Widows' Relief Society, Allegheny City.

The annual meeting of this Association was held on Wednesday, October 30th, 1867, and a resolution ordering the publication of the report of the Secretary and Treasurer was passed.

The following officers and managers for the ensuing year were elected:

PRESIDENT—Mrs. Gen. Robinson.
VICE PRESIDENT—Mrs. R. Trevor.
SECRETARY—Mrs. R. W. Poindexter.
TREASURER—Mrs. R. D. Thompson.
MANAGERS.

ANNUAL REPORT.

This Association is moved upon again by the report of their proceedings, and in doing so they wish cordially to express their gratitude to God, the Express of all good, for His blessings and assistance vouchsafed to them in the discharge of their duties during the past year. In the former experience in their work of charity, they feel encouraged to go forward with more earnest devotion to the cause of humanity, trusting in the pecuniary support of all who have heretofore so liberally contributed.

The Society has been in existence (as appears from former reports) nineteen years, and only in eternity will the results of their labors be fully developed.

It is a truism that the world is moving; and under the mighty influence of revolution after revolution, its onward march seems to be more and more rapid; therefore all benevolent and christian enterprises must push forward and keep pace, with the rushing tide to the consummation of all the glorious purposes of God.

Our responsibilities are annually increasing, and we thank God that it is so, as He grants us strength and means commensurate with increased duties. "So far we must be the watch word, and in God time the land will be possessed."

We yet have the poor widows, and unless the inspired teachings of our Divine Master will strive to succor them good.

The following distribution of articles has been made during the past season: 4,500 bushels coal; 300 yards flannel; 600 yards calico; 600 yards muslin; 150 pairs shoes; groceries &c., in various sums. The donation of coal from the Brewer estate is thereby acknowledged. The ladies of the Society look forward to the approaching winter with much solicitude, believing that applications for relief will be more numerous and pressing than in former years, owing to the continued high prices of the common necessaries of life, and the increased want of employment by many who were able heretofore to sustain themselves in comparative comfort. This condition, increased means must be at the command of the Association, and they feel well assured that their pleas will not be in vain.

How many in our midst have received great good at the hand of the Lord during the past year? Then how willingly all such should put forth their hands and their means to help the distressed and "bowed down."

The public can but little appreciate the self denial and labors of the members of the Society in visiting the abodes of the suffering and destitute, not only found in our fashionable and refined thoroughfares, but in narrow and obscure alleys and unwholesome basements and attics. Let us enter upon our new year of labor, looking up to God for guidance and wisdom; that He may make instrumental in turning many souls from darkness unto Christ.

THE WIDOWS' HOME.

The Eighteen months ago, the ladies of the Allegheny Relief Association inaugurated measures to procure a building suitable for a Widows' Home. An appeal was made to the public, and an act of incorporation obtained from the Legislature.

A committee of the following persons was appointed, to make necessary arrangements, to solicit funds, and to purchase property:

Mrs. R. Brunot, Esq., Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Mrs. Marshall, Esq., Mrs. F. R. Brunot, Mrs. Jas. Park, Jr., Esq., Mrs. Dr. Thompson, Mrs. Alex. Nimick, Esq., Mrs. R. D. Thompson, Mrs. Rinaldo Kramer, Esq., Mrs. J. F. M'Laren.

During the summer of 1866 the committee purchased the old Orphan Asylum, for the sum of $15,000.

The object was to provide a home at a mere nominal rent, it being enough to pay expenses, for such poor persons, of the Protestant faith, who are unable to pay an ordinary rent, giving the preference to widows with small children.

The property is held by the Widows' Home Association, which is composed of the Relief Society, and the institution is managed by an Executive Committee of nine ladies, of whom not more than one-third are to be members of the same religious denomination.

