COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judge M'Clure and Associates.

In the case of George McIntyre, indicted for horse stealing, the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Ezekiel Hosack was arraigned for the murder of Stephen Hague in December last, in the First Ward, Allegheny.

The District Attorney and Will A. Stokes, appeared for the Commonwealth, and Col. Black, Flanigan and Snowden for defence.

After the opening speech to the jury, the following witnesses were called for the State. We give the testimony in brief.

Dr. Trevor testified to the nature and extent of the wound of which Hague died.

James Martin, testified that Hague rolled a stone from Corry street towards where Hosack and a number of others were standing, and struck Hosack on the leg; Hague used insulting language, and shook him; Hosack ran, followed by Hague; the latter put his hand in his pocket, and said he would cut him. The prisoner told him to go away, he didn't want to have anything to do with him or his knives. Hague chased him down Corry street, towards his home; when about half way Hosack turned back and asked for his hat, and ran into William's store. Hague walked slowly back and threw off his coat and vest before Williams' store, he said he was cut, but he would stay with him until he died. Hague went into the store, and came out in a few minutes and walked to the corner, and fainted; went for a Doctor; they had not been within striking distance of each other from the period of time when Hosack turned around and passed Hague, and when Hague said he was cut.

Nothing differing, or new, was elicited on the cross examination.

James Glenn testified that Hague rolled two or three stones before Hosack told him he ought not to do so. The rest of his testimony corroborated the statement of the previous witness.

James Sellenleger, testified in addition to the particulars of the rencontre above stated, that when Hosack was chased by Hague, and the latter was gaining upon him, he turned around and struck at Hague's breast.

Thomas Boyd, testified that he was in Williams' store, when Hosack came in; he said he was cut; his neck and face were bleeding; he said Hague had cut him; Hague came in, but soon went out; went to the door and saw Hague lying on the pavement. He was carried to Mr. Boss' house.

Daniel Boss produced the coat worn by his brother-in-law on the night, and showed the hole made in the breast by the knife.

The evidence for the Commonwealth ended here.

A pan of the streets where the fight occurred was used by the witnesses and the jury.

Mr. Flanigen addressed the jury in opening for the defence.

Wm. Ingram, testified to having known the prisoner for some years; saw him after Hague's death; he went up to the Mayor's office and surrendered himself; Hosack had two cuts, one on the neck, and the other on the face; saw several cuts on the back of his coat; his character has always been good.

David Neass testified to having seen the blood on Hosack's neck; supposed it to be from a cut; saw the cuts on his face and coat next day; his character is good as far as he knew.

James Smith, sworn—Never heard anything against Hosack's character.

Robert Cheevers—Saw the two cuts on his face and neck, made with a knife; testified to what happened in Williams' store; his character is good.

A number of other witnesses were called who testified in the most favorable manner to the character of the prisoner.

The affair is so recent, that the circumstances are still fresh in the minds of our readers.

The case will be continued this morning at nine o'clock.

PUBLIC MEETING.—A public notice a large meeting of the citizens of Birmingham was held in the public school house, on Tuesday evening, 28th inst., to take into consideration the best means to be adopted to relieve those distressed at the late fires, when it was resolved to appoint a committee of six to wait on the citizens and solicit contributions, and Messrs. Thos. McKee, W. G. Brown, Jas. Barr, Sr., Jno. Frantz, Jno. Meyer, and David Jenkins be said committee. Also, it was unanimously Resolved, That the citizens of Birmingham tender their sincere thanks to the firemen of Pittsburgh for their very prompt and efficient aid, afforded them at the recent fires. Also, That their gratitude is due to the generous citizens of Pittsburgh, who so promptly sent aid to the sufferers. A resolution was passed heartily approving of the action of Council in appointing Messrs. J. McKnight, J. Sickman, A. B. Stevenson, Esq., D. Berg, J. M. McKinn, J. Conrad, Jr., A. McLain and J. Kerr, a committee of relief; also, in appointing N. Patterson, Esq., Burgess, Treasurer of the relief fund.

FIRE.—A fire occurred yesterday morning about half past one o'clock, in a Lard Oil Factory, owned and occupied by Jno. A. Bailey, located on Crawford street, 7th Ward. The building was entirely destroyed. There was no insurance.

THE SIAMESE TWINS and the Bearded Lady remain only to-day and to-morrow in this city, as they are advertised to appear in Steubenville on Monday. They have been visited by great crowds during their stay in this city, and those who have not as yet seen them will doubtless avail themselves of the only remaining opportunities.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Alderman Parkinson held to bail a man named Benjamin Eckels for assault and battery, upon oath of a man named Frank Varner. The affair occurred on the steamboat Oakland.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire last evening was caused by the burning of a chimney in a house on Ferry street. No damage was done.

There is nothing new from the Danube or Asia. No reply has been received from the Czar.—Prussia holds back, although professing to act in accord with the allies.

The French loan is taken with eagerness in France.

Com. Perry's squadron left Hong Kong for Japan on the 15th January.

The Paris correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle states that dispatches from the French Envoy in London have been received, stating that the English were not disposed to look upon the preparations made by Russia for a resumption of negotiations between the Western Powers and Russia as serious or likely to lead to a pacific solution. He therefore thinks there is no occasion for the two to entertain a proposition. The English government declares that the only thing to be done at present is to hasten the embarkation of troops for Constantinople and despatch the third squadron to the Baltic. The opinions of the English Cabinet are fully approved by France.

The Duel.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 30.—The report of a duel between Messrs. Cutting and Breckenridge is incorrect. None has taken place, and yet two friends on each side have been laboring assiduously all day to effect a reconciliation, but without success, and have therefore called on a fifth as umpire. The report that Messrs. Cutting and Breckenridge were out of town is incorrect, although they are in secret quarters. The details of a former despatch were current at the time and were firmly believed by many deeply interested friends of the parties. The absence of Messrs. Breckenridge and Cutting gave a coloring to the rumor, and various circumstances strengthened the supposition that matters were as stated. Later developments show that the parties are secreted here, and only await the decisions of those who now control the affair, to fight or be reconciled. Messrs. Benton and Boyd are exerting themselves to adjust the difficulty without a recourse to weapons.

DETROIT, March 29.—The weather is moderating; the recent cold spell has filled the Lake and river with ice. The river boats have stopped, but boats are running to Cleveland and Toledo.
