It is said by Mr. Cobb, one of the Senators from Alabama, that he is prepared to give his resignation to be submitted to Congress on the Kansas question. The men of the North who have been paying the southern blackmailers and mercenaries, and who have been for years past willing to take the place of the slaves, and who have been for years willing to work for less than the slaves, will be pleased to see the resignation of Mr. Cobb, which will have the original design, to break out with the usual threats of secession, if Congress should not do just what the southern politicians want it to do. Mr. Cobb, in his letter, says that the Kansas question should be settled on a basis of independence, and that the people of the Territory should be left to form their own laws, and be admitted as a State of the Union, with or without slavery, as they may decide. Mr. Cobb is a Democrat, and a friend of Buchanan, and yet he
