PITTSBURGH:

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 11, 1858.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

News of the City and Neighborhood.

THE CONCLUSION OF THE TRIAL OF FREDERICK BRENINGER AND HIS ACQUITTAL.—The interest of the public in this case centred in the final acts and increased as the counsel for the prisoner want on to sum up and explain the testimony. The examination of witnesses concluded on Friday evening, as we before stated. On Saturday morning, A. B. McCalmont, Esq., made the opening speech for prisoner at the bar, and, as it seemed to us, placed the case in the strongest light. It was evident that his feelings had become deeply interested in the case of this unfortunate young man, who showed by all his demeanor that he is anything but a ruffian; who brought on to the stand quite a host of friends to testify to his good character, although he has no relative on this side the Atlantic. Mr. McCalmont spoke for the space of two hours and enchained the attention of the jury and of the large auditory which crowded to hear him. Gottlieb Geltz, the chief witness for the Commonwealth, had no place left to stand upon when the defence had done with him. This witness was, to say the least, extremely unfortunate in his statements of facts connected with this case, for his testimony before the coroner and that before the court were at variance in many and most unfortunate respects. He was held up by the defence as the cause of all the difficulty, as the instigator of the fight, as the only one who saw a knife with Breninger, as the only one who pretends to have seen Breninger use that knife, and this latter part he had testified before the coroner he was unable to see in the darkness. John Wickline, another principal witness for the Commonwealth, was also handled without gloves, and the testimony of these two having been swept away, there remained but very little of the case.

John H. Hampton, Esq., concluded on the part of the defence in an effort that did him great credit. He followed the parties from the moment of their entering Gerst's beer-saloon down to the occurrence of the fatal event that cost Frank his life, and depicted Geltz as the primo mover in all the difficulties that occurred, altho' it was not charged directly upon him that he committed the fatal deed itself. Mr. Hampton showed his devotion to his client in the whole course of this trial, and most faithfully performed the responsible duties devolved upon him.

Mr. Collier, for the Commonwealth, we were so unfortunate as not to hear, but we were informed that he made the most of his case, and fully sustained the reputation he has won during the time he has plead at the bar as District Attorney.

The charge of the Court was short and direct. Judge M'Clure said the only question was whether the prisoner was guilty of manslaughter or of no crime. Manslaughter was killing without malice. If the jury believe from the evidence that the prisoner intituated the affray, acted in self-defence, or when he feared great bodily injury from the deceased or some one with him, it would be justifiable homicide.

Assault and battery would not justify the killing; the slayer should be closely pressed, and in danger of great bodily harm, before he would be justified in killing his assailant. If the blow was given in the heat of passion, and was not excusable, and the prisoner struck it, it would be manslaughter.

The jury then retired, and at half-past two o'clock came in and declared the prisoner innocent of the crime of which he stood charged, and a verdict of acquittal was rendered. Great greetings in the hearty German style were bestowed upon the young man as he stepped forth to the world free again after a confinement in jail of six months. Indeed, it was with difficulty that the crowd in the Court was prevented from loud applause. Poor Breninger was fairly carried away on the shoulders of his friends. And so the matter ended.

The following was crowded out of our columns on Saturday when it should have appeared:

THE GRAND JURY.—This body of citizens completed their immediate duties on yesterday (Friday) when Judge M'Clure addressed to them the following remarks:

Gentlemen: It is usual for the Grand Jury, before being discharged, to visit the Jail. This you will doubtless do. There are now in prison three homicides under sentence of death, one other convicted of murder in the first degree, one convicted of murder in the second degree, and four more to be tried for homicide. This state of things demands very extraordinary diligence and care in those to whose keeping they are entrusted. It is imperitively necessary that those tried and to be tried, should be cut off from all possibility or hope of escape, and from all facilities for suicide and to secure this, those convicted and those under sentence, should be prohibited from all intercourse with the world without, and from all intercourse with one another. These convictions have been at an enormous cost to this county. and every citizen has a right to feel secure, and know to a certainty, that there exists no possibility of escape or suicide. It is expected that the Grand Jury, in its visit to the Jail, will examine, scrutinize, suggest and report to the Court, how these convicts are to be securely cared for, and, if greater measures of security are required, to suggest the means of securing it.

