REARRANGE DIET GOVERNOR ASKS

Issues Proclamation Requesting People of State to Obey Hoover

Men and women of Pennsylvania are called by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh in a proclamation issued to-day to comply with the urgings of Herbert Hoover to rearrange diet so that there shall be a saving of food with no sacrifice of health or comfort for the needs of the Nation.

The Governor gives hearty commendation to the suggestions of Mr. Hoover in the following official document:

"Whereas, the National Government is exercising its utmost endeavor to impress upon our people the great importance of the conservation of our food supplies to the end that our own people as well as our Allies may not want and that this war may not languish or fail because of a lack of food; and

"Whereas, the Honorable Herbert Hoover, with considerable zeal and foresight has given point and purpose to this patriotic movement by the slogan, "Food will win the War," and has impressed upon the people the fact that if each one reduces his weekly diet by one pound of wheat flour, two ounces of fat, seven ounces of sugar and seven ounces of meat we can not only maintain our own people in comfort but also save enough to supply the deficiency of our allies; and

"Whereas, with no sacrifice of health or comfort, and, indeed, with physical advantage it is quite possible to do this reasonable thing, having in mind that no effort on our part should be neglected if we are to demonstrate to the world our voluntary control of our own selves and our patriotic resolve to do our full duty to country and to righteousness and justice,

"Therefore, I, Martin G. Brumbaugh, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, having in mind the great and commanding service Pennsylvania should render the Nation at this time, do most earnestly call upon our people—all our people in Pennsylvania—to take immediate and favorable notice of this desire of the National and Commonwealth, and, as good people should, give practical heed to this call. If we join in this rearranging of our diet we shall be performing in a substantial way a solemn service to mankind and demonstrating anew our love and loyalty to country.

"It is also imperative that all the women of Pennsylvania join in a National Food Conservation Army by registering on the food cards soon to be presented them their willingness and eagerness to do their full part in this great movement. Those that have already registered are hereby called upon to urge the women they know to do this service at once. When we recall the indescribable sufferings of our kind across the sea it will be little less than treason to waste food or to prodigally use it in this war time."

MISS MORRISON BRIDE OF TODAY

Afternoon Wedding in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Attended by Many Guests

The marriage of Miss Frances Florian Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Morrison, Front and North streets, to Frank Ogle Shoemaker, of Massilon, Ohio, is taking place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, North Front street, with the rector, the Rev. Rollin Alger Sawyer officiating. A decorative color scheme of green and white is carried out with palms, ferns, little cedar trees and white chrysanthemums.

Alfred C. Kuschwa, the organist, is giving a recital of classics half an hour before the ceremony on the rebuilt organ, the gift of William T. Hildrup. His program includes:

March, "Nuptiale," Loret; "Song of Joy," Frysinger; "Epithalamium," Woodman; "Echo Bells," Brewer; "Cantabile," Demarest. He will use as a processional the "Bridal Chorus," (Lohengrin), Wagner, and play during the ceremony "At the Altar," Arensky, and as a recessional the "Wedding March," Mendelssohn.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen a wedding gown of soft white satin with court train and draperies and panel of cloth of silver. The bodice is of cloth of silver with folds of tulle and tulle sleeves. The tulle veil is crowned with orange blossoms, and she will carry a shower of rosebuds, orchids and lilies of the valley.

She will be attended only by a flower girl, little Christine Russell Palmer, who will wear a dainty white lingerie frock with pink ribbons and carry a nosegay of pink rosebuds. The best man is Lew Russell Palmer, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the ushers include: Robert Harrison, of Massillon, Ohio; William T. Church, of Chicago; Roy P. M. Davis and Captain Howard Yost, of the Engineers Corps, Washington, D. C.

Reception at Home

A reception for the bridal party and the more intimate friends of the families will be held at the bride's home following the service. Here the decorations are of yellow with chrysanthemums, snapdragon and sunburst roses prevailing in the flowers among the heavy green of laurel and ther McLaughlin, Jr., at Camp Hanferns. Many beautiful gifts are on exhibition, tokens of friendship for the young couple.

Following a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker will make their home at Mount Union, where he is connected with the Mount Union Refractories Company of which Roy Paul M. Davis, of this city, is the head.

The bride is a Smith College graduate and much interested in civic and Red Cross work. Mr. Shoemaker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Shoemaker, of Massillon, Ohio, and a brother-in-law of Lew Russell Palmer, of this city.

Among the out-of-town folks here for the festivities are Mrs. Charles Florian and Miss Georgine Florian, of San Antonio, Texas; Miss Constance Palmer, of Upper Montclair, N. J.; Miss Marie Zulich, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. George C. Morrison and Master Fred Morrison, of Baltimore; Miss Mary MacDowell, of Reedsville; Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Shoemaker and Miss Lucille Shoemaker, of Massillon, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. William Church, of Chicago.

