Was it a still hunt, Chairman Fisher?

We can expect few rougher days this winter than last Monday.

Jacob J. Miller, Esq., of Pittsburg, is attending court in Somerset this week.

Editor H. F. Snyder, of the Connellsville Courier, spent Monday and Tuesday in Somerset.

Notwithstanding the bitter fight that was made against Poor Director Woy, he bolts up serenely along with the rest of the ticket.

Weckenbleiker and Musser, the men now on trial in our Courts for burglary, are a bigger attraction than the average circus.

Consult Nathan's new advertisement in another column of this paper, if you would learn where the greatest bargains are to be secured.

There is a larger attendance at court this term than for some time past. The Stonycreek burglars are being tried and much interest is manifested in their cases.

The engineers under Division Engineer Miller have all been assigned their residencies on his division, and will commence the work, immediately preliminary to construction, on or about the 15th.

That staunch Republican, Albert Wright, and his wife, of Stonycreek township, paid the HERALD office a friendly call Friday morning. The local editor is indebted for a bag of choice eating apples which they brought with them.

W. L. Woodcock, Esq., of Altoona, Pa., will deliver his famous lecture entitled, "Ireland and the Irish," at Berlin, Saturday evening, November 17th, in the M. E. Church, the proceeds to be donated to the M. E. Sabbath School.

A large number of railroad contractors among them some of the most prominent in the United States, have been looking over the sections of the South Pennsylvania Railroad, in this county advertised for contract, during the past ten days.

Monday morning Mr. William S. Kreger, of this place, entered the employ of T. C. Jenkins, of Pittsburgh. "Billy" will travel over the territory heretofore allotted to Harry Stahl, and as he is a first-class man in every respect we know that he will have a large trade. The firm that has secured his services will find that they have made a good selection.

"Mountaineer" writes us from Sand Patch that the B. and O. Railroad station at that place was entirely destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock on Monday Morning. The fire originated from a defective flue. The company loses nothing by the burning of the building, it having been condemned some time ago by the officials of the company. The company lost 17 barrels of car oil, and a lot of old traps and trash.

Our good friends at Salisbury are diverted over a wonderful display of intelligence in animal. Dennis Wagner, the well-known and popular landlord of that town, is an uncompromising Democrat, notwithstanding which fact he is the owner of a pet coon. Tuesday night, before Salisbury had heard the election returns from the State, his coonship seems to have received special dispatches announcing that he was on top, for he forthwith made a dash for Dennis's finest rooster, which he knocked out in the first round, leaving him dead in the ring. Dennis didn't want anything said about it for fear his neighbors would tease him, but bless your bears, Wagner, we won't tell anybody.

ROLLER MILL AT SOMERSET.—On Saturday last Mr. W. H. Reitz, the popular miller of Stonycreek, this county, purchased from J. H. Zimmerman the Somerset Steam Grist Mill, for the sum of $1,800 cash, taking immediate possession. Mr. Reitz informs us that he will, as soon as practicable, convert it into a first class roller mill, adopting all the late improvements, including the "gradual reduction roller process machinery," which will enable him to manufacture flour equal to any in the market. A first class mill has long been wanted in Somerset, and now that Mr. Reitz has decided to supply this want, he should receive such encouragement from our farmers and merchants as the enterprise demands.

A charter was issued by the State Department at Harrisburg on Thursday last for a new railroad, to be known as the Delaware Water Gap and Southwestern Railroad Company. The line of which will extend from Hyndman, Bedford county, to a point in Smithfield township, Monroe county, at or near the Delaware Water Gap, a distance of 225 miles, running through Bedford, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Snyder, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Carbon and Monroe counties. The capital stock is $9,400,000. The directors are Christopher Fallon, of Philadelphia, president; Reese D. Fell, A. C. Lindsay, W. E. Taylor, G. M. Kinsler, Joseph J. McGirr, Edward R. Fell, George W. Hobson and C. R. Hoskins, all of Philadelphia. There are 188,000 shares of a par value of $50 each, of which Reese D. Fell holds 50,000 shares.

