Opening the Campaign.

So far, the political elements in this county have been in a state of repose quite unexampled. One or two of the locofoco candidates have been circulating among the people, and deluding themselves with the idea of their possible election; but otherwise there has not been a ripple on the political surface.

This deadly quiet and apathy is the very thing the Republican party in Allegheny county has the most reason to fear. The policy of the Democratic party throughout the State is to encourage this feeling by doing nothing to disturb it. The word has been passed all along the lines to lie low, keep mum, hold no meetings, and do nothing to rouse the opposition to action; but at the same time to organize quietly, and bring out the full Democratic vote on election day. In this way they hope to catch the opposition napping and steal a march upon them. They have no hope of beating us in a fair, stand-up fight; but by pursuing a skulking, sneaking course they expect to lull us into a false security and take advantage of it to our defeat. For this purpose, large sums of money have been raised in Washington and sent into the State; the chief men of the party are passing, unannounced from county to county, to give the word to the local managers; and the party machinery has everywhere been profusely oiled, to make it work smoothly and without noise enough to disturb the opposition. Messrs. WRIGHT and ROWE, the locofoco candidates for Auditor and Surveyor General, Mr. MAGRAW, Buchanan's right hand man, and other prominent Democrats, are now busily engaged in quietly visiting the different counties in the State, arranging this programme, and a gentleman just from Washington, who is familiar with the ropes, assures us the administration confidently calculates upon winning by this game. If it can carry Pennsylvania in this way it will be cited as an evidence of the popularity of Buchanan, and will be used as an argument for his re-nomination.

The strong opposition counties, such as Allegheny and Lancaster, are to be most industriously let alone. The party is to do nothing, openly, in these counties, which looks like action; and as there are no prominent offices to fill in either, the calculation is that the opposition leaders will be satisfied with one or two thousand majority, enough to elect the county nominees, and let the State ticket go by default.

Against such a scheme as this it is the duty of the Republican party of Allegheny county to exercise the utmost vigilance. We can give five thousand majority for the State ticket, if we will; and shall we not will to do it? A majority of one thousand, of course, will do just as well as five, for the county ticket; but the State ticket will need all the help we can give it, and we will be faithless to our duty if we suffer it to fail through our negligence. Last year we gave the State ticket a majority of 4300; but that majority was obtained by effort; and a like effort will be necessary to secure it now.

We caution our friends, therefore, to beware of the false security into which the enemy is seeking to lead them. Do not be deceived by their apparent but delusive apathy. They are as active as they can be, but their effort is to hide the signs of that activity from you. It will require you to be up and at work if you expect to win by the old majority.

The contest of 1859 is the preliminary battle of the Presidential struggle. If we carry the State this year it secures it to us without much effort in 1860; if we lose it, now, we cannot regain it next year without herculean efforts. Our readers will thus see, at a glance, how much depends on this preliminary fight. Let them bestir themselves accordingly.

The Republican County committee, at its meeting yesterday, resolved to open the campaign with a meeting at McKeesport, on the 12th of September. We trust it will be a rouser, and that the men in the country will follow it up with meetings in their respective districts. The chairman of the committee is ready and anxious to make the appointment of speakers, and furnish all possible facts to the Republicans of the county. Let the Republicans bestir themselves at once, appoint meetings, notify the people by handbills, and work like a full party.

THE NOBLE PEOPLE OF ITALY.—The slanders of a thousand years heaped upon the people of Italy, have been refuted by the conduct of these people during the stirring events of this year. In spite of the long reign of Priestcraft, and Kingcraft, the people are still able of governing themselves—they still display the choicest qualities of manhood—the noblest traits of patriotism. The yeandon Times pays them this tribute, which is one of the finest testimonials ever penned of the inherent excellence of the people and the rights of man to self government:

