PITTSBURGH:
SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 16, 1858.

CLAIMS AND DESERTS.—The Mobile Register gives the following from which we may infer—much:

"We sincerely trust there will be no flinching or hesitation on the part of our Southern representatives in Congress in the emergency before us. We hope they will meet the issue with an unbroken front, and let it be distinctly understood that the admission of Kansas with the Lecompton constitution and upon her present application is the sine qua non of the continuance of the Southern States in the confederacy. Let them not be seduced and hoodwinked with any ingenious and delusive compromises, nor frightened from their propriety by any regard to the consequences.

It is really amusing to read these sounding phrases, and to hear the threats of some of the great men of the south, telling us what they intend to do if every thing doesn't go to please them. Gen. So-and-So gets into Congress from Florida, the land of alligators. He wears a red waistcoat and a red nose, claims to be the owner of certain bipedal chattels in that great state, and declares that he will dissolve the Union in the name of the sovereign state of Florida unless the administration shall take its cue from him. Now it is hardly credible at first sight that any weak, miserable, ignorant and sparse collection of wreckers and Indian killers should have the arrogance to dictate in the presence of the assembled Representatives of the nation, what its chosen executive shall or shall not do. Common sense if not common politeness should render the man with the red waistcoat and the red nose who represents the barrens and everglades of Florida modest—mum in relation to great national questions. Why, the total vote of the State in 1856 was 11,191 while that of Allegheny County in this State was 24,221! Imagine Allegheny County dissolving the Union in two speeches (which her vote entitles her to) to Florida's one!

But if one refers to this state of Alabama, where the Mobile Register fulminates over the land its fiats about the crisis having arrived and the time for dissolution as being at hand—what is the state of Alabama in wealth, population, influence or intelligence that it should attempt to dictate on the floors of Congress, or through its press the policy of the nation! Where are its men of mark: where its schools, its colleges, and its population; what are its claims to commanding influence in that Sanhedrim of nations known as the Congress of the United States? But perhaps men of mark, institutions of learning and general intelligence give no claim to political power! This objection cannot be urged however, when we come to a consideration of the population of the State; and what does that amount to in round numbers? Why, Alabama has about as many voters as the city of Philadelphia! Yet who in Philadelphia ever attempts to exert any influence upon the policy of the nation unless he can learn beforehand which way the wind blows! Who in that city ever talks about dissolving the Union, unless it is to go down on trembling knees and with ashen cheeks protest to his dear brethren of the South, that if they (the dear brethren) won't dissolve the Union, runaway chattels shall be caught and political preachers turned out of their pulpits whenever the said dear brethren shall ask these things to be done? Thus it is that the majority that vast majority that makes the wealth, the intelligence and the worth of the country, surrender their rights to this petty minority, struggling with a feudal institution which is a disgrace to our humanity and, really, as a mass, as poor as it is proud and overbearing.

The recent speech of Eli Thayer is the first one which we now recall to mind in which the real impotence of the slave States, particularly the Gulf States, is shown up in its true light. The gentlemen from Mississippi and Florida could not for a while understand the drift of his logic; but when that became apparent, they could not restrain themselves from joining in the general laughter, although at the expense of their own constituents. He showed the South how absurd it is for States whose population amounts only to eighty-nine hundredths of a man to a square mile, to think of engaging in a scheme of colonizing a distant Territory. The Gulf States, which, taken together, have a population not exceeding three persons to a square mile, talk about filibustering expeditions and annexing new territories as though they were as populous as Egypt in the time of the Pharaohs. It is no wonder that Mr. Thayer succeeded so easily in raising a laugh in Congress, when he presented the subject to that grave body in its true light. This, and a few more speeches like it, and a proper display of statistics, will show these gentlemen from the rice and cotton districts that they ought to moderate their pretensions, and that their constituents should win a reputation they claim that position either in Congress or out of it.

HON. NATHAN CLIFFORD, was confirmed as Judge of the Supreme Court by a vote of 26 to 23. There is no doubt that he is the weakest man that ever sat upon that bench. His nomination aroused a host of indignant protests because of the unfitness of the nominee. No other charge was brought against him than this, and twenty-three Senators of the United States, including gentlemen of all parties, stand upon the record as having thus solemnly pledged their personal opinions against his fitness! Indeed he escaped rejection on that ground, only by the absence of a Senator, whose duty to his country and his constituents required his presence upon so important an occassion, and by the eccentricity of another, whose judgement is against his own vote, and whose constituents will feel insulted by that vote.

