REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING

SPEAKERS PRESENT AT EVERY MEETING.
EVERY BODY IS INVITED TO ATTEND.

HENRY D. FOSTER.

The democratic candidate for Governor is a prince among political trimmers. It must have been while laboring under a prescient foreboding of the forthcoming split at Baltimore that the Reading Convention fell upon him as their candidate for Governor at this particular crisis in the affairs of the party. If the leaders of the two factions wanted a man who hadn't the soul to say he belonged to either, so that both might claim him, with the tacit understanding between themselves that he was not to be compelled to show his hand, they showed the skill of true genius in selecting Mr. Foster. He is just the man to play off upon credulous factionists who are prepared, if not anxious, to be deceived.

If, however, the Convention thought they were choosing a representative man—a man of positive characteristics; if it was their intention to make him take a decided stand; if it was their purpose to put him forward as the bold, outspoken man, ready to advance promptly to the front in the hour of doubt or danger, then they were utterly mistaken in their man. He has not a single attribute that fits him for the position of a bold and resolute leader.

Cold, unimpassioned, selfish, irresolute and weak—too cowardly to say yes and afraid to say no, he is fitted only for that position as a candidate which requires but one condition—that of keeping his mouth shut. His whole political life has demonstrated his unfitness to occupy the front rank at such a time as this. He was never bold, manly or resolute in his politics, but ever the shrinking, fearful, doubting do-nothing. A mere negative man, all the popularity he ever possessed was earned by the ability he has always shown in doing nothing to give offence.

We are inclined to believe, however, that the democratic leaders at Reading chose him for his possession of these very characteristics.—They wanted a negative and not a positive man. Forbearing disaffection, if not division, they fixed on him because they thought or hoped they could get through the campaign without asking him to declare himself on the points of difference between the two factions. They knew this was their only chance for success at the October election; and they had sense enough to see that if they failed in October they could not succeed in November.

They have reckoned, however, without their host. There is a determination in the democratic ranks to know just where Mr. Foster stands, and which of the candidates for the Presidency he intends to support. They know he went to Baltimore a warm Douglas man; but that was before the Convention split, and when a probability existed that but one candidate would be chosen. In that event he had shrewdness enough to see that he had no chance of election himself if Douglas were not selected, and hence he was for Douglas as the candidate of the united Democracy; but when the split took place, the whole aspect of things changed. It became necessary for him, then, to conciliate the Breckinridge men; and he accordingly returned home close-mouthed and oracular.

All at once the Breckinridge men became very earnest for his election. However the party might differ, they said, about the Presidency, they were united on the Governor question; and the utmost anxiety has been evinced by them, ever since, to concentrate all the party strength on Mr. Foster. The "compromise" dodge, or union upon one electoral ticket, even, was urged upon the ground that it would promote Foster's success; and there was such a mysterious connection between the two, that Mr. Henry D. Foster happened to be in Philadelphia when the State Committee met, and was understood, by those who were capable of understanding him, as being in favor of the compromise scheme.

All this has naturally provoked the suspicions of the Douglas men; and we accordingly find the Philadelphia Press, kindling a fire to smoke him out. It says:

"A painful rumor in one of yesterday's (Sunday) papers leads us to the impression that Gen. Foster, the Democratic candidate for Governor, counselled or approved the scheme of the office-holders and their friends on the Democratic State Central Committee to unite the Democrats of Pennsylvania on the present electoral ticket, composed of Douglas and Breckinridge men, with the understanding that if these electors could not elect either of these candidates, they might vote for any other candidate for President. We called upon Gen. Foster, some days ago, to state his position on this disputed and delicate question, and up to this time no answer has been returned. The Sunday paper alluded to declares that he favors it. Several of the interior Administration papers make the same declaration, and it is a significant fact that every party journal in the State which refuses to raise the name of the regular Democratic candidate for President, Stephen A. Douglas, flies the flag of Henry D. Foster. He must speak out in this crisis. Boldness now may be fortune hereafter. Defeat today, under the Douglas popular sovereignty flag, would be more profitable for Gen. Foster than defeat under the scandalous proposition of the State Central Committee. A separate Douglas electoral ticket will certainly be formed, and Gen. Foster must choose between such a ticket and the mongrel combination supported by the officials on the State Central Committee and the Disunionists."

These are ominous words for the Westmoreland trimmer. Cannot the Press be induced to spare him? Why urge him to commit himself against his friends? It is very painful to do so. The Press is cruel. Pray let it abate its ardor. A sensitive man, he dislikes exceedingly to wound the feelings of any of his supporters. What has he to do with the Presidency? He is simply a candidate for Governor, running upon State issues, and the Presidency is not an issue in that election. Let him alone.