"The condition which the Austrian and the Priest party throughout Italy and throughout Europe have always declared to be the conditions of anarchy have come to be the actual conditions of Italy. The will of the Italian people has now for a considerable period been the only source of action. They have feared no foreign force; they have been stronger than any domestic oppression. Everywhere throughout the Peninsula the instruments of tyranny have been broken in the hands of tyrants. The Pope's mercenaries were permitted even to sack cities and to butcher the innocent inhabitants, and they were not destroyed, but they will be restrained from repeating the same offence. The Swiss troops of the King of Naples were destroyed, not by the people, but by the Prince who hired them. The Grand Dukes of the Italian Duchies went forth in peace with all who chose to follow them. There is no force, except the French, throughout the Italian Peninsula which could control or interrupt a great popular insurrection. If the Italians were what Italians have been thought to be, all the cities of that fair country ought at this moment to be echoing revolutionary cries and flowing with blood. The papal authorities, the Austrian partisans, and all the priests ought, if what we have been so sedulously told were true, to be at this moment under the sentence of revolutionary tribunals. There was much to remember. Bitter oppression had left a ranking wound in many a heart, and it would not have fairly caused surprise if some excesses had marked this new period of exemption from the threat or presence of an armed force. The fair ground of surprise, however, is in that which has really happened. Mazzini's name has never been heard throughout the whole of this contest. When the hope of a reasonable freedom dawned, all the grotesque goblins of the darkness seem to have fitted away. We have heard nothing of the Red Republicans, with their secret conclaves and their secret plans. No Republic, "one and indivisible," has started into a spasmodic existence. Every proceeding has been reasonable, as orderly, and as little influenced by extravagance and enthusiasm as if it had been directed by an English church-warden, and modeled upon the proceedings of an English parish vestry. Private property and personal security were never better guarded than at the present moment, when all Central Italy is relieved from the presence of those foreign armies which have been so long maintained there under the pretext of preserving "order," preventing "anarchy," and repressing the mischievous instincts of the people. The people have been disappointed by the terms of the peace, and they are now alarmed lest they shall have to fight a hopeless fight against invaders whom they had hoped to welcome as deliverers. But they have not committed a single act of violence. So far as they have yet gone, they have shown a marvellous aptitude for managing their own affairs, and a wonderful power of abstaining from those crimes of revenge to which the Italian rage has always been supposed particularly prone. Their conduct has been exemplary even beyond the power of calumny to question it, for doubt not that if there had been one questionable act, one instance of severity capable of a double version, we should have heard of it."

THE RELIGIOUS REVIVAL IN IRELAND—Its Extent and Origin.—The Belfast correspondent of the New York Chronicle, of this week, gives the following interesting paragraphs as to the rise and progress of the present religious movement in Ireland:

"As I see some statements in relation to the great religious excitement in Ireland, which are not very accurate, I will devote the whole of this letter to that subject, and will lay before your readers as accurate a view of it as I can gather from the published documents within my reach. I do this the more readily as it is, by the confession of all, the most wonderful religious movement in the Church's history in modern times. There has been nothing like it in the past. It is changing the social, the mental and moral aspects of society where it prevails, and onward the tide of holy influence is rolling with increasing power.

This work at present, then, is confined to the North of Ireland. It extends over five counties in that part of the island. Belfast, Coleraine and Londonderry are its centre of its influence, though not of its origin, but the smaller towns and villages for miles around are under its power. There is nothing impassioned, excitable or superstitious in the character of the people. Unlike the Celts of the South and West, who are full of these elements, they are the descendants of the men of the "English pale," and exhibit many of the features of the Saxon character. It is the stronghold of Protestant influence, and Presbyterianism is the prevalent ecclesiastical element among the dissidents from the Church. The latter has great weight, the churches of the body are numerous, the ministers men of mental power and rich and varied culture. Nothing can be further from enthusiasm than the ministry of these men. I only need mention the names of Dr. Cook, Prof Edgar, Gibson, M'Cosh and others, who have uttered their solemn convictions that the work is of God, and [illegible] now their whole soul to its guidance [illegible] vancement.

The origin of this movement is of singular interest. The same agency, in the main, as marked, more or less, the commencement of your great work, has been employed here. Prayer in both cases was the spring from which the streams of blessedness flow. Nothing in the state of the Church to warrant the expectation. Everything was going on as usual. The same usual round of formal services. Ministers met their people and preached. A few attended prayer-meetings; congregations in many places small, and a cold, dead formality reigned more or less in all sects. No special means were employed to disturb this spiritual repose—no particular wakening up of minister and people marked it—God would work in his own way, showing us that by the feeblest agency he could accomplish the most marvelous moral effects, and that he could dignify faith and prayer. As far as I can gather from the printed accounts which are before me, the origin was as follows:

In one case, a pious lady is on a visit to the North. She becomes deeply interested in the spiritual condition of a poor old man. She visits, reads and prays with him. Again and again she does this. The dark mind at last opens to the light, and the hard heart is touched by the Saviour's love. He is converted. Within his own cottage deep anxiety springs for the conversion of his neighbor. He cannot repress it. He tells the same truth she is brought, and rejoices in Christ. They tell others. They invite their friends to pray with them and The revival in that locality, further part, four young [illegible] ndition, Fourth the Sun- soon fixed their [illegible] ness and im- [illegible] Month [illegible] ched for De- [illegible] [illegible] told [illegible] was done by authority, we infer from the fact that Attorney-General Black was in Harrisburg at the time. The Southern elections are over and the supporters of the administration consequently breathe freer. The plan at present is to fool the North. Can they do it?

