PITTSBURGH:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 14, 1858.

KANSAS—THE TABLES TURNED.—Henry Clay Pate, the greatest liar unhung, writes as follows to his organ, the St. Louis Republican:

"Dr. Hamilton, from near Fort Scott, arrived here to-day, bringing dreadful accounts of the troubles in that region. The notorious Captain Montgomery had driven every Pro-slavery and conservative Free-State man out of Lynn and Bourbon counties.

"He first gave notice to all those who were Pro-Slavery, or who voted on the Lecompton Constitution—for or against it—to leave, and if they did not, he proceeded to destroy their property, and otherwise harrass or persecute them. Montgomery and his "army" had succeeded in depopulating the neighborhood of the Marais de Seigne, Mill Creek and Marmiton, and after running the settlers into Missouri, his desperate clan went over the borders to plunder and murder.

"A Mr. Miller, in Bates county, Missouri, had been ordered to leave, or be driven away. A Mrs. Hoodwicke, of the same county, had even her clothes stolen away, and her son, who made some resistance to the ruffians, was shot in the shoulder.

"Captain Hamilton, from Bourbon county, K. T., has arrived here with his stock and negroes, having found it impossible to remain with safety."

If there is a shadow of truth about this, it proves that times have changed in Kansas, and that the Border Ruffians are getting a taste of the poisoned chalice they commended a year or two ago to free Statelips.

A letter to the Richmond (Mo.) Mirror, writes another tale of alarm:

BUTLER, BATES CO., MO., May 3, 1858.

I have an opportunity to send you a few lines—excitement is too high for comment. "Civil War" has commenced in earnest. About ten days ago, the Abolition party attacked the U. S. troops, near Fort Scott, (about thirty miles from this place,) wounding Capt. Anderson and others, and killing one of the troops. Since that time, they have robbed and driven out all the Pro-Slavery men and all who sympathize with them, and all who voted for the Lecompton Constitution. They spare all Black Republicans. There are several hundred of those driven out now in our county; but many are yet in the Territory, and we have fears to their safety.—They have threatened all the border counties of Missouri. They doubtless are now in possession of Fort Scott, as it was there the day for U. S. District Court there, and they swear another shall never be held there.

I have just returned from the Territory. It is supposed they attacked and whipped three companies of troops last evening, on their road to assist the U. S. Marshal. There are 500 of them on the line of this county, 25 miles from this place. They have sent us word they would be in our county to-night.

The Harrisonville (Mo.) Democrat talks in the same strain:

"The unfortunate state of affairs now existing in Lynn and Lykins county, in Kansas Territory, is enough to chill the blood of all civilized men, and cause the patriot heart to tremble for the perpetuity of the Union. During the past week we have seen and conversed with at least fifty persons who have been compelled to fly from their hearthstones to save their lives, at the same time leaving their all—goods and chattels—in the hands and at the mercy of a band of murderous thieves, headed by a fiend who calls himself Montgomery. Wagon after wagon has passed through our town, loaded with innocent women and children, whose woeful countenances at the loss of property and expulsion from home, is sufficient to excite the pity of anything wearing the form of human; yet these devils, Montgomery and his minions, pursued them like jackals; and with seeming delight would destroy their little necessaries of life before their eyes, unheeding the tears and supplications for mercy.

In the southern portion of this county and Bates every vacant house and shed is filled with these unfortunate people—three and four families lie in a single hut—who are in a destitute condition, and for food to sustain life solely rely upon the charity of Missourians, who deeply sympathize with them, and who are only restrained by Federal bayonets from entering the Territory—taking the law in their own hands and executing justice upon these felons by shooting them down like wolves, whenever and wherever one may be found."