At precisely fourteen minutes of four o'clock Saturday morning the entire male population of Somerset, in almost all stages of dress and undress, might have been seen rushing from all points of the compass to the Diamond. The general exodus was caused by the alarm of fire, which had been raised one minute before. The third floor of the old Mansion House, owned by Albert Recke, and occupied by his brother Max, with his bakery and confectionery, was blazing fiercely. The chemical engine was promptly on the ground, bucket lines were formed, ladders run up the adjoining buildings, and in almost less time than it takes to write it, such a fight was being made against the progress of the flames as only people who have seen their all licked up by the devouring element know how to make. The outside conditions were all favorable, as there was scarcely a breath of wind, and the light rain that had been falling nearly all night had thoroughly soaked the roofs of the adjoining buildings. The fire originated in the rear room of the third floor at the northwest corner, and rapidly spread to the hall and stairway. Max Recke was sleeping in a front room on the second floor, and when awakened found his escape cut off by the flames, but good men and true were fighting their way up the stairs driving the fire before them step by step, and soon released him from his perilous position. After a short but desperate struggle the flames were got under control, and adjacent property owners breathed free again. The dawn of day showed a badly wrecked house, the damage from water being almost as great as that from fire. The roof was destroyed, the stairs and railing and every particle of wood work about the upper floor damaged, while the water and falling debris had damaged the ceilings and walls of the floor below and ruined nearly all the contents of the rooms. How the fire originated is a mystery, as there was no one in the house at the time save Max Recke, and no fire save a lamp which was found burning just where it had been placed the night before. There was an insurance of $2,500 on the building, which will hardly cover the loss, and a small insurance on the contents. There were a number of incidents connected with the fire that go to be more than twice told tales before sundown.

A boy named Laus, while trying to dig a hole through the pitch roof in which to insert the nozzle of the engine, was precipitated into one of the burning rooms by the roof giving way with him. Fortunately he escaped with a few slight cuts and bruises.

Some of the first parties on the ground commenced to carry goods from the store on the first floor, which was in no immediate danger, and would doubtless have gutted the place if they had not been stopped.

For an unorganized mob, Somerset people can make a fight against fire that takes the confectionery.

NOTE:—Andrew T. Marsh received 4 votes for State Treasurer, as follows: 2 in Salisbury borough, 1 in Somerset township No. 1, and 1 in Summit township; Theodore Rinder received the same vote for Auditor General. J. H. Fritz received 1 vote in Somerset borough for County Surveyor.

Says the Bedford Inquirer: Work has already commenced at the Sidling Hill tunnel. A force of men have been at work for several days clearing the approaches. The buildings for the storing of powder and tools and the accommodation of the workmen are being erected. Tuesday of this week instructions were given to put one hundred men at work at once. Mr. C. F. Tayman has been selected as assistant engineer for this tunnel and will be located at West Dublin and have charge of the work under the direction of C. F. Clements, Esq. Shafts will be sunk at one or two places so as to push the work to completion at the earliest day. Mr. O'Brien, one of the contractors for this tunnel has purchased the machinery needed for the work and it is now being shipped and put in shape for use. This week Superintendent Holliday, of the Bedford Division was asked for rates for shipping three car loads of carts and one hundred men from Hyndman to Mt. Dallas. This would indicate that the carts, tools, and a number of the men who were working on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny Railroad would be sent to Sidling Hill tunnel, as we understand that the shipment will be made from Connellsville. During the past week contractors have been along the line of the road getting in readiness to submit bids for that part of the road that the South Pennsylvania now proposes to let. We are informed that all the contracts advertised will be let at the earliest day and that it is the desire of the company to complete the road at the earliest date.

BROTHERSVALLEY ITEMS.

Splendid fall weather.

Plenty of rain, and sunshine, too, to liven everything up.

My big Brahma rooster was ailing for several weeks, and sure enough, last week he died.

Last Wednesday the streets of Berlin were as desolate as the highest peaks of the Andes mountains.

Two more bears were seen near Roxbury one day last week. They were pursued but made their escape.

The farmer who don't get his fall plowing finished this fall, had better stop farming and follow something else.

Aaron Brant is down with typhoid fever, and greatly to his disappointment was unable to go to the polls Tuesday.

Remember, the Democratic issue was: "The Republican party must go." Did she do it? Not to any very alarming extent.

Providence favors the democracy once in a while; there is plenty of rain, the water is high, and they can make the trip up salt river easily.

Brothersvalley Republicans are firmer than ever. A number were not able to go to the polls on account of sickness, but next fall they will all turn out.

The Grand Army Post at Berlin, which was organized last June, numbers at present nearly forty members. There are still quite a number of old veterans in this vicinity, who ought to join at once.

It seems to me the Republican party don't go as easy in the north as it has to go down south, where they make it go with the bayonet and shot-gun. What do you think?

J. D. Horner threshed over thirty thousand bushels of grain this fall with his new Geiser separator. He finished threshing last week and is now running a saw mill with his engine.

Last week the colliers who were engaged on the farm of J. J. Coleman, in burning charcoal, finished up their work. They burned between two and three thousand cords of wood into coal.

The reason roosters are so scarce is, they are all kept back to crow over the November elections.—Somerset Democrat. Hope they are done crowing now, and of course the market will soon be glutted with roosters.

