GEN. CASS BEARS WITNESS.—In to-day's paper we give a very suggestive article from the Richmond Enquirer on the probable policy of Mr. Buchanan's administration. The Enquirer, it will be seen, appreciates to the full the difficulties of Mr. Buchanan's position, and advises caution and prudence in that easy manner which is so characteristic of reckless extremists who expect to have everything their own way. As a fit comparison to the article from the Richmond organ, we also give one from the Detroit Free Press—the home organ of Gen. Cass. This Detroit oracle doubtless speaks in behalf of the Michigan Senator, and its utterances may properly be regarded as his testimony, given upon the witness stand of the nation. It accounts, it will be seen, for the "heavy Fremont majorities in the north" in the only possible way consistent with the truth of history, to wit by holding them attributable "solely to the maladministration of affairs of Kansas." It confesses frankly that "the first election in Kansas was carried by an irruption of Missourians," that "the Legislature thus chosen went on to legalize slavery and to enact a code of laws fitly characterized by Gen. Cass, in the Senate of the United States, as disgraceful to the civilization of the age;" that "this legislation was followed by scenes in Kansas which have furnished the black republicans with just the sort of capital they wanted;" that "a national administration for months sat still, and permitted these scenes to transpire," and that "had the Southern democratic press, and had Southern democratic statesmen, condemned the Missouri irruption in language not to be misunderstood, and had they denounced the attempts then and since made to introduce slavery into Kansas by force and fraud, the Fremont majorities would have been very much less in the Northern States."

This is not only true but excellent. We like it. While the Richmond managers of the incoming administration are pointing out with prudent forethought the dangers that lie ahead, let the sage of Michigan show wherein consists the errors of the past. It is good to hear these people talk to one another. Their frankness and plainness of speech extort our admiration; and we hope that the edifying manner in which they unburden themselves will result to the mutual benefit of both. As this, however, is but the opening of a free conference, it will be interesting to watch its progress. The Enquirer may ask, in reply, (who knows?) why, if Gen. Cass concurred so thoroughly with the Republicans, about the irruption into Kansas and the infamous territorial laws, did he not vote in the Senate, when he had a chance, for the admission of Kansas as a free State under the Topeka constitution?

The two articles to which we have alluded will richly repay perusal.

NAVIGATION OF THE MONONGAHELA.—The McKeesport Standard complains of the obstructions to the navigation of the Monongahela below dam No. 1. It says:

"The Birmingham bridge will be built a few rods from the outlet of Lock No. 1., and according to the Ross plan, that is, with a considerable number of piers. Coal boats are known to be the most unmanageable kind of crafts floating on water. Now, it so happens, that the current of the river, immediately at the outlets of the locks, starts almost diagonally over to Birmingham, and the pilots must suffer the boats to swing round in order to keep clear of shoals or rocks. Just at the moment of swinging, the boats necessarily will reach the piers of the projected bridge, and dash to pieces, in seven cases out of ten. Suppose, however, the boats escape, the pilots will have no time to right them again before they arrive at the projected Steubenville R. R. bridge, which will be built obliquely across the river from the mouth of the old Pennsylvania canal; and if they escape also this second bridge, it is to be considered rather a miracle, than a natural chance. At a high water stage, a few feet more than usual, there is no mortal chance of an escape. That our coal trade is virtually stopped if nothing is done to obviate these dangerous impediments. It will be a matter of serious consideration and determined action for our coal dealers to adopt some measures which will save them from ruinous losses."

In accordance with these suggestions we notice in the Standard a call "to all persons engaged in running Coal on the Monongahela and Youghiogheny Rivers in Flat Boats to attend a Meeting to be held at the Town Hall in M'Keesport, on Thursday next, the 27th day of November at one o'clock, P. M., to take into consideration the proper steps to obviate the supposed difficulties arising from the building of the new bridges."

We are inclined to think that the apprehended dangers are much magnified, and that there is an unnecessary warmth of feeling in the matter; but we will wait and see what the coal men have to say.