When it is remembered that these people who are now driven out of Kansas were only a short time ago and for years past the persecutors of the Free State men, and engaged not only in robbing and murdering them, but in driving their helpless families out, turning and festering some and setting others adrift on rafts in the Missouri, all this indignation at being treated the same way in return is ridiculous. It is evident they do not like the taste they have got and are getting of the lex talionis. It makes all the difference in the world when their ox is gored.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Times, writing from Lawrence, gives the following account of the troubles above narrated, which is probably the true one:

"Nothing decisive has occurred at Fort Scott, since my last, but affairs are all tending towards a general conflict. Immediately after the repulse of the troops under Capt. Anderson, on the Marmiton, they sent to Fort Leavenworth, (through the Governor,) for reinforcements, and two companies of artillery reached Fort Scott last Monday. During this time, we have reports that seem very reliable that a general rally is being made in Missouri, for volunteer party to drive every Free-State man out of Bourbon and Lynn Counties. I should first state, however, that every Pro-Slavery man has now left both these counties. They were concerting a plot to attack the Free State men at different points simultaneously, but the fact became known to our men before its consummation, and they rallied under Capt. Montgomery, and cleared out the last Pro-Slavery man in that region. They took refuge at the Fort, generally, while others went into Missouri for a force to enable them to seek revenge upon their victors, and such an army, we have good reason to believe, is now being raised in Southwestern Missouri. A few days since, the rumor came to Capt. Montgomery that 300 Missourians were approaching the State line, when he at once rallied his company, together with Capt. Bain's, making in all less than 100 men: but feeling fully able to withstand the superior number of their enemy, they marched rapidly to the line, and waited all day for the army of 300, but none came. It is the opinion of those best informed, that a collision must come, and that it will be the bloodiest battle yet fought in Kansas.

Gov. Denver has been repeatedly appealed to to interfere and prevent bloodshed, but he sees no practical way to avoid the conflict except to have Clark, Brockett, and other noted murderers leave the Territory forever. He says there can be no peace while they live in Kansas, but Clarke is employed by Buchanan in the Land Office, at Fort Scott, and while this is so, Denver can never do less than furnish him troops when called upon to preserve the land office, alias Clarke's head. He is the worst man now in Kansas, and is the originator of all this imbroglio.

There is probably a purpose in this Southern tempest. It is well known that a project is moving to open by treaty the land belonging to the Osage and Cherokee Indians, and by constituting them citizens thus open up a Territory south of Kansas, for the benefit of the peculiar institution. Atchison is now in the Indian Territory, and many other Southerners have recently visited it, and a prejudice already exists among the Indians against any Kansas man. This prejudice has been begotten by Atchison and others, and this turmoil in Bourbon and Lynn counties, it is believed, is intended mainly to intimidate emigration that has been naturally tending southward the past year, and divert the attention of our politicians, while Atchison and others accomplish their purposes in the Cherokee country. This is probably the correct solution of the whole matter. As heretofore, the blood of our countrymen is not the forfeit of our own misdeeds, but the price, or wager, for which southern political gamblers seek to procure the extension of slavery."

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—We learn that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, in the United States of America, (New School,) will meet at Chicago on Thursday (tomorrow) in the Second Presbyterian Church of that city. Rev. Samuel W. Fisher, D. D., Moderator of the last General Assembly, will preach the opening sermon. Commissioners to this Assembly will be passed over the Penna. Central Railroad, and over the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad at half price, i. e., they will pay full fare out and be brought back free of charge.

May 16, 1858.—Last evening, the Association of Washington had their meeting at their headquarters in Allegheny, and made an elaborate report of an hour in length, which proves to be of great interest.

DOCUMENTS FOR PENNSYLVANIA.—We learn from the Washington Republic that the Democratic Keystone Club, made up of office-holders in that city, has voted to furnish one million of documents for the campaign in Pennsylvania. This should stimulate the Republicans of Pennsylvania to take steps to counteract this movement. The City, composed of citizens of that place, offer to Republican National Committee at Washington do the work necessary in forwarding documents if the Republicans will but pay the necessary expenses. They say:

"In order to carry out our proposed plan of a free circulation of suitable documents among our oppressed Congressional districts, funds must be placed at our disposal for that object. The Administration Party are already at work, with a chest of funds. Each State has its separate organization in this city, composed of Government clerks, whose name is legion, and upon whose salaries a regular percentage is levied by the chiefs of bureaus, to meet the expenses.

The Republican Party has no such machinery to put into operation, nor do we think it just and proper that such degrading means should be resorted to in order to raise funds for party purposes. Whatever funds may be used by it for party purposes is the free-will offering of a free people in the free States. And to such we now present our case, and appeal for funds, to enable us to carry on the work we have undertaken and in which they have a common interest.

