WITHIN a few days a good many pudlers have arrived in this city, from Europe, and found employment. They report that many more are making arrangements to follow shortly. The high prices paid here furnish strong inducements to the immigration of workers in iron.

RIDDLE, Esq., the Union Republican voters of the county of Allegheny will meet at their respective places of holding elections, this afternoon, to elect two Delegates from each election precinct to a County-Convention, to be held at the Court House, in the City of Pittsburgh, on Tuesday next, June 4th, at 11 o'clock A. The meetings will be held in the Wards and Boroughs between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock P. M., and the voting be by ballot. In the Townships between the hours of 4 and 6 P. M., and the delegates chosen by marking.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Executive Committee, the Convention for the selection of Legislative candidates will not be convened until September 3d, 1867, of which due notice will be given in our columns.

IN THESE DAYS of advancement, the injured husband can safely take into his own hands the law and visit the penalty of death upon the unfortunate wight who happens to seduce a frail wife from virtue. Juries are ready to discover insanity in the murderer of a guilty paramour, in their overzealous desire that the prisoner should escape punishment. The feeling may be pardoned as it is quite natural, but such verdicts have a bad effect on society and encourage the perpetration of bloody deeds by those who should seek redress through lawful courts and measures. The telegraph this morning adds one more to the list of insane murderers who have avenged their private wrongs by the taking away of human life. A little judicious hanging of this class of culprits might mend matters and prevent much crime in the future.

THE MOBILE REPUBLICAN has been suppressed by Military authority on the ground that an article directing the Freedmen where, when and how to use firearms excited to breaches of the peace. We know, that Liberty of the Press, as of speech, is often misused. Illustrations of this fact, in considerable numbers, pass under our eyes every day, even in Northern journals, not a few of them Republican in politics. But we do not believe in stopping a man's mouth because he makes a bad use of his tongue, or suppressing a newspaper because its conductor is neither a Solomon nor a Moses. We prefer Freedom, even with some admixture of violence, to the best ordered Despotism that ever existed.

IT WILL be remembered that the Italian Parliament threw out the government bill for disposing of church revenues, because it was too favorable to the ecclesiastics. Since then the King has been negotiating with the Pope on the question, and has promised to assume dictatorial power in case the Parliament shall persist in rejecting the measure. This would be a serious step for the King to take, and the unanimity of the Parliament was so great, and is such manifest accordance with the popular will, that he could hardly expect to maintain a dictatorship without the aid of the Catholic powers.

CHARLES O'CONNOR has given a written opinion to the effect that Slavery has not been legally abolished, the Constitutional Amendment not having been ratified as he thinks it out to be. Slavery was abolished by Proclamation, under Martial Law, and all the lawyers in the country cannot quibble it back into existence. A serious attempt to restore it would lead to "a war of races" that would appall the whole race of hair-splitters. Besides, the revolted States will not get back into the Union until they shall so ratify the Constitutional Amendment as to put its validity beyond cavil.

A BORDER STATE CONVENTION, favorable to manhood suffrage throughout the Union, has been called by the Republican State Committee of Maryland, to assemble in Baltimore on the 12th of September next. Emanating from Maryland, the call will doubtless be responded to by all the border States, and the Convention proves an important public gathering.

THE fresh rumors of another Fenian raid do not frighten the citizens of the Dominion of Canada. The fact is, the Fenians have promised so much, and performed so little, that they have ceased to excite alarm, except for the security of the more reckless among their own number.

THE Atenir National wittily observes that the present situation may be summed up in a single phrase: "Now that we have made peace, let's fight." The tone of the Prussian and French journals, particularly the former, indicates that this is more than a witticism.

THE testimony of Gen. Pope and Col. Shepherd, as to the Mobile riot, is very strong. The riot was premeditated and unprovoked. No wonder Mr. Kelley did not see proper to go back, to give the rascals a chance to shoot at him again!