The following ladies were the Executive Committee for the past year:

President—Mrs. Wm. Robinson.
Vice President—Mrs. F. R. Brunot.
Secretary—Mrs. J. M. Smith.
Treasurer—Mrs. R. D. Thompson.
Mrs. R. Sands, Mrs. Dr. Trevor,
Mrs. Garman, Mrs. Hogg,
Mrs. Miller.

The Executive Committee of the Widows' Home offer to the public their Annual Report. One year, with rapid flight, has brought us to the first anniversary of the Widows' Home. The long and cherished wish of the Relief Society was to be enabled to establish a Home for Widows. Through years of experience they saw the necessity of it, and an effort was put forth to accomplish the purpose. Providence has smiled on the enterprise and crowned it with success, inspiring many benevolent and generous hearts, out of their abundant means, to cast into this treasury, enabling us to shelter and make comfortable many families of God's poor. The cry of the poor has been responded to, the fatherless children housed, and caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.

Many families have been admitted, some of them taken from gloomy garrets and damp cellars, and placed in this cheerful home. There are a few of these very aged and infirm, and from their gratefulness and the ascend many prayers for providing a home for them in their declining years. One widow in a short time will have completed her one hundredth year, and several others are almost as old, waiting for the summons that will take them to their heavenly home. Some are hard-working and industrious widows, having a small rent to pay, they are enabled to provide more plentifully out of their hard earnings for their little ones. One widow, who has three little children, teaches school in the building. She, getting her school-room free of charge, teaches the children of the Home without any other remuneration.

Lord's Day exercises and weekly prayer-meetings have been held during the year in the Home by the inmates, and considerable religious fervor has been manifested.

No deaths have occurred; and many thanks are due Dr. Miller for his untiring solicitude in visiting the inmates gratuitously when called upon.

From the number of applications made during the past year, the Committee are convinced the accommodations are too small to meet the demand, and, having room on the present location to erect tenements, and wishing to increase the amount of good done, we appeal to a philanthropic public to assist us in this object. Blessed are they who consider the poor, and have respect unto the lowly, they shall receive their reward.

J. M. SMITH, Secretary.

MARY C. THOMPSON, Treasurer.

Allegheny City Temperance League.

The regular meeting of the Allegheny City Temperance League was held Tuesday evening, in the Rev. Dr. Pressley's (United Presbyterian) Church, in the Diamond.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. A. K. Bell, of Sandusky street Baptist Church.

Vice President Blair in the chair. W. J. Freeborn and W. G. Warren, Secretaries.

The speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. A. M. Milligan, of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, was introduced by the President. He addressed the large and intelligent audience upon the effect of alcoholic drinks upon the human system, showing by argument and statistical facts that the life of the temperate man is the true basis whereby man can live to his own honor and the glory of God; and concluded by showing the trade of the rumseller to be spreading ruin and desolation broadcast among his fellow creatures. He said that the time had fully come when the maker and vender and drinker of alcoholic spirits should not be allowed any longer to hide in the membership of the Church, and asserted the rights of the Church and people to appeal to the law makers of the Commonwealth for the prohibition of the manufacture of alcoholic drinks.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker for his able address.

Notice was given that the next meeting of the League will be held in Penn Avenue M. E. Church, on Tuesday evening, 26th of November.

Adjourned with benediction by Rev. Milligan.

Central Board of Education.

The Central Board of Education met Tuesday evening, November 12th, 1867. Present: Messrs. Crawford, Getty, Lowe, McCook, Nobbs, Oldshue, Sergeant, Wilson, and Brunk, President.

The minutes of the proceeding meeting were read and approved.

The monthly reports of the Principal of the High School, Principal of the Colored School, and of the Secretary were read and ordered to be received and filed.

A communication from the "Iron City League," proposing to lease the hall of the new Colored School building on Miller street. Read and referred to Committee on Colored School Building.

A report, signed by Messrs. Edward House, David McClelland, and Rev. John C. Gallaher, Committee appointed by Councils to audit the accounts of the Central Board of Education, was presented. Read and accepted, and ordered to be published in Gazette and Dispatch.