We hope every Republican or opponent of the present Administration, whose eye this appeal may meet, will consider it personally addressed to him, and will forward, without delay, what ever sum he may be disposed to contribute, and urge upon his friends to do likewise.

The cause of Freedom demands prompt and efficient action on the part of all her votaries.

We need for immediate use $5,000. Shall we have it?

Contributions may be sent direct to our Secretary, (L. Clephane,) or during the session of Congress to any of the Republican members.

We would invite attention to the advertisement of the P. & C. R. R. Co., which appears in our columns, proposing to let the contract that important division of their road between this city and Turtle Creek. The distance is less than eleven miles, along the margin of the Monongahela river, and the route traversing, as it does, that densely populated and business suburban district, cannot fail, we think, to command remunerative receipts both from passenger and freight. It is estimated that the entire work of the Division, necessary to put the road in running order, can be accomplished at a cost not exceeding $200,000, including the cost of right of way, station and depot buildings. The annual interest upon the sum would be considerably less than it now costs that company to reach the city from Turtle Creek, under its contract with the Penna. R. R. Co., whilst all the advantages of the superiority of grade in their own route, of entering the city at a more eligible point and without any interference with its streets, or private property of citizens, to say nothing of the certain and large increase of revenue which the heavy local business of this Division would yield, will be at once secured by the contractor of the proposed work.

The Bonds proposed to be issued by the Company are worthy the attention of capitalists, as they are specially secured by a first mortgage on the new section of the road, and of the revenue arising from its operation.

GALPHISM INCORPORATED WITH DEMOCRACY.—We showed, some time since, that the Administration, in allowing worthless claims and in its general method of conducting sales and purchases on behalf of the government, was outdoing Galphinism, against which the Democracy made such an outcry in Taylor's time. We are not surprised, therefore, to hear that the Democrats have now taken the Galphin load upon their shoulders, and that the scandalous payment of the Galphin claim is the complaint of democratically orthodox. We extract from the Senate proceedings of Thursday last the following:

"Mr. Toombs forthwith went over the history of the Galphin case, saying that he supposed, from that high-minded man in the House supported it, and that the owners of it were the SLANDERERS and COWARDS.

"Mr Hammond, of S. C., Dem., said that he was acquainted with the circumstances of the Galphin case, and they were as Mr. Toombs had stated them.

That's clear. An administration of extraordinary, that was carried on by swindling and is carried on by swindling, ought to be not only the Galphin, but every other swindle that was ever practised on the government. Buchanan himself is such an enormous swindle that all other swindles must naturally revolve around him like planets round the sun.

EVERETT AND YANCEY.—Mr. Yancey, of South Carolina, stated in a recent letter that Edward Everett signed the letter to Senator Slidell, denouncing the Brooks outrage, under a misapprehension, and that he afterwards expressed his regret at signing it, both to Mr. Sumner and others. Mr Everett confirms this statement, in a letter to the National Intelligencer, and proves his chief of the race of fawning sycophants which has ever been the curse of the North.

FRANCE, ENGLAND AND AMERICA.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser, under date of April 22, writes to that paper as follows:

"As already said, the acquittal of Bernard will not bring about any change in the official attitude of the French Government toward that of England; the Emperor knows the country well enough not to confound its Government with the feeling that hung around the Old Bailey during the trial. But more circumspection will be used, while they wait to see what England will do. Two vessels that were about to start for a cruise on the Irish coast receive instructions at the last moment, before sailing to avoid showing themselves to the Irish people, in order not to create unnecessary alarm or irritation. The whole French army on the other hand is in a state of ebullition, and needs only to be let loose to attempt the long-talked of chastisement of England.

"I have heard it repeated over and over again this week, that with this event commences that interesting period in the history of the world where the English Channel forms the line between despotism and liberty; where the charge of defending liberty and free principles is thrown upon England and the United States, where, in line, that long-talked-of union between the two great representatives of the Anglo-Saxon race is forced upon them by a common cause of which they are the natural defenders. It is continental despotism arrayed against free England and America. The attempt of France to violate on English soil a principle which the English hold so dear is the first stone in the edifice which is to make the new division between the great nations. And when the moment comes that England will be compelled to defend herself on this principle, who doubts that America will be at her side to form her left wing in the defence of liberty?"

