The Walton Habeas Corpus Case.

On Saturday afternoon, Judge Williams gave his decision upon the application for the discharge of Nicholas Walton, the St. Louis fugitive. He stated that the first information was radically defective in not setting forth where the offense of obtaining money by false pretense had been committed. The second information, however, charged a conspiracy in Pittsburgh. This offense, being punishable in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny county, of course he would have to be tried here, or finally committed upon that charge. The commitments were simply for a further hearing, and of course the Court would not scrutinize them as closely as if they had been final.

Magistrates must of necessity commit for a further hearing, otherwise criminals might often escape. Of course the further hearing must be held within a "reasonable" time, so as not to work oppression. A sound discretion must be exercised by the magistrate, who must take into account all the circumstances of the case—the distance which witnesses have to come, etc.

Looking at all the facts in this case, the Court was not disposed to interfere until final commitments were lodged, if that should be the result of the hearing. It did appear, nevertheless, as though an effort was made to use the criminal process of the law for the purpose of obtaining money which might properly be the subject of a civil action.

Mr. Coyle remarked that such was actually the case. All the prosecution desired was a "portion of the spoils," and their object was not for the purpose of vindicating the law.

The application for a discharge was not allowed, and the prisoner must remain in jail until Wednesday next. The decision of Judge Williams gives a new phase to the case, not anticipated by the counsel for the prosecution—that, if held for conspiracy, he must be committed for trial here. The whole affair is beautifully mixed up, and will doubtless eventuate in the discharge of the accused.

The Contest Between the Liquor Inspectors.

Our readers are aware that under the act of April 11th, 1861, John Smiley was duly appointed by Governor Curtin as Inspector of Domestic Distilled Liquors for Allegheny county, and that the Councils of the city of Pittsburgh, some months previous to the passage of said act, had appointed James Littell as Gauger and Inspector for the city of Pittsburgh. When Mr. Smiley obtained his commission, he notified Mr. Littell that he must cease to act in that capacity, which he refused to do. An indictment for misdemeanor was then preferred against Mr. Littell, and when the case came on for trial, the defendant was convicted.

A motion in arrest of judgment and for a new trial was made, and on Saturday the matter came up for argument before Judge Mellon. J. P. Slagle, Esq., City Solicitor, made an argument in support of the motion, and held that the offense for which Mr. Littell had been convicted was not indictable, and that his duties did not interfere with those of Mr. Smiley.

Mr. Marshall opposed the motion, alleging that, in his view of the law, the supposed authority conferred by the City of Pittsburgh was no authority at all. And further, that wherever a duty is imposed by law upon any individual, an indictment will lie against him for non-performance of duty. This was the position in which Mr. Smiley was placed. The ordinances of the city were proper and legal until superceded by the act of Assembly, after which Mr. Littell acted wholly without authority, and hence was no longer liable for non-performance of duty.

Mr. Coyle followed in opposition to the motion for a new trial, and cited authorities in support of his position.

Judge Mellon took notes of the argument, and will render a decision at a future day.

Lectures at Concert Hall.

Rev. Dr. Bailey, of Baltimore, formerly pastor of Christ M. E. Church in this city, will deliver a course of two Lectures at Concert Hall, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, the 12th and 14th inst. Subject:—"Apocalyptic Foreshadowings of American History," or "The Times by Prophecy"—the first, showing Apocalyptic indications of the uprising of our nationality; the second, by the same light mapping out the present "Rebellion," with its results, &c. These lectures are original and new, having been delivered but once before their presentation here. In these times of national commotion, the most portentous known to our history, it will be interesting to discuss the question whether the "sure word of prophecy" throws any light upon our troubles. These lectures are designed to show that it does, in a way not to be misapprehended.

Dr. Bailey has not hesitated to avow himself an uncompromising Union man, in all the troubles through which Maryland has passed. The public, we think, will be compensated for any patronage they may extend to these lectures. We hope the lecturer will be greeted with good audiences on both evenings.

