THE COURTS.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

Court met at ten o'clock Tuesday. The grand jurors were called, and a sufficient number answering, Hon. C. L. Lamberton, of Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, was appointed Foreman. The jurors having taken their places in the box, His Honor Judge McCandless briefly charged them as to their duties.

A jury was called into the box and cases of the United States vs. Sarah Webber, late Postmistress at Franklin, were taken up. Mrs. Webber was appointed Postmistress in May, 1860, and continued in the position until April, 1866, at which time it appeared she was indebted to the Government in the sum of $1722.64. Her official bond, with Hon. Arnold Plumer and R. L. Cochran as sureties, was for $600, which being less than the amount of indebtedness, suit was brought not only on the bond against Mrs. Webber and her sureties, for the amount of the penalty, but also against Mrs. Webber individually for $1297.70, (interest included,) the amount required to make up the deficiency. Verdicts were given for the United States in both cases for the amounts claimed.

United States vs. John M. Cummings, late Postmaster at New Washington, et al. On motion of District Attorney Carnahan judgment was entered for the penalty of the bond, $300; to be released on payment of $200, being the balance of debt and interest, in default of an appearance and plea.

James Conner vs. D. D. Yohe. Proceeding in bankruptcy, before a jury. This case occupied the remainder of the session.

District Court—Judge Williams.

TUESDAY, Jan. 28.—Court met at ten o'clock.

It being understood that the jury in the Armstrong County ejectment cases of Bradford vs. Guthrie, McCaslin and others—had not yet decided upon a verdict, standing eleven to one, as in Monday evening, it was agreed by the counsel on both sides that the conclusion of the eleven should be received as the verdict in the case. The verdict was accordingly rendered and recorded as follows: "January 28, 1868, that they find for the defendants by the statute of limitations." The minority was Mr. Alex. Pentley, of Allegheny. The counsel in the case were Messrs. Golden, Phelps and Purviance for plaintiffs, and Messrs. Lucas, Barclay and Boggs for defendants.

In the case of John Young vs. Little Saw Mill Run Railroad Company (reported yesterday) action for damages for injuries received, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,000. Kirkpatrick and Mellon for plaintiff. N. P. and C. S. Fetterman for defendants.

Hanna, Hart & Co. vs. Pittsburgh, Warrenville and Geneva United States Mail Line. Action to recover $2,216.54, alleged aggregate of monies owing plaintiffs by defendants, and paid by plaintiffs to defendants as bankers over and above credits for funds deposited on checks drawn by James McDonald, the general agent of defendants, which checks were drawn and moneys paid thereon for the use of defendants, and at their instance and request, in payment for provisions and supplies for their steamboats, repairs and work to and upon said boats, &c. On trial. Yeard and Son for plaintiffs, M. W. Acheson for defendants.

Following is the list for Wednesday.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

Court met at ten o'clock Tuesday.

The case of Commonwealth vs. Barbara Brawdy, indictment for keeping a bawdy house, was resumed and concluded, the jury finding a verdict of guilty. Mrs. Brawdy was sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, and to undergo a five year's imprisonment in the county jail.

Arthur Ehrenberg, of McKeesport, was placed on trial on an indictment, the first count of which charged him with selling or disposing of liquor to a man of intemperate habits, and the second count with furnishing liquor to a parent against the wishes of his child not to do so. The evidence did not justify a conviction, it not appearing that the liquor was furnished by the defendant, but by his bar-keeper, without his knowledge. Verdict not guilty, the defendant and prosecutor, J. H. Robinson, each to pay one-half the costs.

H. Siples and John and James Powers were parties in cross-suits, Siples being defendant in an indictment for assault and battery, and the Powers brothers defendants in an indictment for felonious assault and battery. The parties had a difficulty in Allegheny city, during which blows were exchanged and Siples struck on the head with a sad iron. The Powers were acquitted, the prosecutor, Siples, to pay the costs. Siples was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and to undergo twenty days imprisonment.

Thomas Davis was called to answer an indictment, the first count charging seduction, and the second fornication and bastardy, Kate Dennison prosecutrix. Defendant plead guilty to the second count, which was accepted. Sentence deferred.