Our reform Governor reminds me very much of the story of the thoughtful dog. Of course it occurred down south, and is as follows: A dog bit off a boy's nose, and swallowed it; this showed the thoughtfulness of the dog; had the dog swallowed the nose without first biting it off, it would have proved fatal to the boy at once. But shortly some one shot the dog, and by and by the boy died also. Just so with our Governor when he vetoed the bill to stop payment for our legislators. In my estimation he was more thoughtful than conscientious. Had he signed the bill instead of vetoing it this democratic legislature would have adjourned at once. But the Governor fared just like the dog. On the 8th of November the people of Pennsylvania shot him politically, and by and by the Democratic legislature will die also.

Last Tuesday Pennsylvania sounded the keynote for next fall, and it was no uncertain sound, either. I had faith enough in the people of Pennsylvania to remember the 1st, 2d and 3d days of July, 1863, when her soil was saturated with the blood of more than 3,000 true and loyal men, who were either shot down, or pierced with the bayonet of a rebel (who of course was a Democrat) and whose mouldering bones and blood in the cemetery at Gettysburg are continually calling upon her voters to keep sacred that for which they had to lay down their lives. Last Tuesday the people answered the call of our dead heroes, and next fall Pennsylvania will answer again in unspeakable thunder tones that she will maintain that for which her sons had to shed their blood.

NOW AND THEN.

MT. MORIAH ITEMS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, aged about 80 years, died near this place on the 23d of October, and was buried on the 25th at Stoystown.

Hiram J. Miller died at Falls City, Neb., on the 30th of October, and his remains were brought to Stoystown on November 1, for interment. The funeral services were held at the Horner's Brethren Church, by Prof. Haverstick. Deceased was about 23 years of age.

Jonathan D. Rhodes butchered on election day, and made a splendid lot of sausage. During the night some pilfering wretch entered the basement of his house and stole the whole of them. He had better be cautious and not repeat the act. Yony may not sleep so sound next time, and some one might get hurt. P. D.

CASSELMAN ITEMS.—The county bridge across the river at this place has been repaired by Zeigler and Long, from Somerset.

The bridge constructed abross the river by Phillippi, Witt & Co, for the transportation of coal mined on the other side, has been swept away by high water, but the loss was not very great.

Snyder and Zufall are doing an extensive business with their lime kiln. They burn a fine quality of lime, which has a ready sale among the farmers of this vicinity who have taken extensively to liming.

The shook shop at this place, of which David McDiffitt is foreman, had ceased work for a while, but is running full blast again with a full crew of hands.

Dave knows how to run it, as he sends his material to "Cuba," which is considerable of a distance south, but at present he is building himself a boat to take a trip up salt river.

The Democrats are making long faces over the result of the election. One of them considering himself a Paddy Ryan, or J. L. Sullivan, got terribly enraged and wanted to show fight, but the man to be knocked out of time, a Republican of course, says that it was only his age that prevented the would be pugilist from getting himself doubled up.

Messrs. H. J. Picking, R. F. Cooper and son were in town a few days on a hunting expedition, and succeeded in killing considerable game. While here they were the guests of Daniel Phillippi, and appeared to enjoy themselves well enough.

There was a corn husking at Barney Hinebaugh's one day last week, and the young folks all enjoyed themselves hugely.

John Liphart, the section boss at this place has been awarded the prize for having the best kept section on the Pittsburg division of the B. & O. R. R. John certainly deserves the prize, as he is a hard worker himself, and knows how to work his men.

There has been a large number of squirrels killed here this fall. Aust Phillippi carries the belt so far, he having killed a very fine wild turkey.

Jesse Reed had a valuable dog killed one day last week. He was run over by the cars.

School is progressing finely with L. L. Weimer teacher.

Scott Cupp bought himself a very fine mare.

S. P. Weimer is engaged at present in digging a well. He says he has plenty water now.

Our enterprising merchant and post master, Henry H. Witt, is doing a rushing business.

Wash Witt intends to leave Casselman, we are sorry to lose Wash, as he is a good neighbor.

There will be an entertainment given at this place one evening next week, by Prof. K. D. Gwynn; the Prof. has a great reputation as an elocutionist, and those going to hear him will certainly not regret it.

Mrs. Mickey is lying very low with rheumatism, and is not expected to live.

David Phillippi has the boss hog of the season.

JUNEBUG.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.—At a regular meeting of the Confluence School Board the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an All-Wise Providence to remove from our midst and from active duty, in so sudden and unexpected a manner, by that fearful dynamite explosion, our fellow-member, George W. Reynolds, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. Reynolds his family loses a kind and affectionate husband and father, the community an upright citizen, and the School Board an efficient member.