NEBRASKA.—At the late territorial election held in Nebraska territory there was no political organization and party lines were not drawn; but the Wyoming Telescope says that if the lines had been drawn, and sectional questions kept out of the canvass the vote would have been strongly Republican.

South of the Platte, the people are strongly free State. The members elect of the legislature, so far as heard from, are mostly Free State men. The Telescope says:

"J. S. Moston, of the News, who is the mouth piece of the border ruffians in this vicinity, and who slandered the Kansas emigrants, ran for the legislature, in this county, and was beaten handsomely by his Free State opponents. This shows how he stands in his own county, among his fellow citizens. He, and all who sided with him, were badly beaten, notwithstanding their extra exertions to carry their men and principles through."

A SAD casualty occurred yesterday in the city of Hudson, N. J., at shaft No. 2 on the tunnel which is being constructed for the New York and Erie Railroad by the Long Dock Company. In the shaft is a hole about 75 feet deep, sunk in the rock to the bottom of the tunnel. The hole is about 20 feet in width. There is a hoisting apparatus used, of which the motive power is a steam engine, for hoisting the fragments of rock, by means of a tub, which is raised and lowered by a rope. In this tub the men employed in the shaft go up and down.

At noon yesterday, as five men were coming out of the shaft in this tub, the rope parted at a splice, just as they reached the surface, and they were precipitated to the bottom. Three of them were killed, and two were badly injured.—N. Y. Herald of Sunday.

FOR LIBERIA.—Two vessels will soon depart from the United States for Liberia; one from Baltimore, the other from Boston. The new ship built by the liberal donation of the late Mr. Stevens, of Maryland, and named the Mary Caroline Stevens will leave Baltimore on the 29th of November, and Hampton Roads on the 4th of December. This vessel will first go to Monrovia, and then to other settlements on the coast. She will take out over 200 passengers. The vessel from Boston has been chartered by the Massachusetts Society, to carry out the materials for a college to be erected on a beautiful site by the government near Monrovia.

NOW AND THEN.—The sumptuous salaries paid to ministers of the gospel now contrast strangely with those of the olden times. Mr. Goodrich, "Peter Parley," in his Recollections of Lifetime, just published, states that his father, a Connecticut clergyman of the Congregational persuasion, brought up and educated a family of eight children on a salary of four hundred dollars a year, and left, at his death, "an estate of four thousand dollars." He not only did this but his house was a kind of eleemosynary tavern for traveling clergymen.

A REMARKABLE ARTICLE.—We extract the following editorial article from the Richmond Enquirer of Saturday. This paper is the most ultra and fanatical on the subject of slavery in the whole South. Its sudden change of tone occurs just after the return of Governor Wise from a visit to Mr. Buchanan. This article may be considered as foreshadowing the course of the southern Democracy and of the Administration.

THE INCOMING ADMINISTRATION.—The Charleston Mercury and New Orleans Delta.—Not at all discouraged by their recent repulse, the retainers of Fremont are busily employed in constructing a basis of party organization for the campaign of 1860. The plan is to rally the Black Republican forces upon a platform of sufficient compass to embrace every opponent of slavery and every enemy of the South, and then to begin a systematic, incessant and unscrupulous warfare upon the next Administration. Unless, at the end of his term, Mr. Buchanan's administration can command the popular support, a Black Republican succession will be the inevitable consequence. There will be no other party to inherit the dead man's effects.

The Blunders of the Democracy, then, are to be the advantages of Black Republicanism. What a lesson of caution and circumspection does this fact inculcate upon every person who is in any sort responsible for the policy of the party! With what obstacles and embarrassments does it threaten the incoming administration.

The Democratic and Black Republican parties are nearly balanced in respect of power. The former was victorious in the recent struggle, but success was hardly won with the aid of important accidental advantages. The latter has abated nothing of its zeal, and has suffered no pause in its preparations for another battle.