The United States Post office directory of the present year contains many oddities in the way of names of Post-offices. We copy a few of the most whimsical: Bad Track, Ball Ground, Ball Play, Raisin Knob, Blue Black, Bull's Red, Benevolence, Broken Road, Coffin Grove, Convenience, Cowskin, Cut-off, Good Intent, Happy Home, Horse Shoe, Long Tom, Lucky Hit, Marrowbone, Pigeon Mouth, Wolf Mouth, Intervention, Number One, Old History, Onion Grove, Oyster, Romance, Sabbath Rest, Sorrel Horse, Three Tuns, Vesta, Wild Cat, and Dead Man's Hollow.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Why are not these plain homely names better after all, than the eternal repetition of "Rome" or "Verona," and "Berlin" and "Athens," or "Brutus," "Cassius" and "Pompey," and other "distinguished foreigners." They are at least original and American. Call as well make them handsome. The old English names, which time and history have rendered classic, had just such an humble origin. Look for instance at Oxen Ford, Ram's Gate, Cocker Mouth, Cheese Shire, Break Neck, Cam Bridge, Eye Mouth, Graves End, Hunger Ford, Pucker Ridge, South Sax, Dun Stable, But Land, Bed Ford, New Market, Liver pool, Middle Sax, Spit Head, Man's Field, Hunting Down, North Folk, and Bishop's Walled Town suitered now by usage into Oxford, Ramsgate, Cockermouth, Chesbire, Brecknock, Cambridge, Lymouth, Gravesend, Hungerford, Puckerridge, Sussex, Dunstable, Rutland, Bedford, Newmarket, Liverpool, Middlesex, Spithead, Mansfield, Huntingdon, Norfolk and Bishops Waltham.—Albany Journal

THE ENGLISH SCHEME AT THE SOUTH.—A Correspondent of the New York Times, who is in attendance on the Southern Commercial Convention at Montgomery, Alabama, writes:

"The prevailing sentiment here in regard to the settlement of the Kansas difficulty in Congress, is that of decided opposition, the people preferring that it be adhered to as the test question of dimnion, while the more conservative among them—and they constitute but a fraction of the whole—would have preferred a surrender of the question with the Crittenden amendment, the best means to obviate a revival of future action upon the subject."

SENATOR DOUGLAS TAKES A THROUGH TICKET.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post, alluding to the attempts made by those who would like to have it so, to create a public opinion that Senator Douglas and James Buchanan are making overtures to each other with the desire of uniting the Lecompton and anti-Lecompton forces is authorized by the highest authority on that subject to pronounce all such reports to be without the slightest foundation in truth whatever. Mr. Douglas assumed distinct position with his eyes open, and does not regret having done so. He has no overtures to make to Mr. Buchanan, and the only one that Mr. Buchanan can make to him, that will be acceptable, will be to adopt the anti-Lecompton policy and administer the government upon the principle of fair play and popular liberty; to call off the Lecompton hounds he has set upon the people of Kansas, and leave the latter free to govern themselves in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States. Mr. Douglas illustrated his position in an expression he made when he was in the thickest of the Lecompton fight. Being asked one day if he had counted the cost and knew the journey he was taking, "Yes," he replied, "and I have taken a through ticket and checked all my baggage."

Nervous And Rheumatic Affections.—HOLLAND BITTERS.—We have used this medicine ourselves, and in many cases with the greatest success. The most celebrated of our German Physicians are recommending it. During this changeable weather, while most persons are troubled with nervous and rheumatic affections, it will be found a valuable remedy.—Saxony Zeitung.

CAUTION.—Be careful to ask for Boerhave's Holland Bitters. The great popularity of this medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATION—For diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsy.

READ! READ! READ!—"Be afflicted read," the following certificate of a cure of over 20 years' standing:

H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with an affliction of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried Physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine Preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine, I am truly yours, M. McCORMICK.

Lewistown, Pa., Jan 28, 1857.