August Hahn, of McKeesport, was indicted for selling liquor to minors, convicted, and sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

Ann Hackham was placed on trial on an indictment charging her with being a common scold, Thomas Foley prosecutor. The parties reside at Woods Run, in McClure township. On trial.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

TUESDAY, January 28.—In the case of Michael Hagemeier vs. Hergenroether & Hann, reported yesterday, the jury found a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $47.30.

Patrick O'Connor vs. Keyran Bracken. Action to recover a balance of an account for settlement. Defendant was a contractor for street grading in Lawrenceville, and plaintiff, who was in his employ, claims to have done work to the amount of $913.20, but upon a settlement he was allowed $790. Suit is brought to recover the difference, $123.20. On trial.

Larceny by Bailee.

James Morrison made oath before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging Margaret Bain alias Kate Blanchard alias Kate Thompson, with larceny by bailee. It appears that the prosecutor was the possessor of a number of beds and a quantity of bedding, which, having no use for, he loaned to the accused, with the understanding that they were to be returned when called for. The goods were delivered to her, but finding the business in which she had embarked an unprofitable one, she concluded to close out and quit, and instead of returning the borrowed property disposed of it to J. Spang, a dealer in second hand articles in the Ninth ward. Subsequently the prosecutor called for his goods, but failed to find either the goods or the woman who had borrowed them. A warrant was issued, but the accused has not yet been found. The goods, however, were found and taken possession of by the officers.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—A large and fashionable audience attended the Opera House last evening to see the Florences in "Kathleen Mavourneen." Their rendition of the piece was excellent, better by far than we have ever seen it rendered here or elsewhere, and the audience were highly delighted with it. The afterpiece, "The Returned Volunteer," with Florence as Bill Williams, is uncomparable in its way. To-night they will appear in "Irish Assurance and Yankee Modesty."

OHIO NEWS.

—Thurman is President of the Columbus Pendleton Club.

—A. Banning Norton, formerly of Mount Vernon, is dead.

—Gen. Keifer made a good Radical speech at Delaware on Monday evening.

—The Elyria, town hall is completed, seats 750 people and cost $30,000, just $40,000 less than the Opera House.

—On Monday the house of Captain Barber, in Ashland, was burned and damaged by fire and water to the extent of several thousand dollars.

—General D. W. H. Day—a good man every way—is Quartermaster General of Ohio, and H. G. Coval, of Ashtabula, is the Governor's Aid-de-Camp.

—Ex-Mayor Samuel Handy and wife celebrated their golden wedding in Oberlin on the 13th inst. A delightful evening was spent by all who were invited.

—Hon. James Eaton, of Delaware, O., recently paid his fifteen subscription—invariably in advance—to the Gazette of that place. He may be called a regular subscriber.

—Ashland, Ohio, has a home made negro minstrel troupe, which tickles the people immensely with good songs and quaint local hits. It is called by the inexplicable name of Quasicyzzpezian.

—The Hancock Courier says: A widower in that town was married a few days ago at a church, making a "big splurge" with a brass band. After the interesting ceremony, the band struck up that old and familiar air, "My wife's dead and I've got another one." Appropriate.

—James Dee was shot in the abdomen, and fatally wounded in Dayton, on the evening of the 16th, in a disturbance which occurred at an evening party, but in which he had taken no part. Several arrests were made. Dee's funeral took place on Sunday. Pistols and slung shots are the order of the day and night in Dayton.

—The Ashtabula (O.) Sentinel says the snow at that place was almost blackened by millions of small insects on the 16th and 17th of January. They are called snow fleas, though a microscopic examination shows them to be quite different from fleas. They are black, with two prominent feelers and long body, and in shape resembling the large pinching bug, and as active as grasshoppers. They appear to come up through the snow, from the ground, play on the surface of it and return into it.

—The Mount Vernon Banner says: A wicked man named Marion Bradfield, residing in Clay township, Knox county, eloped on the 4th inst., with a naughty woman by the name of Elbert, wife of Harrison Elbert, of the same township. After indulging their unholy passions for a couple of weeks, the couple returned to their respective residences looking as mean as the possible for white people to look. We presume there will be another divorce suit in Court at the next term.