This is not our fight, however, and we have no right to meddle in it further; but, just for the sake of curiosity, we should really like to know who such a man as FOSTER is for. It would be a rarity in politics to see such a trim balancer take sides openly with any one! Upon second thoughts, therefore, we trust the Press will succeed in smoking him out, and gain an answer to the question, "Who is HENRY D. FOSTER for?"

DOUGLAS STATE CONVENTION.—R. J. Haldeman, Esq., a member of the National Democratic Committee, appointed by the Baltimore (Douglas) Convention, has just issued an address, according to the instructions given that Committee by the said Convention, protesting against the action of the State Committee to unite on the electoral ticket, and calling for a mass and delegate convention to be held at Harrisburg, on Thursday, the 26th of this month, when the various democratic organizations favorable to the election of Mr. Douglas will assemble and form a straight electoral ticket.

The members of the Democratic State Committee resident in Harrisburg have had a meeting, at which the following preamble and resolution were read, and on motion adopted:

WHEREAS, Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson are the regular nominees of the Democratic party for President and Vice President. And whereas, we dissent from the late action of the State Executive Committee, as a departure from the time-honored usages of the party—a sacrifice of principle—and the recognition of a hostile organization. Therefore,

Resolved, That we address a circular to the members of the State Executive Committee, inviting all who agree with us in sentiment, to meet in the Senate Chamber, at Harrisburg, on Thursday, 26th inst., at 3 o'clock p. m.

JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE has been accused in the Alabama Douglas papers of the high crime (constructive treason to Southern institutions) of signing a petition directed to the authorities of Virginia, praying that John Brown should not be hanged. This calumny has been promptly and authoritatively contradicted. We find the following paragraph, which explains the matter, floating in our Southern exchanges:—

"O. Jennings Wise telegraphs to the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser that, upon inquiry at the office of the Secretary of State of Virginia, he learns that Mr. Breckinridge's name is signed to no position there for the pardon of Brown.—The Montgomery Confederation had so charged."

CROPS IN EUROPE.—The London correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser writes as follows by the Vanderbilt:

"We have now had sunshine and warmth for three days, and as there is a change of moon today all people are indulging the hope of its continuance. It has taken place just in time, and there are many practical farmers who now assert that the general harvest not only promises to be abundant, but also early. Yesterday there was a fall in wheat equal to 6 cents per bushel, and to morrow a further decline is expected."

CARL SCHURZ.—It is understood that this eloquent Republican orator will spend several weeks on the stump in Pennsylvania, during the months of September and October. No man in the Union would be listened to with greater pleasure or draw larger crowds to hear him; and we trust measures will be promptly taken to secure his aid in this part of the State.

PAPAL LEAGUE IN ROME AGAINST REFORM.—There is at Rome a government within the ostensible government. Although great mystery envelops the proceedings of this hidden government we are enabled, by advices received from a reliable source, to give the names of the principal members of what must be termed the "Superior Committee."

First in the list is a nobleman who is completely under the domination both of his mother—a La Rochefoucauld and a legitimist, affiliated and most devoted to the Jesuits—and of his wife, a Belgium lady, of the same character as her mother. The wife is now in Paris. The following is the list:

The Duke Salviati.
The Marquis Pastrizi.
The Count Lubinski.
The Marquis Pio Capranica.
The Marquis Serlupi.

The palace Pamfili, in the Piazza Navona, serves as rendezvous for these Conciliabules.

Around this committee are grouped Monsignori de Merode, Bedini, Borromeo and Berardi: this last being the spokesman for Cardinals Wiseman, Villecourt, and De Reisac. The principal organization has been formed in imitation of Mazzini. Committees are appointed in each zone; their duties are to obtain information of the inhabitants, who are divided into three classes—the liberals, the suspected, and the clerical. This is done according to advice obtained from the cures, and from the established as well as secret police.

As the cure of affairs is becoming more and more grave, a president has been appointed for this hidden government at Rome, in the person of Monsignor Laschiavo, a Calabrian, warmly recommended by the King of Naples. A vice-president has also been appointed—Monsignor Sibilia. The secretary is Pasqualoni, an adjunct of the police.

This committee seeks, through the action of the nuncios, the bishops, the legitimists, and the clergy in France, to excite animosity and opposition against the government.

THE OLDEST PREACHER IN NEW ENGLAND—"In the town of Berlin, Vt., adjoining Montpelier," writes a correspondent to the Boston Traveller, "lives the Rev. James Hobart, who is probably the most remarkable preacher in New England. He is now about entering the ninety-fifth year of his age, and the seventieth of his ministry; and still he is vigorous and active, preaching every Sunday when and wherever he can engage himself. Thirty years ago his people, over whom he had been the settled congregational minister since the settlement of the town, in about the year 1790 dismissed him, supposing he would not hold out much longer. Since then, he has been preaching in New Hampshire and Vermont, on yearly, monthly and daily engagements. He is a great pedestrian, making nothing of walking a half dozen miles to preach, and home again the same day.

