BUSINESS MEN GET INTO ROADS FIGHT

Better Highways Demanded by Leaders of Many Trades and Occupations

Many of the substantial business men of the city are identifying themselve with the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association with a view to putting the movement in behalf of better highways on an organized basis.

E. J. Herman, who organized the Ohio Good Roads Federation, a body instrumental in establishing a practical road system in that State after all other efforts had failed, has been making a preliminary survey of conditions here.

"I have conferred with scores of representative business and professional men, and with leaders in the various trades and occupations in Harrisburg with a view to ascertaining just what is the state of popular feeling on the good roads question," said Mr. Herman to-day, "and I am impressed with the unanimity of sentiment in favor of the Legislature first taking care of the great public works of the State before deciding how much can be spared for other objects in proportion to their worth."

"If this sentiment can be crystalized through organization, so that the Legislature may know exactly where the great body of the people stand, there will be no question about adequate appropriations for the building and maintenance of both the State highways and the country roads.'

Mr. Hernan will shortly start on a detailed tour of the State, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Good Roads Association.

FLAGS OF CAPITOL AT HALF MAST

James Adams Beaver, then an officer of the militia of the State, promptly volunteered and entered the military service of the United States as First Lieutenant in the Second Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was subsequently commissioner Lieutenant Colonel of the Firty-fifth Regiment Pennsylvania olunteers, which commission he later resigned to accept the Colonecy of the One Hundred and Forty-eighth Regiment, in which capacity he served until mustered out by reason of wounds received in battle.

"His military career was marked by the bravery and devotion to duty that glorify the fame and the worth of the American citizen soldier, and gives to the martial history of his native State one of its brightest pages. He always enjoyed the unlimited confidence of his superior officers, to whom he was ever a tower of strength, and was the courageous and competent leader whom men deemed it an honor to follow.

"In peace he gave freely of his time and efforts to build up the National Guard of the State, a work in which his signal ability and conspicuous fitness produced results in keeping with his brilliant record as a soldier and in which service he remained until as Governor he became the Commander-in-Chief.

"His services as Governor of the Commonwealth, from 1887 to 1891, were characterized by courage, zeal and ability. His official acts were always prompted by pure motives and strong convictions.

He was appointed Judge of the Superior Court in 1895, in which office he was continued by subsequent elections until his death. As a member of the bench he was upright, honest and fearless.

"His funeral will take place at Bellefonte on Tuesday, February 3, at 10 o'clock a. m.

"In recognition of his services to this Commonwealth as soldier, Governor and jurist, I recommend that the flags upon the public buildings be displayed at half staff and that the several departments within executive control be closed that day."

Personalities Denied in Bigelow Suit

By Associated Press

Philadelphia, Feb. 2. — A denial of personal animus or hostility toward Edward M. Bigelow, State Highway Commissioner, and other employes of the department who are under indictment for neglecting public roads, was made to-day in an answer filed by District Attorney Whitehouse, of Schuylkill county, to the Supreme Court.

Counsel for Bigelow and the others petitioned the Supreme Court for a change of venue on the ground that a fair trial could not be had in Schuylkill county because of the alleged hostile attitude of Judges Brumm and Becntel.

The Supreme Court will hear argument, it is expected, later in the day. As usual in such cases, it is expected the Court will hold the case under advisement. John C. Bell, Attorney General, is agreeable that the change of venue be made. In papers filed with the Court he has joined with counsel for Bigelow that such a motion be granted.

MATERNITY HOSPITAL IS BADLY NEEDED

how to use the milk when it is furnished them.

Midwives' Practice Dangerous

"Another danger to the mothers and children is the practice of midwives and old women who make a business of nursing in maternity cases. These people will be licensed by the State, but at present the harm done by the midwives is considerable.

"As it is now with no place to go, and funds in the family treasury short, the mother fears to hire a physician and calls in the midwife, who has absolutely no training for the delicate case. If a free maternity hospital is established here or only a small fee were charged these mothers would know that they could go to a place where they could be taken care of at small expense. The need for the maternity hospital is urgent."

Miss Mary W. Miller, superintendent of the Visiting Nurses' Association who meets with deplorable conditions daily in her work said a maternity hospital can come none too soon if the lives of the cities' babies and mothers are to be saved.

Harrisburg Is Far Behind

"This city is far behind many others, in fact, it is the only one of its size I know of that has no provision for taking care of the mothers of the poor," she said.

"A baby died last week in a North Seventh street home, a few days after it was born because of the deplorable conditions which met its coming into the world. The family is not to blame, for they can't help it. These poor people are anxious to have some place to go. Men tell me they have sent their wives to Lebanon or Philadelphia and there they were taken care of in maternity hospitals. It is a shame that this city has no place in which healthy babies can be born.

"In many of these homes, I have visited a child is born into a home where there are no clothes, no food, no fire and terrible sanitary conditions.

"Council should be urged to do something to establish a hospital or the Harrisburg hospital would do well to add a maternity ward to its present equipment. It is needed so badly. If the councilmen could only see what we see every day, they wouldn't wait long to appropriate the money."

By Associated Press

Brunswick, Mass., Feb. 2.—The Cape Cod Canal, the construction of which even the Pilgrim Fathers saw would rob the sandy peninsula and Nantucket shoals of their terror to shipping, is to become a reality within six months. RECOVERY FOLLOWS SOME EARLY DECLINES

Break in Rock Island Securities Was Principal Factor in Downward Movement

By Associated Press

New York, Feb. 2. — A brisk recovery followed the early decline in prices to-day, and by noon most of the leading stocks were on a level with the previous close or slightly above. The break in Rock Island securities was the principal factor in the early downward movement.

Reports that dividends would be suspended on Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific stock, which is security for the Rock Island collateral bonds, accompanied the slump in all of the old and new Rock Island issues. Pressure was lifted later on denial that the company was suffering from financial embarrassment. Rock Island stocks made up part of their losses, and the general list advanced.

The drop in American Telephone and sympathetic weakness of Western Union were associated with the recommendations of the Postmaster General for Government acquisition of the wire companies.

Bonds were irregular.