—The shoe peg factory at Fostoville, belonging to the firm of Grant, Clough & Powers, and employing some 25 hands, was entirely destroyed by fire on the night of the 14th inst, involving a loss—the insurance having run out—of some $10,000. The business of making pegs and clothes pins, is said to have been carried on with considerable energy and success, and besides the pecuniary loss to a worthy firm, the community feel the effect of the casualty upon the general industry of the place.—Ashtabula Telegraph.

—About six o'clock on Wednesday morning, the 15th inst., the alarm of fire was given at the centre, and the steam saw mill owned by Edwin Davis, was discovered to be on fire, and in a short time the entire building was wrapped in flames. Origin of the fire unknown. The mill had been running for several weeks, and the night before, Mr. Davis left, as he supposed, everything safe. The loss is a severe one for Mr. D., there being no insurance. In connection with the mill was a shingle machine, owned by Benson, Mitchell & Searles, which also a total loss.—Ashtabula Exchange.

—The Clinton Republican says: A week or two ago a seeming gentleman stopped at Clinkerville, and made inquiries about the farms adjoining the village. He circulated around among the farmers, ostensibly in search of a farm for a homestead. He finally succeeded in finding just such a one as he desired, and was to pay the stipulated price in cash. The farmer had his farm surveyed, at a cost of about twenty-five dollars, and then awaited his purchaser, but he came not. The next night a store was broken open in Ogden, and some clothing and other articles of minor value stolen. The thief was arrested and brought to Wilmington, where he was lodged in jail. Two days after he was released on a writ of habeas corpus, and disappeared instanter. This was the delightful "smooth down" kind operator.

—The Scieto (Chillicothe) Gazette says: Wm. Spencer, a young man about twenty-five years of age, with several comrades, started into the woods Wednesday last for a hunt. During the day, while on Mt. Logan, he got up on a log to take a look around him. While doing this, he set the butt of his gun, a sixteen, the barrel resting in the hollow of the left arm. While in this position the gun slipped from the leg to the ground, striking the lock in its descent and discharging the contents of the gun, buck shot, into the upper portion of Spencer's left arm, tearing away arteries, tendons and flesh. His companions assisted him as speedily as possible to the nearest house, and dispatched at once for a physician. Dr. Scarce answered the call immediately, but before he could arrive the amputation from loss of blood was so great as to make recovery impossible. Spencer was conveyed to the home of his mother, where he linger in a most lamentable condition until Thursday afternoon, when he expired.

—An Elyria, Ohio, paper, says: A disgraceful fight occurred at the school house in the Cunningham district, in this township, last Wednesday. It appears that there are several young men attending the school who assume to do as they please, and one letter the less literacy been compelled to leave this winter. The Directors employed another, Mr. Northrop, who commenced his school on Monday of last week. On Wednesday one of the ruffians refused to comply with the request of the teacher, to take his place in the spelling class, and when the teacher attempted to enforce his request, three more ruffians planted themselves in his way, and a general fight ensued. During the melee one of the Directors entered the house and went to the teacher's assistance, when they pounced upon him, and before the fight was ended he was badly beaten in the face. Neither party finally conquered, which is the worst feature in the case. The unruly ruffians were finally expelled from the school.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, December 28, 1867.

Gold opened at 141½, advanced to 141¾, declined to 141¼, advanced 141¾, and closed dull and drooping at 141¾. The demand for gold is still very light, and people are free sellers at present quotation. Should Congress pass any laws that would lead to retrenchment and make it comprehensible to every one that this Government is going to pay the current expenses and the interest on the public debt without either increasing for the present the indebtedness nor levying any additional taxes, we may look for a very decided rise in gold. Government securities are not likely to be made this session, which makes the Treasury seven millions stronger for the time being.

The sudden and steady rise in Government bonds during the last three weeks has at last brought out a strong party to realize, in consequence of which, the market suffered a considerable decline, averaging from ¼ to ⅝ per cent. Five Twenties of 1862 and 1863 are dull; this decline is expected to bring out large amounts of bonds, and though they may recover, it will check the investment demand for the present and throw the floating amounts entirely on speculators.

The stock market is off a little, but on the whole, is remarkably firm, with smaller transactions. Pittsburgh is the strongest on the market.

