MISCELLANY.

Robinson Crusoe.

Juan Fernandez, in the great South Sea, is about 16 miles long, and 6 broad. The springs of water which it contains are excellent; it abounds with a variety of esculent and antiscorbutic vegetables. Formerly wild goats subsisted in great numbers on its mountains, but the breed is now nearly destroyed. Commodore Anson's squadron, in 1741, remained here three months, during which time the dying crews, who on their arrival could scarcely heave the anchor with one united effort, were cured of the scurvy, and restored to perfect health. The Commodore sowed in the island many garden seeds, and set the stones of plums, apricots, and peaches, which, it is said, have since come to maturity.

About the year 1705, Alexander Selkirk, a Scotch mariner, was left by some accident on this desert island, where he continued till 1710, when he was taken up by an English ship, and brought to Europe. The house which he built as a shelter from the inclemencies of the weather, and as a defence from danger, subsisted in the time of Lord Anson, and is described to have been so small that a man could not without difficulty creep into it and stretch himself at length. When Selkirk returned to his native country he related his very interesting adventures to Daniel Defoe, who founded upon them the History of Robinson Crusoe, the best and most entertaining moral romance now extant. It displays in a striking manner the advantage of being inured to manual exertions, the value of skill in the mechanic arts, the numberless benefits we derive from the division of labor, and above all, it enables us to perceive, in their full extent, the intellectual, moral and religious aids we derive from society. Some of these improving lessons are admirably enforced in the following little poem by Cowper, which the reader must suppose to have been the soliloquy of Selkirk, on the island of Juan Fernandez.

"I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there is none to dispute;
From the centre all round to the sea,
I am lord of the fowl and the brute.
Oh solitude! where are the charms
That sages have seen in thy face?
Better dwell in the midst of alarms,
Than reign in this horrible place.

I am out of humanity's reach,
I must finish my journey alone,
Never hear the sweet music of speech,
I start at the sound of my own.
The beasts that roam over the plain,
My form with indifference see,
They are so unacquainted with man,
Their tameness is shocking to me.

Society, friendship, and love,
Divinely bestowed upon man,
O had I the wings of a dove,
How soon would I taste yo again!
My sorrows I then might assuage
In the ways of religion and truth;
Might learn from the wisdom of age,
And be cheered by the sallies of youth.

Religion! what treasure untold
Resides in that heavenly word!
More precious than silver and gold,
Or all that this earth can afford.
But the sound of the church-going bell
These valleys and rocks never heard,
Ne'er sighed at the sound of a knell,
Or smiled when a Sabbath appeared.

Ye winds that have made me your sport,
Convey to this desolate shore
Some cordial endearing report
Of a land I shall visit no more.
My friends, do they now and then send
A wish or a thought after me?
O tell me I yet have a friend,
Though a friend I never shall see.

How fleet is a glance of the mind!
Compared with the speed of its flight,
The tempest itself lags behind,
And the swift-winged arrows of light.
When I think of my own native land,
In a moment I seem to be there;
But alas! recollection at hand
Soon hurries me back to despair.

But the sea-fowl is gone to her nest,
The beast is laid down in his lair;
Even here is a season of rest,
And I to my cabin repair.
There is mercy in every place;
And mercy! encouraging thought,
Gives even affliction a grace,
And reconciles man to his lot."

THE OLD MAID.—Shame on ye who would speak lightly of an advanced state of single-blessedness. Where is the wit of such expressions as "vinegar aspect," "leading apes," "old and crabbed," "scandal-monger," "mischief-maker," "wry-mouthed gossiper," and similar all-natured and inelegant terms? Shame on those who are guilty of so great a violation of decency and truth. Many who lead lives of celibacy do so from choice—some have been disappointed in their first attachment, and with a constancy that does honor to their sex, remain wedded to their only love—we know there are numerous cases where single life is persevered in from choice. Away, then, with all this idle cant about old maids. Learn to respect a class that lives not for self, but for the good of society—a class honorable in every impulse, charitable in all things, hoping and doing much. The world would not be complete without a considerable sprinkling of old maids. Humane societies must fall, deprived of their invaluable aid—tracts will find no distributors—the sick and poor might die for want of assistance—Dorcas meetings must come to an end, if all the old maids in the country are to be shamed into matrimony, whether they will or no. There must be old maids—so not another word under that head.—Neal's Gazette.