Whatever cause or principle of policy they pursuing, they will find a faction to oppose their intervention and rise in insurrection. The opposition, they must suppress, as the French would have done, by force of arms, and with little respect to the principle of nationality or independence. Third and Closing Day of Sunday School Convention—Reports from Counties—Black Board Exercises—Lively Discussion on Resolutions from the Committee on Resolutions—National Convention to be held in Pittsburgh Selected as the place of next Convention—Officers Organization Perfected—Closing Matters—Secret Meeting—Girard House—Personal.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 30, 1867.

The morning session was prefaced with a full hour of devotional exercises, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Kennard. At 9 o'clock, President Pollock took the chair, and after some routine matters were disposed of, reports from counties were resumed, commencing with Delaware county. Representations were made from Bradford, Erie, Huntington, Indiana, Lancaster, Lawrence Luzerne, and Mercer counties.

Mr. Jacob Brinkenhoff, of New York, was elected a Corresponding Member of the Convention.

Blackboard exercises were taken up, Mr. McMillan gave a rapid sketch of the manner in which he illustrated his teachings in the Sabbath school. Picture teaching was represented as the clearest mode of getting the children's attention.

Mr. E. J. Cowell spoke of the different methods of teaching. He traced the various stages of human life, and then adverted to the customs of the ancients.

Rev. Alfred Taylor followed with a lengthy black board exercise. His representations were of a striking character, and in his characteristic style. In illustration of teaching he gave a description of the manner he worshipped Baal. He also illustrated various doctrines to show how readily children will learn to find passages of Scripture.

Committees on Resolutions reported on the resolutions referred to them at yesterday's session, in brief, as follows: Thanks to Superintendent of common Schools for his proofs of co-operation and offering facilities to the Sunday School system; fears for the youths of our State entering manhood and womanhood, because of their disposition to absent themselves from the Sabbath Schools; regret expressed that so many worthy books are allowed to be placed in Sunday school libraries, and recommendations in their selection; complaining that while music is indispensible to the interest and efficiency of Sabbath Schools, the range of topics is too limited, both in hymns and tunes; Sunday School institutes, in connection with theological seminaries, commended; grading of schools in separate departments with text books and blackboards, recommended; Bible and tract and will, is the sanctifying influence of the Holy Spirit, as the motive power, be one thing needful, the one great aim, without which all else will fail, in the discussion of these resolutions considerable feeling was given in regard to the phraseology of some of them. Some, however, they passed with little change from the original form.

Afternoon session was opened with the usual devotional exercises, under the direction of Mr. Cook.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, As the great aim of the convention, that the duties and responsibilities of teachers in our Sunday Schools are in many respects analogous to those of the ministry of the gospel, and partake of that solemn and sacred character, it is the duty of every teacher to consider that they are the co-workers with God, and with Jesus Christ, in twining the Lambs of Christ's flock, and that it is their duty to be prayerful and diligently use the talents with which God has entrusted them, and resort to all proper means to fit themselves, both intellectually and spiritually, for their work as teachers, and to remember that the most imperitive cause withdraw from his service) they must account to God. Also, that members of churches who are capable of becoming teachers, and refuse, do not, in addition to an actual, exemplify themselves from a like responsibility.

Rev. Mr. Kennard was present from the Home for little Wanderers, and made some delightful songs. This charity was commended.

The following preamble and resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, The first National Sabbath School Convention ever held in this country, was in the city of Philadelphia, in February, 1859, and as the first decade of years then expires,

Resolved, That the Committee appointed at the last Convention to make arrangements for holding the Convention, of which Mr. George Stuart is chairman, be requested to extend an invitation to the various conventions of the Union to meet in Pittsburgh next year, to meet in this city on the last Tuesday of May, 1867.

Mr. George Cookman moved that another Convention be held on the third Tuesday in May, 1868, which was opposed, after some lively remarks on the representations of various cities in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, &c., Pittsburgh was chosen with great unanimity.

