Meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' League.

On Tuesday evening a regular meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' League was held at their hall, a full attendance being present. After the calling of the roll and the reading of the minutes, a number of new members were admitted, and several promising prospects balloted for and elected. The Committee on Address to City Councils reported a paper, which, after being read, was, on motion, adopted, and the committee continued. John G. Brown, newly elected Clerk of the Court, was added to the Finance Committee to receive contributions to the Library Fund. The regularly-appointed Corresponding Secretary, Daniel Hamilton, resigning, and J. R. Oxley, Trustee, were appointed and accepted. The order of business was on motion suspended in order to make nominations to fill the vacancies. After the nominations were closed the Library Committee reported progress, stating that their labors were meeting with doubtful success. The Committee exhibits marks of their continued zeal. The Trustees especially congratulated the League on their good fortune in procuring the services of His Honor, Mayor Morrison, to act as Treasurer of the Library Fund, a man in whom everybody had the greatest confidence. A communication from Adjutant Mac Donald, of Allegheny, was read, tendering the League a complimentary benefit, the proceeds to go to the Library Fund. It was on motion received, referred to the Finance Committee and Corresponding secretary, and the thanks of the League returned for the compliment. A resolution was adopted tendering the thanks of the League to the Pittsburgh press, for their uniform kindness in publishing gratuitously matters pertaining to the League. After the transaction of some unimportant business, the League adjourned to meet on Tuesday next at their Hall, Water street.

A Rough in Limbo—Desperate Attempt to Escape.

Frank McLaughlin, the proprietor of a drinking saloon on the corner of Wylie and Tunnel streets, came to the Mayor's office yesterday about noon, and made oath against a young man named Christopher Bradford for malicious mischief. The accused, it appears, entered McLaughlin's house, and after conducting himself in a riotous manner for some time, began an indiscriminate demolition of the bar-room furniture, breaking mirrors, tumblers and ornaments. While the work of destruction was going on the proprietor succeeded to make the information as stated. In pursuance of the Mayor's police were dispatched in quest of the young desperado, when they found still engaged in his laudable work. Officers McMillan, Wheeler and Barry attempted to arrest Bradford, but they had scarcely laid out their best, nor no sooner had they seized him than he began a desperate struggle for his liberty, striking one of the officers and putting him in the gutter where the mud and cobble had collected to the depth of several inches. Two pairs of suspenders were used on his wrists and an endeavor to the tune of pulling his wrists in order to get his hands on his pistol. But it was no go, the cords and nerve limit through the blood was running from his wrists, where the cords and suspenders were cutting into the flesh to the tune of inches. All attempts being foiled, and a passing wagon was pressed into the service of the city, and after a protracted strife for the mastery, Bradford was locked and dropped in, in which condition he was conveyed to the warehouse of the Mr. Kerr, where he lay today. The community have good reason to congratulate that this young scamp is safely deposited in durance, where it is to be hoped he will be made long enough to have him taught some needed moral lesson.

Visitors Comi-s.

According to the Columbus Journal, Pittsburgh is to be honored with a visit from the eminent lights of the Ohio capital. The Mayor, Council, Clerks, Civil Engineer and reporters, of that city, are to make Pittsburgh a visit early in December, for the purpose of inspecting the workings of our new Fire Alarm Telegraph, with a view of taking action upon a proposition of J. T. Elliott, Esq., an expert, intended the construction of the telegraph in this city; in order to avoid a similar one in Columbus. The Journal says:

Mr. Donaldson, from the Select committee, to whom was received the communication of J. T. Elliott in regard to the Fire Alarm Telegraph, reported in favor of an immediate visit the city of Pittsburgh, and witness the working of the system there is now decided in favor of it.

On motion, it was agreed that the committee should go to Pittsburgh. The Mayor, City Clerk, City Engineer and reporter for the Press were included in the party.

Messrs. Donaldson, Latterman, Jones and Ross were appointed a Committee on Arrangements.

Tuesday, December 4th, was fixed upon as the time for starting on the visiting.

An Old Trapper Gone.