HEADING JOHN TYLER.—The Raleigh (N.C.) Standard tells a story which is good enough to be repeated in an abridged form, and which may withal be true. The point of it is, that some of Mr. Tyler's neighbors in Virginia, acting in the matter through the promptings of dislike, undertook to "head" the ex-President by solemnly electing him to the rather ungracious office of road overseer; but that the ex-President turned the tables on them by going into the business of road-making with such willing energy contributions of workmen from the fields and plantations of the unlucky neighborhood aforesaid—that before many days were gone they were fain to wait upon him in all humility and beg him to resign his office, or the crops on their farms would be nil when the harvest time came around. The Standard says he turned a deaf ear to their entreaty, and kept on until he had made one of the best roads in the whole county.—Neal's Gaz.

BE CHARITABLE.—Charity covereth a multitude of sins," but there are more ways than one of showing kindness to the world. No doubt pecuniary help is often of very great moment, but there is another kind of charity which is cheaper, and of which we should not be chary. Do not turn the man off, who, in the hour of temptation, yielded to a first fault. Bear with him yet a little longer—give him another trial—while you condemn his misdeed, encourage him to good deeds for the future. If you cast him off forever, he may reel blindly and continue to fall until ruin shall have fixed her seal permanently upon him. Be charitable—make due allowance for the weakness of poor humanity. A gentle word, a kind look, an encouraging smile, may save a human being from the abyss of despair.—Neal's Gazette.

One of the greatest obligations of man is to engender in the greatest extent possible the power of being good.

MEDICAL.

GREAT SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE!
The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other Medicines is, while it Eradicates Disease it leaves the body in health. It is one of the very best SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINES ever known, it set only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it Overturns Pain and Has Raised a power possessed by no other Medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the past two years, more than 50,000 cures of Severe Cases of Disease; at least 5,000 of these were considered incurable. More than 2,000 cases of Chronic Rheumatism,
2,000 cases of Dyspepsia,
400 cases of General Debility and Want of Energy;
7,000 cases of different Female Complaints;
2,000 cases of Scrofula;
1,600 cases of the Liver Complaint;

