Sunburn.-The most simple and efficacious remedy, and one that will not injure the skin, is to wash the face in buttermilk on going to bed at night, spread an old cambric handkerchief well saturated in buttermilk over the part affected by sunburn, and in a few days it will be quite removed.

To CURE HOARSENESS .- When the voice is lost, as is sometimes the case, from the effects of cold, a simple pleas-ant remedy is furnished by beating up the white of one egg, adding to it the juice on one lemon, and sweetening with white sugar to the taste. Take a tenappoinful from time to time. It has been known effectually to cure the ailment.

Clean Out the Cellar. Who that thinks of the spring season but associates with it, in his mind, house-cleaning? As "cleanliness is next to godliness," so is a pure atmosphere next to healthfulness. As we purify and gar-nish the walls of our houses, to add to our lives new pleasures from the bright reflections from these surroundings, so don't ignore the cellar, lest it send up its payious gases to destroy the health of the noxious gases to destroy the health of the occupants. The cellar is generally the most neglected part of the premises, while it should be the most carefully looked after, and kept scrupulously free from all putrifying substances, mold or fungus growths. All vegetables should be assorted, or better still, removed from the cellar in the spring, especially if it is to be used for the dairy, as milk and butter are extremely sensitive to the presence of any musty odors, and their flavor will be utterly destroyed amid such surroundings, when the noxious gases will be undetected in any other way. Every movable board should be thoroughly scrubbed, aired and dried before being returned. If this be done, with a good sufficient ventilation, many undesirable results may be avoided. If vegetables are allowed to remain in the cellar, they should be placed above the whole thing was a printer's error, all dampness, in as even a temperature and in as cool a place as possible, thereby preserving their nutritive and keeping qualities as long as may be desired.

Planting Corn.

A farmer says: The greater portion of the labor required in raising corn should be done before planting. The rolled and harrowed, as early as it is dry enough, but should not be worked while Do not be in a hurry to plant before others, but wait until the ground is warm; work the soil with cultivators. or harrow as often as possible, and get the ground thoroughly mellowed before planting, and all the early weeds killed, and when the ground is warm plant the corn, and work well while small. Never use a plow, or other tool, that will run deep after the plant is jointed, as breaking the roots at that time is highly injurious. Remember that the roots which feed the plants are not at the base of the stalk, but extend as far as the stalk nearly level as possible. If weeds appear at the time of jointing, they may be killed with a small one-horse harrow, with numerous small short teeth, that will only stir the surface.

Grease the Nails.

One of the technical journals says: Every farmer who has occasion to drive a nail into seasoned oak posts knows its liability to bend and break. If the point be moistened in the mouth, it will usually drive more kindly. Oil is still better, but then it is inconvenient to dip each nail separately into it. Another point observed is that boards become loose eventually from the rusting of the nails, which, communicating to the the nail hole, but the wearing away of the nail itself, rendering the fence or the building shaky and insecure. This may be prevented by heating any rough grease until it smokes, and then pour it over the nails to be used. The grease will penetrate the pores of the iron, and cause the nails to last, without rusting, an indefinite period. Besides this, no trouble will then be experienced in driving them into the hardest wood. The reason is that the coating of grease prevents contact of air, and, consequently, oxidation. Oxygen is the great destroyer of iron, and moisture is the inducting

The Latest Form of Inebriety.

Unlike opium, which creates beautiful hallacinations, chloral "merely increases the power of enjoying the real." In December of 1871, when medical men were lauding chloral to the skies, Dr. Stables, of Toronto, Canada, became a chloralist, together with other friends, who quickly succumbed and died, having passed through the agonies of despair characteristic of the later stages of chloralism. Being overworked, he could not sleep, and took twenty grains of chloral, whereupon he slept like a top until morning. Having repeated the dose every night for a week he tried to sleep one night without it and failed He of course took to it again and found after some time that he had little satisfaction from his sleep. After a month he began to feel a strange heat on the top of his head, together with a sense of fullness in it, and his nerves began to be shaken. At length he had to fly into the country, and what with the pure, bracing air, he was enabled to reduce his dose by one-half, and to take long walks, though after a brief space he again surrendered himself to He began to lose flesh crow's-feet gathered under his eyes; his pulse grew "thready," and by June, 1872, he is at the seaside a confirmed invalid, his bodily sufferings very great, and his mind a chaos. A Singular Verdict.

