HOME-SICK FOR THE COUNTRY.

For my part, I am weary of city life, and sigh for the Great Mother. I see the waving of trees, but they are rooted in a church yard, or grow between flag stones. I hear the notes of singing birds, but they are pewter canaries at sixpence apiece. I am tired of water running up and down leaden pipes, and through cocks and filters; I want to see it rise like a Naiad, dripping from the well. I am haunted of 'stoops,' and have a sort of green-sickness for porches c'ambered over with greenery; I wish for other flowers than artificial; and desire to look upon rain, not as an inconvenience, but as a blessing to the crops:

"I'd kind o' like to have a cot
Fixed on some sunny slope; a spot
Five acres, more or less,
With maples, cedars, cherry trees,
And poplars whitening in the breeze.

"I'would suit my taste, I guess,
To have a porch with vines o'erhung,
With bells of ancient woodbine swung,
In every bell a bee;
And 'round my latticed window spread
A clump of roses, white and red.

"To solace mine and me,
I kind o' think I should desire
To hear around the lawn a choir
Of wood birds singing sweet;
And in a dell I'd have a brook,
Where I might sit and read my book.

"Such should be my retreat,
Far from the city's crowds and noise;
There would I rear the girls and boys,
(I have some two or three,)
And if kind Heaven should bless my store
With five or six or seven more,
How happy I would be!"

Old Lady Sanderson, of Lexington, Mass., says the Boston Traveler, memorable for her kind attention to a British soldier who was wounded at Lexington, in 1775, died on the 15th inst. She was in her 105th year.

All the interest in the National Road, owned by the State of Indiana, some twenty-seven miles, was sold by the State Auditor last week, for $230,000. The State has thus disposed of her last interest in any public improvement.

There was a smart snow storm in New Hampshire on Friday. The Concord Patriot says:—"We learn that six inches of snow fell at Nashua on Friday morning. The first up train of cars were completely covered when they arrived at Concord, though no snow fell here."

An individual in New York, named Augustus C. Lewis, became possessed of the idea that he could walk across the East river, on Saturday, and accordingly started from the foot of Eighty-sixth street; but he had not proceeded far, when the water gave way, and the deluded traveler fell in, and was rescued by a policeman.

James Magheau, Esq., an aged and respectable city of Cambria county, Pa., lost his life on Tuesday, at Plane 5, Portage Road. He was on his return home from the election, and in passing up the plane was accidentally struck by some cars, and thrown across the track. One of his legs was entirely severed from his body, and the other mangled in a shocking manner. He survived his injuries but two hours.

APPLETON'S Mechanic's Magazine for October. The numbers of this Magazine give evidence that has been published in this country. It is strictly a mechanical journal, and every other of the kind that has been published in this country. It is intended to record all the mechanical improvements, as well as of current movements and developments in mechanical art. We earnestly recommend our mechanic brethren to obtain a copy, and spare two or three dollars, which will be worth tenfold more than the mere pecuniary consideration and practical knowledge it will afford them. PROPOSALS

For Erecting a Mint, with the necessary Machinery, at San Francisco, California.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
October 2, 1852.

SEALED Proposals will be received at this Department until the eighth day of February, 1853, for the construction of a branch Mint at San Francisco, California, according to the plans and specifications which will be furnished on application to the Department, or parties disposed to contract. The said proposals to include the entire work, and also separately for each department in contract either way, as may be found the most advantageous and suitable. The Department also reserves the right of declining to make any contract if the for the cost of the work be deemed and considered unreasonable. Proposals will be received for a limited time, not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, to which point the expenditure is expressly limited by the Act of Congress.

Payments will be made every sixty days on the amount of the work done and materials actually used by the contractor, to be ascertained by the estimate of the Superintendent and Architect thereof, reserving from each of such estimates and payments, twenty per cent on the first one hundred thousand dollars, and ten per cent on each subsequent one, until after the above sum, until the final completion of the building and its approval and acceptance by the Department.

Every proposal must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, to the effect that if any proposal that shall be made by the party offering making it, if his bid be accepted, shall and will enter into a contract with the Secretary of the Treasury, and give sureties to the satisfaction of the Treasury, in the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the faithful execution of the work, and no proposal will be received unless it is accompanied with such guarantee.

Proposals will be received at the same time and place, agreeably to the act of Congress, for the sale, lease or rent of any building and machinery suitable for the purpose of a branch Mint, and upon the same terms and conditions as specified in relation to the building. Such building and machinery to be equal in all respects to the plans and specifications referred to above for the new building, and to be capable of coining at least thirty millions of gold annually, in a fair proportion of pieces of the different denominations, from one to twenty dollars each, as now authorized by law. If a suitable building and such machinery are bought or leased under the authority to that effect granted by Congress, no contract will of course be made for the erection of a building and furnishing the machinery.

The bids will be opened and received in the presence of such bidders as may think proper to attend, and the decision may be made from California not to be received at the Department previous to the aforesaid February, 1853, it will reserve the right to delay opening bids, or to reject all bids which may be offered.

A decision will be made as soon as practicable after the bids are opened, and will be strictly adhered to, as it has been passed by the legislature of the State of California, and is a part of the fundamental law of California, established by the 6th section of the act of Congress, admitting California.

Those persons in California who may be disposed to make proposals, will be required to furnish duplicates of their same to the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, previous to the opening of the bids, and also to give publication of the present advertisement in two newspapers in that city, for the information of those who may be disposed to make proposals.

Business Cards, from the same Dica, in every style, and advertisements, with an inspection of his specimens of type and finished specimens, will be found at the Gazette Office.
