Too Much Production.

The Oil City Derrick figures at length to prove that the production of oil at present is too large to hope for publican urges the governments of Missouri paying prices, and frantically appeals to the producers to "stop the drill." It does seem to us that the producers have had experience sufficient to manage their own business. Every concerted movement heretofore has proved disastrous to the best interests of producers. They will have to be governed by the law of supply and demand, same as others in different branches of business. Low prices will "stop the drill," in such manner as to work no permanent injury to the business. It will regulate itself. Newspaper appeals, for merely sensational purposes, are calculated to infinite injury to the business. We have plenty of oil in our country to supply the world for a long time to come. Those engaged in the business must make up their minds to produce the article and sell it right along at market price, To amount cash from county treas.... whatever that may be. It is hard to get this slippery stuff, and still harder to hold it. Better let is pass into the hands of the consumers at a reasonable figure, than to hold it at a price that will render a substitute a necessity. By doing this a larger consumption can be assured, and thus the business By will be rendered more permanent and By pay better. Any article is valuable only as it can be afforded at such price as will justify its general use. And to low prices petroleum, more than any other article, owes its present vast consumption. But it does not follow because of this that deople will pay any price that is asked for it. On the contrary there will be less used, and substitutes for it will be looked up, We desire fair prices to rule, and the best way to do this is to allow the sup. ply to regulate itself to the demand by the regular laws of trade.- Warren

Mrs. Parrish, the she-devil of Pittston, who ordered her servant-girl to seat her little step-son on a hot stove, whereby he was severely burned, pleaded guilty a few days since. It is well that she did, and thus prevented the rehearsal of her crimes before the court. The prosecution would have placed the servant-girl upon the stand By amount paid Wilcox House for had the case proceeded, and she would have revealed much that has heretofore not been made public. She says she would have testified that Mrs. Parrish wanted her to shut the child in the oven and roast him, and that the inhuman monster once sent her with the boy to have the cars run over him; that she took him down on the railroad track, but when a train came along she got frightened and on my account, without my-written took him aside while the cars passed order, as I will pay no debts thus conby. Many of the tortures inflicted upon little Sammy, as the servant girl relates, are almost incredible and unfit for publication. Mrs. Parrish is in jail awaiting sentence.

Dr. M. M. FENNER, Fredonia, N. Y.
Dear Sir :--I had been suffering from Abscesses on my Lungs and Liver Disease for about three months. Coughed a great deal, had become nervous and restless and my flesh had wasted away. I had been treated by three different physicians without any material benefit. They finally advised change of climate to avoid Consumption, and in August last I had decided to break up my businesshere and go west in search of health. At this time I was induced to try your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic, whereupon to my surprise I began to recover. Once fairly under its influence I gained flesh at the rate of a pound a day. After using two and one-half bottles of the Remedy I was a well man, and went about my business, which I have continued uninterruptedly to this time, weighing now as much as I ever did in my life. These are facts, as anyone can ascertain of me or others at South Stockton, N. Y. any day. Gratefully Yours,

The St. Louis Republican in an editorial May 21, calls attention to the fact that an organization of lawless men exists in several border counties of Missonri and Arkansas who call themselves "Ghouls," but are more familiarly Known as "ku klux." Their chief purpose is to run and protect small illicit distilleries in the mountains and kill, whip or otherwise punish all persons who or pose them and show any disposition to reform the laws. There is a reign of terror in these counties. The Reand Arkansas, as well as the federal government, to take measures to break up this organization and bring the offenders to jus-