A communication from Mathew Jones, recommending the names of Archie Billlows, James Crews, Thomas H. Knox, Charles Jones and Manuel Jackson as janitors of the Colored School. Read and referred to Committee on Colored School.

On motion adjourned.

Accident.—Yesterday afternoon, about one o'clock, a hod carrier named Michael Murphy missed his footing while ascending with a hod of mortar on his shoulder from the ladder to the roof of D. S. Galway's Mail House, on Penn street, and tumbled to the ground, a distance of some twenty feet, where he was laid senseless by the side of the building. He was injured, having his spinal column injured, besides having his head cut and bruised. He was conveyed to his residence in the Fifth ward, and he was attended by Dr. T. J. Gallaher, under whose skillful treatment he will doubtless recover.

WEST VIRGINIA.

The Fairmont Vidette says: "One day last week, the wife of C. A. Swearingen of Palatine—an aged lady, full and shrunk her face against the stump of a comrade, decorating her face badly. Erysipelas resulted, and at the time of writing she is lying in a very dangerous condition. Mr. C. A. Swearingen died on Thursday from the effects of her injury. She was about 80 years, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 12, 1867.

Gold was firmer to-day without any material advance; nevertheless, the tendency is for lower rates before any basis of a rise can be established. It is too expensive to carry gold for any length of time, and the United States Treasury is likely to be in the market with a large lot to counteract the movement of Stevens, Butler, and other politicians of the same school. It is now not only the secretary of the Treasury, but the whole Congress and every member of the Cabinet that will endeavor to bring about specie payments, or at least prepare the way and move on cautiously a step back now would be more fatal to the commercial interests of the country than two years ago, and would ruin one-third of the tradesmen and those laborers who had saved a little money during the war and inflation. Our exports of cotton are increasing, and exchange is lower now than it was at any time during the last two years, and is likely to continue, on account of shipments of ten-forty bonds.

Government securities are firm, and though the demand is light for permanent investment, Wall street is ready to take any amount that now is offered, in order to get interest, and still have an available security.

The stock market is dull except in Express stocks, but which are selling far above their actual values. Mining shares are in better demand, and are likely to command better prices before the end of the year.

—The receipts of the Sub Treasury for the past week are said to amount to about $1,500,000 to the $414,000 reported last month. On the expediency of the agitation the Financial Chronicle has the subjoined observation:

"These bonds have just been introduced into the London and European markets, where they are expected to be received with favor. It is well known that the provision made explicitly by law that the principal and interest of these bonds shall be paid in coin. The secret issue of these bonds, but more are supposed to have been issued, but there is no reason why such issue has been made is not known, as it has been contrary to all precedent, and not through the usual channels have in the Sub-Treasury, but through the Assistant Treasurer, who has caused inquiries to be made, and we are informed that there have been no new issues for the present. We are scarcely able to conceive that these ten-forties is at the present moment, or, if not, it might be sufficient to state that, in face of the Continental European demand, a policy might thus be excited, since, if we are correctly informed, the issue of the London Stock Exchange not to admit any securities issued by the Government, unless they represent bonds been definitely closed up."

The Philadelphia Press says: There has been a limited demand for ten-forties for export, and a leading dealer, it is said, has supplied a large amount of the government about $1,000,000 of the bonds, which have recently been issued by the Secretary of the Treasury. It appears, however, that the Secretary of the Treasury is now having every facility afforded him by the Sub-Treasury, which are being introduced to the foreign markets, with a view to meeting the apparent foreign demand, concluded that it was inexpedient to carry any more of the bonds in his possession, and authority to issue, probably thinking it certain that the market would be flooded upon a short supply, should put up the price of the bonds. Notwithstanding, it is asserted, and believed upon the street, that the government is still a seller of the bonds, and that he is prepared to supply the market to all extent required.