And Thousands of cases of Disease of the Blood, viz: Ulcers, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, &c., &c. Together with numerous cases of Sick Headache, Pain in the Side and Chest, Spinal Affections, &c., &c.
This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from physicians and responsible persons from all parts of the United States, relating an of extraordinary cures. R. Van Buskirk, Esq., one of the most respectable druggists in Newark, N. J., informs us that he can refer to more than 150 cures in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the City of New York, which we will refer to with pleasure. Ask to "see testimony." It is the best medicine for the Preventive of disease known. It undoubtedly saved the lives of more than 5,000 CHILDREN THIS PAST SEASON!
As it removed the cause of disease, and prepared them for the Summer months.
UNITED STATES OFFICER.
CAPT. G. W. MCCLASH, OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY, and member of the New Jersey Legislature, has kindly sent us the following certificate. It tells its own story.
RAHWAY, Jan. 25, 1847.
A year since I was taken with the Influenza, and my whole system left in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and after taking two or three bottles I was very much relieved, and attribute it entirely to the said Sarsaparilla. I have continued taking it, and find that I improve every day. I believe it saved my life, and would not be without it under any consideration.
G. W. MCCLASH, late U. S. N.
SCROFULOUS CORES.
This certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsaparilla has the perfect control over the most obstinate disease of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.
DR. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your extraordinary medicine. They were afflicted very severely with bad sores; have only taken four bottles; I look them purely for the whole. I feel myself under deep obligations.
ISAAC W. CRANE, 195 Wooster st.
New York, March 1, 1847.
GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE.
Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for Incipient Consumption, Barrenness, Leucorrhœa, or White, obstruction of the Menses, Prolapsus or falling of the Uterus or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of laborious cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident.
Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human system. Females, all weak and languishing, from taking it, at once become robust and full of energy and vigor. Its peculiar adaptedness to the weaker sex, is the cause of the female frame, which is the great cause of barrenness.
It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificate of cure performed, but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds have been without children, after using a few bottles of this invaluable medicine, have been blessed with healthy offspring.
Dr. Townsend: My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and having suffered much from pain and bearing down, after taking two bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and following the directions, you gave her, she experienced great relief, and she has since taken two bottles more, which is the great cause of her present good health.
Dr. Townsend: My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and having suffered much from pain and bearing down, after taking of the bottles of your Extract of Sarsaparilla, and followed the directions you gave her, she experienced great relief, and she has since taken two bottles more, which is the great cause of her present good health. Being grateful for the benefit she received, I take pleasure in the testimony.
Yours respectfully, M. D. MOORE,
Albany, Aug. 17, 1844. Cor. of Broad and Lydius sts.
CONSUMPTION, Sept. 29, 1845.
Dr. Townsend: To all whom this may concern, this is to certify that my wife has taken six bottles of your Sarsaparilla previous to her confinement, under the most alarming and delicate circumstances, being afflicted with the most violent cough, and a very bad case of Liver Complaint, and Dropsy in the Chest, with my permission, and the recommendation of her physician, she was induced to try it, with little or no faith; and suffice it to say, the medicine had the happy and desired effect, not only in the lessening of her sufferings, but the expulsion of her disease, and her child, the dropsy and nervous affection gave way to an astonishing degree, and her health is now better than it had been for a long time.
If this will be of any service to you or any one else, Amelia the mother of the child, gives you entirely authority to it.
I subscribe myself your most obedient and obliged servant.
S S JARVIS.
TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.
This Extract of Sarsaparilla has been expressly prepared its influence to female complaints. To females who have been to regular medical treatment, but without benefit, this extract is recommended as the most critical period, "the turn of life," should neglect to take it, as it is a certain preventative for any of the numerous complaints to which the female constitution is subject at this time of life. This period may be delayed for several years by using this extract. No lady need hesitate to use it during the most approaching womanhood, as it is calculated to assist nature by quickening the blood and invigorating the system, and thus obviating the necessity of the delicate diseases to which women are subject.
It renews the whole system, restores permanently the natural energies—by removing the impurities of the body—and so for strengthening the system, it is a product a wonderful effect, which is the use of most medicines taken for female weakness and disease.
GIRLS READ THIS.
You who have pale complexions, dull eyes, blotches on the face, rough skin, or freckles, and are "out of spirits," not a bottle or two of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, but half a dozen bottles, and prepare the freckles and blotches, and give you animation, sparkling eye, fine spirits, and a healthy complexion, all of which you are entitled to, unless nature intended better.
DYSPEPSIA.
No field or medicine has ever been discovered which so nearly resembles the gastric juice or aids in decomposing food and strengthening the stomach and digestive organs, as Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla.
RANE DEPARTEER, Albany, May 19, 1845.
Dr Townsend: Dear Sir: I have been afflicted for several years with dyspepsia in the worst forms, attended with nervous or sick headache, and a general weakness of the system, to a great extent so all kinds of food, and for weeks (what I could eat,) I have been unable to retain but a small portion of it on my stomach. I have tried many remedies, but they had but little or no effect in removing the complaint. I was induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and have used three bottles of the medicine, and I feel myself, with little confidence, but after using twenty bottles, I found my appetite restored, and the nervous affection entirely removed. I would cordially recommend the use of it to those who have been afflicted as I have been.
Yours, &c., W. W. VAN ZANDT.
Nov 28, 1845. Staten Island.
ALMOST A MIRACLE.
Read the following and judge for yourselves, if you can, that cough cannot be cured.
This is only one of the several hundred cures that Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured.
Dr Townsend: Sir: I was taken sick a little over a year ago, with a severe cough and pain in my side. It increased on me very fast, indeed, I was prescribed by physicians to have the last consumption—I raised large quantities of bad matter, had night sweats, and making very bad my doctor said I could not live long. I was then given up by my doctor and friends to die. I was induced to try your Sarsaparilla, and I can say that I am now in good health, and able to do my own work, and I attribute the cure to your Sarsaparilla.
Yours, &c., ELIZABETH FOWLER, 10 Dominick st.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL OFFICE.
No. 43 DIAMOND ST. Near Penn st., below Wood street, towards the market.
DR. BROWN,
Having been regularly educated to the medical profession, and been for some time in general practice, he feels himself competent to the treatment of those private and delicate complaints for which his opportunities and experience in this city peculiarly fit him.
Eleven years and more devoted to the study and treatment of these complaints, (dating which time he has had more practice of the kind than ordinarily falls to the lot of a private practitioner) enables him to offer as efficacious a remedy for gonorrhœa, gleet, and all diseases arising therefrom.
Dr. Brown would particularly direct attention to those diseases which have become chronic by time or aggrieved by the use of any of the common nostrums of the day, but their complete cure he can confidently and speedily effect, by having given his careful attention to the treatment of such cases, and some considerable portion of his practice in this city consisting of inflammation of the neck of the bladder, and hindered diseases which other practitioners have pronounced incurable, he particularly invites such as have suffered from the injudicious treatment of others to become long and unsuccessfully treated by others to consult him, when every attention will be given them and their cases treated in a careful, thoroughly and intelligent manner, pointed out by long experience and study, and a knowledge which it is impossible for those engaged in a business which is restricted to a few articles, or confined to a particular class of medicine to give any one class a general practice of medicine to give any one class of diseases.
☞ Hernia or Rupture—Dr. Brown also imparts relief with Hernia to call, as he has paid particular attention to this complaint.
☞ Any one which I sell will be proved, if desired, in the presence of the purchaser.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.
DR. SWAYNE'S
GREAT DISCOVERY.
The great Remedy for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Spitting Blood, Difficulty of Breathing, Pain in the Side and Breast, Palpitation of the Heart, Influenza Croup, Broken Constitution, Sore Throat, Nervous Debility, and all diseases of the Throat, Breast and Lungs; the most effectual and speedy cure ever known for any of above diseases, is
COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.
ANOTHER LIVING WITNESS.—Read with astonishment the wonderful cure performed by Doctor Swayne's Compound Syrup of WILD CHERRY:
PHILADELPHIA, January 25, 1847.
Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: In justice to yourself and a duty I owe to suffering humanity, I cheerfully give my testimony, and declare to the world the most astonishing effects, and the great cure your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry performed on me, under the most unfavorable circumstances. I was taken with a violent Cough, Spitting of Blood, severe Pains in the Side and Breast, which seemed to break down and enfeeble my constitution, so that my physician thought my case beyond the power of medicine, and my friends all gave me up to die; but thanks to you and the effects of your great discovery, I now feel myself a well man, and raised from a mere skeleton to as healthy and healthy a man as I have been for years, and shall be pleased to give any information respecting my case, by calling at my residence, Mechanic street, third door below George street, Northern Liberties. JACOB PAINTER.
Testimony is now received from all quarters o the Globe.
The following letters are presented with a view of more fully showing the opinions of Physicians in relation to the Medical value of Dr. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.
Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: Having used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry extensively in my practice, I was requested by your Agent, Doctor Crutcher, to express my opinion in writing of its properties as a remedial agent. I most cheerfully comply with the request, and feel by so doing, I will discharge a debt I owe the community at large, and Physicians in particular. As much as I detest Quack Nostrums and Patent Medicines, I have indeed from a failure of the most potent expectorants, recommended in our materia medica in some cases of Diseased Lungs, to try your preparation of Wild Cherry, and will state that it is sufficient to say that I was so much pleased with the result of that and subsequent trials, that I now prescribe it in preference to all other remedies where an expectorant is indicated. In the much dreaded Pneumonia or Disease of the Lungs, in the alarming form in which it appears in Kentucky, I regard it as an invaluable Remedy in the treatment of that disease. To all who know me I have said enough, but as this may be seen by persons out of the vicinity of Frankford, I will briefly add, that I have been a regular practitioner of my profession of 12 years, and am a Regular Graduate of Transylvania, and this is the first Patent Medicine I ever thought enough of to express an opinion in writing.
J. H. ELLISON, M. D.
January 7th, 1847. Franklin County, Ky.
Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: Your Wild Cherry, Lexington, Ky., Jan'y 7th, 1847.
The above certificate is from one of our Physicians living a few miles from here, he is doing a very good practice, and is esteemed by the good Physicians, and stands fair; he is, as he says, a regular graduate.

