RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

According to the Report of the British Wesleyan and Home Mission Society, the religious destitution of London is very great. It is a fact known to the police, and indeed apparent to every man who has an opportunity of observing the state into which the masses are falling, that there never was a time, when the temper of the lower orders was less satisfactory than it is now. It pays.

There are whole streets within an easy walk of Charing Cross,—there are miles and miles of lanes and alleys on either side of London Bridge, where the people live utterly without God in the world,—where there seems to be no knowledge of the difference between right and wrong,—no belief whatever in a future state, or of their responsibility to any other authority than that of the law, if it can reach them. There are entire quarters in which it seems to be a custom that men and women should live in promiscuous concubinage, where the most frightful debauchery goes on night and day in the lowest public-houses,—where the very shop-keepers make a profession of Atheism, and encourage their poor customers to do the same."

——The Bible-women are accomplishing a good work among the lower classes of London. During the last 101 months nearly 9,000 copies of the Scriptures have been sold. The total sales for four years amount to 27,000 copies. The first year but 8 women were employed, the last 160. The income for the year 1861 was over $90,000.

——At an election for lay delegates to manage the affairs of the National Protestant Church in Paris, the evangelical portion of the Church obtained quite a victory over the Liberal or Rationalistic elements in the Church. In a vote of fifteen hundred of the male members of the Church, the majority for the evangelical party was more than six hundred. The government of the Church in that city is entrusted to a "Consest Presbyteral" composed of all the pastors of churches in the city and twelve lay delegates.

——The General Conference of the American Wesleyan Church directed the annual conferences to vote on the question, whether secret societies should be tolerated in the Church. The vote has been taken in fourteen yearly conferences. And it has been determined, says the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, by 294 against 74 that in the judgment of the Wesleyan connection, it is inconsistent with our duties to God to be a Free Mason or Odd Fellow.

——The Baptists in Germany, according to the Annual Report, have a clear increase of 1,027 members. There are 855 preaching stations, and 8,935 members in that country.

——The revival intelligence reported through five of the Methodist Advocates for two weeks, make a total of one thousand nine hundred and six conversions and accessions. The Pittsburgh Advocate for last week reports 258 conversions and accessions. There is a very gracious work going on, we are informed, in the Presbyterian Church at Tarentum, Pa. Two or three score have made a profession of Christ. The Central M. E. Church, New York City, under the pastoral care of Rev. A. Cookman, formerly pastor of Christ M. E. Church of this city, is enjoying the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The Religious Telescope, the organ of the United Brethren, in its issue of the 29th ult., reports four hundred and forty seven conversions and accessions, two hundred of which are from one circuit, in Missouri, where through all the strife, this Church will hold its own.

——The Rev. Mr. Macgowan and other missionaries of the London Missionary Society, laboring at Shanghae and the surrounding districts, have been quite successful. Nearly two hundred native converts have been admitted to church fellowship during the last twelve months.

——From the Presbyterian we learn Mr. McLaren, a missionary of the Presbyterian Church, administered the Lord's Supper, after the Presbyterian form, in Bogota. This is probably the first time this ordinance was ever dispensed in South America by a Protestant.

——We clip the following from an exchange:

"Good Father Wilkinson, of London—well known for his Golden Lectures—one evening told his daughter that for years he had prayed God that he might not be taken away suddenly.—"But," said he, "this night I have withdrawn that petition; I am ready to leave this, too, in the hands of God." It was the last link of bondage broken—the last vestige of self-will uprooted. That very night, amid the solemn silence, he was translated to the bosom of his Redeemer.

——The Boston Post says the American Society for the "Amelioration of the Condition of the Jews," is said to be extinct. Pecuniary amelioration the Jews do not need; religious amelioration they will not have.

——The North Western Advocate says the hand which shall write the history of the rebellion must ascribe to the M. E. Church a chief place among the agencies which, under God, saved the Union and the Constitution.