THE meeting last evening of men who mainly in 1856 supported Millard Fillmore and now support Abraham Lincoln, was large and enthusiastic. Many participated who would have voted for Bell and Everett had they been squarely supported, with a reasonable prospect of success, but who revolt at the idea of being drawn after the car of the head breaker of the Missouri Compromise, and thus thrust into the Democratic ranks. Three-fourths of those in our City who supported Mr. Fillmore in 1856 utterly refuse to vote for Douglas; most of them are already decidedly for Lincoln, and the rest are coming along.—N. Y. Trib.

GARIBALDI SUPPRESSES THE JESUITS.—Garibaldi had published the following decree:

"Considering the Jesuits and the Lazarians have, during the sad period of Bourbon domination, been the most energetic abettors of despotism, in violence of the powers conferred upon me, it is decreed that the corporations of Regulars existing in Sicily, under the different names of Society and Houses of Jesuits, and of the Redemption, are dissolved. The individuals composing them are expelled from the island, and their estates annexed to the dominions of the state."

A SPUNKY WOMAN.—The dwelling house of an old sea captain, in Saybrook, Connecticut, was entered by burglars a few nights since, when no one was in the house but his wife and a couple of infant children. She met them at the door with a revolver in hand, and told them if they advanced one step they were dead men. They looked at her, consulted together a few minutes, and then sneaked away. As Mrs. Toodles would say, "Such a woman is handy to have in the house."

WHAT IT COST THEM.—The total amount of bills rendered for expenses connected with the Japanese reception and stay in New York, was one hundred and twenty five thousand dollars, of which ninety-one thousand were hotel charges. The bills have been reduced to one hundred and nine thousand. Only thirty thousand originally appropriated.

THE NEW CENSUS.—We learn that one or two of the towns in this county, whose census has been completed, show a diminution of population since 1850. Some have estimated our State as high as 700,000, but we think it will fall below Advertiser.

DEATH IN A HARVEST FIELD.—A man named Edward Morgan, residing in Butler township, Butler county, fell dead in the field while harvesting, one day last week. He was not in very good health, but it is believed exposure to the heat was the cause of his death.

CENSUS OF ACTORS.—It is said on the authority of official statistics, that there are at present in Europe, 19,140 actors, 21,600 actresses, 1,733 managers of theatres; and the number of persons attached in one way or another to dramatic establishments amounts to 82,246.

A POST MORTEM examination of the body of Prince Jerome led to the discovery of a ball which had remained in his chest, after a duel which he fought in his youth, with a brother of Marshal Davoust.

OIL IN MAHONING.—The Register states the Messrs. Strawbridges have been successful in their search for oil on the Mahoning, below Lowellville, having procured a good vein at 130 feet. The oil is pure.—Cleve. Leader.

The Crops.

The Wheat Crop in Chester county.—The farmers of Chester county, with hire and cheryes an exception, have finished their wheat harvest. From all quarters of the county we hear the most flattering accounts. We have heard of neither fly, rust, mildew, blight, or weevil. On the contrary, the heads are well filled, and the straw is smooth and clean. The crop is an abundant one—and there need be no famine in our land. Twenty to twenty-five bushels per acre, perhaps would be a fair average yield for the wheat fields of Chester county. In conversing with a great number of our farmers no one has estimated his yield the present year below this standard, while many have gone to thirty and thirty-five in their estimates.—Westchester Record.

The Crops.—A passenger lately from the east informs us that the road from this city to Terre Haute runs through the finest fields of corn ever seen in Illinois. The corn is high and strong—looking superbly. The wheat is also looking well in Northern Indiana, and through Ohio the corn is not over four feet high, but growing rapidly, and of excellent quality. Indeed the crops throughout the whole of that region, although at one time seriously endangered by the drouth, have come up in remarkably fine order, and promise the most abundant harvest that has been had for years. We rejoice to record it.—St. Louis Dem.

Harvest.—The season is upon us, and we see that our farmers are now busily engaged in cutting and putting up their crops of wheat and rye. Some time ago it was feared that the weevil would injure the wheat crops in this county, but latterly we are informed that the damage done by the insect is very inconsiderable. The crops promise fair, and the wheather is such that it will be safely housed. The crop of rye in this county never was better.—Indiana (Pa.) Amer.

Wheat.—The bulk of the wheat crop in Stark county will be harvested this week. It is mostly excellent in quality and will yield well to the acre. Much of the barley has been cut. The oats promise well, so does corn, potatoes and vegetables. Our farmers have reason to rejoice.—Canton Rep., 13th.

The crops of all kinds, throughout the Wabash, exceed anything of the kind ever before known.