We mean no reflection whatever, on those entrusted with the care of prisoners. No man knows to what deeds of desperate daring the love of life, fear of death may prompt. It is the duty of those who keep the prison, to force and prevent possibilities. The terrible responsibility of the Sheriff and Jailor, is without precedent, and it is only by extraordinary vigilance and unusual means, this great responsibility can be met. We have no doubt the Sheriff will feel obliged to you, for the benefit of your co-operation and suggestions, and we are assured that the Commissioners of the county will cheerfully accord to him, all that he may ask. Such discipline and preventive energy should be adopted, as would banish the hope of an attempt to frustrate. And this, gentlemen, we give you in charge.

The Jury visited both the jail and the House of Refuge. We did not hear anything of the result of their examinations. We hope they found the jail all right. If so, vast improvements have been made there within the last month or two.

C. & P. RAILROAD.—We learn from the Cleveland Herald that the following Board of Directors was chosen at that city on the 6th instant: James Farmer, Henry W. Clark, James F. Clark, Harvey Rice, Zalmon Fitch, Cleveland; James Turnbull, Steubenville; J. Nessly McCullough, Wellsville; W. W. Holloway, Bridgeport, Daniel C. List, Wheeling; W. M. Lyon, Pittsburgh; Hiram Stow, Beaver; Henry C. Kingsley, New Haven, Ct.

The Herald remarks that all parties yesterday manifested a determination that the affairs of the Company should be thoroughly overhauled and examined, and that the interests of stock and bondholders should be carefully looked after in the future. The new Board can do much to place the finances and credit of the road in a better condition, and they are men who will not shrink from any necessary labor and responsibility.

The statement of the financial affairs of the road is as follows:

Stock	$4,082,878 81
Bonds	4,925,402 00
Bills Payable and Coupons	742,310 00
Stock script	34,605 00
	$9,778,461 81
Construction equipment	$9,442,009 68
Bank of Massillon	36,000 00
Bills Receivable	16,392 12
Cash	16,575 66
Sundries	265,484 15
	$9,778,461 81

BANKS.—A comparative statement of the condition of the banks in this city, in Philadelphia, in Baltimore and in Boston shows that the Pittsburgh Banks occupy a position of greater strength than those in either of the above cities. While the deposits and circulation of the Philadelphia Banks are

	$16,705,068
and their specie,	3,618,154
Deposits & circulation of Balt. bk's	9,140,650
and their specie,	2,169,517
Deposits & circulation of Boston bk's	22,490,200
and their specie,	5,028,000

The deposites and circulation of the Banks in the city of Pittsburgh, are

	$2,500,807
and their specie,	1,212,162

While the liabilities of our Banks are but as $2,06 to each $1 of specie in vault, Philadelphia's is $4,64 per $1 of specie, Baltimore's $4,21 per $1, and Boston's $4,47 per $1. For the figures above we are indebted to our contemporary of the Journal.

ORDINATION.—The ordination of Samuel Godshall took place at New Prospect, Mercer Co., a few days since, to preside over the Baptist Church in that place. The following churches were represented in council, namely: from New Castle: Rev. A. G. Kirk, R. Craven and William Griffith; from West Salem: Rev. Jacob Morris and E. Simpkins; from West Greenville: Rev. D. L. Clouse, J. Patridge; from Harmony: Rev. D. Daniels, J. Baldwin, and T. Edmonson; from Harrisburg: Deacons Noah Dean and William Dean. After proper examination, he was duly ordained to the work of the ministry.

AGRICULTURAL.—At the annual election for officers of the Shenango Valley Agricultural and Manufacturing Society, held on the 4th instant, the following persons were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Marvin Loomis; Vice President, John M'Neely, Esq.; Treasurer, S. P. Johnston; Secretary, B. F. Baskin, Esq.