THE CROPS IN CANADA.—The Toronto Globe summarizes a long list of returns from various parts of Canada, as follow:

It will be seen that in the tier of counties on Lake Erie, the frosts did a great deal of damage to the fall wheat, and have affected the yield. It is possible that the damage may be a little exaggerated in the reports, but that it was serious cannot be doubted. The spring crops in these counties are good, however, and altogether the present season has been much more favorable than the last. In the middle tier of counties, the frost did less damage, and there was a larger proportion of spring wheat grown than farther south—the result is an abundant yield. Going north, the reports continue to improve. The returns do not extend further east than Halton, but we have every reason to believe that the crops in this neighborhood, and as far down as Montreal, are quite as large as in the west. The only drawback of much consequence in grain, is the damage done by the fly in the lake townships.

THE KING OF PRUSSIA.—As her relations with Austria and Germany grow daily more and more complicated, Prussia begins to find it important to put the supreme authority of the State upon some basis more durable and solid than a Regency. Almost the whole royal family of Prussia, or at least the brothers and sisters of King Frederic William IV., are now assembled at Ems to consult upon the disposal of the crown. The Empress Dowager of Russia, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenberg, the Princess Frederic of the Netherlands, the Prince Regent, and the Prince Charles of Prussia, make up the family party. The King's physicians declare that though his Majesty looks stouter and better than before his journey to Italy, his malady has made terrible progress. Paralysis of several limbs is constantly looked for, and the celebrated oculist, Dr. Graefe, has announced that there is reason to fear that the King will shortly become quite blind. It is a question, therefore, of immediate significance in the aspect of European affairs, whether the Sovereignty of Prussia shall pass at once into the keeping of the Prince Regent, or be transferred from him to his son Frederic William, the son-in-law of Victoria.

FIRE.—On the 17th inst., the steam tannery of John Hamlet & Sons, about three miles south of South Blairsville, on the Pennsylvania R. R., was destroyed by fire. The fire originated from the friction of the bark mill, which was in operation during the day. When discovered the destruction had made such headway as to render vain all the exertions that were made to save the building and contents. The entire loss is about ten thousand dollars, there being no insurance on the property.—Ind. Rep.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—The fact is now too well established for any one to attempt to controvert it, that most of the diseases which often prove fatal in sunny weather, are produced by excessive use of fruits and vegetables, by which the stomach is disordered, the liver deranged, the blood stagnated and digestive organs, rendered inactive if not torpid. Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Bilious and Cramp Colic, Dysentery, Diarrhœa and such like complaints generally originate and thrive upon improper food and often times become so deep seated and fixed upon the constitution, that the strongest and most active mineral medicines are unable to arrest their progress until the patient is prostrate, and all hopes of relief are ended. Who is it that has not seen a fine, healthy infant or adult, seized with one of the annoying diseases above spoken of, and despite the skill and science of medical gentlemen literally waste away under their treatment? And how is this treatment to be accounted for? Simply by the fact, that instead of administering some remedy to stay the failing strength of the afflicted, and at the same time check the disease in its progress, the remedy prescribed sided in the exhaustion of the natural strength, and at the time the disease was mastered the sufferer was prostrate, and failing to excite a reaction the patient died from the effect of the poison administered to compass the disease. Not so with BERRIAN'S HOLLAND BITTERS, which accompanied entirely of vegetable matter, and which have not only proved themselves the best tonic in use, but have never failed to correct disorders of the stomach and bowels when taken according to directions. In the cure of Summer Complaints they have no equal. Try them at once.

READ CAREFULLY:—The Genuine highly Concentrated Boerhave's Holland Bitters is put up in half pint bottles only, and retailed at $1 per bottle. The great demand for this truly Celebrated Medicine has indeed many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Beware of impositions! See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy.