Miss Evelyn Baer's Guests in Masquerade

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Butler, of Penbrook, arranged a clever masque for their daughter, Miss Evelyn Baer, inviting a number of her friends to attend.

The rooms were decorated with festoons of evergreens, yellow and black crepe paper, pumpkins and grotesque Jack-o'-lanterns. Small baskets of flowers and candy made pretty table decorations at supper time.

Palmist Tells Fortunes in Real Gypsy Tent

Miss Esther Demmey, 1639 Market street, entertained a number of friends at a Hallowe'en party last evening. Dancing, games and contests were enjoyed by the guests. A gypsy tent surrounded by cornstalks with a palmist to tell of the future proved an attraction for the young people. Refreshments were served to Miss Anna Rau, Miss Evelyn Eckenbarger, Miss Lyle Fisher, Miss Grace Saul, Miss Josephine Zug, Miss Eleanor Weaver, Miss Irene Matter, Miss Mary Louderslager, Miss Esther Demmey, Alex Schampan, Edgar Neavling, Loy Hemp, Hess Kline, Howard Achenbaugh, Steve Stephenson, and Bert Hummelmel.

ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST

A Philadelphia engagement of much interest here is that of Miss Marys B. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lincoln Clark, and Lieutenant George Harrison Frazier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison Frazier. Miss Clark was to have been presented to society this winter, but owing to the war she took a course of nursing in the Polyclinic Hospital. Lieutenant Frazier is a member of the Aviation Section, Signal Corps, United States Reserves.

Mrs. Clark was formerly Miss Elizabeth Bent, of this city.

MOTOR FROM POTTSTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith, Miss Jenny Smith and Ben Cole, of Pottstown, motored to Harrisburg yesterday, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boswell, of 1232 Market street.

VISITS CAMP HANCOCK

Luther McLaughlin, 1411 North Third street, is visiting his son, Luther, at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga. Before returning home he will visit in Richmond, Va., and Washington, D. C.

Dr. Sara Virginia Crawford and Miss Carolyn Crawford, of Danbury, Conn., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Odin Hoffman, 140 Sylvan Terrace.

MISS SMEE WEDS WILLIAM ROSS ATKINSON

MRS. WILLIAM ROSS ATKINSON

The marriage of pretty Miss Catharine M. Smee to William Ross Atkinson, of this city, took place Monday morning, October 29, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Leidig, 2035 Logan street, with the Rev. Harvey Klaer, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church, officiating, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a traveling costume of Burgundy cloth with hat to harmonize and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret E. Atkinson, the bridegroom's sister, was attired in a brown cloth street suit with hat to match and carried LaFrance roses. David McConnell was best man.

A wedding breakfast followed the service with appointment of pink, with chrysanthemums prevailing in the flowers. The wedding journey to Philadelphia, New York and up the Hudson will be followed by a residence at 2148 North Sixth street, where a newly-furnished apartment awaits them. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will be at home to their friends after November 15.

Both young people have a host of friends in the city where Mr. Atkinson is foreman of inspectors of artillery ammunition at the Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Bending Works.

Cumberland Valley League Meets Here in November

The Civic Clubs of Camp Hill and Harrisburg have invited the Cumberland Valley Federation of Women's Clubs to meet in this city Thursday, November 8, for an all-day meeting at the Civic Club house, Front and North streets. An interesting program has been announced and a box luncheon will be served. Mrs. Edward F. Dunlap is chairman of the committee of arrangements assisted by Miss Mary Jennings, vice-chairman, and the following members: Mrs. Solomon Hiney, Mrs. George S. Reinoehl, Miss Fanny M. Eby, Miss Cora Lee Snyder, Mrs. William Watts Galbraith, Mrs. William McCaleb, Mrs. Thomas M. Jones, Mrs. Anson P. Dare, Mrs. John Q. Stewart, Mrs. J. Austin Brandt, Mrs. Joseph K. A meeting of the C. H. S. Club will be held this evening in the John Y. Boyd Hall of the Y. W. C. A. During the business session new members will be admitted. Names should be handed to the membership committee before the meeting. A social hour will follow the business session.

CENTRAL ALUMNI IN BAL MASQUE

Hallowe'en Suggestion and Fancy Dress Make Event Brilliant and Delightful

Despite the intermittent showers of last evening, Winterdale was all aglow with vim and merriment for the bal masque, given by the members of the 1916 class of the Central High School.

Potted plants intermingled with the American flags to give the decorative setting, and the subdued light effect radiating from softly-shaded bulbs cast a somber glow over the dancers who wore varied attractive costumes.

The Ross Church Society Orchestra played an unusually fine dance program for the guests, who danced from 9 o'clock until 1. The proceeds derived from the subscriptions will be turned over to the Steele Memorial Fund.

The committee of arrangements included Miss Sara Faunce, Miss Nora Bennet, Charles Mutzabaugh and Robert C. Michael.