THE MOUNTAIN BRIGADE.—We learn by a private letter, that Gov. Curtin has appointed the following officers for the 1st regiment in the Mountain Brigade, now in Camp Crossman, near Huntingdon: Wm. G. Murry, Colonel; T. C. McDowell, Lieut. Colonel; Walter Barrett, Major; Dr. G. F. Hoops, Surgeon; Rev. Dr. McLeod, Chaplain; Lieut. S. Miles Kephart, Quartermaster. This regiment is now fully organized, and as soon as they are uniformed and arms procured, will be ready for service. The regiment in a great part is composed of Clearfield county men—than whom, there are no better soldiers in the service.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.—James Conrad, of Washington township, Cambria county, recently buried three children, who died of typhoid fever—Peter, aged nineteen; Mary, aged seventeen; and Caroline, aged fifteen. He has just recovered from the disease himself, and the balance of the family were prostrated, but are in a fair way of recovering. To add to his misfortune, the late rains have destroyed much of his property.

MAP OF THE SOUTHERN STATES.—Mr. John P. Hunt, of the Book, Magazine and Stationery Emporium, Masonic Hall, Fifth street, has received a supply of a beautiful new colored map of the Southern States, prepared for Harper's Weekly, and bearing date November, 1861. The price is only six cents.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION AND THE WAR FOR THE UNION.—We have received the 12th number of this work, which we have, in recent notices, already commended to the attention of our readers. The publisher is Mr. James D. Torrey, New York, and it is sold by all Booksellers and Newsdealers.

KILLED IN THE MINES.—A Welshman named Daniel J. Rees, engaged in the coal works of the Cambria Iron Company, was instantly killed, on Wednesday, in the drift in which he was working, by the falling, suddenly, upon him of a mass of coal. Mr. Rees was about 45 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

HOG CHOLERA.—It is stated that the disease known as the hog cholera is quite prevalent among the porcine family in Cambria county. Some farmers have lost nearly their whole stock of hogs, while many others have lost more or less of their expected winter's supply of pork by the disease.

DIVORCES GRANTED.—In the Court of Common Pleas, Saturday, decrees were made divorcing Michael Liston from Bridget Liston, and Laura Foster from Osmond Foster—the ground laid in each case being adultery.

CHAPLAIN.—Rev. Mr. McKay, of Callensburg, Clarion county, has been selected as Chaplain of Col. Lehman's 103d regiment, now at Camp Orr, Kittanning.

THE CRIMINAL COURT.—Owing to the absence of Judge McClure, no criminal business was transacted in the Court of Quarter Sessions on Saturday.

S. BARKLEY, a soldier in the three months campaign, was drowned last week, near Hopewell, Lebanon county, while on his way to enlist for the war.

THE profits of the late Mercy Hospital Fair amounted to $1,694.49.

Latest from Western Virginia.—Dispatches from Gen. Rosecrans, etc.

From the Wheeling papers of Saturday we learn that Gen. Rosecrans had telegraphed to Gov. Pairpoint that nothing like a battle had taken place down in Kanawha. The enemy threw two hundred shells into his camp, but didn't hurt a man. He has only had one man killed and three wounded, and this was done by bushwhackers. At midnight on Friday he telegraphed from Charleston, as follows:

"Floyd and forces are being surrounded at Cotton Hills, opposite Gauley. They are probably fighting to-day. This is official."

Marshal Norton has been sustained by Judge Jackson, in the seizure of rebel property in Wheeling. In the United States Court, on Friday, Col. Wheat, the District Attorney, read a number of documents which he had prepared in reference to the rebel property recently seized by the Marshal. On his motion, an order was made directing the Marshal to hold the goods, and give notice to all persons having claims against the parties to appear before the Court on the third Monday in December, and show cause why the property should not be condemned and sold.

