DR. W. W. KARSHNER'S ELECTRIC BATHS

PATENTED JAN 23 1859

THE above cut is a representation of DR. KARSHNER'S POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE ELECTRO-THERAPEUTIC BATHS, for which he has obtained letters patent from the Patent Office of the United States. These Baths have been in successful operation for the last two years, in many of our principal towns and cities, during which time hundreds of patients have tested their astonishing powers with signal success. Dr. K. challenges the entire medical world to produce any one system or combined set of systems, that will cure as many diseases, and in so short a time, as his Electric Baths shown, when rightly administered. The scientific minds of all professions are cordially invited to call, examine and test for themselves.

The duration of each Bath, the temperature of the water, and the strength of the electric current, are varied according to the disease, the condition of the patient at the time, and the effects desired. The water is about blood heat, and the electricity so graduated as to produce nothing but pleasurable sensation.

There is no class of Diseases, either Acute or Chronic, to which they are not adapted—which do not yield at once to their all pervading and health-restoring influence. The aged and decrepid have been led, voluntarily, to testify that they felt many years younger, and slept better than they had done for years. Others have been cured of painful diseases in a few Baths.

Nor do their healthful effects seem to be confined solely to the physical man; they have an equally happy influence upon the mental faculties, making them a most efficient means in the treatment of Insanity and all abnormal mental conditions.

Among the diseases successfully treated by Dr. K.'s Baths are: Incipient Consumption, Scrofula, Paralysis, Epilepsy, (Fits,) Insanity, Delirium Tremens, St. Vitus' Dance, Curvature of the Spine, Rheumatism, Spermatic Diseases, Weakness in the Back and Joints, Nervousness, Nervous Headache, Asthma, Bronchitis, Cataract, Weak Eyes, Partial Deafness, Dyspepsia, Gravel and all other Urinary and Genital Diseases, Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhea, and other Female Derangements, Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

These Baths are in successful operation at

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY BY

R. ERRETT & CO.,

FIFTH STREET, ABOVE SMITHFIELD.

PITTSBURGH,

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 3.

THE HARVEST IN ENGLAND.—The Mark Lane Express, of 13th, presents a gloomy and discouraging account of the agricultural prospects in England. It says:

The further the season advances, the more do we live against the hope of a harvest. A cold ungenial spring might be followed by a more propitious summer, and vegetation burst out all at once into that bloom and blossom which shall change as with the wave of a wand the whole face of the country. But this year it has not been so, and we now hope almost against hope. The weather has only gone on from bad to worse; and with the corn crop due, the hay is not yet carried. Day by day the prospect only becomes more serious; while the very pleasure seekers put aside their own little personal comforts and enjoyments, to turn to the graver consideration of what the people will do for bread. The least glimpse of sunshine but leads one Will-o-the-Wisp-like, to greater disappointment. The moon's changes bring only the more rain; and the moon plutitude offers no other spectacule than another wet day. * * * *

The bad weather of the last few days has, we are inclined to fear, come only as the climax to all that has anticipated it. In a word, the injury now looks irreparable. Harvest, of course, will be late, while, if we are to believe what we see, it must be an unusually bad one. Nothing could be more deplorable than the scene that everywhere met the eye from our seat in the up train. In place of the rich waving wheat ears standing well up from the stem, and gradually but quickly ripening to their golden hue, what a cold chill blasted the view! There, in place of the ready bountiful crop, was a dank, tangled mass of what might be called coarse, uncared for reedy herbage—laid everywhere so flat, so hopelessly beaten down by the wind and the rain, that if it be true to the ear, it must surely rot or mildew as it lies, never to rise again to welcome the too tardy smile of the long tarrying sun. And still the rain comes mercilessly down, only to fasten yet more closely into the muck of golden earth, while your neighbor bids you mark the hay stack that he knows has been out for three weeks or more, and that can never be worth carting at all, save it be into the dung yard.

The weather, in fact, in its influence on agriculture, is fast tending to the most calamitous consequences. The loss, of course, will be a national one; for such a bad time for farmers will be bad times for everybody. At so trying a period it may be well to take the most encouraging view we can of our prospects, but it is a yet greater duty not to disguise or to attempt to shirk the ills we have to contend with. Every passing shower will tell more heavily against the harvest, come when this may, while one or two more such wet days as we have experienced during the past week will go to make some of the wheat not worth cutting. As it is, there is a deal of hay not yet safely housed, and many farmers have already reckoned up their heavy losses and future outlay in this wise. So far, the sad certainty is but too palpably apparent. There is to the chance of some other districts not being so seriously affected as those we have recently passed through. Indeed, on the borders of Scotland, only a week since, appearances were far better, but we can only repeat that the mischief must be greater the closer we approach the in-gathering time. It is the effects of the past few days we have to look to. But it rains even as we write. The sun has not been seen the whole day through, and while the harvest must be backward, we fear it must also be in every way deficient—bad in the sample and short in the bulk.

