It almost made us wish we were a boy again, for if there is anything in this world that is pretty it is little girls, and, we might add, they seem prettier as they grow older. But, all the little girls had a nice time, about five o'clock they had supper, and in the evening they had a little dance, and then went home. We wish Miss Jennie many returns of her birthday, and her little play mates many returns of like festive ocasions. We give below the names of the young

The Oil Field.

The recent strikes of so many good paying wells in the Warren oil district have caused our streets to be filled with new faces, and our hotel keepers wear the most smiling of countenances, for their houses are filled nearly every night. In fact all kinds of business sympathizes with the prospective greatness and value of our oil interests. Few derricks are going up in the lower district, and the eagerness to secure leases is nearly as great as in July last. The Hines well, and the well of Nesbitt, just east of the Glade City school house, are doing splen-Wetmore on the side hill above, gives is said by persons of veracity to have produced 16 barrels in 15 minutes, on yesterday evening. Drilling is still continued that the proper depth may be reached, when the whole story will be told.

Several other wells in the immedi ate vicinity of the above named wells have fine indications, and in a day or two will without doubt make their owners quite satisfied. The Hamon well was torpedoed, and now yields about ten barrels. A number of what were called dry holes, and were left to slumber, have, within a week, filled up with oil, and arrangements are being made to pump them; and many think they will prove profitable.

The oil wells are holding up in their production, and it now seems probable that many will pay for themselves in a short time, and will yield dividends that will both please and astonish. All doubt has vanished as to the staying qualities of our wells, and all the croakings of interested parties cannot change the fact that the Warren Oil Field is the best, and the expenses of developing it the cheapest in the entire State of Pennsylvania. - Warren

ITEMS from the Brookville Republi-

On Monday morning last a sad and fatal accident occurred at Greensburg, resulting in the instant death of Jas. T. Miller, a resident of Scotidale, that county. Mr. Miller was in Greensburg on business, and having transac-ted it, went to the depot with the in-tention of taking the train on the Southwest Railroad for his home. When the mail train east, over the Pennsylvania Railroad, came along he boarded it and did not discover that he was on the wrong train until it began to move. In endeavoring to jump off while the cars were in motion, by some means or other he was thrown under the wheels, and was litterally ground to pieces. He was a gentle-man who enjoyed a large circle of ac-quaintances, and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his sudden

On Saturday morning last at early hour, two brothers named Rid-dle, at Springdale, Allegheny county, while looking after burglars, mistook each other for the burglar, and each fired their weapon, one receiving a bullet in his thigh and the other a charge of shot in the breast. The agonized cries of the brothers made known to the rest of the family the terrible mistake that had been made. The wounds of the young man shot in the breast are quite serious, while the other's is more painful than danger-

MRS. THOMAS, aunt of General Kane, is building a beautiful Presbyterian Church at Kane, in McKean county, a free gift to the people of that community. It is estimated to cost $13,000, but will probably reach twice that sum before it is finished. The body of the church is built of pink sandstone, and the cornice and windows of white sandstone. It is in the Gothic style of architecture. When finished it will be an ornament of which the citizens of Kane may justly be proud, as well as a lasting monument of the nobel generosity of the

HERE is an item of interest to landlords in this and other counties: A boarding-house keeper in Mercer county sued a boarder, and the landlord not having copies of the late Hotel Act posted up in his bedrooms, the boarder was released from paying his bill.

The Latest "Charlie Ross."

THE SUNBURY MYSTERY - SOME CURIOUS FACTS THAT NEED INVES-TIGATING-A SUGGESTIVE LETTER. SUNBURY, November 16.

A man, with a boy answering the description of Charlie Ross, is at present held at the Central Hotel, this place. His arrest was made under the following circumstances: As Police Officer Thomas Gannon was on his way from Oil City to Sunbury last night on official duties, he observed a German got on the train with a young, bright looking lad, aged about seven years, at St. Mary's. He was evidently no child of the German's and on entering into conversation with the boy his suspicions were aroused, and he determined to arrest them, as from the resemblance, be thought the boy to be Charlie Ross. On arriving at Williamsport be promptly telegraphed Captain Roach, Pennsylvania Railroad detective at Sunbury, who met the train at about 1 o'clock this morning and concluded to hold them. Mr. Boss was telegraphed to and a telegraphic conversation was held between him and the boy through the Western Union operators at Sunbury and Philadelphia, but the boy failing to answer certain questions, Mr. Ross requested that his picture be taken and sent to him and that the parties be watched until he washeard from. But Captain Roach, acting under the advice of several doctors, who examined the boy, and prominent citizens here determined to hold him and mailed the picture. A book was found on the persons of the German with the names of Harrisburg, Williamsport Hummelstown, Beaver and different points written in it; also a letter, writen in German, asking about the boy, and whether the party should keep him; and saying they would give seven dollars a week, etc. The boy says he came from St. Mary's where he was kept by a woman, who kept him in all the time; also that he had been in New York, but was taken from there to Wilcox Pa., and drove in a buggy at night from Wilcox to St. Mary's. A card was found on the boy, and he said a man gave it to him who played cards with his father at St. Mary's. He had his hair cut lately. He said it was done yesterday. It is done in a bungling manner. A Germantown street car ticket was also found in the book, and different addresses of houses in Philadelphia and Hoboken, New York. If the boy is not Charles Ross, there is some mystery connected with the affair, as the doctors here pronouce him no son of the man who is with him, and his talk shows him to be a great deal more intelligent than the man with him. A gentleman who was here this evening says he lived in Germantown, and often saw Charlie, and says he believes it is the boy. At all taken to Philadelphia to-night.

THE MYSTERIOUS LETTER. The following is a copy of the German letter found in the man's possession: Williamsville, October 31, 1876,-To Best Friend: I have received your letter, and seen in it that you wish that I should take your Charles to us again. What I am willing to do is this; First, if you send me a letter of power so that I might have a right to take him, for she (or you) could say I had no right to take him; also, wish everything that you wish that I should fetch along. Second I would like to know where you live. Third. ask five dollars to fetch him, which I want before I have him. Fourth, I ask even dollars per month until April 1. Don't be angry at me about my writing, for you know that I have five children to keep and have nothing to sell this year, for I had a poor harvest. If you should agree with my conditions then answer as soon as possible, then I will fetch him as soon as I am anthorized, and will treat him as well as my own children. I would send him to school, give him his board, do his washing and take care of