In the next contest circumstances must be against us. The Democratic party will be placed in a very critical position, and will be subjected to a trial that will tax its wisdom and its strength to the utmost. Under the best auspices an administration can hardly survive the vengeance of its foes and the treachery of its friends. How difficult, then, for a President to steer safely into a harbor, when his course lies among breakers, and he must encounter the fury of an inevitable storm! Every body foresees the difficulties and dangers in Mr. Buchanan's path. Everybody understands that his administration must stand the hazards of a sectional controversy. But this is not all. The Black Republican party will watch and waylay him at every step of his progress, will interpose all manner of obstacles in his way, will harrass him by open assault, will undermine him by secret treachery, will aggravate his embarrassments, will oppose his measures, thwart his policy, detect his blunders—in short will fight him with every weapon known in political warfare. Can his administration triumph over such an accumulation of obstacles? Can Mr. Buchanan conduct the Democratic party through all these difficulties and dangers, and bring it into the field in 1860, with no loss of prestige or power? The exploit would rival the retreat of the Russians after the fall of the Malakoff but the strategy of a Gortschakoff is essential to its accomplishment. The most brilliant reputation for statesmanship will be the prize of success; the irreparable overthrow of the party, and the ruin of the country will be the penalty of failure.

In the wisdom and firmness of Mr. Buchanan we have implicit confidence. But the fidelity of the party must be equal to the ability of the leader. To succeed in his arduous enterprise he must have the zealous support of the united Democracy.

The journals in the interest of the Black Republican party appreciate the embarrassments of Mr. Buchanan's position. They understand the conditions of his success. They know that the integrity of the Democracy is necessary, above all things, to the triumph of the incoming Administration. Hence their artful attempt to sow disgust between the two sections of the party—an enterprise to which the Herald devotes itself with indefatigable assiduity. Hence the absurd story of the ascendancy of violent counsels among the Democracy of the South.

The Charleston Mercury and the New Orleans Delta are in no sense party papers, and in their discussion of political matters they allow themselves a latitude which is limited only by their own ideas of consistency and duty. But they are conducted with very remarkable ability, and with the truest and most enlightened regard to the interests of the South. We are surprised, therefore, that though they may care nothing for the exigencies of party, they do not see how effectively they aid the cause of Black Republicanism in repelling the sympathies of the northern Democracy and betraying a distrust of the incoming Administration. Why despair, in advance, of Mr. Buchanan's ability to shield the South from aggression, at least during the term of his Presidency? Why prescribe a policy to him which, in the nature of things, he cannot undertake? This prophecy of evil contributes to the fulfilment of its own foreboding; and these extravagant speculations can only end in disappointment. Meanwhile, however, they animate the hopes of the enemies of the South and depress the spirit of our northern allies. Can we gain any advantage for the common cause by betraying an inordinate ambition, and by tendering our support to Mr. Buchanan on impossible conditions? Do we not run the hazard of alienating his confidence and losing the influence of his administration?

In the Cincinnati Convention, Mr. Buchanan was not the first choice of a majority of the southern Democracy. But his nomination was accepted with satisfaction; and he was supported in the South with unexampled unanimity. Both the Delta and Mercury aided in his election, and why? Not, certainly, because it was expected that Mr. Buchanan would come up to the full measure of our wants and demands. We anticipated no such thing, and hence the opposition to his nomination in the first instance. He was supported by those who are stigmatised as the "extremists" of the South, because of the probity of his personal character, his ability in administration, and the well attested fairness and friendliness of his disposition towards the South. He received the almost unanimous vote of the South, without which his election would have been an impossible achievement.

He is therefore, in some sort, the President of the South—not in a sectional sense, but in the sense that he owes his election chiefly to the support of the South. Why, then should any southern man anticipate his administration with distrust? He was elected under pledges (implied in the principles of the platform) which we all accepted as satisfactory in the progress of the canvass, and, as these pledges were in harmony with his antecedents, and with the spirit of the northern Democracy, there is no reason to apprehend their violation. In any event it will be time enough to suspect Mr. Buchanan, and oppose his administration, when he discovers, by some unequivocal act of bad faith, that he does not deserve the confidence and support of the South.

