P... SMITH'S GAZETTE

"At the late ascension of an aeronaut, a gentleman requested to be allowed to accompany him into the aerial regions. "Are you good tempered?" asked the aeronaut. "I believe so," said the other, "but why do you ask the question?" "For fear we may fall out on the way."

A Quaker said to a gunner, "Friend, I counsel thee to shoulder thy musket, for I design to hit the little man in the blue jacket, point thine engine three inches lower."

A pleasant call.—"Dinner's ready, if you please, sir." An unpleasant call.—"I just called, sir, to see if you could settle my little bill."

An attorney about to furnish a bill of costs, was requested by his client, a baker, "to make it as light as he could." "Ah," replied the attorney, "that's what you say to your foreman, but it's not the way I make my bread."
