PASSMORE WILLIAMSON.—The remarks of WILLIAM B. THOMAS, of Philadelphia, at the State Convention, on Wednesday evening, with regard to the candidate for Canal Commissioner, were received with deep interest by the audience.

Mr. THOMAS said he knew Passmore Williamson. He is as thoroughly qalified to fill the office of Canal Commissioner as any man in the State. His profession was that of a conveyancer, and his business is probably more extensive than that of any gentleman of that profession in Philadelphia. He has the entire confidence of the people, in his sterling integrity of character, and is universally beloved. He is a man eminently qualified for the position for which he has been nominated. With regard to his politics, Mr. Thomas knew him to be a thorough-going Republican, and a voting citizen. He will heartily endorse the platform of principles adopted by the State Convention, and will abide by them now as he has ever done heretofore. It has been intimated that Mr. Williamson is of the Garrisonian school. This is not the case. While he has never taken an active part in politics, he has always gone to the polls and voted. If Mr. Williamson be discharged from his present confinement, Mr. Thomas had no doubt he would take an active part in the coming canvass, and labor earnestly to secure the success of Republican principles.

A gentleman asked Mr. Williamson's age.

Mr. Thomas replied that he was about thirty-five years of age, and an active, energetic man.

ARREST OF A SUPPOSED IMPOSTER.—George Nortman, Esq., Secretary of the board of Guardians of the city of Pittsburgh, appeared before the Mayor this morning, and made oath that one Mary McDermott, alias Mary Logan, had been for some time past obtaining money from the Board of Guardians, under pretence that she was in destitute circumstances, and had no means of obtaining a livelihood and furthermore, that he had good reason to believe that her representations were false, she having a considerable sum of money in her possession. On this information a warrant was issued, and Mary arrested on being searched one hundred and eighty dollars in twenty dollar gold pieces, were found sewed up in her under clothes, which money was retained by the Mayor as collateral security for her attendence at court to answer for "practicing imposition." Mary has been receiving money more or less from the Board of Guardians since the death of her husband last summer. She formerly resided in Miltenberger's alley, but was married to a man named Logan this morning, and was removing to the Diamond. She had a dispute with her brother-in-law, and sister, who by the way of retaliation conveyed to Mr. Fortune the information upon which the prosecution was founded. Chronicle.

The chest was so heavy, that it must have required four persons at least to have carried it up. No clue is yet had as to the perpetrators. It is the most extensive robbery perpetrated in Allegheny city during the present year.

YESTERDAY, a woman named Barbara Bower appeared before Alderman Wilson, and made four separate charges against a liquor seller in Lawrenceville named Beck. First for selling liquor to her husband after having been notified not to do so; second, for selling him liquor knowing him to be an inebriate; third, for selling him liquor whilst he was intoxicated; fourth, for assault and battery committed when she went to Beck to remonstrate against his outrageous conduct. On the first three charges, he was held to bail in $500, and on the last charge in 200.

SOME miscreant threw a heavy ash pole across the track of the Ohio & Penna. Railroad on Thursday, between Massillon and Canton. The engineer of the Express train perceived it in time, and succeeded in checking the speed of the train, before the locomotive struck it. Had it not been observed in time, a serious accident would have been unavoidable. Much credit is due the officers of this road for their strict attention to their duty.—Bulletin.

The Atlantic brings two hundred passengers. She passed the Africa on the evening of the 25th off Skerries.

The weather has been unfavorable for the crops, much rain having fallen.

Messrs Richardson, Spence & Co. quote provisions as generally unchanged, and the market closed steady. Rice prices are a trifle lower.

Naval Stores.—Market steady and prices unchanged.

London, 24th.—Consols for money are quoted at 91¼. Messrs. Bell & Co. reports American stocks as dull, at unchanged prices. The bullion in the Bank of England has decreased £158,000.

The steamship Ariel arrived off Cowes on the morning of the 23d, and the steamship Washington at one o'clock, P. M., on the 24th.

