HOME MATTERS.

THE RECENT POISONING CASE.—Since the Coroner's Inquest which was held upon the body of Mr. Cuthbert's youngest child, suspicions of foul play have been excited in the mind of the public, and several circumstances have transpired which lead some of those who are most familliar with the case, to connect John Cauley, who is now imprisoned on a charge of Surety of the Peace, preferred against him by James Cuthbert, father of the deceased, with this sad affair. About two months ago, it is said, he told a neighbor that Cuthbert had a sum of money in his possession, belonging to his (Cauley's) wife, and that he would take the life of the former, and of his wife, unless he paid him. Subsequent to the death of the children, Mr. Cuthbert asserts that he went down on his knees and declared he was innocent of wishing evil to him or his family, before any accusation had been made, and his protestations were so vehement as to excite suspicion. Various other circumstances combine to throw around him a chain of evidence, which is, it is true, wholly circumstantial, but which warranted the Mayor in yesterday sending a note to Coroner Arthurs, requesting him to exhume the remains of the children, and hold another inquest upon them, in order that a post mortem examination might be made. The Coroner at once summoned a jury, and accompanied by Doctor George L. McCook, his son, also a physician, and Doctor Brooks, proceeded yesterday afternoon to Saint Mary's Cemetery, and the bodies were removed from the grave. On opening the lids of the three coffins, the bodies within were found unaltered. The physicians first examined the body of the oldest boy, which was found to be covered, except in the region of the abdomen, by a peculiar red efflorescence, approaching a scarlet color, which the physicians agreed in saying marked the bodies of all who had come to their deaths from the effects of arsenic, opium, tobacco, or hanging or drowning. The blood was in a peculiar state of fluidity, and the redness, almost every where perceptible, most visible in the "dependant" parts of the body. Decomposition had not set in, nor would it for weeks, or even months, if, as the physicians suspect, the child died from having been poisoned by arsenic. The liver and other viscera were found in a healthy state, the lungs only being slightly congested. The condition of all the bodies was the same, except that the symptoms were more marked in the children who died first than the youngest, which was, for some time anterior to its death, under medical treatment.

The physicians retained the stomachs, in order to carefully analyze their contents, and the bodies were again interred: the Coroner's jury then adjourned, in order to give them time to make the necessary examinations.

SIBBETT'S REVIEW, for April, in addition to the large mass of valuable information for all who have occasion to handle money, has fac similes of three recently emitted counterfeit bills—5's on the Philadelphia Bank, 2's on the State Bank of Ohio, and 2's on the State Bank of Indiana—with the variations from the genuine bills carefully noted, so that any one can instantly detect them. This is a new and valuable feature of this useful publication. Published by B. Singerly, Third Street, Pittsburgh, under the guidance of S. Jones & Co., Bankers.

POISONED.—A little son of Doctor Simcox, of Temperanceville, having observed its mother administer a few drops of laudanum to a younger child, for some complaint, and leave the vial on a table, as soon as her back was turned, uncorked it, and drank off a large portion of the contents on Monday.

Dr. McCook was at once called in, and on his arrival, found the child in a state of coma. The tube of a stomach pump was then introduced, and as soon as the laudanum which had not been absorbed into the system was removed, the child began to recover, and is now thought to be out of danger.

NEARLY DROWNED.—A little child, on Monday fell into a cellar on Robinson street, near Corry, in Allegheny, which the recent rise in the river had filled with water, and was nearly drowned before it could be rescued.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—Richard Turner, a storekeeper on Penn street, has laid another charge of passing counterfeit money against Thomas McWherter, who was committed on Monday by Alderman Lewis, on a similar charge.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A German woman named Catharine Hillner, attempted to commit suicide, on Monday, by leaping over the railing of the third tier of cells in the County Jail, to the stone pavement many feet beneath. Fortunately she did not jump far enough to carry her below the railing of the second tier, and, lighting upon her feet, received no material injury. She was at once seized and locked up in a cell.

TIPPLING HOUSE.—Robert Hill was yesterday committed to prison, in default of paying a fine for keeping a tippling house.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—Mayor Guthrie yesterday committed Phillip Waters to prison for five days, charged on oath of Mary Giblin with disorderly conduct. Anne Kelly and her husband were also committed on a similar charge some of their neighbors having laid a similar complaint against them.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.—Alderman Parkinson yesterday held Alexander Hare to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars, charged, on oath of John Brennan with surety of the peace.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—Alderman Lewis, on Monday, committed Henry Graffton to prison for thirty days, on a charge of disorderly conduct. He also committed Francis Bingham on a similar charge.

