A CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY O an Importa Decision.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Overhoit vs. First National Bank of Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland county, delivered its opinion on the 18th Instant. The points settled, so far as this State is concerned, are as follows: That National Banks can recover no interest whatever on an obligation where a rate in excess of the legal rate in the State has been re-ceived or stipulated for. 2. That no matter how often a loan or discount may have been renewed the original taint of usury destroys the interest-bearing power of the obligation, and in no event can anything more than the original principal be recovered.

3. That in a suit brought upon the last of a series of renewal notes, any and all interest thus illegally charged, reserved or received throughout previous transactions is a legitimate set-off and to be deducted from the original principal of the loan.

On Friday morning the case of John Kehoe, Neil Dougherty, Columbus McGee, John Chapman and Michael McGee charged with the murder of Langdon was called in the Pottsville court. The prisoners having elected to be tried separately the case of Neil Dougherty was taken up. The murder, which was one of the most brutal ever committed in the coal regions, occurred on the night of June 14th, 1862, in Audenried, this county. Langdon was stopped and beaten by a party of roughs so badly that he died two days after at his house which was just over the line in Schuytkill. The testimony in the case was more conclusive than would be thought possible fourteen years after the crime. Among the witnesses were William Canvin, Isaac K. McCailum, Thomas Van Horn, Dr. Dimmick, John Terrell and others. - Coal Gazette.

The dwellings -from 1804 to 1854, when he removed of Auguste and Amadee Couterie, Abrams, Rocca, Clark and Crozat, superb residences on Esplanade street, were consumed. Most of the build-Ings burned were small cottages, and hundreds of poor people lost all they possessed. Leon Ditrieux, a member of the Fire Department, had his leg broken in three places. A negro, who was detected setting fire to one of the buildings during the progress of tho conflagration, was shot and instantly killed. Another negro, also found in the act of committing a like crime, was shot at, but was missed, and succeeded in making his escape. The loss is estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000; insurance $200,000. About fifty houses were occupied by a hundred families, who lost nearly all their effects and are left destitute, many of them losing their wearing apparel.

The lower house of the Vermont legislature has finally passed a bill for filling the vacancy in the Electoral College by 129 to 19. The act is especially designed to meet the case of H. N. Sollace, said to be ineligible.

Attorney-General Taft takes a very sensible view of the question raised by the Democrats as to the eligibility of posmasters who have been appointed electors. He says they can make themselves eligible by resigning their commissions before they receive a certificate of their appointment from the Governor. They are in the same position as that occupied by Gov. Hayes or Gov. Tilden. Neither of these gentlemen is eligible to the Presidency as long as he holds the governorship, but either can become eligible by resigning the state office.

A fearful accident happened to James Hines, of Brooklyn, Thursday afternoon at Bethlehem, on the Lehigh and Susquehana Railroad. Hines and another man attempted to jump on a moving coal train, when the former fell under the ears and had both feet cut off-seven cars passed over them: He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital and had both limbs amputated. He suffered the most exeruciating pains and it is feared he will die. Hines is a young man about twentytwo years of age, and being out of work, he was traveling the country in search of employment. This sad accident should be a terrible warning to those who are in the habit of jumping on moving trains .- Coal Gazette.
