RIVER NEWS.

Both rivers were falling slowly last evening with seventeen feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather wet and very disagreeable, which tended somewhat to retard out door business. Mercury at 4 P. M., 42.

The Kenton was expected in last night and will return to Portsmouth to-day, as usual at 4 P. M. Capt. Wash Kerr in command.

The Wauanita from New Orleans is due here to-morrow.

The Mollie Ebert departed for St. Louis and Missouri River yesdteray, with a good trip, including six hundred tons of freight, and one hundred cabin passengers. Pilots—Capt. G. W. Ebert and Jacob Poe.

The Emma No. 3, departed for New Orleans with a splended trip, having all the freight she could take, probably 700 tons, and a fair number of passengers. The great bulk of her cargo is for Memphis and New Orleans. Pilots—John Ferguson and Tom Morris.

The Ida Rees No. 2, departed for St. Louis and Fort Benton, with a fair freight list and engagements below, sufficient to fill out. Pilots—Barney Given and Andy Bunting.

The Armadillo is on the dock undergoing repairs. She will be ready for business next week.

—The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, is filling up steadily, and will be the first boat out for Nashville.

—The Robt. Burns and Maggie Hays were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—The wharfmaster at Evansville is planting locust posts, with ring bolts attached, on the levee for the convenience of steamers.

—The George W. Cheek, in backing out from Memphis, tore off sixty feet of the larboard guard of the Coosa, damaging her to the amount of $500.

—Reports of the sale of the G. A. Thomson for $10,000 are premature. It is reported that the purchasing parties backed out, and bought the Lady Grace.

—The keel is laid, and most of the frame is up, of the new United States Mail Line steamer now being built by James Howard & Co., at Jeffersonville. The boat will be completed in sixty days.

—The Importer has carried over 11,000 bales of cotton out of the Arkansas river country during the present season. She is said to have made more money than any other upper river boat that went South.

—The Collossal, Capt. M. A. Cox, is now ready for engagements to St. Louis and Missouri River, clear up to Fort Benton. She is a brand new boat, and is considered one of the best yet built for the mountain trade.

—Saturday night, as the steamer New York was receiving a lot of hay at Twelve-mile Point, a bale of hay, weighing 400 pounds, was rolled against one of the crew, knocking him over a bluff bank and injuring him severely.

—The new and splended Northern Line steamer Minneapolis, Capt. T. B. Rhodes, is almost finished and will commence business within a day or two. Here is a chance for persons going west, and one that they should take advantage of.

—A meeting of the citizens of Charleston, West Virginia, was held on the 20th inst., which adopted a resolution that this meeting recommend to the merchants and business men of Wheeling and Charleston, to establish, as early as possible, a weekly line of steamers to ply between these cities.

—On Friday the case of Charles Lattimer vs. the city of Columbus was decided in the United States District Court at Columbus by the jury returning a verdict for the defendant. Lattimer claimed $100,000 damages for the loss of the steamer B. P. Cheeney, which was captured by the Confederates at Columbus in August, 1861.

—A floating hotel is to be opened on the Hudson river. A steamboat is to be towed to Pollipell's Island, in Newburgh Bay, near Cornwall, where she will be permanently anchored. She will be thoroughly overhauled and repaired, refurnished and repainted, and so altered as to convert her into a first-class summer boarding-house.

—The Mississippi was open at Winona on the 26th inst., at this place, says the St. Paul Pioneer, the ice still holds, although it is covered with water, and wears a blackish look, a sure indication that it is washing away very rapidly. The river is rising very fast, and river men are making conjectures as well as bets upon a speedy moving of the ice in front of the city.

—The steamer Pilot, a small craft on the Wabash River, brought to Clinton, says a Vincennes exchange, a big cargo of unhonered women from Terre Haute. The citizens of Clinton, learning this, turned out en masse and stoned her—the boat. The Pilot cut loose and moved along with her precious cargo. Served them right. They deserved to be stoned for attempting to harass and misguide that innocent village.

—The New Albany Ledger, of Monday, thus refers to the Dexter: On Saturday, there was a meeting of the creditors of the boat, when the owners proposed to deliver her up to their order. The owners voluntarily, on their part, made the proposition, and it was agreed that the boat should be sold by Capt. Sam Montgomery, for their benefit. We understand that the debts of the boat amount to over $50,000. The Dexter cost over $100,000, and is only one year old. She is rated a first-class boat, and ought to bring at least $75,000.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, has heard it said that Capt. Asa Shepard, late of the America, has been an owner in twelve steamboats that have been lost by accident and misfortune, and that he never was owner in a boat that was not "unlucky".....We clip the following from the same paper: Capt. Geo. Wolf was yesterday morning united in marriage with Miss Penelope Lemonade, at the Episcopal Church, Newport, Ky. Attendants were his friend, Major S. P. Armstrong, at Cincinnati, and her friend, Miss Lavalette Davidson, Indianapolis. The bride is reputed to be the most beautiful lady in Campbell county, Kentucky.
