numerous friends in the basement rooms of the M. E. Church, on Friday evening the 13th inst., to there bid them a final good bye, Rev. Martin has labored hard with, and for us, during the three years of his sojourn among us, and through his strenuous efforts with the earnest co-operation and sympathy of the citizens of Ridgway, has been enabled to build a church for us, which for years shall stand as a lasting reminder of the success of his labors, and now as he is about to go forth to other fields the earnest solicitude for his future success, as manifested by the numerous inquries as to his probable location the coming conference year, show a just appreciation of his valuable services here.

While we express our sympathy for him, and which sympathy by himself and wife is fully appreciated and reciprocated, it does not pay in full the debt of gratitude we owe him. More substantial favors still are due him. Sympathy lightens the burdens of life but it does not always pay our debts,

In view of the many expressions of regard we feel safe in the assurance that when the exact statement of the arrearage on Rev. Martin's salary is presented to the people that they will heartily respond to the call for aid as made by the M. E. Church Board, thereby supporting the character for noble liberality in affairs of this kind which they have hith-On his advent here there was held in the old court house a meeting of the citizens when they voted to pay him a salary of $1200 dollars per year and make of Ridgway Station, thereby securing preaching twice each Sabbath, morning and evening. When a movement was made first to build church Rev. Martin voluntarily gave of his first two years salary $100,00 per year. At the completion of the church he presented to it the beautiful organ which now decorates the orchestra; to the excellent tones of which we have so often listened, paying for it, with the exceptions of a few small contributions, out of his own funds, Now friends as he has labored so royally fo us let us work lovally for him and in the arewell visit proposed let us, bring our parting gifts, of money, merchantable goods, gre ceries, &c., and have an old fashioned dona ion; a pleasant social visit.

We are aware that many have nobly res onded to the solicitations of the officers havng in charge the financial affairs of the Church. For this and your kind sympathy lease accept our hearty and sincere thanks, If any are in arrears for subscription made if any feel that they can give more; if all wish to give a benefit to Mr, Martin and let him go from our midst freed from the nightmare of debt, let us rally once again and pay our just obligations. Any person wishign to see the amount already raised can do se by calling on Jas. Pentield, the Treasurer, who keeps a correct account of the monies re celved and disbursed.

Grammatical Millerisins.

Trains are running more regular this week than last." "If he dares to exercise the right,

"Reading seems to have the small pox quite bad" "If such is the case we want to know it." "But," said Mr. Lee, "suppose it was a saving."

Now Mr. Lee never made use of any such expression. An ass that would be guilty of murdering the King's English, in that manner, might do to the Republican press of the State and conduct a Democratic paper, but not at all in the Democratic. would not be deemed competent to make Republican speeches. Republicans as a mass are too intelligent to be taught anything by an idiot of that calibre; but, if, as Miller asserts, the majority of the audience at the moeting, Tuesday evening, were Democrats, it would probably make but little difference what kind of lauguage he did

Those who read Mr. M's illiterate sheet, and swallow it's contents as law and gospel, would fail to see the difference between good English and his ungrammatical balderdash.

If the Democracy have no better material than Mr Miller to conduct their organ they had better dispose of their press for old iron; buy him a pair of corduroy breeches, and send him out onto the rail road, where he would find employment in a sphere better suited to his abilities than the one he now occupies.

He may have a thimbleful of brains but if so it is a very small thimbleful, and he may have some common sense but it certainly is of an uncommonly common kind

Governor William Allen, of Ohio, declares the "pretended revival of business a mere Republican trick." Nobody has ever accused the Demo-erats of any such trick, certainly; and if is a trick, why, the more such tricks the better.

Colorado has practically fulfilled the object for which she was admitted as a State into the Union. The object lion, and was compelled by a decision was to bolster the waning strength of the Republicans in the United States Senate. - Detroit Free Press. In your Presidential predictions you have been putting Colorado in the Democratic column, not forgetting to mention that it went Demoratic in 1874 by 2,000 majority. You were misled slightly, but don't whimper.

Alfred Magott, an old man, who was arrested in Brooklyn a day or wood, where he was accustomed to make frequent visits to its grave. After his arrest the police discovered his residence by driving a dog, which was with him when arrested into the street, and following it to his den, which was at 43 Willow street, Brooklyn Heights.

