FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 28, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 1365¼; Eighty-one bonds, 111½; Five Twenties, 108¼@108¾; do 1865, 108¼@108½; do 5 cents, 107¾; Ten Forties, 105¾; Six Thirties, 105¼@105¾; Michigan Southern Railroad 87; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 74; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 90¾; Erie, 88¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 87¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 82; do preferred, 89¾; New Central, 95¾; Reading, 102.

The gold market opened firm at 137½, but gradually declined to 136¾; shipments will be light this week, and the government is selling freely from its surplus. The speculative spirit for the traffic in gold has subsided, and although transactions have been heavy, yet they were based on the necessities of the market. The firmness during the last few days in gold speculation where we were in a fix. On May 24, the government had paid out large amounts for coupons, but it had no effect on the market, and importers and dealers began to suspect something and fought what they wanted; this caused a slight advance, and 136½ was bid for any amount offered; when the bulls saw they could not run up the price they turned bears, and no-bing ever 122 was accepted as the real values of a gold dollar or 88½ cents for a dollar greenback, and everybody reasoned in the same way because all information was derived from the same source. It was not until the market did not yield below 136¾ that people noticed a decline of 1½ per cent. within three days, and naturally the long hands bought all the "options" from 2 upward that they could get, and realized 20 to 25 per cent on their contracts. We are now in the same position in peace with all nations and quiet at home with very little business doing at home or abroad, and everybody is cautiously preparing for what is to come without knowing when. It would not be surprising that people would reason a greenback is really worth 88½ cents, or gold 136, with as much stubbornness as they did insist a month ago that 101 dollars in greenbacks could only buy 100 dollars in gold.

Government securities are all lower, which is partly attributable to purchases for a short time in Railroad shares which promise a handsome profit for those who "go in blind," and partly to a firmer feeling in the loan market. Rates on call have advanced 2 per cent. Larger lots of bonds are now brought on the market from holders of converted Seven Thirties who wished to earn interest on their bonds as stripped of the coupons, and now offer bonds ex-coupons at current rates.

The above market is more animated, but operators cannot infuse new life in stock speculation without having a larger capital at their command.

—The Secretary of the Treasury writes a private letter to New York, in which he declares that a special Session of Congress in July would affect injuriously the credit of the government. He says "we need industry more than legislation. Improvements in our revenue laws are required, and it is possible that some financial legislation will be needed; but upon neither of these subjects could Congress act advisedly before the regular session."

—The dry goods trade has been struck by lightning," is the phrase used by the New York Independent last week to characterize the condition of the market. Such a dead halt has not been known since the first gun on Fort Sumter. Prints at 15¼c and less are now offered in the jobbing houses and retail shops of New York. Brown sheetings and shirtings are down from one to two cents per yard. Prints are panicky under large forced sales, at reduced prices. Blenched goods are lower, unsettled, and unsettled in price.

—No further particulars have been received of the failure of Fraser, Trenholm & Co., but from the known large assets of the firm in this country, it is very generally expected that the suspension will be only temporary. We see, in a New York paper, we know not on what authority, that the firm bought immense amounts of property in Charleston, and large tracts of land in South Carolina during the war, paying for them in Confederate money. Property in this way acquired vast wealth for a merely nominal consideration. It is asserted that from one-half to two-thirds of Charleston belonged to the firm. Reports also state that, last year, they paid taxes upon $4,000,000 of property in South Carolina.

—On the prospects of business the New York Financial Chronicle observes that the long continued lull in commercial enterprise, the general dullness of business, and the fact that in 1857, 1861 and 1857 this country was ravaged by financial panics, have led a few persons to anticipate that the current year will not close without a serious revulsion. And though it may be easier to show that the existing state of our monetary machinery is unfavorable to the fulfillment of these predictions of disaster, still as the laws of panics are imperfectly understood, and by most people misunderstood, it is no wonder that distrust is generated, and that an anxiety prevades all classes of our people not to venture on of their depth, or risk monetary engagements beyond their assured means. When, a few months ago, the credit machinery of the country was working at high pressure, we warned our readers against the dangerous results to be apprehended from over expansion. Now the people, with the usual tendency to excess seemed to have rushed into the opposite extreme of "no pressure," as is shown by the recent low aggregate of manufacturing and other productive industries. There are, however, some symptoms of a reaction.