BOLD ROBBERY.—Sunday evening, while the family of Mr. Blair, boiler-maker, residing on Third street, below Ferry, were at church, two unknown ruffians entered the house, by breaking open the kitchen door, and carried off a valuable gold watch. A little girl, employed as nurse in the family, was in the house at the time with the children, and the ruffians tied her hands and feet, and set her clothes on fire, while they ransacked the house! She was so badly frightened as to be unable to give any description of the fiends. When Mr. Blair returned from church, shortly after the occurrence, he found the girl tied, as before described, so that she could scarcely move, and her clothing burned in several places. This is the boldest outrage of the kind that has occurred in this city for some time.

LOWNY'S NEW FIRE PLUG.—Another trial was given to this plug on Saturday, at the corner of Market, and Water streets, and it worked to general satisfaction. Eight attachments of hose were made to it, all of which were plentifully supplied with water, and it was thus demonstrated that one plug of this kind is equal to four of the old ones. A 1½ inch pipe was afterwards attached, and the stream forced through this was of immense volume and force, and was thrown higher than any of the adjacent buildings, in quantities sufficient to extinguish any fire. We hope to see the plug brought into general use.

PLAY FOUNDED ON THE LIFE OF HENRY FIPE.—The soul-stirring and harrowing incidents connected with the McKeesport Tragedy, it appears have been elaborated and woven into a Tragic Play of great interest, which will be presented at the Theatre for the first time to-night. The writer is said to be a resident of Pittsburgh, and the management have gone to much expense and trouble in preparing new scenery, representing well-known Pittsburgh localities, and in procuring splendid furniture and new and extraordinay properties. The play, we understand, has a definite moral and inculcates fine and honorable sentiments. A splendid house may be expected.

AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE AND TRUST CO.—The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin of the 4th inst says:

"The first institution in Philadelphia to fairly resume specie payments is the American Life and Trust Company, which, it will be seen by an advertisement in another column, is paying all sums on demand in coin."

As this company has a branch office in this city, at 97 Water street, we insert the above as a deserved compliment. The advertisement of the company appears in our Insurance column.

THE LADIES FURS, of choice descriptions, enumerated in Davis' auction advertisement, for sale on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, will be open to the examination of visitors this afternoon, on the second floor of the new auction buildings, No. 54 Fifth street.

THE Central Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association have had 475 applications for coal, and supplied 350 of the number, the remainder not having proved worthy. The whole number of bushels of coal thus distributed is 7,000

A RELIC.—Workmen digging in the side-walk in front of the splendid new building of the Odd Fellows, on Saturday, struck upon an old well there, some 60 feet in depth, which is said to be one of the oldest in the city. It will now be filled up.

HUNT & MINER have for sale that most indispensable of books, the Tribune Almanac for 1858. Its table of contents shows that it contains its usual amount of excellent reading matter, for the politician, the merchant or the farmer.

GOVERNOR POLLOCK has approved the supplement to the Act consolidating the wards of this city for educational purposes. This restricts the taxation for the purpose contemplated in the original bill, to four mills on the dollar.

THE case of the men who stand charged with the murder of Weisman, an old German who lived in a lonely house near East Liberty, will come on for trial to-day.

LECTURE.—Governor Pollock will lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association of Allegheny City on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening, at 7 o'clock. See advertisement.

THE Y. M. L. Association will hold their annual election to-day, between the hours of one and seven, P. M.

S. B. LAUFFER, of Allegheny City, has been appointed a Notary Public, by Gov. Pollock

AT THE GAIETIES, to night, Gov. J. C. Foster makes his first appearance on the stage in this city, in his great character of Napoleon.

See the bill at the Theatre.

NEW YORK, Jan 10.—The steamer Africa arrived with Liverpool dates to the 26th ult.