Resolved, That we tender our sympathy to the bereaved wife and family, and order these resolutions to be spread upon the minutes of the School Board, and to be published in the county papers, and a copy thereof presented to his family.

SIMON GROF,
JAS. A. BRADLEY
Committee.

My fall and winter stock is now full and fresh, having just received it from the Philadelphia and New York markets. Those wishing to buy clothing for men, youths and boys, will save money by calling at Heffley's. Also, a full line of underclothing, hats of all kinds and styles, ranging in price from 25 cents up. Trunks, satchels and gloves, bought direct from the factories. Carpets very cheap, to close out the stock. A complete line of wall paper, gent's ties and scarfs, linen and paper collars, all of which will be sold as cheap as they can be bought from wholesale dealers.

Be sure and examine my stock of fall and winter hats before purchasing elsewhere. They are all fresh, having just been received from the eastern cities.

A Woman's Affair.

Mrs. N. H. Small, the wife of the popular deputy sheriff and assessor of Topsham, Me., writes us on May 15, 1883: "That she had been severely afflicted during several years with kidney and liver disease, accompanied with severe pains and backache. Having tried many so-called cures and medicines, and doctor's prescriptions, without receiving any benefit, and while seeking for a cure she noticed the advertisement of Hunt's Remedy and decided to try it. Having bought a bottle at Mr. Johnson's drug store, commenced using it with such flattering results that she continued its use, and after using only five bottles the improvement in her health is so marked that she wishes all who are afflicted in like manner to know of this most valuable and reliable medicine and she most cheerfully recommends Hunt's Remedy to all, and especially to females who are troubled with complaints peculiar to the sex."

A Family Blessing.

Under date of May 10, 1883 we have received the following information from Mr. Lorenzo Lombard, of Portland, Me. He says: "For several years past I have been troubled with severe backache and pains in the side, and when I would lie down I could not rest well, as it seemed impossible for me to get into an easy position, and my aches and pains increased constantly to such an extent that I became convinced I had a disease of the kidneys fastened to me, and after all other cures had failed I was persuaded by a neighbor to try Hunt's Remedy, as himself and wife had been greatly benefitted by its use, and many of our acquaintances spoke of its merits in the highest terms. I purchased a bottle at Nichols's drug store and as soon as I had taken a few doses of it the pains in my back were relieved, and after taking three bottles my sickness and pain back are cured, and I can truly testify that Hunt's Remedy is an article of great merit, and will do all that is claimed for it, and I know of many other people in Portland who have found a cure in Hunt's Remedy after all others failed to do any good, and I recommend it to all who have kidney or liver disease, hoping this may be the means of relieving some sufferer who does not know of the merits of Hunt's Remedy."

THE CENTURY,

PROGRAMME FOR 1883-'84.

The programme for the fourteenth year of this magazine, and the third under the new name, is of anything more interesting and popular than ever. With every season, THE CENTURY shows a decided gain in circulation. The new volume begins with November, and, when possible, subscription should begin with that issue. The following are some of the features of the coming year:

A New Novel by George W. Cable, author of "Old Creole Days," etc., entitled "Dr. Sevier," a story of New Orleans life, the time being the eve of the late Civil War.

"Life in the Thirteen Colonies," by Edward Eggleston, separate illustrated papers on subjects connected with the early history of this country.

Three Stories by Henry James, of varying lengths, to appear through the year.

The New Astronomy, untechnical articles, by Prof. S. P. Langley, describing the most interesting of recent discoveries in the sun and stars.

A Novelette by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," etc. A vivid and sparkling story.

The New Era in American Architecture, a series of papers descriptive of the best work of American Architects in Public Buildings, City and Country Houses, etc. To be profusely illustrated.

A Novelette by Robert Grant, author of "Confessions of a Frivolous Girl," etc., entitled "An Average Man,"—a story of New York.

The Bread-winners, one of the most remarkable novels of the day, to be completed in January.

Christianity and Wealth, with other essays, by the author of "The Christian League of Connecticut," etc. on the application of Christian morals to the present phases of modern life.

Coasting about the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a series of entertaining articles profusely illustrated.

Scenes from the Novelists, Hawthorne, George Eliot, and Cable, with authentic drawings.

On the Track of Ulysses, the record of a yacht-cruise in the Mediterranean, identifying the route of Ulysses on his return from the Trojan war.

"Garfield in England," extracts from his private journal kept during a trip to Europe in 1887.

"The Silverado Squatters," by Robert Louis Stevenson author of "New Arabian Nights."

There will be papers on outdoor England by John Burroughs and others, a