Miss Ella Poole, of Wheeling, arrested some weeks ago on a charge of corresponding with the rebels, but who managed to escape from an upper window, has been recaptured at Louisville, and is now on her way to Washington, in custody of an officer, by order of General Sherman.

The Sprig House, at Wheeling, has been rented by the Government for a general hospital, and is being rapidly fitted up for that purpose. There are four or five hundred sick soldiers ready to be conveyed thither.

Donations of Army Goods.

The following goods have been handed in by the committees for the sick and wounded soldiers:

First Ward, Allegheny—(Mrs. A. M. Marshall, Mrs. R. T. Kennedy, Mrs. R. A. George,)—19 blankets, 8 comforts, 2 coverlets, 2 flannel shirts; 3 quilts, 28 pillow slips and cases, 2 bed spreads, 32 pairs stockings, 19 towels, 1 sheet, 1 bed tick, 8 sheets, 1 bolster slip, 5 hospital shirts, 2 feather pillows.

First Ward, Pittsburgh—(Additional,)—7 comforts, 1 pair blankets, 7 flannel shirts.

Second Ward, Pittsburgh—1 flannel shirt.

Second Ward, Allegheny—Cash from Mrs. Geo. B. Riddle and Mrs. H. P. Schwartz, $2 50 each, to pay freight, etc.

Pitt Township—From Mrs. Isaac Jones, 6 comforts, 6 blankets; Mrs. Varner, 6 pairs socks; Miss Smith, 12 pairs socks, 1 dressing gown, 1 pair slippers; Mrs. H., 3 comforts.

Second Ward, Allegheny—(Mrs. Robert McKnight)—3 blankets; 1 shawl, 1 flannel shirt, 2 blankets, 4 pairs socks, 6 pairs socks, 2 blankets, 2 pairs socks, 1 blanket.

Lawrenceville—(Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. H Riddle, Miss Jane Snowden, with the co-operation of the Lawrenceville Society)—25 comforts, 45 pairs socks, 30 pillows, 7 blankets, 5 sheets, 1 coverlet, 1 flannel shirt, 1 woolen shawl, 1 pair drawers, 1 roll lint, 113 compresses; 30 pillow cases, 1 checker board, 2 new blankets.

E. H. Pratt, Esq., and James Park, Jr., have kindly agreed to assist and co-operate with me.

Committees appointed by me are requested to send the donations collected to the Custom House, where we have made provisions to store and hold them.

They will not, in any case, give any goods to any person without an order from myself. I find that persons who have not the disposition to collect themselves, are annoying the committees by begging the goods from them.

JACOB GLOSSER, Agent.

The Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad

We are glad to announce for the information of travelers and shippers, that the line of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad is again in complete working order. The company has been subjected to extraordinary interruptions of late, and the speed with which all repairs are made, speaks well for the energy of the company and the skill of its operators. It is an important feeder to the trade of Pittsburgh, and any interruption to its business is seriously felt by all classes of citizens. Under ordinary circumstances the road is comparatively free from damage, and is operated with great care and regularity, but the heavy floods which have occurred during the past few months have caused interruptions which no foresight could prevent. We sincerely hope that the road may now enjoy uninterrupted prosperity.

Col. Wynkoop's Cavalry Regiment.

Among the regiments reported nearly ready for the field is the Seventh Cavalry or Knipsh regiment of the Pennsylvania line, commanded by Gen. Wynkoop, and now in Camp Cameron, near Harrisburg. This regiment has nearly a thousand men, completely uniformed, and the horses for them have been purchased. The men are generally from the rural districts of Pennsylvania. The officers are Lieut. Col. Wm. B. Sipes, who served in the three months volunteers as Captain in the Second regiment; Majors, John K. Wynkoop, late Major Sixth regiment, P. V.; James J. Seibert, late Lieut. Colonel Sixth regiment; James Given, late Major Second regiment. Col. Sipes is now in Washington making the necessary arrangements to fully complete the regiment, which, by order of the War Department, is to be increased to 1,2000 men.

