GENERAL NEWS.

THE trial of the brigand chief Giardullo, and several members of his band, took place at Salerno, in Naples, on the 10th of November, and on the 12th the wretches were all shot. The testimony developed horrors of crimes not unfamiliar to those acquainted with the history of brigandage, but such as we hesitate to recount here. Some of the witnesses against the robber were men who had once been their prisoners, and who exposed in court the mutilations they had suffered: cropped ears, amputated fingers, and little. Three women appeared against the brigands, who had killed their sons by throwing them upon the bayonets and dancing upon their abdomens, till the entrails burst forth. Other witnesses had seen women outraged by the whole band of robbers, and then put to death. Giardullo alone questioned the testimony against himself and his fellows, so he remained perfectly mute and impassible in the midst of the furious people. According to the Italian military law against brigandage, the robbers were shot in the back.

The Capital Punishment Commission in England has submitted to the Queen the following:

1. That the punishment of death be retained for all murders deliberately committed with express malice aforethought, such malice to be defined as by the jury.

2. That the punishment of death be also retained for all murders committed in, or with the view to, the perpetration, or escape after the perpetration, or attempt at perpetration of any of the following felonies: Burglary, arson, rape, piracy, robbery or piracy.

3. That in all other cases of murder the punishments be penal servitude for life, or for any period not less than seven years, at the discretion of the court.

The Springfield Republican speaks of the vagaries of an insane woman, evidently well educated and well reared, but coming from nobody knows where, who has been sorely vexing the lawyers and city authorities of Lynn. The other day she called at Governor Trask's, and introduced herself as his niece. Mr. Trask: "Yes, Madam." Governor Trask: "At your service, with a low bow. 'Of am Sarsan, sir.' 'What, Madam?' 'Sarsan.' I am an orphan, having more business than I can well attend to, and hearing that since the late election, you were at leisure, I called to enlist your aid." 'Yes, Madam—I understand—I think I am your man." And the Governor helped her to board and lodging in the insane asylum at Northampton, where she now remains.

At the eighth of January celebrations bear marks of unity of aim and common engineering. As the Albany Argus naively remarks, "it was noticeable in all that the name of Andrew Johnson was associated with that of Andrew Jackson; and the former was regarded as the exponent of the views and principles of the latter." And quite as evident was the attempt to rally the scattered forces of the old Jackson democracy, with the hope that President Johnson may be induced to accept their support against the party that elected him. Praise of Andrew Johnson was everywhere coupled with denunciation of Congress and the republican party. The trick is a very cute one, but whether the country or the President are so jolly green as to be caught by it, Springfield Republican.

A SCANDALOUS WALK-OUT.—The business community in New York, on Thursday, was shocked by the report that a Wall street broker, who had been engaged in brokerage transactions for many years past, had absconded to Europe, having previously drawn from the bank, a sum of seventeen thousand dollars, the property of the firm of which he was a member. The firm suspended payment at once, but intimated that the interruption of business will only be temporary. Rumors found credence that the missing broker had fled to Europe and forsaken his wife and family for the purpose of joining a young actress, who left the country a few days previous; but, as yet, these stories rest on no positive foundation.—N. Y. Herald.

IN a town in Connecticut resides a man who made a fortune in the milk business, by adopting full measure, and as he grew rich he thought he would change his occupation to something more respectable, and accordingly bought a grist mill. In conversation with his wife, he said he did not feel right about the cheating he had practiced in the milk business, and wished some way could be devised whereby he could repay to the girls milk what he had cheated in the other. At last they settled on the following plan, which was to have the measure which they took toll with as much too large as the milk measure was too small.

A RURAL scene occurred in the streets of Manchester, England, last month. The keepers of an elephant belonging to a menagerie were taking the animal through one of the public thoroughfares at one o'clock in the morning, when the passers-by became frightened at the unusual spectacle, and the police attempted to arrest the elephant. His keepers, however, stimulated him to resistance, and the elephant's trunk proved more than a match for the clubs of the officers. He struck the men, and they fled for their lives.

FRIDAY's Baltimore Sun says—A large number of ladies and gentlemen left this city on Wednesday evening, by the Northern Central Railway, for Lancaster, Pa., in order to be present at the wedding of Miss Harriet Lane, niece of ex-President Buchanan, who was yesterday united in wedlock to Mr. Henry E. Johnston, of this city. The ceremony took place at Wheatland, the residence of Mr. Buchanan, and the bridal party at once started on a northern tour.

DR. ESTEN, while attempting to cross the river at Sunbury, Pa., on Sunday last, made a narrow escape. The wind and cold blinded him, and he stepped into an air hole covered with thin ice. His cries attracted some persons from the shore, who hastened to him with a rope, which was thrown to him, but he was so much paralysed that he could neither hold it nor tie it around him, but seized it with his teeth, and in this way was rescued from a watery grave.