The South occupies a precarious position in the confederacy, and to sustain herself she has need of every artificial support. Prudence should be the predominant principle of her statesmanship while she is content to remain in the Union. In the North there is a party well affected to her interests. The President elect is pledged to protect her rights. For ourselves we find, independently of the obligations of party, abundant reason to solicit the alliance of the northern Democracy, and the influence of the Federal Executive. Such being the case we would strengthen rather than destroy the integrity of the Democratic organization; so that when the final conflict comes (if come it must), the South may not find herself utterly friendless and alone. Such being the case, we mean to support Mr. Buchanan's administration, in the confident belief that the South will never regret her agency in his election. Will not our friends of the Delta and Mercury announce the same resolution?

Maladministration of Affairs in Kansas.

From the Detroit Free Press (confidential home organ of Gen. Cass.)

THE CAUSE OF THE LARGE FREMONT MAJORITIES IN THE NORTH.

The Richmond (Va.) Enquirer asks:—

Is there anything in the result of the recent election to encourage the hope that abolitionism is losing its credit and power with the people of the North? Fremont carries eleven of the sixteen Northern States, and carries them by the most imposing majorities. He has an immense plurality, if not an actual majority, of the popular vote of the North; and that too upon the direct and distinct issue of abolitionism against the rights of the South—upon an issue which was universally understood to involve the equality of the South in the confederacy; and the inviolability of the constitutional guarantees of slavery. The result of the recent election discloses this prodigious power in the possession of the anti-slavery party of the North.

The Enquirer does not understand the issue upon which the Fremont majorities were obtained in the North any better than it understands some other matters with which the Northern democracy have to contend relating to the slavery question. It is true that the Northern democratic press strove to fight the late battle on the true issue stated by the Enquirer—the issue of abolitionism against the rights of the South—an issue involving the equality of the South in the confederacy, and the inviolability of the constitutional guarantees of slavery. The democratic press and democratic orators strove to do this. But with what success? Can the Richmond Enquirer answer that question? Has it an exchange with any considerable number of black republican journals? If so, does it remember that the above plainly stated issue was accepted by one of them? Did the Philadelphia Convention—did Fremont, in his letter of acceptance of the nomination of that Convention—did black republican journals—did black republican orators—propose to interfere with the inviolability of the constitutional guarantees of slavery? They did not. They all—the Philadelphia Convention, and Fremont, and the black republican journals, and the black republican orators—all professed—professed, we say—to stand up on the constitutional guarantees of slavery. They protested they did not intend to interfere with slavery where it had constitutional existence. They protested that they only designed to interfere with the extension of slavery into territory hitherto free, where, they declared there were efforts to introduce it by violence and fraud. They made this issue, and it was chiefly upon this issue that the large Fremont majorities were obtained in the North. Upon the other issues—the issue of abolitionism against the rights of the South, involving the inviolability of the constitutional guarantees of slavery—could it have been fairly tried, Fremont would have been beaten in all but three or four of the Northern States. We speak knowingly when we say this, and what we have said will be endorsed by every intelligent democrat who understands Northern public sentiment.

And now, why could not the battle in the North be fought upon the free issue? and why was it determined upon the issue made by the black republicans? We are inclined to deal plainly with the Richmond Enquirer in answering these interrogatories, and we trust we shall be able to enlighten that journal. The Kansas Nebraska measure was a measure of the democratic party—made so by the action upon it of a large majority of the democratic members of Congress. Its purpose was to carry out the doctrine of the compromise measures of 1850, regarding the government of the Territories. It was objected to by many Northern democrats, during its pendency, that its passage might re-open the slavery question by reason of efforts to introduce slavery into Kansas. This objection was answered by Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, and other Southern Senators, that the South only wished to establish the principle of the bill—that there was no expectation or desire that Kansas should be made a slave State, and that it could not be made a slave State, because its soil and climate were unsuited to profitable slave labor. With this understanding the bill was passed—passed as a great measure of right—passed as a measure of justice to all sections of the Union, whose people under it might become citizens of Kansas, and determine for themselves the character of their domestic institutions.