A BOSTON relic has fallen. The old triangular warehouse at the head of North street, which was erected about 1700, has been sold at auction, and is now demolished. The workmen in tearing it down found over one of the doors, upon the inner wall, a horse shoe, which, according to tradition, was nailed there before the Revolution. The shoe is nearly male, but differs somewhat in form from those of the present time.

The front wall of the building will be carefully taken down and in as good condition as possible, and will be removed to East Cambridge, where it will probably be set up in some place where it can be preserved. Some of the timbers, which, without doubt, belonged to the original building, are quite sound; others are much decayed.

Catarrh! Catarrh! Catarrh!!!
What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Most people know what its loocvasiencee and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation and often enlargement of follicles and consequent thickening of the mucous membranes, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste.

The old school remedies have never been able to do anything for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they are generally worthless. Yet Hoofland's Catarrh Snuff, a simple Super Fine, taken two or three times per day, promptly cures the milder cases, and cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures, by persevering use, the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

FAYETTE SPRINGS.
THE SUBSCRIBER, having taken a permanent lease of this popular
SUMMER RESORT,
Has had the buildings thoroughly refitted, with important additions, and the whole newly furnished. Being just south of scenes of natural and historic interest, near the National Road, only eighty miles from Pittsburgh and about 8 Connellsville Railroad, on which two daily trains pass each way—it is an easy and attractive transition from the scenes and heat of summer in town and city, to the healthy atmosphere of the
MOUNTAIN RETREAT.
The waters are strongly Chalybeate—a sure and powerful tonic. Warm and Cold Baths are attached. Alley, Bowling Alley and other appliances for healthful exercise and amusement. No spirituous liquors.
Horses and carriages will be furnished for excursions to the interesting localities. A public will be near the Springs, supplied by daily mails during the season.
The large expense of the subscriber in capitalizing the enterprise, and in fitting up the establishment in a style to fully satisfy the wants of the fastidious, entitles him to promise entire satisfaction to all patrons, as well to visiting guests as tenders of Cotton. Address ALFRED MCCLELLAND,

MOTHERS!
READ the following testimony to the success of Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL:
Mount Ida, July 20th, 1859.
DR. EATON—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in certifying to the perfect harmlessness and efficacy of your Infantile Cordial, and cheerfully recommend it to those who have children teething. I have used it in my own family, and have sold over two hundred bottles the past year. All those who have ever used it use it in its praise for all diseases for which it is recommended. Yours, &c.,
E. F. LATHROP.

BLOOD FOOD! BLOOD FOOD!!
DR. EATON—Sir: It may not be valuable, to you, to know that I have used the different Preparations of Blood Food in several cases, and uniformly with success, and that I am convinced they are a nearer approximation to the means of a cure of the different forms of Chronic Disease than any thing I have ever used before, or any other medicine I recommend these Preparations, as I am naturally diffident that they should be most widely tested and adopted.

DR. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, will be in Pittsburgh to examine patients with CONSUMPTION,
LIVER COMPLAINT AND DYSPEPSIA,
ON MONDAY AND TUESDAY,
June 11th and 12th, at the Drug Store of his agent,
DR. GEO. H. KEYSER, No. 140 Wood street.

DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.
PITTSBURGH CERTIFICATES.

I have been sick now for nearly two years with a cough and liver complaint, and the whole of my lower inside was completely raw. I first took it with a fly inflammation of the lungs, and I was attended by one of the best Doctors in Pittsburgh, who told me I had inflammation of the lungs. Schenck, who was examining patients at Dr. Keyser's Drug Store, 140 Wood street. After he examined me carefully he told me that I had liver complaint, which he said was the cause of my lungs. My doctor, before I called on Dr. Schenck, told me that my lungs were not much affected. I was wasted very much in flesh, and my strength left me. My appetite was entirely gone, and I had very little hopes of recovery when I took his medicines and followed his directions, which I did faithfully until I had taken four bottles of "Pulmonic Syrup," two of "Seaweed Tonic," and a half dozen of the Pills, and now I feel better than ever I did in my life, and weigh ten pounds more than ever I did in my life before, and I can now carry as much weight as any man of my height and size anywhere. I am sound and entirely recovered from the disease which then broke down my constitution and threatened my life, and I feel under no delay of gratitude to Dr. Schenck for his treatment. I know, besides, quite a number of my acquaintances, who have been cured by Dr. Schenck's medicines, whom I recommend to take them. I always keep the "Mandrake Pills" in my house. They help her. Her sister was sadly cured by them. Her mother also taken and she expressed much—good, and she took your Mandrake Pills, which have made her a well woman. I am ready to state that I owe my life and present health to Dr. Schenck and his medicines, and I take pleasure in bearing my testimony to their efficacy. Yours, &c., JAMES H. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN.