INTERESTING OPINION.—The Dispatch of today will contain the important opinion of the United States Supreme Court, by which the Admiralty jurisdiction over all the western waters, is declared to be vested in the United States Courts of the several Districts.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—Alderman McCune, of the Ninth Ward, yesterday committed a man named Kimball to prison for six days, on a charge of disorderly conduct.

COMMITTED FOR COSTS.—Charles Gibbon was yesterday committed to prison for costs, he having preferred a charge of assault and battery against a woman, which was ignored, and he sentenced to pay the costs.

SENTENCED.—Daniel Eakins was yesterday sentenced to one month's imprisonment in jail, on a charge of larceny.

PREMIUM SAFES.
DEPOT,
GREEN BLOCK, WATER STREET,
(BETWEEN MAIDEN LANE AND WALL STREET.)
NEW YORK.

THE subscriber placed his Fire and Burglar-Proof Iron Safes in competition with the whole world at the great Exhibition in London, for which an impartial jury awarded a medal. The American Fair, held last fall at Castle Garden, also awarded to him a gold medal for the best Fire-proof Safe, and he has never failed to obtain the highest premium when his Safe has been put in competition with others for that purpose. Certificates have been received from the following well known, mercantile houses, who have had their books, papers and money preserved in these superior Safes within the last thirty days, (and can, with many others, be seen at my store) viz. Messrs. Stillwell & Montross, and Mr. J. L. Watkins, in the Fulton st. fire; Messrs. Fisher & Robinson, and Messrs. John Lockwood & Co., in the great fire corner of Liberty and Nassau sts., and Messrs Proud & Bowman, in Jersey city.

I am the proprietor of HALL'S PATENT LOCK, which obtained a medal (in the name of Adams & Co., Boston,) at the World's Exhibition, and is considered the best Lock for the price ever invented, being proof against powder, and the key is no larger than a cent, and can be made changeable.

I invite all purchasers to a close and careful investigation before purchasing, and decide for themselves, who makes the best Fire, Burglar and Damp-proof Safes combined. SILAS C. HERRING.

BY TELEGRAPH.

RECEIVED BY THE O'REILLY TELEGRAPH LINE, AND REPORTED FOR THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

ARRIVAL OF THE DANL. WEBSTER.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, April 13.

The Daniel Webster arrived last night, having left San Juan on the 4th. She brings dates to the 17th, two days later. She also brings 125 passengers, and one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in gold.

The Democratic State Convention, after a discordant session, elected Wm H. Richardson and Jose M Covorrubeias, Delegates to the National Convention.

Advices from San Diego state that the Yumas Indians were decidedly hostile, and show a disposition to murder all Americans that fall into their hands. Several skirmishes had occurred, and a vigorous campaign against them was about to be commenced.

The ship, George Thatcher, of Boston, was wrecked at the Sandwich Islands.

The charter election, at Marysville, had resulted in favor of the Whigs.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, April 13.

Senate—Mr. Hunter moved to take up the joint resolution, making an appropriation for the extension of the Capitol, and recede from the amendment disagreed to by the House, providing for compensation for time lost by the workmen. The motion prevailed, yeas 30, nays 16.

The bill granting the right of way over the public lands to the Missouri Plank Road Company, was read the third time and passed.

Mr. Clark moved that all other orders be postponed, and that the Senate take up the joint resolution, re-affirming the policy of non-intervention, to allow Mr. Bell to speak on them.

Mr. Cass said the resolutions were taken up, and Mr. Bell addressed the Senate. He did not advocate any of the resolutions before the Senate; either Mr. Clarke's Mr. Cass's or Mr. Seward's. He saw no necessity for any of them in the particular language in which they were couched. He thought it but of little consequence whether we expressed our concern or not, or protested against violation of National law by Russia. He did not intend to discuss those subjects, but merely to call the attention of the Senate to the great American question which was, "How are the United States to be affected by the present state of affairs in Europe?" He then reviewed the recent revolutionary events in France down to what he termed the present seeming acquiescence of the French people, in the arbitrary measure of L. Napoleon. He argued that the present strength of Absolutism in Europe was because the mechanical, manufacturing, commercial, and trading classes had discovered that there was no safety or security in the popular revolutionary governments. He suggested the probable breaking out of a general war, and that the Old World would array itself against the New, and he speculated as to the probable course which England would pursue. He said England would not be our ally in such a struggle, but she would more likely seize the opportunity to strengthen her own power by increasing her dominions.—She now praised our sailing vessels and complimented our genius, as if desiring to embrace us in the bonds of amity, but she was in truth a serpent in disguise, and her embrace would be death. In regard to the probability of a war with Europe, he said all depended on France. If France was quiet, Europe would be quiet, but Napoleon must fall without a war, and hence in the course of his remarks he suggested the probability of Napoleon's ambition inducing him to make war upon and attempt the invasion of this country. He drew the practical conclusion in the event of a war in Europe, that the United States would not be able to keep out of it. Efforts would be made to draw her into it, and the first insult to our flag would be resented. He said it was idle to debate about the forms of these resolutions, and their effect when as great an offence as could be offered to Russia, had been perpetrated in the honors conferred on Kossuth. He also said he thought prudence should dictate to us the propriety of perfecting at once our national defences, so as to bid defiance to the world. He lamented in conclusion that Congress was spending all the time President making, and neglecting to make provision for the coming contest.