Later news has been received from India, the Bombay dates being to the 4th December. The garrison of Lucknow was relieved on the 19th November, and the women, children and wounded were conveyed the next day to Cawnpore. The flying columns encountered insurgents in various parts invariably defeated them. Reinforcements continued to pour in. Twenty-four members of the Royal family were executed at Delhi.

The British and continental news is generally unimportant.

The British exports for November show a great falling off.

The further reduction of the French army is decided on.

The earthquake at Naples was less serious than was first stated. There was still great loss of life and property.

The Bank of Prussia has reduced the rates to 6½ per cent.

There were no failures in consequence of a better feeling under the bank reduction to 8 per cent, but the markets and exchange closed two days during the holidays.

Liverpool, Dec. 26th.—The sales of Cotton for the week have been 40,000 bales, including 10,000 to speculators and 4000 to exporters. The quotations early in the week were ⅛@¼ higher than at the close of the previous week, but on Thursday the market closed at ¼d advance, and the speculators took the bulk of the sales and the exporters 1000 bales; of the 8000 tendency at the close, and the market was active at the following quotations: Fair Orleans, 6⅞; middling uplands, 6⅝; middling, 5¾d, fair Mobile 6⅝; middling, 5¾d, fair in port is 387,000 bales, of which 100,000 bales were American. The market on Friday and to-day was closed.

Breadstuffs.—The market was quiet on Thursday. Flour dull. Wheat quiet.

Provisions.—The market is dull. Beef, Pork and Bacon are all dull.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—Baring's circular says "Sugar as buoyant at 6d@1s advance. Coffee heavy. Tea firmer. Breadstuffs dull.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.—Consols for account are quoted at 93⅛@93¼ and on easy market.

WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 10.—The Union has a leader in which the acquisition of Central America is discussed. It represents the means adopted by Gen. Walker but is evidently in favor of the object by another process. It says to acquire the privilege of constructing railways, canals and roads across the Isthmus to settle the citizens of country traversed by these routes with peaceable tradesmen, farmers, mechanics, &c., would seem to be the only sure and infallible mode of planting our institutions permanently in these regions. If, however, we must plant our Constitutions in the regions South of us by the strong arm, let it be done by open, honorable hostility, conducted under the auspices and authority of the government. Nothing can be easier than to find causes for National quarrel with the Central American states and the Spanish government, if we set about seeking it. If, contrary to our National policy, we must needs extend our institutions southward by force, let it be done by honorable warfare and not by a political foray.

MOBILE, Jan. 9.—A large meeting was held yesterday in the amphitheatre, which appointed a committee with the resolutions to expel Wm. Strickland, an abolitionist publisher. The resolutions were adopted, and the committee requested him to leave the State, and never return.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—River falling, with four and a half feet in Cairo. The Upper Mississippi is full of floating ice at Dubuque, and the weather is cloudy. Nothing now from the Illinois or Missouri. Weather cloudy and milder.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 9.—The river is falling, with seven feet on the falls, and ten feet in the canal. The weather is cloudy with indications of rain. Thermometer 50°.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Judge Ingraham granted a writ of error in the case of the boy murderer, John Rodgers, who will not be hanged on the 15th inst.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9 —Weather cloudy and mild. Mercury, 104°.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Cotton dull; 200 bales sold. Flour quiet; 5500 bbls. sold. Wheat is firm, but quiet; 5000 bush. sold at $1,18@1,30 for white. MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

There was further cause for depression in the Hog market to-day, owing to the continued large receipts, the latter footing up about 14,000 head for the last 24 hours, and the trade was decidedly heavy and unsettled. The top figure for extra heavy lots was $4,70, and sellers were averaging 25c and upwards, while light lots were to be had at $4,20. In view of current heavy receipts and under advices from the interior as to the number yet to come forward, packers have permitted their views to settle down pretty positively to $4. At this figure as matters now stand they would take hold freely, and thus impart to the trade a vigorous and lively appearance. With heavy receipts to-morrow and next day, the concessions now demanded would be made, and this result promises to be realized. —[Cin. Gaz.