We have a prospect of ample crops. The earnings of the railroads show an improvement. Many other circumstances contribute to foretoken that the depression of several months past will be enforced quietude will give place to a more gratifying activity. Except, as we shall have to, in all probability, from two of the chief causes of financial stringency—defective and deficient laws, and the mismanagement of the Treasury—we may fairly anticipate an easy money market, except, indeed, the general confidence should be inspired by further failures in the south or elsewhere. So far, however, these failures have only served to show on how firm a basis the credit machinery of the country reposes. Outside of a narrow circle the suspension of Watts, Urban & Co. for six millions, and that of Frazer, Trenholm & Co. for four millions, seem to have produced no perceptible tremor, although these failures were as sudden as they announced, so wide in their range, and so vast in the amounts involved. It appears to be that our commercial fabric is under poise may send fairer weather for commerce, flake carried timidity into the heart of the

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 28, 1867.

There are no new characteristics in the general markets worthy of special notice. In most departments dullness and stagnation continue to rule supreme, and generally speaking, prices are tending downward. Our Chicago dispatch, of Monday, reported a decline of from 25 to 50c per barrel on Flour, and 7 to 10c per bush on Wheat, and if the weather continues favorable for the growing crops, thus giving assurance of an abundant harvest, a material depreciation in both Flour and Grain may be confidently looked for.

GRAIN—There is nothing doing in Wheat in this market. Oats in brisk demand and higher, 76c having been offered and refused to-day for a round lot, in elevator. Sale of 100 bushels reported at 65c, to arrive, buyer furnishing sacks—below the market. Corn is very dull, and prime Shelled cannot fairly be quoted above 81. Rye is dull but unchanged at $1.10. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—Is dull and weak and drooping, and the demand is restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants. We continue to quote at $14 to $14.50 for Spring Wheat; $15.50 to $16 for Winter Wheat, and $18 to $19 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9.75 to $10.

PROVISIONS—There is a steady demand for Bacon, and while the market is firm, prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at 9½c for Shoulders; 11½ to 12½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 13½ for Plain Sugar Cured; 14c for Plain Hams, and 16½c for Canvassed Sugar Cured. Sale of 800 pounds country Meat at 9½c for Shoulders; 10c for Ribbed, and 11c for Clear Sides. Lard, is to 13½c; Dried Beef, 22½ to 23c, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23.50.

BUTTER—With all kitty improved demand and a falling off in the arrivals, the market is a little firmer and prices are a shade higher. Prime to choice fresh Roll may now be quoted at 15@16c.

EGGS—Dull and lower, the arrivals being large, and supply in excess of the demand. We now quote at 10@12c.

CHEESE—Is selling at 14 to 15c for fair to prime Western Reserve.

POTATOES—Very scarce, and with a good demand prices have still further advanced, and prime Peach Blows are now held at $1.40 per bushel.

HAY—Sale of 1 car No. 2 at $23, and 1 car No. 1 at $25. Common Hay is very dull and hard to sell at any price.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged. Small sales at 7½c for Apples, and 10@12c for Peaches.

OIL—Sales of No. 2 Lard Oil at 87@88c, and No. 1 at 91,95@1.10. Demand fair and market firm.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 28, 1867.

CRUDE—The market continues dull and neglected, the demand both for present and future delivery being limited, and there is but little offering. Spot oil may be quoted at 19@20c, while June could probably be sold at 19½c, for all the month, buyer's option, and seller's could probably be found at that figure, their only objection is that proper to remark, however, that no large amount could be sold at the above figures, as but very few, if any, of our refiners are dealers of bulls, except those who are compelled to do so in order to fill contracts that were made some time since. Telegrams from Oil City to-day report a decline of from 10 to 15 cents per barrel, though, even at this reduction, there is no margin in running to this market.

REFINED—There was not a single operation in consoled oil to-day, and the market continues dull and weak with a drooping tendency. We heard of a sale of 500 bbls standard white in Philadelphia, for June delivery, at 25½c, and it is said that 25¾ was the best offer for prime light straw "to arrive," for immediate delivery, in Philadelphia, and standard water, therefore, cannot be quoted above 25@25½. As a matter of course, but few, if any of our refiners will sell at these figures, and many of them will prefer stopping their works, we some how already done, and the way matters look now it would not be at all surprising if anything could happen the trade under existing circumstances.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Lockart & Frew.....200 bbl. J. Gallagher.....100 bbl
Jas. Ramsey.....112 " Hufton, K. & Co.....100 "
Wm. Stewart.....50 " K. Wilson.....4 "

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 28, 1867.

CATTLE.