On Saturday last Ignatius Adams, the celebrated hunter and trapper of the Allegheny, died at his residence near Cheswick at the advanced age of 80 years. He was perhaps the oldest of Allegheny county, and was known, either personally or by reputation, to people by every man, woman and child within limits. Mr. Adams was a man of many and wide spread, he was no less noted for his kindness and generosity. While his name was thought worthy to be hung in the list of the renowned leather-stockings, he at the same time was favored by common consent with the appellation of old Indian fighter. Perhaps he will be deeply regretted, by the influential spirits of Cheswick, Springdale and Springdale Station of three old veterans. Dr. Darlington's "Memorials of Old Allegheny" contains a chapter devoted to the exploits and adventures of the worthies of Cow-ne, octo the following extract, which has been named after the veteran hunter, to wit: Adams, also first discovered the lime-producing properties of the Springdale spring, in his own person, on a occasion when he was in pursuit of a wounded elk, and fell in directions and given in the lime free of charge. Salesroom, 75 Fifth street.

Greene County Gold.

For nearly a year past it has been a mooted about that geologists had found unmistakable evidence of gold on Dunkard Creek Greene County. It appears that all could not be found there in paying quantities, but some indefatigable miner examined a fragment from which glistened like gold quartz, and forthwith a corpse of correspondents were employed to write up the discovery. A correspondent of the Union Herald, published at Connellsville, Pa., says: "The gold shaft on Dunkard is making good progress, and everything goes to the bottom a success. I is really one inch rich and thirty feet to prospect. Five inches is in diameter. The assayer of the mint at Philadelphia, and other prominent business men, are stockholders in the company. Its success would work wonders in Little Greene. The shaft is being dug on a well-defined lode, and by Captain Charles Lesley, a gentleman of skill and practical abilities, and who has for twenty years been sinking shafts in the range of the Alleghenies."

A Fraudulent Cargo Captured.

The Steubenville Herald of Tuesday contains the following: Marshall Dunn was notified by Messrs. Mayo, Chanler & Company, of Pittsburgh, that one William Hummell left that port with a floating store boat, for a trip down the river, without paying for his stock of goods. The Marshal, keeping his eye forward, captured the negligent Hummell on Friday last, at this place, with a cargo of shinny of an exceedingly poor quality, together with other dishonest, which he was in duty bound to seize. The Marshal immediately confiscated the whole concern, to the delight of Mayo, Chanler & Company, which amounts to $2,000. The cargo will be sold this afternoon at public auction. Persons wishing a supply of instant death should invest.

Benefit of Sabbath Schools.

For the benefit of the Methodist Sabbath Schools of the First and Third wards, Allegheny, the Rev. W. B. Watkins will deliver a lecture in the Beaver Street M. E. Church, on the subject of "The Ore, Ashes and Beauty of Impure Wealth." This lecture has been delivered before several audiences heretofore, and elicited flattering encomiums from the press. The subject is capable of being elaborated in an interesting manner, and the known ability of the lecturer is a guarantee that it will probably handled. Admission twenty-five cents.

Court of Common Pleas.—The case of Thomson, Reynolds & Co. vs. the Germania Gas Association, reported yesterday, occupied the attention of the Court all day yesterday. Just prior to the time of adjournment the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $7,254. This was a very interesting case, and the decision of great interest to parties concerned in the result. After the return of the verdict Court adjourned until Monday morning next.

Filthy Assault.—Mary McQuilkin appeared before Alderman Lynch of the Third ward yesterday, and lodged an information against Elizabeth Curtis for assault and battery. The prosecutrix alleges that the accused struck her in the face with an old cracking cooking stove, with from a cents pool. Both parties residing in "Hard-scrabble." A warrant has been issued.

An Alarm—Yesterday morning at about eleven o'clock an alarm of fire sounded from box No. 56, corner of Penn and Harrison streets. It was occasioned by the soot in the chimney of a house near Penn and Harrison streets, taking fire. The steamers were on the ground but their services were not required.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

THE FENIAN EXCITEMENT.

The Fenian Movement—Troops Sent from England—Irish Uniforms, Etc. Seized.

(BY THE CABLE.)

Liverpool, Nov. 27—The movements of the Government against the Fenians continues. Another regiment of infantry will go to Belfast immediat ely.

A lot of uniforms and arms has been seized at Liverpool. The arrest continues, all yesterday.