At the time of the death of the late Emperor Nicholas, the celebrated great bell "Iscolo" suspended in the tower of St. Iwan, in the Kremlin, (probably the largest bell in the world, weighing no less than 100,000 pounds) while being tolled for the Czar, fell and broke through three separate stories of vaults, killing five persons on the spot. After three months incessant labor it was swung again.

An examination into the condition of the steam boilers in New York city reveals the fact that out of 3,977 boilers 159 were found to be defective in other words, about three per cent. of the stationary boilers in that city are in an explosive condition, and ready to give sensational head-lines to the morning papers, followed by heart-rending details of death by scalding, bruising and burning.

DEPUTATIONS from the National Wool-Growers' and also from the Woolen Manufacturers' Association are now in Washington, charged with the duty of conferring and, if practicable, concurring as to such modifications of our present tariff on wool and woolens as they may deem just and beneficent. We trust that their errand may be unanimous and hearty.—New York Tribune.

THE Pall Mall Gazette publishes the following from Rome: "It is the custom at Rome for the cardinals to write every year to the Catholic emperors and kings, to offer the compliments and congratulations suggested by the return of Christmas and the opening of a new year. The Pope has forbidden the members of the sacred college to pay this mark of respect to the Emperor of Mexico."

AT a place called Ponte de l'Archette, not far from Milan, a young woman engaged to be married was recently seized in the fields near home by two men, who cut off her luxuriant hair with a pair of shears, after which they departed, saying, "Now go and marry the man you have chosen." The act is supposed to have been inspired by jealousy.

Miss Dickerson lectured at Rondout, N. Y., on Saturday evening, and on Monday, the ice on the Hudson being too weak to bear a horse, she was drawn over to Rhinebeck in a sleigh by three stout silver men, who had several times great difficulty in preventing the vehicle from being overturned by the tremendous northwest wind.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM says that while the Democratic party is sure to come into power again, it will not be through President Johnson, or by means or anything he may chance to do, or to leave undone. That hope expired within two weeks from his inauguration.

A BYCEPHALUS of rank and fortune in England finds one of his legs of one religion, and the other of another. He frequently puts some of his unfortunate limbs outside the bedclothes in cold weather, to punish it for its religious errors.

A fortnight or two weeks the President made a great many speeches, all to the effect that treason must be made odious. How could the Democrats hope anything from him after that?—Chicago Republican.

A LETTER from Rio Janeiro, speaking of Southern immigration to Brazil, says one thing is certain—namely, that whoever goes there must make up his mind to work, for slavery is doomed there.

UNPAID.—The pirate Semmes has written a letter, in which he declares that his "sense of manhood remains unimpaired." Quite likely: he hasn't impaired it, by use, certainly.

Peace in India.

The Bhootan war in India is ended. On the 11th of November, a treaty of peace between Bhootan and India was signed at Julpa. The Bhoutan government agrees to release all kidnapped persons, and to be censured, the delinquent under compulsion by Mr. Eden, to be returned, and a full apology made to him. The supreme government agrees to pay an annual subsidy of twenty-five thousand rupees for the territory ceded, and that sum to be permanently increased to fifty thousand rupees when the Bhoutanese have proved their disposition to refrain from the annoyances which formed the pretext of the war. The first payment of the subsidy is withheld until Tojungpo Penlow shall return the two guns taken at Dewangiri. Stipulations are also made in reference to free transit and traffic between Bengal and Bhootan. Owing to the cleaning of the treaty, the extensive preparations made by the English for a new campaign have been stopped.

The Cotton Crop of Illinois.

The remarkable increase within four years in the shipments of cotton from points in southern Illinois is shown from the fact that the shipments from nine of the stations on the Illinois Central Railroad amounted in 1862 to 1,500 bales, and in 1863 to 1,381,400 pounds. The following figures show the constant and rapid increase:

Year.	Pounds.
1862	1,500
1863	91,507
1864	234,000
1865	1,381,400

The yield for 1865 is equal to three thousand bales, shorth over half a million of dollars.

PRESTIDIGITATION.—Wonders will never cease. On Christmas day, made perfectly quiet by twenty lashes on the mouth. His lips were hermetically sealed with shackles.

PROPOSALS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
WASHINGTON CITY, January 4, 1866.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 1 o'clock P. M., on FRIDAY, the 9th day of February, 1866, for supplying the Light-House Establishment with sixty thousand gallons of the best quality, pure winter-strained Oil, either Lard or Sperm, to be divided into four lots, and to be delivered at the times and at the places, alongside of the Government supply-vessels, or at the warehouse or other place designated, to be designated by the Inspector of Oils, or other authorized agent of the Light-house Board, in stoves, tight, iron-bound, well made cases, suitable for shipping, in good order, of a capacity, each, of from one to eighty gallons—not to exceed the latter. The oil may be delivered in Boston or New York, at the option of the bidder.

The place of delivery in each case must be distinctly stated in the bids, and will be embraced in the contracts.