—Says the Chicago Tribune, of Monday: The general business of the city was less active than for some days past, owing to the stringency, which shows a falling off of over one-third in the receipts of currency at the banks. The demand for discounts is quite active, and the indications point to an easier feeling. For legitimate purposes there is no difficulty in obtaining accommodations, but speculative paper is not in demand. The receipts of shipments of currency, so the interior are on a very limited scale, while the inflow now is steadily increasing. The bank rate is from 6 to 10 per cent. In the market the rates range from 1½ to 3½ per cent. monthly.

—The Philadelphia Ledger says: The very low currency balances of $22,000,000 in the hands of the Treasurer on the 1st of November is regarded with some uneasiness, as indicating that Government will find it necessary to sell coin or bonds in order to provide itself with funds. At no period within the last two years have the debt statements been so extremely favorable as now, while the average balances have been $40,000,000. The conditions of the money market have led to the supposition that the banks can gain currency from the Treasury during this month.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 12, 1867.

CRUDE—There is no change in the weather and the indications for an early hard freeze are unfavorable, have a tendency to stiffen the market, especially for spot oil, of which the market is almost bare, and while prices are unchanged, there is evidently a stronger feeling for immediate delivery. We can report a sale of 2000 bbls on spot, at 10c; 1336 at 10¼c, and 150 at 9¾c, bbl returned. While there are no means of ascertaining exactly, it is estimated that there are not over ten thousand barrels of spot oil in this market outside of that in the hands of refiners, and this, comparatively speaking, amounts to nothing, as it would hardly stock one of our small refineries—some of the largest have tankage for 76,000, and even 100,000 barrels.

REFINED—There was also a stronger feeling, apparently, in the market for bonded oil to-day, especially for December, which is from ¼ to 1 cent higher than last Monday. The sales, as will be seen, were pretty large in the aggregate, reaching nine thousand barrels, notwithstanding there were but four different sales reported, as follows: 1000 bbls, 60c for each month in 1868, at 20c; 1000, 60c cash for January, and February, at 27c; 1000 for December, at 29c; and 5000 for same month at 30c. Late in the day, there were offers reported for the month last named at 30½c, and 31c might probably have been obtained. As a general thing, but few of our refiners care about entering into any contracts at present prices, particularly as the prospects are for an early bulk rise are by no means encouraging.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 12, 1867.

The general markets continue dull and neglected, and while there is a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, the transactions are mainly of an unimportant character, and we have but few round lots operations to report. The stringency in money matters prevents anything like a speculative feeling, and besides the uncertainty in regard to values tends very much to restrict business generally.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; we quote at $2.40@2.45 for Red, and $2.70 to $2.75 for prime White. Rye is dull, buyers and sellers being apart; the former are offering $1.25 to $1.30 for Spring, while the latter, as a general thing, are asking $1.35. Oats firm and in fair demand but unchanged; sales at 40c on track, and 42@43c in store. Corn is dull and drooping; sale of 160 bush Shelled at $1.21, delivered; also, 400 bushs at $1.18, delivered; new crop is quoted at 80@90c. Rye is in moderate demand at $1.20.

FLOUR—There is only a moderate demand, and while the market is very dull, prices are weak, though unchanged. We continue to quote at $10@10.50 for Spring Wheat; $12@12.50 for Winter Wheat, and $16@18 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $6.75@7 per bbl, and Buckwheat, $5.50 per cwt.

BACON—Is dull, and as the season is about over, and stocks are very nearly exhausted, prices are nominal at 15¼@15½c for Shoulders; 16@16½c for Ribbed Sides; 16c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 20½c for Canvassed do.

LARD—Is dull at 15½@16c.

MESS PORK—Quoted at $22@22.50.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand, and prime to choice Roll may be quoted at 28@30c. Common packed is dull and neglected.

EGGS—The demand is more active, and with diminished arrivals, the market is firmer, and fresh packed may be quoted at 30@32c.