The Daily News denounces the fierce threats of contemporaries, and says the rebellion must be suppressed in a soldierly manner.

Exciting News from Ireland. Fenians Ready for the Fray—The Blow About to be Struck.

New York, Nov. 28—The Herald's Queenstown correspondent, Nov. 17th, says: I send you a letter on behalf of the most important party in Ireland, the Fenians, who are ready to hoist the green flag. The blow is about to be struck at the power of Great Britain. Within a month you will hear of the engagement of as great a force as one end of the United States can land to fight other. The Irish Republic has been proclaimed, arms are in position, men are ready, the officers appointed, and the organization perfected.

The movement upon Canada was really a feint, for all else while the object was kept quietly in the dark, to create an outbreak upon the old soil of Ireland. Have you ever seen a starving and dog compelled to leave our shores? Again, I say, we are ready to strike, and let no one be worse off after the battle is over and Ireland's freedom once established. England will not do anything for us by peaceable agitation. That has been tried. Every effort made to induce the Government of Great Britain to do just to us has utterly failed. We are weary of us and our argument cannot be decided. Our prospects are more cheerful for our success than there is no pity. Is it not better to show the English Government that it does not pay, that if they do not do us justice we will make Ireland a clinging curse to her?

The News from Ireland—Excitement in New York.

New York, November 27.—When at a late hour last night the Herald extra appeared on the streets with the exciting news from Ireland, the effect upon the city was unequaled since the news of the great victories of the rebellion. Places of amusement were deserted, and the people, strangers to fear and dismay, the events, fights and other places of congregation were thronged by anxious and excited persons, who freely indulged in vociferous and hopeful expressions. The Fenians rushed to the meeting places of their circles, hoping to get additional information. Telegrams were sent to circles in distant cities, and instantly enthusiastic responses were received.

Stephens, the Head Centre, was invisible, and it is seriously believed that he has reached Ireland. It is said the Treasury of the Fenians was never in better condition than at this moment. The excitement caused which existed in this city last night portrays in Brooklyn. The Irishmen of that city were excited, and had to a considerable extent, all the news of the Fenian movement.

Fenian Excitement in Buffalo.

Buffalo, November 28.—The news as telegraphed in the Herald's opening, caused a stir of a stir, though a heavy rain to-day prevented a demonstration. Telegraph and Road Centres Secretaries have been very active lately.

The Mexican Imbroglio—The Course of the French Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A report of a specialty from here last night to the effect that Napoleon had withdrawn the Rio Grande, from Brownsville, Texas, to a point farther, into Mexico, at the head of a convoy of the Imperial troops, is denied here, though not gainsayed to be plausible. Government officials here have received no dispatches from Sherman, indicating that such a movement was likely to be made by Napoleon on his own responsibility, to be borne at the point. Verified the War Department will not be surprised if Napoleon should do so, in view of the recent demonstration of the Imperial troops on the Rio Grande, and the fact that the Imperial troops, which were ordered to Mexico, are now on the way, and have been promptly reinforced by the Government, authorities, and indications are that the Imperial troops will be ready to move the war within thirty days, in view of the recent demonstration on the part of the President.

Libel Case Against the N. Y. Tribune.

A New York dispatch of the 26th says: The case of Thomas Ritchie, Jr., against Horace Greeley, for libel, in publishing a letter from the Tribune correspondent, in which the plaintiff was charged with being a national paymaster, having lost two large drafts, and other charges, was tried, and the plaintiff was a partisan in the Lincoln and Douglas campaign, and that the letter was published with malice, and for the purpose of publication in the office. Judge Sutherland charged the jury that if they found for the plaintiff, the damages to be paid, were to be assessed on the usual rules.

U. S. Troops Enter Mexico—Dispatch from General Sheridan.

New York, Nov. 28.—A dispatch from Washington says the President has received a dispatch from Sheridan, dated Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 17th, in which he says that the Imperial troops, under Marquez, have left Matamoras, and that the Mexicans have crossed the Rio Grande, and occupied Matamoras. He is sending the Imperial troops. He is sending the Imperial troops. Sheridan's dispatch is the first official information received by the Government of the movement of the Imperial troops, and has caused no little excitement in Washington.