WHAT DO OLDS SAYS.—A Kansas correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes as follows:

"One of our prominent Free State men, who has just returned from Washington, had several long interviews with Douglas while there. He states that during one of them the following dialogue took place:

Kansas Man—There is one thing, Judge Douglas, which you should clearly understand. We, in Kansas, intend to use every regular and legal means to throw off this Lecompton Constitution. But, if these all fail, and the Administration persists in forcing the infamous measure upon us, contrary to the wishes of nine-tenths of our people, we will not submit to the outrage. We shall not stop to think about the Union, or anything else. We will fight the Missourians, the devil, or the United States troops.

Douglas—Of course you will—you ought to!

A SOUTHERN EXPLANATION OF MR. DOUGLAS' COURSE.—The Vicksburg Southron says:

"As some explanation of the unexpected change in the action of Mr. Douglas, we may state that several months since the Illinois Senator disposed of his estate in Mississippi and having no longer any tangible interest in the 'peculiar institution,' we presume he thought the occasion a good one to conciliate the free-soil fanatics of the North and Northwest."

More than a year ago Mr. Douglas, in a speech in the United States Senate, denied the charge of owning property in slaves, declaring that the only personal connection he had with the institution was as guardian of the children who had inherited the plantation of his deceased wife, who, previously to her marriage with him, was a resident of the South. This seems to dispose of the Southern theory of Mr. Douglas' conduct, for which the reasons are too obvious to need explanation.—N. Y. Post.

THE BOOK TRADE.—At the September trade-sale of the Publishers' Association, made by Messrs. George A. Leavitt & Co., books were sold on four months paper, and one hundred and sixty notes were taken from all parts of United States—some from booksellers as far off as Maine, Texas and Wisconsin—amounting in all to upward of $100,000. Yet, notwithstanding the hard times, Messrs. Leavitt & Co. informs us that at no previous sale since they commenced business have the buyers' notes been paid so promptly and completely. Without a single exception the note of every regularly established bookseller was paid at maturity, and in nearly every case which New York funds These facts redound greatly to the credit of the book-trade. It is doubtful whether any other trade can claim the honor of having met its liabilities so punctually and completely.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14, 1858.

Editors Gazette: The contest for State Treasurer is becoming interesting. There are no less than five candidates. Three of these are from the west—Johns, of Fayette, Workman, of Washington, and Keatley, of Clarion. None of these have, however, the slightest chance. The contest lies wholly between Mott, ex-Canal Commissioner, and Magraw, the present incumbent. Both these are moving heaven and earth to accomplish a nomination. So far Magraw appears to have the inside track. I think I but anticipate the telegraphic dispatch you will receive to-morrow night, when I say that Magraw will be the nominee, upon the first ballot probably, but certainly upon the second. He is clearly the second choice of Johns', Workman's and Keatley's friends. The friends of Magraw express themselves as absolutely certain of his election, and I fully concur with them.

Mr. Scofield, of Warren, introduced into the Senate to-day an important bill relative to arbitrations. It is intended to engraft upon the present system of arbitration a new feature. It gives the Courts power to appoint a man learned in the law, who shall hear and determine the cause submitted to him both upon the law and the facts. His decision upon the facts is to be final, but an appeal lies from his decision upon the law to the Courts. This is certainly a novel feature. The idea is borrowed from the laws of New York. I think it will be found to work well in practice. It will at least procure for litigants a higher quality of men than those who are usually found upon arbitrations.

Since I last wrote you, a bill appropriating $11,000 for the purchase of an executive mansion has passed the Senate and been taken up in the House. The original idea that money should be appropriated to build a house seems likely to be abandoned, and this hermaphrodite plan substituted. The result will be that some house, fit for a family of a half dozen people, but totally unfitted to the social requirements of the position of a chief magistrate will be purchased from some decayed or retired Harrisburger. In a few years it will be given up—sold out at half price and a suitable house will be erected.

I presume the bill will pass the house in nearly its present shape, although it has not yet done so.

The following is a resume of the local western business for the last two days.

Mr. Irwin has introduced a bill to increase the tolls upon the Allegheny & Perrysville Plank Road fifty per cent. beyond the present rates. A similar one was urged here two years ago by James Gibson, Esq., of your county, who is, I believe, a large stockholder, but was defeated through the exertions of the representatives from Beaver, Butler and Lawrence. I thus call attention particularly to it because the people of the northern and western part of Allegheny Co. are deeply interested in a movement of this kind.

