed.

The Tuscan Monitore, of the 27th ult., publishes a decree authorizing the Treasury to contract a loan of twelve million of francs with the house of Bastogi and Sons, of Leghorn—this loan to be guaranteed by the iron mines of the island of Elba.

Letters from Rome of the 24th ult., in the Risorgimento of Turin, state that some excitement was caused on the 18th by a sentinel at one of the prisons firing upon a prisoner and killing him upon the spot, for having spoken from his window to some persons in the street.

The Progresso of the 2th inst., announces that the military commander of Lodi had been stabbed with a poinard.

A letter from Venice, published by the Genoa Gazette of the 4th instant states that fifteen respectable inhabitants of Treviso had been arrested and thrown into prison. Among them were several clergymen and physicians, a merchant and two ladies. They were, it appears accused of having subscribed to the Mazzini loan.

We read in the Milan Gazette, under date of Rome, 30th ult., that a man, armed with a stiletto, was found concealed the day before in the house of Colonel Nardoni, with the intention, no doubt, of attempting his assassination.

The new bank of the Pontifical States commenced its operations on the 1st of July.

Letters from Rome, of July 3d, state that the assassin of Marco Evangelisti is reported to have been arrested. In several of the provinces there have been affixed on the walls of the towns notices threatening the Austrian officers with death if they inflict the punishment of the baton on political delinquents. Preparations are being made at Rieti for the arrival of 3000 Austrians. The French army is to be raised to 14,000 men. That part of the Quirinal formerly inhabited by the Swiss has been allotted to them.

VERY INTERESTING FROM TURKEY.

Several convocations of the ministers have assembled at the sublime Porte, for the purpose of taking into consideration the refugee affair. Finally, it has been decided that the few remaining refugees here should be expelled from the country. Their number is about 700. Yesterday they were invited to the Police office, and offered a free passage to the United States, with £5 allowance money. This measure has been much condemned, being attributed to the nefarious influence of Russia.

Kossuth and his party have received authorization to prepare to quit their uncomfortable quarters at Kuteyah by the 1st of September. A government steamer will convey them as far as Malta, where they will be handed over to the British authorities. Their detention will have exceeded two years, and during the whole of that long time they have been liberally provided by the Turkish Government.

Accounts from Constantinople, to the 24th ult., state that Cartel, a village on the Asiatic shore, opposite to Prince's Islands, had been completely destroyed by fire. The Sultan immediately sent Ismail Pasha, Minister of Commerce to the spot, to provide for the relief of the inhabitants and the re-construction of the town.

Ahmed-Vefik Effendi, late commissioner in the Danubian provinces, has been appointed ambassador to the court of Teheran.

Count Rechberg, formerly Austrian ambassador to Brazil, Sweden, and the Frankfort Diet, has been appointed internuncio at the Porte.

Earthquake shocks continued at Rhodes and Makei.

THE CIRCASSIAN WAR.

A letter dated Constantinople, June 19, contains the following:

Correspondence from Circassia will for a time cease to be mere discussion. The period for action has arrived. The recent success of the Circassians has already secured serious results. You have already been informed of the evacuation of all the forts between Tchemer and the Kouban. The guns, mortars and ammunition having been taken out, the castles were blown up. The fort of Haidar was subsequently attacked by the Naib Mohammed Emir. The affair was short; the mountaineers penetrated into the fort, and the whole garrison, 2000 in number, laid down their arms, and surrendered themselves prisoners.

The Russian general was four hours beyond Tchemer, watched by Shiekh Ibraham, a Gergil chief, who was posted with his mountaineers within pistol shot, ready to engage him the moment he should stir. Daily applications were made to Triflis, by the commander-in-chief, for reinforcements, and two regiments of Cossacks were on their way to join the Russian army.—The Governor of Souhoum Kale was also dangerously situated; he had demanded succor, and by last accounts from Savastopol, troops were being embarked on bord of a flotilla of steamers, which, by this time, must have reached their destination. Several sailing vessels have been taken up at Odessa, to follow as soon as possible with stores and ammunition. This promptitude is an earnest declaration on the part of Russia that things are wrong in those quarters, and I have even heard it declared on good authority that vigorous measures must be pursued, in order to rescue General Cerebrianoff from his dangerous position. The Naib had excited several tribes, long since submitted to Russia, to raise the standard of revolt, and the war cry was echoing from mount and vale throughout the whole of Circassia. I caution you against putting any reliance on the accounts prepared for publication for the Journal de St. Petersburgh. The above details are somewhat official, and, although, I admit, as usual in such cases, they are rather exaggerated, still they can be relied upon.

GREECE.

Accounts from Athens, of the 24th ult., received via Trieste, state that the Greek Senate had unanimously adopted a vote of censure on the ministry. The unanimity of the vote caused surprise, as only a few days before ten new senators had been created.

PORTUGAL.

The Cortes meet on the 15th of November.—Several general officers have resigned their commands. Tranquillity prevailed in Portugal on the 29th ult.

HUNGARY AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.—A few articles from Hungary have been sent to the London Exposition, notwithstanding that passes were denied by the Austrian Government to Hungarian mechanics and manufacturers. Among the articles forwarded are: a piece of chased work in silver, by Szentpetery, representing the conquest of the Indian King Porus by Alexander the Great; firearms from Pesth; trinkets from Zahnsdorf; work in furs, by Nicolai, and a new species of glassware fabricated by the Honved Major Cornides, who, after repeated experiments, has produced a substance transparent as glass and pliable as paper. The consequences of this discovery promise to be most important.