Nothing further has occurred in the Crimea.

We have interesting details of the bombardment of Sweaborg and the recent battle of Tchernaya. The papers say that the Russian loss at Sweaborg was only forty killed, and one hundred and sixty wounded. The fortifications were destroyed.

Two British ships had fired on Riga without effect.

The squadron in the White Sea continues to destroy the stores of the enemy.

The British in the Sea of Azoff have blown up and sunken the Russian ships of war in Berdianak Bay, and burned the suburbs of the town.

The British gun boat Jasper, had been wrecked in the sea of Azoff, and the Russians had found the signal book.

Affairs before Sebastopol are quiet and unchanged.

The Russian loss in the battle of Traktir bridge on the Tchernaya was nearly 4000 killed and wounded, and of the allies 1000. The Russians were not pursued across the river, but held their former positions.

There are various rumors current as to a new peace prospect, but nothing authentic is known.

Queen Victoria was received most enthusiastically in France.

It is rumored that a reprimand has occurred in the Austrian cabinet.

LATER BY TELEGRAPH.—London, Saturday morning, August 25.—Queen Victoria will embark on Monday from Boulogne on her return to England. The Emperor will accompany her to Boulogne.

Advices from Paris state that additional reinforcements of fifty thousand men are to be sent to the Crimea.

The allied squadron in the White Sea captured two Russian ships, one a steamer. The squadron is preparing to quit that sea.

Berlin papers state that Austria has declared that she will treat according to military law every individual found tampering with eastern soldiers with a view of inducing them to join the Anglo-Italian legion.

A Russian division between Kars and Erzeroun having been reinforced had marched upon Kenpri-Kera and drove the Turkish troops from their position, and finally encamped three leagues from Erzeroun.

BERLIN, August 28th.—A Russian agent has been sent to raise a loan for the Russian government.

LONDON, August 24th, Evening.—English funds unchanged, with but little business.—Money still easy. At Paris, to-day, the French funds closed with a further decline of ¼. Consols have scarcely varied through the day.

The most interesting news is the details of the battle of Sweaborg and Tchernaya. The loss of life at Sweaborg is quite small, but the details thus far do not state how much of Sweaborg has been destroyed, nor how much remains.

Rumors are afloat of new negotiations, and to the effect that the accession of Spain to the Western alliance is complete, and that of Denmark and Sweden all but ratified.

At the battle of Tchernaya, the attack upon Tchernaya was commenced by Gortschakoff; the Russian forces consisted of five divisions of 9000 cavalry and 20 batteries of artillery. Three Russian guards were killed. The French loss amounts to nearly 200 killed and over 800 wounded. The English General, Reed, was killed. The Russians asked an armistice to bury the dead.

Pelissier says the whole number buried was 8329.

A despatch dated the 19th says the artillery had opened a fire upon Sebastopol, but the bombardment was not commenced.

Four Russian steamers, sunk in Berdianski Bay, had been blown up by the English, and the suburbs of the town burned. One British gunboat went ashore during the attack, and was taken by the Russians, together with a complete code of the allies' signals.

Gortschakoff's latest despatch from Sebastopol, on the 21st says:—"The fire of the allies has sensibly diminished, and does but very little damage."

From England there is no political news of importance.

SPAIN.—Senor Cocelanta, the new minister from Spain to the United States, has left Madrid.

Austria is said to have submitted a new project for peace, and will come out decidedly for the allies.

There is another talk that the allies will permanently occupy some portion of Turkish territory, and reconstruct the map of Italy.

According to the Russian admiral's account of the bombardment of Sweaborg, the allies appear to have done but little damage besides burning the stores. He says no damage whatever has been done to the fortifications, batteries or guns of the forts, and closes his dispatch on the evening of the 12th thus: "The enemy remain at their old anchorage and do not renew the attack. The attack on Riga commenced at 4 o'clock on the morning of the 10th by two English steamers, one two decker and one frigate. The bombardment continued until seven o'clock, the enemy doing apparently no damage."