We should have stated that resolutions were adopted in regard to part of the Legislature in reference to the action of the Legislature in regard to the sale of intoxicating drinks on the Sabbath, believing that a field of usefulness is thus opened for increased sabbath School work, and also appointing additional superintendents and teachers to inculcate more thoroughly upon the minds of scholars the importance of a better observance of the Sabbath day.

The Committee on State organization reported a form of constitution for the consideration of the Convention. It was then proposed that the Secretary read the constitution, in brief, as follows: First section—Name of the Association, "Pennsylvania Sabbath Schools; Granting to foreigners the right of promotion the Sabbath School cause; Reorganization of the financial system; Free trade throughout the Empire; Reform of military Schools; granting to foreigners the right of purchasing landed property; Reform of the civil Courts, &c. The Russian Minister received marked honors by the Sultan and the Porte.

The Servian and Roumanian deputies demand that the nationality question be settled before the coronation of Francis Joseph, as King of Hungary.

The King of Italy, in a speech, welcomed the return of Garibaldi. The speech, it is said, was many form no alliances. Other complications may arise. We shall be fortunate if, in this period of peace, we succeed in reorganizing our finances.

Fire in Monongahela Borough.—Yesterday evening about seven o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded from box No. 16, Duquesne Engine House. The alarm was caused by a shed in the rear of McCully's glass works, in Monongahela borough, taking fire. At one time it was feared the fire might communicate with the main building, but by the prompt application of a small quantity of water it was extinguished. The damage was very slight. The engines of the city were on the ground in due time, but their services were not required.

Watch and Chain Stolen at the Fair.—A lady, whose name we were unable to learn, had a valuable watch and chain stolen from her evening before last at the Monumental Fair. The crowd in attendance during the evening was unusually large, and in the jam the watch and chain were pulled off by some adept in the business. Both articles together were valued at two hundred and twenty five dollars. The police have since been on the lookout, but no traces of the missing articles discovered.

The Monumental Fair.

The attendance at the Fair continues unabated. The hall last night was filled with a fashionable audience, who appeared well pleased with the entertainments, and gave literally of their means toward the object for which it is intended. The vote on the

PRIZE ARTICLES

Remains in about the same proportion as reported in yesterday morning's paper. On the Hose carriage the Hope still keeps ahead. The largest vote on the silver horn is for the Good Intent. The vote for the other prize articles remains with the same names in advance as reported yesterday.

THE LAWRENCEVILLE BOOTS

Under charge of Mrs. Leonard S. Johns, not noticed fully in our columns before, has now a full supply of all manner of useful articles on hand to be disposed of at moderate rates. Fancy and domestic articles of all descriptions can be found here, including everything ornamental or useful in a household. Mrs. Johns is assisted in the management of the booth by Misses Bingham, Robinson, Snowden, Faier, Steel, Chambrinais and other young ladies of the borough, who display commendable energy in their work. At this booth can be found photographs of Rev. H. Lee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and which we understand proves a very remunerative article of the exhibition. The table is situated on the right of the hall, No. 3 from the entrance.

THE REFRESH OFFICE.

About the center of the Hall, on the left, have sold off their entire stock of goods, which speaks well for the ladies in charge, but will be supplied with a new stock this morning.

THE SURVEYORS BOOTH

Have had a regalia presented to them by Mr. James Park, valued at thirty dollars, which is to be raffled this evening.

THE "VARIETY"

Have a fine collection of coins and currency to be drawn during the progress of the Fair. This is entirely a cash transaction, and any person investing will certainly get money in exchange. The "Variety" is situated on the right of the hall, near the entrance.

THE THIRD TRUCK

Have received a number of regalias, made by Mr. Jerome Watson, Alderman Butler, charging Full Oakes with the larceny of a spring wagon. The proceeds of the exhibition will be devoted to the benefit of the Birmingham Baptist Church. We earnestly advise our readers to be in attendance, as such rare works of art seldom are seen in the city.

Before Alderman Thomas.—John Sullivan made information before Alderman H. J. Thomas, yesterday, against Martin Flaherty for assault and battery. The parties reside at Elizabeth Blast Furnace. The case was dismissed for want of evidence.