The supply of Cattle was remarkably light this week, not exceeding four hundred head, and with a very good retail demand, the market was a steady one, and the best grades sold at an advance of from ¼ to ½c, while common cattle command about the same as last week. No great retailing cattle sold from 5½ to 6½c, gross, and extra fancy ones from 6 to 6½c. Glass & Lafferty sold 21 head of medium cattle at 5 to 6½c, and 22 head of light stockers at 6 cent. McCallister & Co. sold 8 head of extra still-fed steers, to Smith & Schlimm (butchers) at 9½c; and retailed 29 head at 9,9½ to 10c. Myers & Neely retailed 54 head at 7¼ to 7½c. Marks & Treaman got ahead at 9,10 to 9½c. Hazlewood & Blackstock 41 head at 6,7½ to 9½. Kerwin sold McCallister & Co. 43 head of extra still-fed steers, from Steubenville, Ohio, 4 at 9½, and balance at 9,90, and the latter firm report having retailed 31 head of Illinois steers at 9,90 to 9,10. Greenwald & Kahn retailed 51 head at 8,75 to 9.50; Kraus & Haas, 56 head; Rotchkiss & Boyer, 13 head; L. Rothchilds, 23 head; L. Stamberg, 12 head—unable to learn prices.

SHEEP.

The market for the class of stock was very quiet that week, the demand being rather light, the offerings being limited and of an inferior quality. Prime fat mutton Sheep (clipped) may be quoted at 6½ to 7c, while common and inferior are hard to sell at any price—wooled Sheep command about 1 cent per pound more than clipped. Lafferty & Co. sold Ryan & Co. 190 head common at 4½. Emerick & Co. retailed 40 head common at 6c to 53.60 per head. Darwin sold Stakely 41 head weighing 3145 pounds, (common wooled sheep) at 5,60, and Stakely afterwards sold same lot to Hines at 6.

HOGS.

The demand for Hogs at these yards continues exceedingly light, being restricted, almost entirely to supplying immediate wants of the retail trade. Emerick & Co. quote in a retail way 7 to 8c, gross.

St. Louis Flour Market.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—The stock of flour in this market remains, we are informed, 60,000 barrels, a large proportion of which is spring wheat brands. A small quantity of this latter is super, and extra, almost wholly unsalable at this season of the year. A prominent flour dealer advises us that spring super cannot be sold at more than $6.50 to $7 per barrel, in lots of any dimensions, and the feeling is constantly more weaker. In view of this fact, a stoppage of consignments is strongly urged, without doubt, all brands of flour will decline heavily inside of six weeks. A well-known dealer has awarded the opinion that inside of that time choice fall brands may be purchased at $10@12 per bbl, in round lots. We, of all events everybody admits that breadstuffs for the coming year are to be very low; a bit of information which will surely please every consumer in the land. The trade in corn and rye flour in the past week has been quite small, and prices have tended steadily downward.

St. Louis Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Tobacco active at full prices. Hemp quiet at 12c. RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding steadily at this point with scant twelve feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. The Allegheny was falling at Oil City with five feet reported at that point. The weather was oppressively hot in the sun yesterday, and at times it clouded up with indications of more rain.

The Argosy, from Cincinnati; Columbia, from St. Paul, and Bellevernon, from St. Louis, constitute the arrivals. The two last named boats were loaded mainly with iron ore. The Argosy had a very good trip of miscellaneous freight.

There were no departures aside from the regular packets. The Ida Rees arrived, and the Urilda cleared for Oil City. The Echo is due here to-morrow.

The Argosy, Capt. Vanderritt, is the regular packet for Cincinnati today, and passengers and shippers should bear in mind that she usually leaves promptly as advertised, and accordingly.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Joe. Brown, is filling up steadily for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will be ready to leave to-morrow or next day.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. D. L. Hendrickson, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out. She will doubtless leave to-morrow evening.

A flatboat, loaded with steam engines and boilers, has been lying at the Allegheny wharf some few days, having been towed up from Parkersburgh; and we presume, that this machinery may be regarded as the remains of the Parkersburg oil regions. It is altogether likely that more fortunes have been lost that made in boring for oil in Western Virginia. Quite a number of steamboatmen were taken in pretty nicely during the early part of the excitement.

The Kate Robinson arrived at St. Louis on Friday last, and was announced to leave again on Tuesday. The Lorena, for St. Louis, and Julia, for Louisville, left Cincinnati on Saturday.

The Wild Duck, with her model barges, Swan and Dove, has arrived at St. Louis.