——It is proposed to abolish regimental chaplains, and substitute one chaplain for each brigade.

——The venerable patriarch, Rev. Joshua Wells, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference, who died on the 25th ult., in the 98th year of his age, was 74 years in the ministry, and was ordained in 1790 by the sainted Asbury.

——A minister of the United Brethren Church, writes from Columbia, Ky., to the U. B. Mission Rooms, Dayton, O., that he has "never known but one member of the United Brethren Church, who was a secessionist, and him," he says, "we disowned."

——Recent, intelligence reports Archbishop Hughes still at Paris. For several Sabbaths his discourses delivered in the church of St. Roch, attracted large audiences.

——Reference was make to the renting of pews in Mr. Beecher's Church, Brooklyn, in a recent issue. Since then we learn the aggregate amount falls short three thousand dollars of some previous years. The debt incurred by the purchase of lots to build a larger Church for Mr. Beecher, and the semi-debt on the present building, makes the indebtedness of the whole Church over $60,000.

——It is said the large, aristocratic uptown houses of worship in New York City, are in a hard way on account of the financial distress in which many of the pew-holders, occasioned by the war and other causes, are passing through.——Consequently large assessments heretofore cheerfully met, are now paid with reluctance, and the funds for parish expenditures are collected with difficulty.

——At the sale of pews in the Stone Chapel, (Episcopal and Unitarian) Boston, the competition was so great for a pew located in the side aisles, not far from the pulpit, that it brought fifteen hundred dollars.

——Mr. E. C. Bailey, editor of the Boston Daily Herald, presented to the new Tremont Street M. E. Church of that city, carpets to supply every part of the building. The trustees voted him one of the best pews in the house.

——The constitution of the Spanish action provides that every Spaniard must be a Roman Catholic. As evidence that this is no dead letter, there are, it is said, some fifty persons in Spanish prisons, charged with the crimes of reading God's word and holding prayer meetings.

——Rev. E. E. Higbee, recently of Tiffin, Ohio, has received and accepted a call from the Grace Church, (German Reformed) Pittsburgh, Pa.

——The Baptists seem to be prospering in Australia, judging from recent intelligence. During two years a hundred and seventy have been baptised by Mr. Wilson of Brisbane. Churches are springing up all around. In New South Wales, steady progress is reported.

——From the annual report of the Edinburgh City Mission, held last month, we learn there were seventy agents in connection with the mission. Sixty thousand persons have been brought within the operations of the agency, of which forty thousand never entered a place of worship.

——In a slip from the rooms of the American Tract Society, New York, the results of three-fourths of a year are given, by which it appears the Society has expended over sixteen thousand dollars in issuing appropriate libraries, manuals and works for the use of our army and navy.

River News.

The river was about stationary yesterday, with six feet by the marks last evening. The weather was cold and unsettled. There is no ice in the Allegheny river here, but it is reported frozen over at Franklin. There is nothing doing at the wharf worthy of notice. The receipts have improved a little but shipments appear to be falling off. The arrivals were the Lizzie Martin from Zanesville, Undine from Gallipolis, and John T. McCombs from Wheeling. The Clara Poe was reported aground at "Glass Home" yesterday afternoon, but she would doubtless get in during the night. The Hastings for Louisville, with a fair trip, was the only transient departure. The L. M. Kennett, from St. Louis, is laid up at Wheeling waiting for a rise. It is said that she is drawing eight feet of water, and has among other items 8,000 bbls. of flour. The Kenton from Louisville, and Empire City from St. Louis arrived at Cincinnati on Thursday, and the Marengo left for Pittsburgh the same day. We learn from the Cincinnati Commercial that the Prima Donna, on her arrival of Cairo, was dispatched up the Tombeckbee river with troops.

The Cosmopolite left very suddenly on Thursday night for Cincinnati, where it is said she will enter Government service. But for this she would have been taken to Brownsville yesterday, and her machinery transferred to a new boat now building at that place.