THE IRISH COMPANIES.—We are pleased to learn that the prospects of the proposed Irish Companies, to be attached to the Irish Brigade of Gen. Meagher, are of the most flattering character. The gentlemen having the matter in charge are determined that the affair shall be attended to in the proper style. The subscription list is progressing admirably, far beyond the anticipations of the projectors. The Bank of Pittsburgh generously subscribed one hundred dollars, while Messrs. James McAuley, John Mackin, M. O'Harra and John Savage, each subscribed fifty dollars. We shall notice other subscriptions in due time. The enthusiasm with which our citizens have entered into this work is very creditable, and we have the assurance that an Irish Battalion can be raised in our county.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT AT COLUMBIA.—Last Friday night a most shocking accident occurred in Columbia, resulting in the death of John H. Armes, for many years a conductor on the railroad. The particulars of his death are not known, but at an early hour on Saturday morning his body was found on the track, mangled in the most horrible manner, all the night freight trains having evidently passed over it. The deceased leaves a family. He was familiarly known to railroad men as "Harry Armes."

PROMOTION.—The many friends of Mr. James F. McMullen, of McKeesport, Pa., will be pleased to learn that he has been promoted from the ranks, of the private to a lieutenancy in the Co. L of the 63d Regiment Pa. V. Mr. McMullen is eminently fitted for his new position, being a worthy and patriotic young man, and that he will discharge his duties to the credit of himself and the honor of his company, we have no doubt.

SICKLES BRIGADE.—Lieutenants Zeigler and Milley, of this Brigade, who have been home a few days, on a visit, intend returning to-morrow evening. Persons having letters or small packages which they desire to send to their friends in the brigade can do so by leaving the same at the St. Clair Hotel, in charge of the gentlemen above named, any time before four o'clock on Tuesday evening.

District Court.

SATURDAY, Nov. 9.—Before Judge Hampton.

Washington News in the P. T. Papers.

Evacuation of the Right Bank of the Potomac.

Information has reached here that there is every indication of the evacuation of the right bank of the Potomac by the rebel forces. The pickets of General Heintzleman's division report to-day that the rebel pickets yesterday fell back several miles; while contrabands who have come within our lines state that the troops are packing up and moving south. It is inferred here that the naval expedition has struck a terrible blow south, and that the Gulf States demanded the return of their troops for their own defense. Whatever may be the cause, it is evident that the rebels are in great commotion. One of our gunboats went down the river to-night, reconnoitering, and the state of affairs will be fully known to-morrow.

Gen. Halleck to Succeed Gen. Fremont.

Gen. Halleck has not yet received his orders, but the indications are that he will be assigned to the command in Missouri.

Military Change in Kentucky.

It is definitely settled that Gen. D. C. Buell is to relieve Gen. Sherman in command of the Department of the Cumberland. He received his orders to-day. As yet Gen. Sherman ranks Gen. Buell, he is not likely to remain in Kentucky in an inferior position, but may not, although he probably will be, ordered East. Gen. Sherman has disappointed the expectations of his friends in this city here. It is not believed that Gen. Buell will require 200,000 men to clear Kentucky of rebels.

The Cincinnati Gazette remarks on this head:

"Difficulties which occurred between Generals Mitchell and Sherman have doubtless had something to do with the transfer of the latter to another command. It may be that General Mitchell will withdraw his resignation and resume his position here."

Miscellaneous Items.

The government is endeavoring to make arrangements for the exchange of prisoners of war.

Lieut. Kuts, a federal prisoner, released on parole from Richmond, and who is here on that business, thinks his mission will be successful.

The President has already commenced to prepare his annual message to Congress.

News from the Naval Expedition.