The decision of the Supreme Court, restoring the Connellsville Railroad charter, has caused some inquiry for the stock; the bonds seem to be entirely above those of the buyers, that little can be effected. We will try to-morrow to give a correct idea of the stock; the bonds shaved hands at from 72 to 75 per cent. during the last few days, and stock at 19 to 19¼.

Closing New York quotations, received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

—Judge Clerke, of New York, has recently decided that silver paper became the standard, and specie was no longer the current money, a promise to pay gold was equivalent to a promise to pay silver, and consequently a creditor was therefore entitled to its market value in specie, and that a creditor is entitled to a mere agreed to pay him in gold and specie was at par, the debt was a simple promise to pay money, and could be discharged by paying $100 in paper currency; but if he sued the promise to pay $100 in gold after the latter ceased to be current, and was selling at a premium, he would be required to pay the market value of the gold dollars in the legal tenders. The New York Journal of Commerce says:

"This decision is sacred at, but there is evidently something in it. If the debtor, instead of tendering the specie, had tendered the paper, and promised to deliver 2,580 grains of coined gold at the time of the call, he would probably be held to the specific performance of the contract, and compelled to take the trouble of collecting the market value of these grains of gold in currency, or of requiring the actual delivery of the specified weight in gold. The decision, if it means that so many dollars in gold may, in the higher courts, be held to be so many dollars in the table in paper, instead of the market value of the specified gold dollars, the most important point to be settled is so clearly and distinctly that we cannot see how it can be before the courts. It was great that Congress has the right to coin money and regulate the value, but we doubt if it ever could, or would, be so great as to make recovery impossible. If Spencer was conveyed to the home of his mother, where he linger in the most lamentable condition until Thursday afternoon, when he expired.

PITTSBURGH SAMPLES.
OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, January 28, 1868.

There is really but little that is new or important to be said about the general markets. As a general thing, dullness is the order of the day, and while for some articles there is a slightly improved demand, the volume of business, in the aggregate, is light, and in prices there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is in steady demand, and in limited supply; the mills are taking all that offers at $2 for prime Red, and $2.65 for White. Oats steady but unchanged—44@46c. on track, and 45@50c. in store. Barley is scarce and wanted; Spring may be quoted at $1.80@1.85. Rye is still quoted at $1.40@1.45. Ear Corn is scarce and in demand, with sales at $1.00@1.10; sale of 1 car shelled at $1.05, and 1 car in ears, at $1.05.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Flour, and prices have undergone no change. We continue to quote at $11@11.50 for Spring Wheat; $12@13.50 for Winter Wheat, and; $14.50@15.50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is steady at $5.50. Buckwheat is dull and unchanged at $4.50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is still quoted at 10½c for Shoulders; 12¾c for Ribbed Sides, and 16@16½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle Lard, 12@12½c, in tierces, and 13¼@14c, in kegs. Mess Pork, $27. Dried Beef, 10c.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at 35@40c.

EGGS—Under the influence of increased arrivals, are a shade lower, and we now quote at 28@30c.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is being sold at $7.50@8. Flaxseed is in steady demand, and crushers are paying $2.35, for small lots—a round lot would bring a higher figure. But little doing in Timothy.

MILL FEED—Is scarce and firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at $1.60@1.65 for Bran; $1.70@1.75 for Seconds, and $2.00@2.25 for Middlings.

HAY—But little baled offering at present prices. Regular sales from country wagons at $32@34.

APPLES—Is steady demand, and with a diminished supply, prices are firm and well sustained; we continue to quote at $1.50@1.55 for Bran; $1.70@1.75 for Seconds, and $2.00@2.25 for Middlings.

HAY—But little baled offering at present prices. Regular sales from country wagons at $32@34.

APPLES—Is steady demand, and with a diminished supply, prices are firm and well sustained; we continue to quote at $1.50@1.55 for good, and $2.00@3 per barrel for prime to choice.

POTATOES—Dull but unchanged; small sales in store at $1.10@1.15 per bushel, and $2.25@2.50 per bbl as to quality.

HOMINY—Is firm and dull and dropping; sales to the trade at $4.75@5 per bbl.

BEANS—Quiet at the advance; prime white are still quoted at $2.25@2.35 per bushel.

LARD OIL—Is still quoted at 80c for No. 2, and $1.10 for No. 1.