The Memphis Bulletin thinks the St. Louis levee will soon be graced with the presence of the Richmond. It says: "It's all gammon about Louisville supporting a line of New Orleans steamers. It can't be done. What has Louisville ever done toward it? Not a dime in pockets! Why did not Louisville support the Mississippi, and keep up a line of New Orleans steamers, which she induced at various times to try the New Orleans trade?"

A telegram from Lexington, dated the 25th, says: The W. J. Lucas passed up at ten o'clock this morning. The Isabella went down yesterday at 10 p. m. At Nebraska City, Nov. and the Ida Fulton on Friday. The river fallen four inches here.

The New Orleans Times says: It seems as though the people can never see enough of the Great Republic. Hundreds have visited her while at the wharf, and hundreds went on the landing to see her leave. Well may Captain Tomlinson be proud of this noble steamer.

An Evansville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The Richmond arrived at 9:30 this morning, full of people, four days and twenty hours from New Orleans. She ran out the falls in nineteen minutes. The Tarascon ran out in eighteen and a half minutes. The river was at the time rapidly falling, but high water was thirteen minutes. The Telegraph logs ran from point to point on flood tide in thirteen minutes.

The towboat Diamond sunk a large load of coalpit at the foot of the canal on Friday night last. She had it in tow and stove the end in.

The contract for transporting United States supplies between St. Louis and New Orleans has been awarded to Capt. Lloyd T. Bolt, of the Lloyd T. Bolt, of the Bolt Line Packet Company. The contract goes into operation at once.

Capt. Davis, of the Commercial, has been notified at Washington by the Post-Office Department, that he has been awarded the Memphis mail contract. This award takes effect on June 1st, and will continue for four years. The mail must be carried semi-weekly.

The Coal Manufacturing Company, Madison, Indiana, has been awarded the contract for building the sig nal and machinery for one of the tugs now building at Cincinnati. There are two engines; two to steer; one to blow the boat, will be 22 inch cylinders, with six feet stroke. The contract will amount to about $30,000.

In reference to bridge disasters on the Upper Mississippi, the Dubuque Herald says: "This has been the most destructive season that the river has ever known, and scarcely a day passes, but what a boat or raft is reported as having in three trips which span the Mississippi.

A Cincinnati Gazette says: The friends of the Hole St. Louis are not pleased with the presentation of colors to the R. E. Lee, and think that Capt. Cannon should have had a vote in the matter. It will be remembered that the Hole is the first Baptist Church in the city of St. Louis, but that it was forced in favor of the Belle St. Church, which is now the wealthiest church in the City of Alton has so gracefully surrendered her claim to the colors presented to the Hole St. Louis, which steamer is of the same line, think Newhall, if she should have waived all claim to the colors, particularly as the Hole St. Louis is at dispute.

The following is a complete list of steamers which have left St. Louis for the mountains, so says the St. Louis Republican, of Saturday:

Amelia Poe, Poe, March 28; Only Chance, Allen, March 29; Ben Johnson, Massey, March 29; Yorktown, Albert, March 30; Walter Hare, Gourley, March 30; Huntsville, Jacobs, March 31; David Hale, Ellis, April 1; Waverley, Lea, March 31; Sliver, Smith, April 1; Benton, Hunter, April 1; Ben Hur, Ellis, April 2; Arkansas, Lockhart, April 4; Deer Lodge, Gibbons, April 6; Cora, Turner, April 12; Belle Seloige, Sealon, April 10; St. Johns, McQuitty, April 9; Alabama, Hussey, April 12; Dunbar, April 12; Nymph No. 2, Gibbons, April 12; Ben Lomond, Hunter, April 12; J. H. Truer, April 12; Nile, Parker, April 12; Sovereign, A. Gibbons, April 12; Ida Stockdale, March, April 15; Lillie F. Smith, April 15; Jennie Brown, B. F. Rowe, April 20; Gallatin, Samuel Brown, April 20; Belle Memphis, April 20; Belle Weaver, Weaver, April 25; C. A. Thompson, Thompson, April 25; Ben Sherrod, Sherrod, April 25; Cheroona, Wilson, April 25; Belle Creole, Boyle, May 1; Belle Memphis, May 1; Belle Lake No. 4, Todd, May 7; Richmond, Miller, May 10; Belle Wilmoth, Wilmoth, May 10; Octavia, Lithcage, May 11; Tom Stevens, Dean, May 15; Sam Gaty, Gaty, May 15; Imperial, Smith, May 19; Zephyr, Lowe, May 22.

The Watts struck a heavy floating log, and was obliged to stop for repairs. The Wise was compelled to return to this port for repairs, the steamer Pecony being at her stage to take the cargo and continue the voyage.