The Philadelphia Press, of Saturday morning, has the following double-leaded editorial notice:

Commodore Hiram Paulding, who is one of the most distinguished officers in our Navy, arrived in our city from Washington last night. He was at the State Department at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and received a special messenger had arrived from the fleet, and he considered the intelligence received in regard to the Naval Expedition to be highly gratifying, and indicative of a brilliant triumph. Without entering into details, he assured his friends that all had gone well—that the expedition had been more successful than we could have reasonably anticipated, and he has no doubt that it will achieve a victory that will rejoice every loyal heart in the country, and shed new lustre upon the national arms.

A Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune writes:

The Secretary of the Navy regards the fact that no news has yet permitted to come from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe last night, as significant of an event favorable to the fleet.

The probabilities are, in the opinion of those here best qualified to judge, that the two small forts on the Headlands at Port Royal Entrance, are both still smaller and further from the sea, have been demolished or captured; that so many of the troops as it was intended to put ashore at this place have been landed, and the fleet is proceeding to the second point of attack—quite probably Brunswick—if, indeed, it has not reached it.

Port Royal harbor can be entered in ordinary tides by the largest vessels, and is spacious enough for a navy.

If the second attack prove as successful as the first has probably been, we shall have two excellent naval ports and naval harbors in convenient situations, and two excellent bases for military operations.

Within 48 hours authentic news will probably reach Annapolis by a vessel detached expressly from the fleet to bring it.

The Baltimore American, of Saturday, says:

—The Confederates were no doubt prepared for the landing of the Expedition at Port Royal, as the Richmond Examiner, of Saturday last, published the following paragraph:

It is understood that the Government has information, the particulars of which are not given to the public, that furnishes grounds for the belief that the Yankee fleet were preparing to land at Port Royal, in South Carolina. It would not be to have one of the most capacious and finest harbors on the Atlantic coast, with but few natural advantages for its defence. It is thought not improbable that the enemy may attempt to move inland towards Charleston."

From Missouri.

A special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, dated Rolla, November 8th, says:

"Col. Greusell has just returned from Houston, with the expedition which he led in the chase of Freeman. The force consisted of 300 infantry and about 100 cavalry. Freeman's force is reported to have been 500 strong. He entered Houston on the 4th inst., and took the town by surprise. The stars and stripes were placed on the Court House. Two rebels were killed, both prominent officers; and several citizens taken prisoners. Three hundred head of cattle, mules and horses were captured and brought in. A mail carrier with valuable letters was also taken. The enemy was followed to within forty miles of the Arkansas border, when the chase was given up. The Colonel issued a proclamation to the people of Houston and Texas county, admonishing the rebels in that vicinity in decided tones that if Union men were molested again, in person or property, he would return and wreak vengeance on their heads."

A dispatch to the same paper from St. Louis says:

"The rumors about Fremont's reinstatement are more positive than ever. The General received a dispatch from Washington at Sedalia, this morning, which was said to be a tender of the command—again. This is doubted."

ROLLA, Mo., Nov. 9.—Col. Greunell's force captured in Texas county, among other rebel prisoners, Quartermaster Spencer Mitchell and Lieut. Col. Taylor, Inspector of Gen. McBride's Brigade.

GOVERNMENT HORSES.—About 1000 Government horses are to be distributed throughout Cumberland and Dauphin counties, to be fed and taken care of. They are to be held as a reserve, to be called for just as they are needed. It is said that the Government stipulates that they shall be fed a peck of oats and fifteen pounds of hay per day, for which forty cents per head is paid.

ACCIDENT TO GEN. HALE.—During the ceremonies of presenting one of the State flags to Col. M'Cartar's regiment, at Camp Coleman, Lebanon, on Friday morning, the horse mounted by Quartermaster General Hale, who was present as one of the Governor's staff, suddenly reared, and fell backwards upon the General, injuring him severely.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—Many new counterfeits on the Farmers and Mechanics Bank were passed in Philadelphia on Friday last. No description of the bill is given, but as an attempt may be made to "shove" them here, our readers should keep a sharp look out for them.