Ruth Morgan made information before the same magistrate charging William Lewis with affiliation. The parties reside at West Elizabeth. A warrant has been issued.

Col. J. Heron Foster, the accomplished editor of the Dispatch, leaves for the Holy Land with the Excursionists, on Monday next. He will be absent several months, during which time he will pay a visit to every nook of the Old Continent. We believe the trip has been undertaken for pleasure and improvement, and we cannot well not keep himself in editorial harness by writing letters to his journal.

Larceny of a Wagon.—Mrs. Mary Dilvine, made information yesterday, before Alderman Butler, charging Full Oaks with the larceny of a spring wagon. The prosecutrix lives in Pennsylvania, in Allegheny, and alleges that Oaks came up with a horse already harnessed, and hooked up to her buggy, and drove off with it. She has not seen it since. The accused was arrested and proved to some extent fully up to the anticipations of his friends.

THE EXCURSION.

The total receipts up to the closing last evening amount to eight thousand five hundred dollars.

After Remorse.

The gentlemen of the Board did others who were in attendance from the city at the mass convention of the friends of the Monongahela Valley Railway project, held at Elizabeth, on Thursday, for the purpose of inaugurating a Samuel Walker, Esq., (and family) of that borough. This venerable and respected citizen cordially received the entertainment and hospitality so liberally given during their stay, at his home-like mansion on the outskirts of that borough, and did everything in his power to contribute to their pleasant and agreeable

Owing to an accident the party was in luminous danger of being kept in the borough all night. An accident, which not only be, regretted by the enterprising members of the press whose purpose was to the minutes of the meeting, for the benefit of readers, next morning but Mr. Thomas Walker, was called in, and his fleet and his two horse wagon drove some fourteen well made and intelligent gentlemen to McKeesport over a road which fully convinced the great necessity for a railway track as a substitute. At McKeesport, he was fortunate found a special train in waiting which had been telegraphed for by Pittsburgh by W. Lippard, Esq., President of the Pittsburgh, President of the Connellsville road. Thus, through the courtesy and generosity of Messrs. Thomas Walker and McHughart, the reporters arrived here safely in season to prepare and lay before the readers of their respective journals, the account of the highly interesting meeting of the day previous.

A Favorite Drive.

Everybody feels like enjoying the pleasant weather after the long season of damp, cold days through which we have passed. Those who have the means at their command are not preferable to the quiet evening ride or horseback, carriage or buggy to some delightful spot over a smooth and compact road. There is but one pleasant drive in our neighborhood, which has a pleasant beginning, a pleasant continuance and a delightful end—the road to Perrysville. Lines are unacquainted with its charms, and equally as few entertain any particular high opinion of the White House at the terminus of the pleasant drive. Under the management of the new proprietor, Mr. Thomas Costanzaza, this hostelry has recently been refitted, the station, and now stands unequaled as a place of entertainment in Western Pennsylvania. Good meals, good attendance, and a well supplied bar, are among the attractions which the new proprietor intends to offer to the public. Address and Cola road.

Drowned in the Allegheny.—Richard Lancaster, colored, employed in the foundry of porter, was drowned off the steamer Ohio in the Allegheny river, opposite Irwin's Critical wharf, on Thursday evening. The body was recovered.

Popular.—The Continental Dining Saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Post-office, under the proprietorship of that popular caterer, Major Sanford, is fast grows more popular. It is one of the best appointed and pleasantest restaurants in the city.

Horses Stolen.—On Wednesday night a fine bay horse and a brown mare were stolen from the stable of Thomas Wightman, on the Greensburg turnpike. A reward of one hundred dollars is offered for the recovery of the horses and the arrest of the thief.

Disorderly Conduct.—Wm. Murdock, acting in a disorderly manner last night on the street, was arrested and taken to the lock up. The prisoner was fined fifteen dollars, but not having that amount, he was committed to jail for fifteen days.

Rev. James S. Dickerson.—This gentleman, having returned from the Holy Land anniversaries at Chicago, is announced
