Campaign Song—Come and Vote with Me.

Of all the men for President,
In the East or in the West,
We think that Honest Abraham
Is the greatest and the best.
O will you, won't you, won't you
Want to come and vote with me?

Some talk of running Douglas,
Some talk of running Bell;
But we think that Honest Abraham
Will suit us just as well.
O will you, &c.

Some talk of a Indian freemen,
Some want good hard to sell,
But we stand for Honest Abraham,
And guess he Honestest Will.
O will you, &c.

We did find here pleasant home,
Away to the Far West,
Where the land and the Water
Is of the very best.
O will you, &c.

We have tried Abe as a soldier,
We know he will fight;
We have tried him as a statesman,
And know that he is right.
O will you, &c.

We have tried him as a farmer,
We KNOW he is an honest man,
And when he followed splitting rails,
He was not afraid to work.
O will you, &c.

We have tried him as a lawyer,
And know that he is true,
And now we will for President
As Honest Abe, will do.
O will you, &c.

The ninth of last November
Was a day to be marked,
They are as much like Crockett's dog—
They hate to be the strong tree.
O will you, &c.

Now, we wish an honest President
For four successive years,
Come with your hearts and votes,
And give old Abe three cheers.
O will you, &c.—

THE GREAT METROPOLIS.—London now covers one hundred and twenty-one square miles, and is growing increased three-fold since the year 1800, and bricks and mortar still invade and capture the green fields. The population, according to the report of the Registrar General, augments, at the rate of about one thousand per week, half by birth and half by immigration. Notwithstanding the enormous wealth of the metropolis, it is recorded in the report of the Registrar General, as a remarkable fact, that "one in six of those who leave the world die in one of the public institutions—a workhouse, hospital, asylum or prison. Nearly one in eleven of the deaths is in a workhouse." This shows that poverty follows close at the heels of wealth, and fastens on the multitude with relentless grasp. Every sixth person dies a pauper or a criminal! Can this be said of any other city on the globe? And how great a number there must be who barely manage to escape this fate. The severe competition for subsistence and wealth which characterizes London life is a terrible ordeal for any human being to pass through, and thousands fall in the attempt, crushed beneath the golden juggernaut. It is now notorious, says a London paper, that in the large establishments where scores hundreds of assistants are employed, the great majority of them are broken-down tradesmen, crushed by the competition capital. Even these occupations are obtained with difficulty, and the less fortunate gradually sink lower and lower in the scale, till they are driven into the public institutions, where they meet an untimely death. The list is further swelled by that numerous class, who, born in a respectable sphere and well-educated, sink into degradation from the sheer love of display and the vanity of living beyond their means. It is on record that out of eight thousand convicts who have passed their probation in Pentonville, one thousand fell through this wretched vice, and it is stated that most of the number were originally respectable in more than an ordinary degree." These statements teach us that the greatness of London has been purchased at a fearful cost in human poverty, misery and crime, the result of its eager pursuit of wealth:—[Boston Jour.

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK says:

"The majority of Hair Washes, Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show windows, papers and newspaper headings, as hair preparations, are just jugglery of the first water, their real merit, when they possess any, is, that they do no harm. HOG'S LARD, WILLOW OIL, LARD OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the comliest character of tonics; and when these beauty, are baptized with some trip-hade Latin, and brought out by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. This genuine comes before the world without any "high sounding" Hippokrotonic, or any other astounding and startling catchpenny terms, he simply advertises a Hair Restorative—what it expresses, precisely—and it is. Reason for it said. Say Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and you make your scalp, are your very brains, apply nothing else, for it may be that you will get some worse substitute fraud purchased had oil on your cranium. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process,
Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color,
Will make Hair Grow on Bald Heads,
Will restore the Natural Secretions,
Will removal once all Itching,
Will remove all Dandruff,
Will cure all eruptions—even Scald Head,
Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy,
Will make the old appear young again,
Will preserve the Color of Hair to old age,
Will always Fasten it and stop its Falling.