But it was a measure, the immediate consequence of the passage of which, were sure to be temporarily injurious to the Northern democratic party. Every sagacious Northern democrat saw and felt this, but there were few who were unwilling to suffer temporary injury for the purpose of establishing a great principle.

The injury has not been so temporary as sagacious Northern democrats believed it would be. And why? We are again disposed to deal plainly with the Richmond Enquirer. The first election in Kansas was carried by an irruption of Missourians, and the Legislature then chosen went on to legalize slavery and to enact a code of laws fitly characterized by General Cass, in the Senate of the United States, as disgraceful to the civilization of the age. This legislation was followed by scenes in Kansas which outrageously exaggerated undoubtedly, have furnished the black republicans with just the sort of capital for the Presidential contest they wanted—just the sort that served their purposes best; and a national administration for months sat still and permitted these scenes to transpire—permitted this capital to be manufactured for the mass of black republicanism.

Was it strange thereat that the Northern public mind should become exasperated? We do not hold the South responsible for the original Missouri irruption into Kansas, and for the scandalous legislation of the Kansas Legislature. The South is not responsible for it any more than the North is responsible for the operations of abolitionism in Kansas. But had the Southern democratic press and had Southern democratic statesmen condemned the Missouri irruption in language not to be misunderstood, and had they denounced the attempts then and since to introduce slavery into Kansas by force and fraud, the Fremont majorities would have been very much less in the Northern States.

Tens of thousands of men in the North, democrats hitherto, and who have no design of interfering with the inviolability of the constitutional guarantees of slavery hereafter, have voted against Mr. Buchanan, solely because of the maladministration of affairs in Kansas—because they desired to rebuke the ruffianism that carried the first Kansas Legislature and enacted the code of Kansas, and to censure an administration that had not interposed to suppress the long continued war of ruffianism between the pro-slavery and anti-slavery parties. They have done wrong, of course, as they will themselves presently see. They have done wrong, for neither Mr. Buchanan nor the democratic party ought to be held responsible for outrages committed by irresponsible individuals—outrages which were not the legitimate fruit of the Kansas organic law, but grossly violative of the spirit and letter of that law. They have done wrong, but was their action altogether unnatural? In view of all the facts and circumstances of the Kansas question, could any other result in most of the Northern States have been expected than large Fremont majorities? These questions are addressed to the Richmond Enquirer.

We want no assurance with respect to Mr. Buchanan's Kansas policy. He will preserve order and crush out ruffianism—Southern ruffianism and Northern ruffianism the ruffianism that would force slavery upon Kansas and the ruffianism that would force abolitionism upon her. He will secure to the bona fide inhabitants of the Territory their unquestionable rights under the organic law. We look to the Richmond Enquirer and to the whole Southern democratic press for an effective support of this policy of Mr. Buchanan's administration—a policy which will whittle down to nothing within a year the large Fremont majorities in the Northern States.—And we do not doubt that this policy will have the effective support of the Richmond Enquirer and the whole Southern democratic press—so accordant is it with the true interest of the South.

COLORED SUFFRAGE IN LOUISIANA.—In Louisiana, it appears that there is a precinct, in Alexandria, known as the "ten mile precinct," controlled entirely by a colony of free negroes, who at the last election voted unanimously for Buchanan. Fillmore getting the vote of the only white man in the place. The Alexandria American considers it an outrage that these persons should be allowed to vote, but is glad that they voted as they did.

BETTING.—The Logan Republican says one of the peculiar features of the late election, was the heavy betting of negroes in the South on the result. In Kentucky, it is said, negroes, plantations and all, in many instances, were lost and won. A great country of freemen where one portion of community stakes the balance on the result of an election!