Calhoun, of Armstrong, has introduced bills to charter a University at Kittanning, to incorporate the Kittanning Gas Works, and a supplement to the resumption or rather suspension law of the extra session.

Shaw, of Lawrence, read in place a bill to incorporate the New Castle Bank Association.

M'Donald, of Washington, one to enable the citizens of Washington county to cast their votes for all offices upon one ticket.

Ramsdell, of Venango, one to prevent the destruction of fish in the Allegheny river and its tributaries.

The bill of Calhoun, mentioned above, is intended to give to the Washington County Bank, the Pittsburgh Bank and such other institutions as did not suspend specie payments, the right to deal in the notes of non-paying specie banks.

Mr. Foster will introduce upon the first occasion which presents itself, a bill for the repeal of the law of April 1855, relative to inquisitions upon property. There have been numerous frauds upon lien creditors perpetrated under the law by extensions without notice to them of the proceedings. I believe there is one conspicuous case in which the city of Pittsburg is particularly interested.

Mr. Calhoun will introduce to-morrow a bill for the repeal of that provision of the license law which renders it compulsory upon courts to sentence those pronounced guilty of selling liquor on Sunday to prison for at least ten days. He desires it to be left to the discretion of the court to imprison or not. This will draw the teeth of the law if it passes, for imprisonment is the only thing liquor sellers dread. Remove that, and you open up at once the way for the resumption of the old practice of indiscriminate sale upon Sunday.

Startling Political Revelations—Awful Disclosures NOT by Maria Monk.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It has been my purpose to maintain that dignified silence so becoming to traduced greatness, but the revelations by Major David Lynch, published in the Evening Reporter, having been spread before the public eye, longer silence on my part might be construed as a dastardly timidity. The evident tendency of the publication of Major David Lynch's revelations, is to injure my political standing, and interrupt or disturb my social relations with James Buchanan. However disagreeable it may be to myself, personally, to be dragged from the delights of my coveted privacy, I just regret, for that political integrity, evidently assailed by Major David Lynch, demands a public answer I will not stop nor stoop to "dandy words" with the ex-postmaster. Nor will I interrogate him as to his supposed interest in the present management of the Postoffice at Pittsburgh, nor will I even interrogate him as to the "Third" interest in the prospective, should his labors and prayers be "Dunn by "Brown" or the President at Washington. It is enough that there is an unsettled account between Major David Lynch and myself as one of the citizens of the United States, having, it is true, an indivisible, yet certain interest in the returns to the public Treasury; and until that account is settled, he cannot have my consent to imbibe nutriment from the public "Dug." Without further preface touching the fragrant nutcracknuts point for David Lynch to chew—the relative faithfulness and integrity of Dr. Alexander Stevenson and Major David Lynch as sound national Democrats. Preliminary to any remarks of my own, I beg leave to insert the answer of our esteemed and venerated fellow citizen Dr. Jackson, to an inquiry made of him in regard to the political course of Major David Lynch antecedent to and during the memorable campaign of 1848, which resulted in the defeat of the Democratic party.

Very Reverend and Dear Sir:—In answer to your inquiry as to the sound democracy of my friend Major David Lynch, during the canvass of 1848, it gives me pleasure to assert positively, upon the strength of my own personal knowledge, that Major David Lynch gave us aid and comfort in that memorable contest. The active discharge of my professional duties prevented me from being present at all the political meetings of the leaders; but I hesitate not to declare that Major David Lynch, did, quietly, everything within his power to produce the breach in the Democratic party in 1848, for that purpose insisting upon the claims of Mr. Van Buren in preference to those of James Buchanan, and by every means within his limited power fomenting the discord within the ranks of the Democratic party—thereby contributing his mite towards enabling us to accomplish a great and glorious victory under the leadership of the lamented Taylor, whilst we were all affecting to support Mr. Van Buren. There can be no mistake but Major David Lynch deserves the gratitude of all honest opponents of James Buchanan, for aiding in postponing the claims of that gentleman, and in his own peculiar and manly way feeding the flames of discord in the ranks of the Democracy.

This is written in great haste, and I cannot now spare time to do justice to Major David Lynch for all his services during that campaign. At some future time my pen shall record to his merit a record as imperishable as a good man's virtue.

With high consideration,

DR. JACKSON, M. D.

P. S. This is not dated at Washington, as I have not been there, nor do I intend to be there. I neither desire any office or favor from James Buchanan for myself or for any of my friends, although if I was at Washington I might, honestly and in a delicate way, strive to nett a few proceeds, simply as an acknowledgment of my personal influence with James Buchanan and the heads of departments—saying a little in behalf of my friends who would accept places.