THE INTERNATIONAL WAR IN CHINA—Pillage and loss of Life.—By further advices from China we learn that at the taking of Soo-chow by the rebels there was an immense loss of life and property. The Governor and several other officials were killed. The Imperial troops appear to have joined the rebels in acts of pillage. Both the English and Americans had been requested by the Imperial authorities to interfere but declined. From Frazer & Co.'s Shanghae Circular of June 14th we quote the following:

"At the request of the Tsontai, English and French troops have been landed and posted at each gate of the city, for protection against the expected attacks of the rebels. The French offered to send troops into Soo-chow to relake the city from the rebels, but the English objecting, they have declined."

A British officer writing from Shanghae, June 13th, says at the capture of the city of Hangchow by the rebels, no less than 75,000 were put to death. Executions were of almost daily occurrence, either of rebels or deserters from the Imperial army. After the executions the heads are strung up in twenties and so posted up in public places as a warning to others.

The following extract is from the Shanghae circular of Bell, Purdon & Co., dated June 15:

"The city of Soo-chow has been taken and sacked by the disbanded Imperialist soldiers, and it is said to be now in the possession of the rebels. The greatest terror and alarm prevails over the whole country, and the natives are flying in all directions. The commander-in-chief of the Imperial army, Ho-chow, and Sc. Governor of Soo-chow, have committed suicide.—Chang kwo-liang was killed by the rebels at Tantoo. The remaining Imperialist, General Chang-yuh-liang, is said to have gone to Hangchow, and is supposed by some to have gone over to the rebels."

Dispatches have been received at Washington from flag officer Stribling, of the U. S East India squadron, dated Shanghae, June 14, 1860. Since his arrival there to the Hartford, several important cities near had been captured by the rebels, causing great alarm among the Chinese and an entire suspension of business with the interior. Several hundred men had been landed at Shanghae by the English and French forces for the protection of both Chinese and foreigners against any sudden attack. The city of Shanghae and foreign settlements are fully protected by the allied forces, which at the same time, were preparing to make war against the Imperial Government.

MR. LINCOLN'S PROSPECTS IN NEW YORK.—The New York Evening Post having carefully calculated Mr. Lincoln's chances in New York, arrives at the following result: Their opponents have concluded that there are more chances of taking New York from the Republicans, and thus of throwing the election into the House of Representatives, for the money and men that would be required to do it, than for getting the same number of electors from any other quarter. This being now the selling policy of our adversaries, and it being understood that all the proslavery energies of the nation will be directed against this point, it becomes us to inspect our fortifications. With this view we have made an estimate of our strength, going upon the assumption that there is to be but one electoral ticket run against us. It will be seen that it will not do for us to lie down to pleasant dreams.

The counties are then enumerated, and the Republican majority set down at 46,900. The Post concedes 30,000 against the Republicans in New York city, 10,000 in Kings county, and puts many of the Republican majorities much lower than their hopes; but adds:

"It is a small matter to make a change of fifty thousand votes in a State like New York, which will doubtless poll at the coming election not less than 700,000. It is only seven per cent. of the voters; and, when the interests at stake are considered, the Presidency of the United States, the patronage of a hundred millions annually, no one can be so blind as not to see that there is no security in such a narrow majority, with the whole influence of the federal government at work, for near three months, to overcome it. We ought to canvass every county, and be able to put our fingers upon at least 100,000 more Lincoln men than can be brought to the support of any other candidate, before we can consider our preparations for the election at all complete."

NEVER SAW A GOLD DOLLAR!—The Philadelphia Inquirer says that not very long since a liberated convict, from the Eastern Pennsylvania Penitentiary, went to one of the inspectors to ask for aid. The official kindly gave him a gold dollar. The ex-convict took it, and after gazing at it for some time with great curiosity, remarked that when he went to prison he had never heard of the existence of a coin of that denomination.

Many of the prisoners, after their liberation, learn for the first time of important political and social events which have made great excitement in their day, and which have entirely lost their novelty to the world at large.

