PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

A CHINESE MURDERER.—A Chinaman was arrested last Wednesday in New Orleans for a petty crime and brought before Recorder Beigh, and gave a very curious history of the life he stated that he was but forty-five years of age, and at the age of eighteen he was betrayed in China for rebellion; ten years after which he was stayed alive for an attempt to assinate the Emperor of China, Moon Sung, who is the son of the King or the King of the sun; and five years after he was sent to prison because he was accused of murder. He was then imprisoned nineteen years and had his tongue cut out for lying, which is considered a very serious crime in the Celestial Empire. After coming out of prison he was banished from the country for being spent at a Mandarin during the feast of the Lotus. He embarked on board an American man-of-war, and was in the battle of the Ella, under Commodore Stretter, where a cannon ball terminated his eventful career, and now he found himself arrested in New Orleans for the crime of petty larceny! The recorder thought it was time for him to rest from his labors, and so sent Mr. Chinaman to the work-house for the next ninety days. In making out the above statement, he swore by one of the earthen spittoons—for Chinese all swear by their earthenware, and by nothing higher.