It will be observed that my friend, Dr. Jackson, presents Major David Lynch in a perspicuous position. But, before I forget, on my own behalf I may say I am not an applicant for any office, nor for any favor, not even for a new suit of clothes from my old friend James Buchanan. Nevertheless, I will not permit Major David Lynch, by inuendo or insinuation, to damage my standing with the Administration. Although my name, like that of Major David Lynch's, was not mentioned as a candidate for Governor; unlike him, I did not esteem it necessary, for effect abroad, to insert a declination in the "Union."

Contemptible little matters, such as Boiler inspectors, &c., are beneath my attention. It is enough for me that I have never aided the enemies of my old friend James Buchanan, to postpone the consideration of his just claims, never attempted to throw cold water upon popular movements in his favor. In fact, I am like Major David Lynch, and in this we do agree, we prefer warm water for our whiskey, at least.

As I said before, I had purposed remaining quiet in the bosom of my family, unmoved in my serenity, but this last eruption of Major David Lynch, demands this disclosure for the public eye. There are many other matters personal to Major David Lynch, which might be mentioned, such for instance, as the valuable services he endeavored to render in behalf of the American candidate for Sheriff of Allegheny county, in the fall elections of 1855. His sacrifice even of religious scruples in supporting a "Know Nothing," should not be forgotten. It is true that unwillingly he was the cause of many respectectable Americans who could not conveniently bear the odor of his political contiguity, casting their votes for Col. Patterson, the Democratic nominee. But this too is a small matter, and I will close my disclosures by saying that unless an imperious necessity demands it, I will not again emerge from my retirement to reply to stupid newspaper revelations, and I only do so now to set myself right before the people, and especially to create the impression at Washington that I am somebody at home. DR. ALEXANDER STEVENSON.

DR. FITCH would earnestly remind those who may be laboring under incipient or seated diseases of the Throat or Lungs, of the importance of giving themselves timely attention, as it is only when taken in reason the time that these diseases can be treated with any just hope of success, and the delay of a few weeks will not unfrequently render hopelessly fatal, an otherwise cureable case.

DR. FITCH would also add that as he is accustomed to deal frankly with his patients, none need apply who are afraid to learn their true condition, the actual state of their lungs, and their probable chances of recovery.

Consultations personally or by letter free.

THE
SO LONG UNSUCCESSFULLY SOUGHT, FOUND AT LAST!

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY Gray Hair to its original color, covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching and all scurfiness, and glossy; and will preserve it to any imaginable age, removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following:

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation, and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our city, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.
Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen $7 size; and believe us yours very respectfully,
(Signed) DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo., Nov. 19, 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.
Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and the case entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child—We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours, respectfully,
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM.
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Maine, June 22, 1855.
Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind. Yours respectfully,
DANIEL L. MURPHY,
Proprietors, 312 Broadway, N. Y.

New Advertisements.

Dr. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters continue to prove such a certain cure for all disorders of the Stomach that no one can for a moment question its efficiency in the most dreadful and alarming cases. For many years we have watched its steady progress in public estimation, and its beneficient effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach, of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietor has made the above preparation after years of careful study and sitting, and is now reaping the reward claimed by the value of its specific, and the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.
Sold by Druggists everywhere, and by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Sole Proprietors, 267 Penn st. ja16,d&w2

To Capitalists or Manufacturers.

THE undersigned having determined to move west, offers for sale, (or exchange for Western property,) the best Farm in Armstrong county, within five minutes walk of the Kittanning Bridge, and delightfully situated on the river bank, opposite and in view of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Depot, containing about One Hundred Acres, sixty of which contains right feet of good Bituminous Coal, with bank open, and delivering coal daily in river bottom that never overflows, about 80 acres under fence and in the highest state of cultivation, having received over 1000 loads of manure from the town besides what a team can make right trips a day. There is a large Log House 30 by 40 feet, and a Frame Barn 40 by 60 feet, with 100 Peach Trees growing, a well of water at the house and a number of springs of water that will stand expense could be conveyed to the house. This property possesses superior advantages for real house and stock and lumber manufacturing. All persons desirous of realizing a good and profitable investment are requested to view this property before making any other selection. Title indisputable and perfectly easy. Two trains daily from Pittsburgh, making it easy of access. For further particulars address the proprietor.