Mrs. Hiester, Mrs. Costello, Mrs. George Bennett, Mrs. Robert Michael and Mrs. Crist chaperoned the young folks.

Among the Dancers

Chicken and Waffle Eats at End of a Strawride

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper chaperoned a number of young people on a strawride to York. The party stopped at Lewisberry for a chicken and waffle supper. On their arrival at York they were entertained at an informal dance. The guests included: Miss Pearl Herbert, Miss Rebecca Aronson, Miss Rose Garonzik, Miss Frances Frank, Miss Lena Yoffee, Miss Fanny Williams, Miss Lena Levine, Miss Bertha Levine, Miss Lena Garonzik, Morris Laborwitz, Charles Loor, Julius Yoffee, Sam Silberstein, Charles Brenner, Sam Lippman, Phillip Williams, Abe Bloom and John Cohen.

Flowers and Liberty Bond Given to Pretty Singer

The little week-end visit of Miss Elinor Dayne, one of the members of the Odds and Ends company, showing here last evening to her mother, Mrs. Harry Crist, 1506 Penn street, was marked with pleasures throughout. Hosts of old friends came to call on her and last evening when she sang, she received quantities of flowers, roses and great nodding chrysanthumums. In a large bouquet of red roses she found a hundred dollar Liberty Bond tucked away with "Love From Mother."

Sunday evening Mrs. Crist and Miss Dayne were dinner hostesses to Miss Lillian Lorraine the leading lady of the show, with several guests invited to meet her.

Jack o'Lanterns Grin on This Merry Gathering

Grinning Jack-o'-lanterns, garlands of autumn foliage and yellow and black crepe paper adorned the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Meloy, 415 Muench street, for a Hallowe'en gathering last evening.

Games, singing and dancing helped the hours pass swiftly for the young folks. Refreshments appropriate to the season were served to the Misses Alda Meloy, Beatrice Blair, Dorothy Bodenhorn, Alice Frickman, Kathryn Hoffman, Erma Roath, Josephine Weaver, Ardella Sawyer, Vara Imboden, Verne Bomgardner and Evelyn Morris. Howard Swartz, Howard Mehring, Andrew Lytner, John Mahoney, Morris Quinn, Vance George, Lester Bell, Earl Ward, Raymond Bell, Charles Steckley, Edgar Meloy, Mervin Ripper, Mr. and Mrs. Troxell and Mr. and Mrs. Meloy.

Miss Sylvia Claster, 801 North Second street, has returned from Lebanon where she spent the weekend with relatives.

Week-End House Party at Cottage in Country

There were all sorts of diversions for a merry houseparty held over the weekend at Eidelwile cottage, Juniata Bridge, with Miss Helen Hoffman, 441 Market street, hostess.

Saturday evening a masquerade dance was a special feature, with a supper menu of cider, gingerbread, pumpkin and mince pies, apples and grapes. The cottage was decorated throughout with cornstalks, autumn leaves, witches, ghosts and cats with the illuminations made by Hallowe'en lanterns and pumpkin faces.

In attendance were the Misses Ruth Miller, Elizabeth Hartman, Ruth McCormick, Helen Hoffman, Sara Faunce, Leona Middleton, Elizabeth Wolfe, Vera Peters and Florence Zerbe; Fred Kent, Alvin Zimmerman, Bernard Aldinger, George Trump, Charles Polleck, Edward Fair, Gilbert Aldinger, George Carter, Claude Hartman, Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mrs. Day, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoffman.

Mrs. Gus Nachman, formerly of Baltimore, is visiting Mrs. Joseph Nachman, of 1615 North Second street.

Mrs. Herman Astrich and daughter Mildred, and Miss Eleanor Copeland are at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., to visit Harold Astrich who is stationed there with Truck Co. No. 1.

"WANTED—A table and three chairs, also dishes and ice chest; need not be new if in good condition."

Can you imagine how you'd go scurring out to the storeroom to look up "that old stuff out there" if you thought you could get $4, $5, or $10 cash for it?

But why wait till somebody comes and rings the bell and asks the question? Hundreds of people "want three chairs," hundreds want a table, too, and dishes, and coffee pots, and urns, and hall racks, and linoleum, and odds and ends of carpet, valises, trunks, suit cases, stoves, cutlery, furniture, lamps, everything you can think of.

There's always a demand and a fair price (if you reach the actual buyers themselves), and the only way and the sure way to reach them is by a TELEGRAPH CLASSIFIED AD. You can make dollars (and now-days dollars count) out of your put-away-old-things—if you want to — and even one ad will prove it. Make up a list and try it—to-day.

Bread and Milk

Bread is the staff of life for old or young and many leading food authorities claim that milk contains more of the essential food elements than any other article of food.

Many of our patrons enjoy a bowl of sweet milk and a couple of slices of our good bread for lunch. Very substantial nourishment for the modest price of ten cents.
