WAR-SONG OF THE MAGYARS.

BY GRACE GREENWOOD.

A battle-shout for Hungary
One more shall wake the day—
A joyful summons to the brave
To rally for the fray.
To gird her round, and with their swords
Make lightning on her way!

The shout that such brave Magyar heart
With war's fierce rapture fills
The shout that in the traitor's veins
The coward current chills,
Let it ring from the valleys
And roll along the hills.

Let it sound amid the mountain-land,
That mighty gathering cry,
Go up from steep, and crag, and cliff,
Clear, terrible, and high.
Till the eaglets and the eagles
Scream back their hoarse reply!

Like the mingling of all fearful sounds
Of vengeance and of woe,
Like the rush of fire, the roar of floods
When wintry tempests blow,
Like the thunder of the avalanche,
Let it sweep against the foe!

God of the Nations! Thou did'st hear
Poor Hungary's patient prayer,
From the prison of her anguish,
And the night of her despair,
When the groanings of her spirit
Were burdening all the air.

Then did'st flash upon her darkness
A great and sudden light—
Did'st break her chains, and lead her forth,
And gird her for the fight,
With the weapons of thine anger,
And the armor of thy might.

Once more be thy victorious strength,
On mortal hearts outpoured,
Take to us the blood-guilt from our strife,
And sanctify the sword
That strikes for freedom! For the right,
Make bare thine arm, Oh Lord!

Bless then our banners, till their folds
On freedom's rampart wave
And shade the patriot's holy relic—
Oh God, thou gavest, thou alone canst save
Our PROPER HERO to the end,
God of the struggling brave!

GOLD BY THE CWT.—THE GOLD MINES IN AUSTRALIA.—The Philadelphia Ledger publishes a letter to somebody at Sydney, N. S. W., under date of August 10th, which tells some of the most startling stories to be found in the epistolary chronicles of California. The mines recently discovered at Bathurst, in point of richness, infinitely surpass those of the American El Dorado, according to the Ledger man, in proof of which he mentions the fact that it has produced the largest solid lump ever seen—a piece weighing 106 pounds. It is valued at £4,160 10s.—that is, nearly $21,000.

"The news of the hundred-weight of gold," (the writer then goes on to say,) "has created a much greater excitement than ever. Several other diggings have since been found at the Turon River, 46 miles to the south west of Bathurst. The Turon diggings are the most profitable, all doing well. Two of my acquaintances, who I could believe, sent word to me to say that they were making from five to six pounds per day. A person who came from the mines two days since, says he made £25 per week all the time he was there. It is reported that a place, (which I think you know,) Shoalhaven, is richer still. Also, the Tweed and Richmond rivers are rich in gold. The truth is, that there will be gold found all over the country. Unfortunately for the discoverer of the hundred weight, he broke it when he was getting it out of the ground, or it would have been invaluable. The Government has now seized it, and demand a royalty, because the finder did not have a digging license. The gold having passed through three buyers, Government has returned it, on the promise of the royalty being paid, which is, I think, 10 per cent."

The discovery of these "placers" in Van Dieman's Land, we see by the English papers, is already diverting immigration a little from its usual course. Cases are instanced of parties on the point of embarking for America, had changed their minds, and gone to seek their fortunes in the golden sands of Turon. The gold cup of California, however, being as prolific as ever, Australia will offer no injurious competition to her in that respect.

A History of Pittsburgh.

BY NEVILLE B. CRAIG, Esq.—A History of Pittsburgh, from the earliest period when it was settled by white men, down to the close of the century, with notices of the first establishment of some of the important manufactories and various works of internal improvement up to the present time, to which has been added a chapter upon the advantages of our position for manufacturing and commercial purposes, with a view to show the aggregate amount of business transacted here annually from navigation, and the capacity for improvement.

There is no point in this Union where so many important events and occurrences of historical interest have been compressed within so brief a period of time, as in the country around the head of the Ohio. To collect together and exhibit in historical order these various facts, and to add to proclaim the advantages of our position, as indicated by capitalists to settle here, is the object of the proposed work.