The four lots will be delivered as follows, viz:

Lot No. 1. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 20 day of April, 1866, or so soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 2. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 1st day of June, 1866, or so soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 3. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 1st day of August, 1866, or so soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 4. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 1st day of October, 1866, or so soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Separate proposals will be received at the same time for 3,000 gallons of Colza or Lard Oil, to be delivered as above stipulated, at Detroit, Mich., on the 1st day of May, 1866.

No bid will be considered unless from a manufacturer of the article.

No part of the oil proposed for and to be embraced in the contract, will be subject to examination and rejection, if found inferior, or bad for, until it shall have been proved, to the satisfaction of the Inspector of Oils, or persons charged with its examination, test, and inspection, to be of the quality specified in the proposal, and free from mixture with other or inferior oils and adulterations.

The usual means for determining the character and quality of the sperm oil will be employed, viz: specific gravity, burning, the amount of reloum, and any other proof that is or may be, at a correct conclusion that may be deemed necessary.

Lard oil will be subject to special tests, and will be rejected unless found to be, in regard to burning and fluidity under reduction of temperature, and in every other respect, equal to that of Lard, and adopted by the Board, of which a sample will be furnished on application to the Light-house Engineer at Boston, Mass.

The contracts are to be entered into, and personal supervision of the inspecting officer, by a custom-house or other legally authorized weight or gauger, according to the United States standard, and must be marked and accepted before they are removed from the cellar or warehouse of the contractor. The transportation of the oil will be accurately noted, and the measurements reduced to the standard temperature of 60 deg. Fahrenheit by tables prepared for the purpose.

Proposals will be received and considered for each lot separately, or for all of the lots, at the option of the bidder; but no bid will be considered for a less quantity than is specified, or to be delivered at one time and place. Each bidder, in his proposal, by writing out in full, the kind of oil offered, whether sperm, lard or colza; the rate per gallon, the number of lots he or he bids for, and the place of delivery, conforming to this advertisement.

Bids substituted by different members of the same firm or copartnership will not be considered.

The Lighthouse Board, representing the Department, reserves the right to reject any bid, although it may be the lowest, for other considerations than the price.

No bid will be considered for any other kind or description of oil than those specially called for in this advertisement.

A bond, with security to the satisfaction of the Department, in a penalty equal to one-fourth of the amount of each contract, made under these proposals, will be required of each contractor. Conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, to be executed within ten days after the acceptance of the bid.

Each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by some person or more responsible persons, and known to the department as such, or certified by a United States district judge, attorney, navy agent, or collector of the customs, to the effect that, if the bid be accepted, the bidder will enter into the contract in good faith, according to the provisions and terms of this advertisement, within five days after acceptance; and that in case the said party offering shall fail to enter into the contract aforesaid, he or they guarantee to make good the difference between the amount of his bid and the next lowest bidder. All bids must be sealed and addressed to "Proposals for Oil for Light-houses," and then placed in another envelope, and directed, addressed, to the secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington City, with the words "Proposals publicly at the hour and on the day specified."

Payment will be made for the several lots of oil within thirty days after they shall have been received by the Light-house Board.

By order of the Light-house Board,

ALEX. HAYWOOD,
Secretary.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

RETROUVEY'S TURKISH

BANDOLINE HAIR TONIC,

THE DRESSING AND RESTORER OF THE HAIR.

RETROUVEY'S TURKISH BANDOLINE.

No more painful than anything that will satisfy, that will restore nature's decay by stopping the hair from falling out, restoring its natural color, making it grow in luxuriance and beauty. Beauty and fashion demand it, according to the present style and fashion, and Retrouvey's Turkish Bandoline meets all Hair Tonic will do, and for proof we refer you to any person who has tried it. It is acknowledged to be the beautifier of the age, the only Hair Tonic and Restorer worthy of the name, in Turkey, in France, in England, in America—everywhere where it has been introduced it is recommended to every pine office of Hair Preparation. Remember, it is free from all metallic poisons that are contained in most Hair Colors and Dyes, and is the original Bandoline, and the only one that, caused by the mixture of a bandoline compound.

Fevers and Agues are the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of diseases arise from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, and Nervous Affections often, Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, contributing in this cause, put on the intermittent fever, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all which, it is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and surest remedy in the world. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Yet it is free of this, and its less important to other ailments with the complaints cannot be over estimated. So sure it is to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said, it is a certain remedy. Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell because only requires a whole bottle to cure.

PIANOS.

The Estey & Co.'s Cottage Organ,

AND AMERICAN ORGAN.

Pronounced by the best judges to be the most perfect instrument of this kind in the world.

Our Pianos have no superior as to power, purity and quality of tone, thorough workmanship, and durability.

The "American Organ" is fully equal to the best manufactured in the country.

The "Estey & Co.'s Cottage Organ" is now ranked as the Cottage or Parlor Organs. By a patent arrangement of the reeds, and the addition of a patent manual sub-bass, a $700 two stop instrument has as much power as a $900 Church Organ. At the late Indiana State Fair, it was awarded the first premium over a twelve-stop Organ, and all competitors, for power and beauty of tone.