SHOVELS.—There are annually manufactured in the United States 2,160,000 shovels, or about six hundred dozen per day. They are made entirely in this country, about one third the number in Massachusetts, the rest in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other cities. As the shovel is one of the civilizers of the world, the annual demand for that useful article shows how much the people of the United States are contributing by their labor, towards improving the social condition of mankind.

OF the thirty American doctors who served in the Russian army during the war, about one-third have died, and the rest have returned home without exception.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

McLane's Vermifuge.—Fleming Bros. Sole Proprietors.—No remedy ever invented has been as successful as the great worm medicine of Dr. McLane, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh. All who have used it have been equally astonished and delighted at its wonderful effects and efficacy. To publish all the testimonials in its favor would fill volumes; we must therefore content ourselves with a brief abstract of a few of them.

Japhet C. Allen, of Amboy, gave a dose to a child 6 years old, and it brought away 83 worms. He soon after gave another dose to the same child, which brought away 60 more, making 133 worms in about 12 hours.

Andrew Downing, of Cranbury township, Venango Co., gave his child one teaspoonful, and she passed 177 worms. Next morning, on repetition of the dose, she passed 113 more.

Jonathan Houghman, of West Union, Park county, Ia., writes that he is unable to supply the demand, as the people in his neighborhood say, after a trial of the others, that none is equal to Dr. McLane's Vermifuge.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada. None genuine without the signature of no22:d&wS FLEMING BROS.

Consumption Cured—Be not deceived by base imitations. Hegeman, Clark & Co's Genuine Cod Liver Oil, never disappoints, and nine years' experience has proved it superior to all others, and the only reliable cure for Consumption.

As there is a great deal of spurious oil in the market adulterated with seal oil, whale oil, &c., &c., too much care cannot be taken to procure the Genuine.

Our Oil is made at our own factory in Newfoundland and each bottle has our signature over the cork, be careful to get Hegeman, Clark & Co.; for since the death of Mr. Rushton, our late partner, there has been an article introduced called Rushton's, which is in no way connected with H. C. & Co. or H. C. & Co. Sold by B. A. FAHNESTOCK & CO., R. E. SELLERS & CO., and by druggists generally. oc23 3m

Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer.—A Real Hair Restorer.

Mr. Samuel Jones, a Methodist clergyman, residing in Murraysville, Westmoreland county, says that his hair had been getting gray for the last twenty years, and was disposed to fall out. He used two bottles of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer, which entirely stopped the falling out of the hair all the hair resumed its original color, and has kept the color now for nine months. This is a common case, but we publish it because it is near home, so that the public may be convinced that Wood's Hair Restorer is what it purports to be. Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 10th, 1856.—For more than 3 years past we have constantly worn the Washington Suspender Brace, manufactured by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No. 140 Wood st., in this city, and would heartily recommend it to all who are compelled to follow a sedentary occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to its merits, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being so placed as to continually tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position and expand the chest. Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces. Be particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the braces sold are humbug. Sold at Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER'S, Wholesale Druggist, 140 Wood st., sign of the Golden Mortar. fe13:d&wT

The only Medal Awarded by the New York Exhibition to the English or foreign Sauce Manufacturers has been obtained, amongst numerous competitors, by LEA & PERRINS, for their
whereby further testimony is afforded of its being the best Sauce extant.

The celebrity of this Sauce has extended to every quarter of the globe, and its efficacy in promoting the general health is becoming daily more observed and acknowledged.

In the United States it is held to be the most agreeable condiment, and is esteemed for its tonic and invigorating properties, its habitual use enabling the stomach to digest the food.

On the Continent of Europe, these qualities have been testified to by a gentleman, who writes to LEA & PERRINS thus: "I have carried a bottle of your Worcestershire Sauce in a tour I have just completed through Spain and Portugal, and believe I owe my present state of health to its use; your Sauce is stomachic, and I think medicinal, can with truth say there is nothing in a traveler's baggage so essential to his comfort, at least in these countries, as your Sauce.