Now that Winter is upon us with its attendant train of Pulmonic and Bronchial affections, Coughs Colds, &c. &c., it is natural to those afflicted in this way to make immediate trial of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. It will never fail to perform a permanent cure. The reputation of this medicine has caused many spurious articles to be put forth under its name; but the preparation of Dr. Swayne, besides being the first and best offered to the public, is the only one that can be relied on. The other mixtures sold for Wild Cherry Syrup, Balsams, &c., are all spurious and worthless, and contain none of the medicinal properties of the original Wild Cherry. Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.
From the Springfield Express.
Of the thousands of imported curative nostrums now before the public, but very few are found to possess the healing virtues for which they are recommended. Among the few we are pleased to learn some stand a better test than Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. The afflicted in this vicinity are beginning to use it, and to their surprise find in its use their hopes based upon its recommendations more than realized. The afflicted need not despair. While there is life, there now is hope.
A CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.
☞ Since the introduction of my article to the public, there have a number of unprincipled individuals got nostrums which they assert contain Wild Cherry, some are called "Balsams," "Bitters," and even Syrups of Wild Cherry, but none is the genuine article and instead of giving receipts as heretofore as agents, we will in future supply our foreign shipped by this line.
The boats are of light draught, consequently freight is taken the whole distance without transhipment, thereby preventing damage from frequent handling on the route, and no each boat is owned by the Captain who makes the trip, which is a sufficient guarantee that there will be no delay on the route.
All Produce or Merchandise consigned to the undersigned will be forwarded FREE OF COMMISSION, for advancing and forwarding, and will be shipped without delay at the lowest rates of freight.
We respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.