THE extraordinary weather of the present year seems to be confined to no particular region of the world. The times are everywhere out of joint in one way or another. On the 23d of July a terrific tempest broke over Valentia, in Spain, at noon of a clear day. In two hours' time the river Turia was swollen in a torrent, and overflowed, drowning a number of unfortunate women who were washing clothes on its banks, so brief was the notice given, and so tremendous the body of water which fell. After two hours of wind and rain, the sky suddenly cleared and the temperature fell several degrees, the day continuing clear and cool until night.

PRINCE WILLIAM of Baden, who is in the Austrian service, was expected to visit the bridge at Kehl, and orders were given to receive him with all the honors due his rank. Time passed and still he did not come. At last Major Weyler, who was in command at Kehl, received a telegraphic dispatch as follows: "I leave tomorrow evening, and shall arrive at Kehl day after to-morrow evening, about 4 o'clock. Come to the station to meet me. WILLIAM." Immediately the Major notified the civil and military authorities at Kehl. He gave orders that all the soldiers of the engineers should be ready, in full dress, at the time of the Prince's arrival. In consideration of the time of his coming, the Prince would have to dine at Kehl. The Major organized a little banquet of twenty covers, and as the Kehl cooks are not up to fine times, he went and ordered the dinner from the best restaurateur of Strasburg. The next day all was ready. The civil authorities were at the station adorned with the insignia of their office; the military were drawn up in fine array before the station. The cooks were roasting, and the Strasburg Vatel was giving orders to an army of subordinates. At last the whistle of the locomotive announced the approach of the train. It stopped in the station, and the passengers got out. Where is the Prince? No Prince appears. But a man pushes away the crowd, and throws himself into the arms of the astonished Major. It was his brother, Mr. William Weyler, whom he had not seen for a long time, whom he did not expect, and who had sent him the dispatch that had caused the blunder. At first the civil and military authorities knitted their brows and seemed disposed to be angry at the supposed trick. But the amazed look of the major soon showed that the trick was involuntary, and that he himself was its first victim. Then a smile came over every face. The thing was taken in good part. The banquet was eaten gayly and found delicious. Vatel had surpassed himself. A hogshead of beer was tapped and consoled the soldiers for the trouble they had gone to. The Major's brother is still proud of having been received with such honors.

TEXAS NOT STARVING.—The New Orleans Picayune, of the 19th, publishes the following extract from a private letter from Texas:

"I see by some of the papers that Texas is in a state of starvation. If such is the case, we know nothing of it in Corpus. We have had, since the first of this month, very fine rains, and the grass is already beginning to look finely. Provisions of all kinds are abundant. We pay tolerably high prices, but, considering the distance we are from large cities, I think we get goods cheap enough. We buy Irish potatoes for three cents per pound, beef at five cents, mutton and pork at ten cents, Texas is not starving."

GRASSHOPPERS IMPEDING RAILROAD TRAVEL—The Springfield, (Mass.) Republican says:

Trains over the Rutland and Washington Railroad are considerably impeded in their passage by the myriads of grasshoppers that lodge on the railroad track, and are crushed beneath the giant wheels of the engines. The track is frundered so slippery and greasy by the crushed mass that it is almost impossible for any headway to be made on the up grades.

THE Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican says: "While a couple of ladies were seated in a passenger car, at the depot in this city, on Saturday, a couple of nuns entered and without any formal ceremony transacted their business of robbing them of their money and jewelry, and making good their escape. One of the ladies fainted, the other screamed, the villains fled, a crowd rushed in, and all was over."

THE latest intelligence from the "Pope's Own," or the Irish Brigade in Rome, is the announcement that they have their chaplain into a ditch of water nearly drowning him. Two hundred of them left Rome on the 5th to return home, and the Papal Government was delighted to pay their traveling expenses.

AN Indiana correspondent remarks that threshing machine accidents are shockingly common in that State this season. He remarks: "We are making a moderate estimate when we say that thirty men have been killed or wounded for life by threshing machines in Indiana during the present season."

DETROIT now has 46,834 inhabitants, an increase of 125 per cent. since 1850, when the population was about 20,000. Mobile has about 28,000 inhabitants.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.—"The Steinway Piano, which I purchased of you in March, 1859, has now been so long in use that I feel no hesitation in saying that it has proved to be all you represented, and gives us the most unalloyed satisfaction. For volume, sweetness and brilliancy of tone, I cannot say that I have ever heard its superior, and I believe that it will become the most popular instrument of the day. A great number of persons have heard, and have unanimously expressed the greatest admiration of its merits. As it has been introduced into the West, recently, it this testimonial will add to the number of your patrons, allow me to express for the sale of these instruments, you are at liberty to make use of it at your pleasure. E. M. VAN DUZEE, D. D.,
Rector of St. Peter's Church."