It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is a certain remedy for all the diseases specified, and especially those of a chronic nature—of long standing—of weeks, months, and years. Suffer-ers, try it!

THE LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

RECEIVED AT THE DAILY GAZETTE OFFICE

THE BATTLE AT BELMONT.

ST LOUIS, Nov. 9.—Gen. Grant telegraphs from Cairo to headquarters here that our victory at Belmont was complete. We captured 130 prisoners and all the rebels' artillery, but were obliged to leave a part of the guns behind for want of horses to haul them. Some of the prisoners report a large force was preparing to start to reinforce Price, but our attack will no doubt prevent it. Our loss was about 250. About one-half of these were killed and mortally wounded.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9; 1:10 P. M.—A special dispatch to the Times, from Cairo, says it is impossible yet to obtain anything like an accurate report of the killed, wounded and missing in the engagement at Belmont, on the 7th.

It is estimated that 25 of the Twenty-second Illinois are missing; and it is thought that 35 are missing of the Seventh Iowa. Col. Lamon was wounded, but not dangerously; Lieut. Col. Wendell, killed; and the Major and Adjutant missing.

In Col. Logan's regiment, 35 are reported killed and 47 wounded.

All but 44 of Col. Fouke's regiment answered roll call yesterday afternoon.

The loss in Col. Buford's regiment has not been ascertained, but it is supposed not to be heavy.

In Taylor's artillery, only three are slightly wounded.

One hundred and thirty-four prisoners were taken. All accounts concur in placing the loss of the enemy much heavier than ours.

Belmont has been abandoned by the rebels. They have one hundred and fifty prisoners, and acknowledge three hundred and fifty killed, but would not permit the Federal officers who went to Columbus with a flag of truce, yesterday, to visit the place to which they conveyed their dead.

There is no reliable news from Col. Ogilvie's command. It is rumored that he had encountered Jeff. Thompson's forces, killing three hundred and losing fifty.

Latest from Washington.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 9.—The War Department has received an official telegram concerning the battle at Belmont, Mo., which generally confirms the newspaper statements. It says that Capt. Bielosky, of Gen. McClellan's staff, was killed, and among other particulars says: "We fought all the way into the enemy's camp, immediately under the guns of Columbus, spiked two guns and brought away two, together with 200 prisoners. The Federal loss is stated at 300—that of the enemy being much heavier."

The Government has no authentic information that the rebels are weakening their own force on the lower Potomac.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 9—Gen. Fitzpatrick's division was thoroughly reviewed to-day by Maj. Generals McClellan and Halleck; twelve Brig. Generals were also present with their respective staffs. It was raining in the meantime. The usual mode of review was improved on this occasion—the firing being by regiments, brigades, and as a division accompanied by artillery. Col. Averhill, commanding the 31 Pennsylvania cavalry, formerly known as Young's Kentucky cavalry, was especially complimented by Gen. McClellan on the fine condition to which he has brought the regiment.

Yesterday, Gen. Wadsworth, accompanied by two privates of the New York 22d regiment, went to Bank's house, three miles from Falls Church, on the road leading to Fairfax Court House, for the purpose of finding forage. While at the house, a squad of rebel cavalry was seen rapidly approaching. The General quickly mounted his horse and succeeded in making his escape, but the privates were taken prisoners.

An official dispatch from Chingotigue Inlet, Virginia, shows that the United States steamer Louisiana has been actively at work. A party from that vessel, together with five volunteers from the island, went on an expedition, and proceeding up the creek a mile or two, they found and destroyed a schooner and two sloops. The party left the Louisiana in three boats at 10 o'clock at night, on the 27th ult., and returned at 3 o'clock the next morning, all well. The whole affair appears to have been conducted with so much system and discretion that the enemy, said to be 300 strong in all, knew nothing of it until they felt the presence of our expedition.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 10.—The Court of Inquiry in the case of Commander Poor, charged with negligence concerning the escape of the pirate Sumter, have adjourned, and on their report the Navy Department has ordered a Court Martial to convene, composed of Capt. Breese, President; Capts. Latimer, Levy, Jarvis and Chauncey; Lieut. Wm. G. Temple, Judge Advocate. The Court will meet on the 18th inst.

