THE AGITATOR.

WELLSBOROUGH, PA.,

Thursday Morning, May 31, 1860.

PETTENGILL & Co., 119 Nassau St., New York, and 10 State St., Boston, are the Agents for the Agitator, and the Journal and largest circulating Newspapers in the United States and the Canadas. They are authorized to contract at our lowest rates.

Wellsboro is full of bloom and beauty. See cards and—ladies.

We call attention to the advertisement of G. W. ALLEN, Rutland, of "Farm and Mills for Sale." The property is a desirable one.

A TREMENDOUS NOTHING—The Democrat's article on the Republican Ratification Meeting here last week. We will not add dignity to it by an extended notice.

LOGS.—The York (Pa.) Republican says that "three thousand logs from the Williamsport boom, were caught between Canawago Falls and Frees,' a distance of five miles.

The Wellsboro Brass Band, assisted by Prof. WEBER, of New York, will give a concert in the court house on Monday evening next. The band is a public benefit and should be aided.

In another column may be found the card of F. S. FARR, Proprietor of the Wellsboro' Hotel. Mr. F. keeps a good house—sets a good table, is kind and obliging, and deserves a liberal support.

THOMAS HARDEN advertises to close out his stock of dry goods, ready-made clothing, &c., by auction, commencing next Monday. His stock is large and complete, and we would recommend those desiring bargains to give him a call.

Our good-natured friend L. D. TAYLOR, we regret to state, has again leased the Pennsylvania House in this village, and is still politely catering to the wants of his customers. LOREN can "keep a hotel" as he is always gentlemanly and obliging, keeps his table well supplied, and is, in fact, a model landlord.

B. F. FARWELL, a merchant clothier of Corning, committed suicide by hanging, in that village, on Friday last. He had been a resident of Corning for a number of years, and is well known to the people of this county as an enterprising and successful merchant. He has been lately depressed in spirits, which is undoubtedly the cause of the act.—Democrat.

NEW PAPER IN WELLSVILLE, N. Y.—We see by exchange that our old friend and shopmate, O. APPICK, Esq., is about to start a new Democratic paper in Allegany County, N. Y., to be called The Alleganian. Barring his politics, we wish "OTE" success. He is a genial, whole-souled fellow, a keen and sharp writer, and a good printer.—You will have to "work your reg'lar ten hours," friend B., if you succeed with a Democratic paper in Allegany County.

OUR MEETING ON THE 5TH.—We wish to again impress upon the Republicans the importance of a full attendance to the Mass Meeting in this village on Saturday afternoon next. We are informed by the Corresponding Secretary of the Republican Central Committee that A. G. CURTIN and GALUSHA A. GROW will be here and address the citizens of the County. DAVID WILMOT is also expected to be present.—With these there will be a grand turnout. Doubtless a meeting will also be held in the evening.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—We regret to learn, from the Erie City Dispatch, of the sudden death of JOHN MITCHELL, Esq., editor of the Meadville Journal of the Age. He died at the St. Charles Hotel Pittsburgh, of congestion of the stomach, on the morning of the thirty-ninth year of his age. He was a resident of that city as a juror in the United States Circuit Court, and was only taken ill on Thursday evening. To his wife and children, the arrival home of a corpse by the same stage in which they looked for husband and father, will be a terrible shock. We were personally acquainted with Mr. M., and can testify to his many good qualities.

SHEET MUSIC.—We have received from the house of OLIVER DITSON & Co., extensive publishers of music, &c., No. 277 Washington St., Boston, the following pieces of music, some of which are real gems. "One by One have passed away," is a home song, while "The Reveller's Chorus," and "My Own Love" are each much admired. The name of the piece and the price of each piece will be found below: "Carnival de Venise Polka," by J. Ascher—30c. "Le Opera of Satanella," by M. W. Barlf—30c. "The Reveller's Chorus, We'll all meet again in the morning," by B. R. Hanby—25c. "One by One have pass'd away," by Frederick Boott—30c. "Put a'Marion," a collection of Songs and Ballads by H. Aug. Pond—25c. "My Own Katrine," by J. H. M'Naughton—25c.

KNOXVILLE.—We copy the following from the Journal, and hope to hear no more of it. You know be "gritty," friend Journal, we were misinformed in regard to Knoxville:

A notice in the AGITATOR, a letter from Knoxville, Penn., denying a statement concerning the arrest of a chest for passing counterfeit money. As the AGITATOR, in copying the item from this paper, assigned to Knoxville in Penn. instead of N. Y., the latter is quite indignant and denounces one of the papers of Steuben Co. for persistent efforts to injure the fair reputation of that village and asserts that the said newspaper had refused to correct misstatements although especially urged to do so. It is proper for us to say that the newspaper alluded to was not the Corning Journal, as might be inferred from the comments of the AGITATOR, and we ask the editor to publish this disclaimer. The Knoxville paper alludes, we believe, to the Addison Advertiser.

COMING HOME.—Mr. YOUNG writes us that he will be home in two or three weeks. We are glad of this, but we wish it understood that after that time he will not be responsible for any errors or oversights that may occur in the AGITATOR, or for any money that may be paid to him. We suppose he will be decidedly "stuck up" after a six months' residence in the "city of magnificent distances," but our readers must bear with him, and hope for a reformation. While here, he will read proof, select copy, write editorials on politics and pigs, receive money, give receipts, write puffs for tin whistles and steam engines, collect, do all the perplexing work incident to a country printing office. We shall use our influence to keep him out of mischief, and, if possible, to keep him in the office at least ten hours a day. But mark again, we will not be responsible for anything he does.

FOURTH OF JULY IN WELLSBORO.—We are pleased to see that our citizens are actively engaged in making preparations for appropriately celebrating the ensuing anniversary of our national independence. A meeting was held in the Court House last Saturday evening to take the initiatory steps to properly observe this patriotic day by "an old fashioned celebration." Col. EMERY was called to the Chair, and G. WILLIAMS was appointed Secretary. It was deemed best to appoint a committee of nine to make the necessary arrangements, with power to appoint other committees from the several townships of the County. The following named gentlemen compose that Committee: J. F. Donaldson, Esq., J. Walbridge, Dr. Webb, W. Andrews, E. S. Farr, John Kirkpatrick, O. Bullard, G. Williams and J. A Knapp. The meeting adjourned to meet this (Thursday) evening. We shall recur to the subject again.

Since the above was in type, we learn that an order from abroad will be engaged to punch "the bald eagle from some projecting cliff," and to fire the patriotic blood of Wellsboro up to—"the boiling point."

DIED,

In Tioga, April 30th, from injuries received March 31, by being thrown from a wagon, Mr. R. H. C. TABOR—aged 58 years and 8 months.
