Their Romantic Love of Crime and How it is rendered ... A Warning to Parents.

Not long before that, two lads of tender years, living in a large city, possessed themselves of a sum of money belonging to the parents of one of them, and made their way to Philadelphia by rail. The Democratic associations. Being unfamiliar with the details of mature debauchery, these youthful experimenters betrayed themselves to the police and were brought home in a somewhat dilapidated and forlorn condition. Two or three years ago, the San Francisco police, searching for the perpetrators of a series of petty and vexatious thefts, discovered under the wooden sidewalks of a street near the wharves a cave burrowed out from an adjoining vacant lot. In this excavation were found playing-eards, odds and ends of provisions, rude tools for burglary, a few weapons, and various other evidences of occupation as a den of thieves. The cave was a rendezvous of a gang of bad boys, who called themselves "Hoodlums," and whose leader was known to them as "King of the Hoodlums," These young rascals had a considerable organization with a thieves' slang, or argot, of their own. Their promisenous plunder was usually sold to the junk-dealers, and they subsisted almost entirely on the proceeds of their depreda-Some of them lived secretly in lonely houses, otherwise unoccupied, and consorted with wretched little girls picked up about the docks. The "Hood-luma" were aged from fifteen to nineteen years, and their grotesque name, invented by themselves, and meaning nothing, has come into use as describing a dangerous class of young ruffians infesting the city where they originated.

It will not do to credit all these examples of juvenile depravity to the force of a mere spontaneous outcome of wickedness. There is about all such instances—and these are only a few ready samples of a large class—a certain flavor of mock romance which is peculiar. The grown criminal necessarily practices concealment in the furtherance of his wicked designs; but, if there is any "romance of crime" attached to his performances, it is accidental. These youngsters seem to go into crime for the sake of the audacious novelty of the Of course, the conspicuousness of crime in society has something to do with the education of these proceedings criminals. Crime forms so large a part of the news of the day that it seems impossible to prevent some of its details from appearing in the columns of the most carefully conducted newspapers. We regret to say that some thoughtless people make these features of daily intelligence so prominent that graphic scenes of burglary, robbery, and piracy appear in print, garnished with many insidious allurements to youthful minds. But, as if the faithful record of passing events were not enough, nor the sensational enlargement of actual details sufficiently enticing, the youth of this generation are ture. The cheap novels are bad enough, and it is a sign that the new supply is not equal to the demand when we see that ancient criminal classic "Jack Sheppard" republished here. But what we must consider one of the very worst forms of printed poison is the trash purporting to be newspapers and magazines for young people. Some of these are printed by grown people who probably know better; and not a few are conducted by ambitious lads, who naturally send out the miserable stuff on which they have fed. In a collection of amateur papers and periodicals gathered from several American cities may be found "blood-curdling" and "thrilling" stories of adventure. Tales of runnway boys, narratives of piratical life, encounters with burglars, and all the phases of romantic crime that an imagination stimulated by a course of such reading can picture forth form the staple of this sort of reading. In a single page of a little weekly published in a New England city is no prospect whatever that any of the sewing were five contributions from boy readers; in each of these a crime of some sort was the chief figure in the slender plot. Who is responsible for the encouragement of such an education for our boys? Of course, in all these dangerous pub-

ly conducted, there is due parade of rewarded virtue and defeated vice. But whether the mock hero be a bold and wicked bandit or a brave champion of the wronged, the sympathies of the young reader are usually enlisted on the side of the wickedest man in the book. And, in any event, he is made familiar with the details of crime, Its mystery, subtlety, and concealment inflame his imagination; he has a boy's natural love of adventure; the story of the daring deeds of some hero sinks deep into his realize what he is about, he has taken crime; fortified with plunder, he hasimitated the example of all his favorite heroes, and has run away from home. The rest is easy. Unless speedily re-claimed and punished, as a boy should be punished, he is already a promising recruit for the dangerous classes who prey upon society. A noted bandit, hung by a mob in a far Western Territory, acknowledged under the gallows that he owed his crimes to the early inspiration of the lives of Dick Turpin, Jack Sheppard, Murrell, the land pirate, and other worthies famed in story. Yet this young man had not imbibed his vicious ideas in the slums of a great city. He was a graduate of a leading New England college, had been a county official, and went into the world, where he perished so missioners at the Centennial... The Maine Smate failed, by a vote of 15 to 15, to pass the bill substituting imprisonment for life for the death penalty.... The "Little Taria" bill, horrible fascination which pernicious which has just become a law, contains among owed his crimes to the early inspiration of the lives of Dick Turpin, Jack Shep-pard, Murrell, the land pirate, and other horrible fascination which pernicious reading exerts over the ingenuous and ductile intellect of a boy. But the case admits of no argument. The land is full of unhappy examples of the influence of unwholesome reading. Highly-colored and highly-flavored fiction for young people crowds aside much that is heartily good and healthful. It behooves parents and guardians to look well to the reading of their young charges. Men do not gather tigs, of thistles, nor can we

It is a sad commentary upon our boasted civilization that women of our times have degenerated in health and physique until they are literally a race of invalids—pale, nervous, feeble and backachy, with only here and there a few noble exceptions in the persons of the robust buxon ladies characteristic of the sex in days gone by. By a very large experience, covering a period of years, and embracing the treatment of many thousands of cases of those ilments peculiar to women, Dr. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. C. C. OLIN & CO.,

Dr. J. Walker's Catifornia Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the naive herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the upparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT-TERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient re-covers his health. They are the great tlood purifier and a life-giving principle, n perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been tompounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilions

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Altera-173, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VIN-EGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not de stroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Feyers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Ro anoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries. throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdommal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the darkcolored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs. Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspensia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pulpitatation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspe di. Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermituges, no anrelminities will free the system from worms ike these Bitters. For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of wo-manhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic itters display so decided an influence that provement is soon perceptible. Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