The Navy Department being anxious that the vacancies in the Naval Academy, about thirty in number, shall be filled as soon as practicable, has again extended the time during which the members of Congress entitled to nominations of acting midshipmen, by reason of failure or otherwise, can make them. They have now to Nov. 30 to make them.

News from the Naval Fleet.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—The steamer from Old Point has arrived. The passengers report that a flag of truce had arrived from Norfolk and brought no news from the expedition; but the wheelsman of the rebel steamer stated to one of the hands of the federal steamer that Beaufort had been taken by the United States troops, and that our flag was waving over the Court House.

Passengers by the boat also report that the Richmond Enquirer, of Friday, contains a dispatch from Charleston, dated Wednesday, simply stating that the federal troops had landed at two points and marching inland. The dispatch did not say what points. The officers of the rebel flag of truce refused to give any information whatever.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 9.—Special Dispatch to the New York Herald: I have just learned from the flag of truce arrived from Norfolk, that our troops had stormed and captured the two forts at Beaufort, S. C.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 9—via Baltimore.—The ferry boat Commodore Perry arrived this morning from the great expedition. She lost sight of the fleet on Friday evening of last week, about 30 miles off Bull's Bay. The fleet was bearing towards Port Royal. The Captain knows nothing about the reported loss of the Union and another transport. His boat became so disabled that he could proceed no farther, but had to run towards the coast for safety.

The steamer Mayflower was some distance behind the fleet with a signal of distress, and the Captain thinks could not have reached her destination. The Commodore Perry lay several hours near Cape Fear, and finally made Hatteras Inlet.

The flag of truce to-day contains not a word of news concerning the expedition. The 20th Indiana regiment, now at Hatteras, will return to Old Point.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—The steamship Red Rover, which arrived at Old Point late last night, reported that she had spoken the steamer Governor, which accompanied the naval expedition, the Captain of which reported that he had been compelled, on account of damage by the storm, to put her marines on board the frigate Sabine, which vessel proceeded direct to Port Royal. What became of the steamer Governor our informant did not ascertain.

A gentleman arrived here from Old Point, who had a conversation with Gen. Wool, says that he emphatically pronounced his rumored resignation a base falsehood.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—The Santa Fe and Carson City express arrived at this place yesterday, bringing Santa Fe dates to the 25th ult., and $5,000 in gold dust.

There were no through passengers and no news of importance.

The mails from Washington were arriving very irregularly.

Specie had become very scarce in the Territory, and none could be obtained.

Capt. W. V. Lewis, of the Fifth Infantry, is appointed Provost Marshal of Santa Fe and vicinity.

Snow had fallen in Santa Fe, and the weather was very cold.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Chas. Green, late a member of Savannah, and his sister, Mrs. Lowe, have been arrested at Detroit and brought to this city. Green is charged with having purchased war munitions in England for the rebels. He was sent to Fort Warren. Mrs. Lowe was sent to Washington. Her husband was arrested in Cincinnati.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The steamship Nightengale, which arrived to-day from the South-west Pass, has the cargoes of five schooners which were captured by the steamer South Carolina, off New Orleans, two of which comprise entire cargoes of munitions of war, including a large quantity of powder and 10,000 stand of arms.

The steamships Arago and Glasgow sailed for Europe at noon to-day, the former with 140 and the latter with 160 passengers. Among those in the Arago are Gen. Scott, Col. H. L. Scott and Thurlow Weed. Gen. Scott went aboard about 10 o'clock, and nobody but passengers were allowed to visit the steamer subsequently.