OLD and YOUNG

AFFIRM ITS TRUTH,

VIZ.: THAT

Professor Wood's Hair Restorative

WILL PRESERVE, INFALLIBLY, THE growth and color of the hair, if used two or three times a week, to any imaginable age. Perfectly restores the gray; cover the bald with nature's own ornament, the hair; make it more soft and beautiful than any oil, and preserve the scalp free from all disease, to the greatest age. Statesmen, Judges, Attorneys, Doctors, Clergymen, Professional Men and Gentlemen and Ladies, of all classes, all over the world, bear testimony that we do not say too much in its favor. Read the following, and judge:—

PROFESSOR S. THALBERG, PIANIST, says, on his arrival in the United State she was rapidly becoming gray, but on applying Wood's Hair Restorative his hair soon recovered its original hue.

CHARLES CARDER, 15 Nassau Street, N. Y., says the gray hairs on his wife's head were, after a few week's trial, turned into a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair.

A. O. RAYMOND, Bath, Maine, says he is now sixty years old, and his hair and whiskers were two-thirds gray, but by the use of two bottles of Restorative his gray hairs have disappeared, leaving them for twenty-five years previous. His wife, at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

FINLEY JOHNSON, Esq., of New Orleans, says that he lost his hair by the Yellow Fever, in 1854. He used Wood's Hair Restorative, and his hair is now thick and glossy.

S. M. MIDDLETON, Livingston, Alabama, says the Restorative has done much good in his part of the country. He used it for baldness, and now has a fine head of hair.

T. L. MORSE, Lebanon, Kentucky, says he has seen Wood's Hair Restorative in hundreds of cases, and never know it to fail in accomplishing all it professes to do.

A. J. ALDEN, McLeansboro', Illinois, says he had the scald head eight years, and was bald, but by the liberal use of Wood's Hair Restorative, he now has a thick, glossy head of hair.

TO CAPITALISTS.

Valuable Iron Works in Missouri FOR SALE.

THE PROPERTY KNOWN AS "THE MARAMEC" or "MASSEY'S IRON WORKS," situated in Phelps county, in the State of Missouri, being five miles from Janesboro Station on the Southwest branch of the Pacific Railroad, 104 miles from the city of St. Louis—belonging to the estate of Thomas Jaboe, deceased, is offered at private sale, for the purpose of settling said estate.

This property consists of some two thousand acres of land, abounding in inexhaustible banks of the best class of Specular Ore, was located by experienced parties at an early day, and possesses superior advantages of soil and timber.

For the Manufacture of Iron it is unsurpassed. The Blast Furnace is only one third of a mile distant from the Furnace, and can be mined and hauled at a cost not exceeding sixty cents per ton, which yields sixty six per cent of metal in the furnace.

The Works, embracing the Furnaces, Forges, Flouring Mills, &c., are driven by a magnificent never failing Spring—the principal head and chief source of the Maramec River—which supplies, upon a twelve foot fall, ample power at all seasons of the year; is neither affected by drought, freezing or high water, and is unsurpassed for beauty and in the convenience and economy with which the power is permanently secured. The works are now and have been for several years in successful operation, the furnace making from one to two tons of No. 1 Cold Blast Pig Iron every twenty four hours.

The Furnace Stack and Blowing Cylinders, &c., are new and of the most approved plan and construction. The buildings are complete in every particular, and of sufficient capacity for all purposes.

Parties wishing to purchase are invited to apply in person or by letter, to WILLIAM or ANVIL JAMES, at Maramec Iron Works, Missouri, or to Col. WM. K. BOND, at Cincinnati, Ohio, and every facility will be offered for a personal examination of the property, or a more specific description sent by mail, if desired.

TESTIMONIAL.

BOSTON, July 19th, 1857.

Messrs. J. BURNETT & Co.—I cannot refuse to state the salutary effect in my own aggravated case, of your excellent Hair Oil.—(Cocaine.)

For many months my hair had been falling off, until I was fearful of losing it entirely. The skin upon my head became gradually more and more inflamed, so that I could not touch it without pain. This irritated condition I attributed to the use of various advertised hair washes, which I have since been told contain camphorene spirit.

By the advice of my physician, to whom you had shown your process of purifying the Oil, I commenced its use the last week in June. The first application allayed the itching and irritation; in three or four days the redness and tenderness disappeared—the hair ceased to fall, and I have now a thick growth of new hair. I trust that others, similarly afflicted, will be induced to try the same remedy.

Yours, very truly, SUSAN R. POPE.