In India, also, where it is found at the mess of every regiment, a medical gentleman writes from Madras to his brother in the same profession at Worcester, in the following terms: "Tell Lea & Perrins that their sauce is highly approved in India, and that it is, in my opinion, the most Palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce made."

This sauce is suitable for every variety of dish, and the universal demand which its excellence has created has led to many imitations being offered to the public, under a variety of names, but the genuine may be known by the names of "LEA & PERRINS" being impressed upon the patent metallic capsules, or patent glass stopper of the bottle, as well as the labels and wrapper.

As a remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Gout, Rheumatism, General Debility, and all Scrofulous Affections, it stands unrivalled, effecting a cure, or alleviating suffering when other medicines have failed.

Important—Notice to those Afflicted WITH CHRONIC DISEASES. By Dr. A. S. HEATH, New York City. Finding it impossible to attend personally to all my patients, and being unwilling to trust such responsible duties to assistants or students, and for the purpose of suppressing the sale of worthless and injurious quack medicines, as well as the impositions advertised under fictitious names, offering to send recipes gratis, or on receipt of letter stamps or one dollar, &c.—to obviate the above, and to accommodate patients in all parts of the country, I send medicines, with full directions, to cure any disease, for $5, unless treatment is required for a longer period than one month, then the same for each month. The fee for all cures, with directions, including that for the radical cure of Rupture, will depend upon the peculiarity of the case. Patients will give a full statement of all their symptoms, as the remedies are prepared with an especial reference to each case. All money letters should be registered. The first part of my illustrated work will be sent to any address on the receipt of 10 cents. A. S. HEATH,

FROM BISHOP LEFEVER.
MR. SOLOMONS—Sir: The benefit I have received from the Spectacles obtained from you, induces me to express the pleasure I have experienced from them: they suit my eyes to admiration. I can now see all common distances by candle light, as well as by day, with the same ease as when a boy, which I could not do with any other glasses I have tried. It affords me great pleasure to avail myself of this medium of testifying how satisfactory has been my own experience of your skill as an optician.
Yours, truly, PETER LEFEVER, Bishop.
Detroit, Nov. 3d, 1852.

FROM THE MAYOR OF ROCHESTER.
ROCHESTER, April 7, 1851.
MR. SOLOMONS—Sir: Having called at your office in the Arcade, and purchased two pair of your patent glasses, I have found them superior to any I have ever used before they have not put them aside, and can see without them as well as I could when a boy. G. RICHARDSON.

JACKSON, La., Aug. 1, 1854.
Dear Sir—I feel bound to express my gratification to you for the incalculable benefit I have derived from the use of two bottles of your German Bitters. Very respectfully, yours,
H. OPPENHEIMER.

1500 Bottles per Day.—Yes, reader, this is the average amount of daily sales of Kennedy's Medical Discovery, as a gentleman remarked to us a few days since (and he is the proprietor of one of the popular medicines of the day,) "Mr. Kennedy is doing four times as much business as any proprietor of patent medicines in the country." And do you think that the community would spend such an immense amount of money for an article if it did not possess claims of a superior nature?—Not every bottle that is sold tells. One bottle cures the Scrofula—the next the Rheumatism; and thus it is that this great destroyer of humors has gained so exalted a position in the estimation of the public.
Sold by Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, whole sale agent; JAMES P. FLEMING, Allegheny.

Highly Important to Invalids!
Cod Liver Oil.
PREPARED BY J. C. BAKER & CO,
Has, as one of its distinguished marks of superiority over other brands of Oils, entire absence of that peculiar nauseous and disagreeable flavor, and offensive odor inseparable from oil crudely and imperfectly prepared.

It may be taken without disrelish by the most delicate patient, and retained without effort on the most sensitive stomach.

Its superiority in this and other important characteristics of genuineness, has guaranteed for it the commendation of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty throughout the States.

It is the most effectual remedy for consumption, bronchitis, rheumatism, scrofula, &, and may be had in bottles of the druggists in this city or of the manufacturers,
