Progress of the Presidential Party.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 1.—We are now leaving this city, having been escorted to the railroad station by the firemen and others. Having reached the lake, the party were elevated to a revenue cutter. A committee from Janesville, Wis., presented the President with an invitation to stop there, which he was happy to accept, and it seems probable that he will stop for a few minutes.

ELYRIA, OHIO, Sept. 1.—We arrived here at one minute, when the City stopped and a stand previously erected. He made no speech, but simply returned his thanks for the enthusiastic reception, and here, as at Toledo, he left the Constitution, the Union and the flag in the hands of the people, which he was confident they would be safe.

Calls were made for Secretary Seward, who made a few remarks, concluding by proposing three cheers for the Union in perpetuity. These were given when a salute was fired, and the train moved off.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1, 2 P. M.—The train halted for a few minutes, and the distinguished members of the party were introduced.

THE NEW CITY HALL.—Here a stand had been erected, tastefully adorned, and on one side hung a large portrait of President Lincoln, on the other Judge Douglas, with the mottoes in large letters, "New Orleans, Fort Donelson, Vicksburg, Cedar Creek." Mayor Gaylord, President, and to the many citizens, Farragut, Grant, Meade, Sherman. A number of young girls dressed in white and representing the states of the Union, were conspicuous, and the dresses adopted in their dress. The President, Secretary Seward, Postmaster General Randall, Secretary Welles, Admiral Farragut, Minister Romero, and others, were especially introduced, bowing to the spectators. The President delivered a brief and patriotic address. Reference to the south, at present he said they were not in a position to hear their brethren speak with fairness. There are few powerful arguments used by the disloyal men of