Mr Cooper obtained the floor, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of the bill for enforcing discipline and to promote good order in our naval service.

Mr. Staunton replied to the remarks of Mr Wilson and Mr. Stuart, and contended for the necessity of a complete revision of the code governing the Navy.

Before the conclusion of this subject the report of the Committee on Printing was made. The report states the circumstances under which the contracts have been made with the proprietors of the Union and Republic, and states that the securities of Mr Hamilton will be held accountable for all excess in the cost of public printing above the contract price. The report was presented by Mr. Gorman, who made some remarks in reference thereto, and severely commented on the course of Mr. Hamilton in charging him with having contracted to do the printing below the cost of the white paper. A debate ensued in the midst of which the house adjourned.

Commonplacing will also be taught, which will enable the pupil to refer to whatever valuable ideas or facts he may meet with in his reading, reflection or observation, with as much ease as the merchant refers to the accounts in his Leger, and that he may do it with facility, he will be taught to write phonographically, which requires only one sixth as many motions as writing a word in script hand, in the common orthography. ap3:d2w

ZINC PAINTS,

MANUFACTURED BY THE NEW JERSEY EXPLORING AND MINING COMPANY, at Newark, N. J.

This Company is prepared to furnish a supply of these valuable

ZINC PAINTS,

Which have been found after several years' trial both in Europe and the United States, to retain their original beauty and protective properties superior to any other paint whatever. Their

WHITE ZINC PAINT

Is purely an oxide of Zinc, and is warranted free from all adulteration and impurity whatever, it covers well, is beautifully white, and is entirely free from the poisonous properties of most other paints, so dangerous to the health of painters and their families.

IT WILL NOT TURN YELLOW

When exposed to sulphurous or mephitic exhalations, or even when shut up in a close room. As an outside paint, it withstands the weather better than any other, not being liable to turn chalky or to crumble and rub off. It may be worked with any color, and with oil or varnish, which gives the celebrated porcelain finish.

BLACK AND COLORED ZINC PAINTS.

These are furnished at a low price, and are undoubtedly the cheapest and best paints in the market for wood, roofs, fences, outhouses, steamboats, or any exposed surface of wood, brick, tin, or iron, as they are both

WEATHER AND FIRE PROOF.

For iron surfaces they are particularly valuable, as they form a galvanic combination, and entirely prevent oxidation, they dry quickly, and having a peculiar body, it will not change color like many of the earthy paints now in use.

Dealers supplied on liberal terms by the agents of the company. F. JONES & CO.,
[illegible] South Wharves, Philadelphia.

ATTON & REYNOLDS, depot 281 Market street, near Fifth, PHILADELPHIA.
C. A. McANULTY & Co., Canal Basin, 408 & 410 Penn street, PITTSBURGH.

Having increased our facilities, and otherwise improved our arrangements for transportation, we are now prepared to receive a large amount of Produce and Merchandise, to ship on the opening of the canal with promptness and despatch.

The Section Boat system of Transportation over our State improvements has been in use about ten years, and the great success and favor it has met with, is a sufficient guarantee that it is no longer considered a doubtful or untried experiment; but is acknowledged by all to be vastly superior to former modes of transportation used on canals when intersected by railroads.

Goods consigned to our Boats at Pittsburgh remain undisturbed and uninjured in our warehouse in Market street Philadelphia, until they are delivered, thus avoiding the delay consequent on three different transhipments and securing the delivery of goods in the same packages as they are shipped, in as good order as when shipped.

Produce, &c., consigned to our House at Pittsburgh, will be received and forwarded always at the lowest current canal rates, strictly according to instructions, without any extra charge for commission, storage, or advancing charges, &c.
