RAILROAD NEWS

TRAINMEN CHEER FOR YOUNG COUPLE

Brakeman Weiser and Bride Cordially Received in Harrisburg Yesterday

A shower of rice and many congratulations and cheers greeted Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Weiser, who were married at Huntingdon yesterday morning, on their arrival in Harrisburg, yesterday. The bridegroom is a popular Middle Division passenger brakeman. The young couple occupied seats in a car bound for Washington, D. C., and thought they would get through Harrisburg without any of their friends knowing it.

Telegraphic messages travel faster than trains and the reception committee included trainmen, ushers and station attaches.

The wedding took place in the Huntingdon Lutheran Church yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Frederick R. Wagner officiated. The bride was Miss Helen Dickinson, a popular young woman of Huntingdon, who also has many friends in Harrisburg.

The bridegroom is a passenger brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and runs between Harrisburg and Altoona. He is the son of Samuel Weiser, baggage agent at the Pennsylvania Railroad station.

Following a trip to Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, Md., and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Weiser will be at home after February 15, at 1851 Regina street, this city.

General Superintendent of Motive Power J. T. Wallace, at Altoona yesterday, received authority from Philadelphia to place orders in advance of the regular 1914 program for the following equipment:

Thirty-four Class "E" passenger locomotives, to be built at the Juniata shops. These engines are of the big Atlantic type in use by the company and will keep the shops busy for some time.

An order was also received for the Altoona car shops for 50 class P-70 passenger coaches and 1,000 class S-25 box cars. The latter will be steel combination cars of the best type.

Action on orders for the present year was taken at the meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on Tuesday.

While New York express, eastbound, No. 32, due here at 4.59 a. m. yesterday, was coming around the Horseshoe curves, drawn by two locomotives, an axle broken on the drivers of the front engine and the engineman threw on the emergency air, in order to stop the train before a wreck might occur.

As the emergency air was applied many of the passengers in the train, especially those not in berths, were tossed from their seats and considerably shaken up, while some confusion prevailed until trainmen informed them what had happened and that there was no danger. The passengers escaped with a few slight bruises.

A program of unusual interest is promised to-night at the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. when the third entertainment of the series arranged by the committee on entertainment will be given. The employes of Engine House No. 1 of the Pennsylvania Railroad, of which Isaiah Reese, Jr., is foreman, will be on the program. The entertainment will start at 8 o'clock and will include solos by Abner W. Hartman, the well-known bass; recitations by Miss Margaret Shoop; soprano solos by Mrs. Clem Shorter Leftwich, and a monologue by Lew Cohen, a local comedian. Admission will be by card.

SOBS AND SMILES IN JUVENILE SESSIONS

President Judge Kunkel Hears Tales From Weeping Culprits—One to Glen Mills

Sobs and smiles were in order in court to-day and President Judge Kunklel was largely responsible for both; January juvenile sessions was held and the president judge presided.

Before the noon adjournment at least a dozen boys and one girl had been heard; their stories didn't differ very materially from many a tale that has been told in Juvenile court. Only one of the twelve boys was sent away; he will go to Glen Mills. Several times the youth had been in Juvenile court and had promised to behave and broke his promise. The others were turned over to the care of Mrs. Middleton of the Children's Aid Society or to Mrs. Simonetti, the probation officer.

Among the dozen boys was a quartet ranging from eleven to fifteen year of age. They had pushed in the show window of George Bogar's sporting goods store and taken all they could scrape together in one fell arm swoop. Judge Kunkel sternly glanced at the trembling, knickerbockered culprits, each of whim was barely tall enough to peep above the judge's roll top desk.

"What did they steal?" he demanded of Mr. Bogar.

"About a dozen pocket knives, five or six packs of cards, several dice, a box of poker chips, and—"

"Go on."

"A safety razor."

To Submit Plans For Changing Prison Windows.—County Engineer C. M. Hershey will meet with the Board of Prison Inspectors on Tuesday to submit a tentative plan for changing the windows of the first floor of the county jail. At present there are fifty-two windows, each of which is three inches wide and two feet long. This is all the light and ventilation from the outside that is supplied to the upper and lower tier cells. By Mr. Hershey's plan each of the windows will be enlarged to a width of two feet and a length of four feet. The plan must then be submitted to the State Board of Charities and Corrections for approval and if that body favorably passes upon it, the Dauphin county prison board will likely make the change.

Judge McCarrell Busy.—Although still not well enough to resume his place on the bench, or in chambers, Additional Law Judge S. J. M. McCarrell has recovered from his recent ilness to such an extent that he is able to handle a lot of work at his home. He handed down several orders and a couple of divorce decrees to-day. The latter included George F. Paine against Sarah F. Paine, and Frances M. Machamer against Charles Machamer.

Realty Transfers.—Realty transfers yesterday included the following: John E. Fox to Harrisburg Trust company, 2122 North Third street, $1; F. J. Heinly to Hugh W. Norris, 1713-15 Apricot street, $3,400; J. F. Brenneman to Mary A. Houck, Penbrook, $1; B. Romberger to H. D. Romberger, Elizabethville, $4,450; Charles M. Forney to Maggie C. Ludwig, Penbrook, $1.

Representative Aron Files Answer.—An answer to the return made by Auditor General Powell to the request for a mandamus by Representative Max Aron, Philadelphia, to compel the Auditor General to pay him mileage and salary as appointed representative, was filed in the Dauphin county court to-day. Aron says the mandamus should issue as the answer is insufficient, informal and contains matter that is irrelevant.

Discuss Mothers' Pension.—At today's session of the county commissioners the mothers' pension plan for Dauphin county was discussed informally, but no definite action was taken. The commissioners voiced the opinion that the amount of money which Dauphin county would be entitled to receive from the State plus what the county itself should appropriate would not amount to enough to warrant the expenditure of the estimated sum necessary to distribute it. The Civic Club recently brought the matter to the county commissioners' attention and submitted a tentative estimate of the cost. This amounted to between $1,000 and $1,500. Dauphin county would receive a little more than $3,000 from the State and the county would have to appropriate the same sum. If Dauphin county should adopt the plan, the commissioners say, they think that the relief could just as readily be distributed by the poor directors.

Young Bomb-thrower Expected to Confess

By Associated Press

New York, Jan. 30.—Angelo Sylvestro, the young bomb thrower, reputed leader of a Black Hand gang that terrorized the East Side, lost all his bravado to-day and persuaded the court to postponed his sentence until he could se the district attorney. Although Sylvestro, after his conviction last night went back to his cell snarling and threatening vengeance, it was reported to-day that he wanted to make a confession, and after consultation with the prisoner's attorney, Judge Otto Rosalsky deferred sentence until February 16.

REACTIONARY MOVEMENT OF WEEK HALTED TODAY

Bullish Traders Bid Up Prices Confidently During Morning; Bond Are Firm

By Associated Press

New York, Jan. 30. — The reactionary movement of the week was chflecked definitely to-day and prices rose in spirited fashion. Bullish traders, convinced that professional attacks would no longer provoke liquidation, bid up prices confidently. The optimistic feeling in foreign markets was reflected in purchases for foreign account, which assisted the rise.

Denial from Washington of recent reports that important developments in the Mexican situation were imminent removed an obstacle to bullish speculation. Gains of one to two points were well distributed through the list. The decision of the Federal Courts against the railroads in the Missouri rate case led to selling of some Western railroad stocks shortly before noon, and Missouri Pacific reacted a point.

Bonds were firm.