The Sheffield, England Telegraph publishes the following: "In consequence of the injury to Sheffield trade by America's heavy protective duties, representations have been made to representations have been made to Earl Carnavon, Secretary for the Colonies, suggesting that heavy import duties be imposed in retaliation on American produce, both in England and her colonies." To these representations Lord Carnavon replied on Friday that; "As will be seen on reflection, the proposal is not one which her Majesty's Government could entertain."

Vention. But were Grant a candidate the country could better bear another four years of his administrative rule than it could, the tyranny of an unprincipled man like Tilden, who would owe his election, if elected, to the corrupt plunderers in the North and the rebels in the South. Respectfully.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM A BROOKLYN DEMOCRATIC EDITOR.

Ovid, Michigan Sept. 16, 1876. Demas Barnes, Esq. DEAR SIR: Inclosed please find a slip containing an article purporting to be a letter from yourself to the editor of the Ohio State Journal. It has been read by many Democrats of this section, and by a large majority of them is pronounced s campaign fraud, for the reason that it has been published generally through

There are many honest Democrate in this section of the State, and in this particular section, who expect to vote for Tilden, but would not do so could they be convinced that the charges in this article were true; and several of them have requested me to write you and ask the following questions, an answer to which would greatly obige all of us:

1. Are you the autnor of the inclosed article, and did you write it to the editor of the Ohio State Journal for publication?

2. Do you, know preftively that these charges against Tilden are true? Hoping that you will take the time to answer these questions in the interest of true reform, I remain yours, respectfully,

LEWIS C. MEAD. MR. BARNES' REPLY. BROOKLYN, Sept. 21, 1876.

Lewis C. Mend, Chairman, etc. DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 16th inst, making certain political inquiries, was duly received. Most of the facts in relation to Governor Tilden's public career have been set forth in the Brooklyn Argus, and some of them were repeated in my letter to the Ohio State Journal, of which you make mention. I have spoken in the interest of the country, and in the interest of the Democrotic party. I supported Mr Tilden for Governor we years ago, his record then being unknown. His majority in the State was a little over 38,000. Over onethird of this majority was given in this city, where the Argus is published.

The Democratic party is in the minority in the county. To succeed it has to earn the confidence of the people and secure Republican votes. With M'Clellan as a military candidate in 1864, we were beaten by 411,-000 majority. In 1868 we nominated our ablest statesman, Horatio Seymour. Again we were beaten by 400, 000 majority. In 1872 our leaders decided to nominate a Presidential candidate from within the Republican ranks. But with Mr. Greeley and an inconsistent platform we fared worse than before, and came out 702,000 votes behind our opponents.

With these results staring us in the face, it behooved the Democrats at Benezette-R. W. Petriken, farmer. this time to have a consistent platform Benzinger--John Nissel, school and nominate men whose integrity of teacher; John Kreckle Jr. laborer; character would recommend them to John Gregory, farmer; John Kraigle, the conscience of the people. Mr. Til-Fox-Patrick Callahan, farmer; known to the leaders prior to the St. plunderers of our State. He packed Horton-John Brown, farmer; the State Convention by the use of Executive influence and througextensive advertising in the Southern laborer, States he succeeded in securing the nomination.

The Democrats could have carried have swept Grantism out of existence with almost any other candidate than Tilden. An aspirant for the high position of President must always face his antecedents. Mr Tilden's antecedents are now spread before the world. I regret to say that they are worse than those of Aron Burr, or those of any man who ever before sought high office in this country. He is corrupt, ambitious, unscrupuposed feeding our soldiers during the war by making false returns of his income and refusing to pay his taxes. He was a member of the committee on resolutions at the Chicago Convention in 1864, which reported the resolution We demand a cessation of hostilities." He defrauded the Government by issuing illegal currency on the Upper Michigan peninsula, and secured exemption from his penalties and taxes by smuggling a "relief" bill through Congress. He was the head of the great Northwestern Railroad lion, and was compelled by a decision of the United States Supreme Court to restore over $2,000,000 of stock wrongfully taken from Julius Wadsworth and other owners of the Galena d Chicago Railroad. He was asso-ciated with Tweed's ring in New York City, and received compensation by under assessments of his property, etc.

These are a few of the transactions two ago for counterfeiting, was able to speak and write five or six languages. He had a great fondness for dogs, one of his canine pets he buried in Green. as President will undermine the integrity of our party, and open the door for ambitious and unprincipled villains to overthrow our institutions. The Democratic party cannot afford success at any such sacrifice of its principles.

> Grant is not now a candidate. He and his first, second, and third choice were beaten at the Cincinnati Convention. But were Grant a candidate