The following report of a singular trial for libel comes to us from England: The plaintiffs were a firm trading under the name of the British and Foreign Stationery Society. In 1873, one of the members was a person named Yeomans, But some time in 1874 he retired, and became a traveling agent of the firm; and the dissolution of the partnership was duly registered and published in the Gazette. The defendant was the publisher of a newspaper called the Bookseller, in which dissolutions of partner ship, bankruptcies, and other matters of special interest to the trade were inserted. In January of this year, the notice of this particular dissolution, so far as regards the man Yeomans, was copied verbatim from the Gazette, and it so appeared in the Bookseller, but by but associates with it, in his mind, house- a blunder of the printer in arranging his gret for the error. He also published the correction in his own paper, and in another trade periodical called the Stationer, besides circulating it far and wide throughout the county by means of printed circulars. The plaintiffs, however, were not satisfied with this, and brought their action.

Upon these facts being stated, the judge who tried the case endeavored to have it stopped. He characterized it as one in which the plaintiffs had allowed their temper to get the better of their judgment, and expressed a very strong and decided opinion that some arrange ment ought to be arrived at between the parties. The plaintiffs were a little reluctant to agree to this, but the defendant, still more confident in the equity of coat of whitewash upon the walls and his cause, intimated through his counsel a determination not to have the case withdrawn from the jury. Accordingly it went on. The defendant proved that and he enumerated the apology and the various means he had taken to have it rectified. The judge summed up in his favor, and even declared that such actions only impeded the course of justice, and prevented the trial of others which were of real importance. But the jury, and ten have without much deliberation, returned a recorded. verdict for the plaintiffs, with fifty pounds damages. Now, if such a decipounds damages. sion as this can be sustained, there is an end to all our previous ideas of a

At ten o'clock the bride and groom entered, entirely unattended, and took seats on two chairs placed especially for them directly in front of the pulpit. The sermon took one hour and three-quarters. It was entirely with notes. The wedding ceremony was read from manuscript, and occupied about half an hour. The bride and groom kept their seats during most of the half hour. Both answered "Yes" five times. To what they answered I do not know, as I do not understand German. They left the house as they came, causes not only enlargement of and apparently as happy as folks generally hole, but the wearing away of a causes it is the wearing away of the most well itself, rendering the fence or the families that are settling here. The bride came from Russia with her parents last fall. She was dressed very neatly in black. There was no paint, jute or other modern improvements in her outfit, and I think American girls might profitably follow her example in this matter. The groom has been in this country about sixteen months, and has been in Nebraska very good English, is a plow maker, and very well informed. He has bought railroad land here, and is going to farming. They are of the class that are bound to succeed in Kansas, and they will be the most wealthy, intelligent and happy of our citizens.

American Apples in England.

Nothing astonishes the English more than the system of barreling apples in the United States. In that country the crop is placed thinly on shelves, in fruit houses constructed especially for the purpose, and no one thinks of sending them long distances to market. Our Rhode Island Greenings and Baldwins, therefore, which now go there in barrels in immense quantities, surprise them considerably. A good deal of this is, perhaps, due to the varieties we send there. A few years ago the Newtown Pippin was the great American apple in the London market; but since the failure of that variety, those two named have in a measure taken its place. It is not, however, that these apples should reach the English markets in such excellent condition after being merely barreled up that so astonishes the English; the price is also a wonder, for after being sent so far, they can still be sold at a price which the English can hardly touch with their own fruit. This speaks well for the progress of American fruit culture.

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT-TERS!" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood pur fier and a life-giving principle, a perfec Renovator and Invigorator of the restem. Never before in the history o the world has a medicine been compour of possessing the remarkable qualities IVINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of ϵ ery disease man is heir to. They are a ge the Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious

The properties of Dr. Walker's
YINGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic,
Carminat 'e, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alteraive, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VIN-EGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive de-rangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various or-gans, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the darkcolored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitaation of the Heart, Inflami Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidnevs, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspensia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertise-

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, Walker's Vinegar Bitters have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remit-tent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases. - Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-besters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncies, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erystpelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminities will free the system from worms like these Bitters. For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of wo-manhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that provement is soon perceptible. Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
